SOCIAL AND PERSONAL. The German Ambassador's Reception a Splendid Affair. Dinner Companies Entertained by Senator and Mrs. Elkins, Senator and Mrs. Hanna, and Mr. and Mrs. Hill. Notable Guests at Yesterday's Concert - Several Other Events.

The reception held by His Excellency Herr von Holleben was an event to be remembered. It not only eclipsed in elegance all previous hospitality of a like character dispensed throughout the winter, but it does not seem possible that the social annals of the Capital can ever have shown a more brilliant gathering of distinguished men and magnificently gowned women than were the guests of the German Embassy last evening.

The host, with the gentleness of his official staff, received at the head of the steps near the bathroom. By the transfer to Washington, of Count Quadt, and Lieutenant Commander von Reubar-Paschewitz, both of whom have attractive wives, the Ambassador is at last happily and abundantly provided with hostesses to preside over his bachelor household.

Countess Quadt, who is tall, stately, and always artfully gowned, wore last night a toilet of white satin spangled with piques of silver. Ropes of pearls were around her neck and in her brown hair were a mass of diamonds. Frau von Reubar-Paschewitz was gowned in black net over black satin.

The white walls of the ballroom formed an effective background for the Southern smile that sprang its surface, and the music gallery at the extreme end was walked from view by palm trees that rose from the floor and were topped with pink and white azaleas. Facing the entrance were splendid life-size oil portraits of the present Emperor and Empress of Germany, their massive throned figures wreathed with smiles and blossoms. In the refreshment room the table decorations were azaleas, roses and hydrangeas and the lights burned under softly tinted shades. The drawing room and several reception parlors, each adorned with palms and flowers, were enriched with treasures collected by the Ambassador during his worldwide travels.

The nine hundred guests included the entire Diplomatic Corps, Cabinet and court families, a brilliant showing from official and resident circles, together with many distinguished visitors who are now in Washington.

The President and Mrs. McKinley have invited a few guests to be present at the White House this evening after the dinner which they will give to the dignitaries of the Diplomatic Corps.

Mrs. McKinley attended the Pitsburgh Orchestra festival yesterday afternoon. She was accompanied by General George Corbin, and accompanied by several young friends, among whom were Miss Alice Hay and Miss McWilliams, who has been a White House guest for the past few weeks.

Mrs. Dalsell also took a party of young people to hear the famous orchestra, which, incidentally, is from her native city. Among the guests were Miss Grier, Miss Moore, Miss Mary Pierson, of Pittsburgh, who is her house guest; Mr. Stauffer, and Mr. Sam Dalsell.

Senator and Mrs. Elkins entertained at dinner last night, when their guests included the Speaker and Mrs. Henderson, the Postmaster General and Mrs. Smith, Representative and Mrs. Dalsell, Miss Cockrell and Senator Warren.

The Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Hill gave a small but elegantly appointed dinner last night in honor of Mr. Robert Buchanan, the director general of the Buffalo Exposition, and Mrs. Buchanan. Other guests present were the German Ambassador, the French Ambassador, Minister from Brazil and Mrs. de Assis-Braun, the Minister from Chili and Senora Vicuna and Mrs. J. Doerner Steele.

Senator and Mrs. Hanna gave a dinner for young people last night. The company gathered about the beautifully appointed table were Miss Root, Miss Sheridan, Miss Lela Griggs, Miss Gladys Foulke, Miss Gallaudet, Miss Katharine Ward, Miss Hagner, Mr. Foraker, Mr. Dorcy, Mr. Buchanan, Mr. Gaultsfield, Mr. Thompson, Mr. Bradley, Mr. Parsons, Mr. Wilcox, Mr. Clyde and Dr. Clayton.

Commander and Mrs. Cowles will view the inaugural parade from a balcony at the corner of the Avenue and Fifteenth Street. Mrs. Roosevelt and family will be with them.

Mrs. Hitchcock and her daughter went to Boston to attend the wedding of the former's nephew, Mr. Hitchcock, who will marry a Boston girl.

An artistic incident of last Saturday was the musical given by Miss Nellie Hunt, Miss Benson, of Augusta, Ga., who is spending the winter here and who is a wonderfully gifted violinist, contributed several selections to the program.

Mrs. Hanna will not receive today. Mrs. Walter A. Johnson will give a tea at her home, "The Villa," Kensington, this afternoon, from 2 to 5, assisted by the singer, Ray, David Barr and the ladies of Christ Church, Episc.

Mrs. P. J. McMurber, wife of Senator McMurber, will be at home today for the last time this season. Mrs. Burrows will not receive today, but will be at home on Thursday, February 21, for the last time this season. Miss Paulding will hold her final reception today. Mrs. William E. Brown will be at home to her friends on Friday, from 5 to 10, at the La Petra Hotel.

NO AGREEMENT WITH DEWEY. Aguinaldo's Ex-Vice President Says. Provides Were Not Made. A visitor to the War Department yesterday was Senator Lagarda, who was Vice President in Aguinaldo's Cabinet when the first Filipino or Malolos government was organized. In an interview with a Times reporter Lagarda declared that he knew from Aguinaldo personally that he had never had any agreement with Admiral Dewey. He explained a conversation he had with Aguinaldo soon after he arrived in Cavite province on the McCulloch, Senator Lagarda said.

"Aguinaldo wanted me to help him get other Manila Filipinos to join him in a party on the Cavite province, and he explained that the Americans would help him. I asked him if he had any promises and he said no, but that they would be made justly, asked him what form of government he proposed. He said nothing about independence, but shrugged his shoulders and replied: "Let them determine that."

Lagarda explained that he, together with a number of prominent Manila capitalists, agreed to help Aguinaldo, but as soon as the Americans appeared, he would not their support.

"The Federal party will take all of Aguinaldo's influence," he said. "He has little influence now. The people begin to think that the Americans can be trusted. The deportation of some of the incendiary leaders remove a dangerous menace to peace."

Lagarda is well known to military authorities who have trained the Philippine army. During General Lator's campaign in the southern provinces he often assisted the Americans and tried to persuade his countrymen to abandon the insurrection. He had much influence with the better element. On one occasion he offered to go to General Trias and try to persuade him to give up the fight. This was when General Lator was in Manila, and he was bottled up between Bacor and Iloilo. Notwithstanding the warning of his countrymen that he would be hounded if he made such a proposal, he went to Bacor and begged him to give up. Trias said he could not do so unless Aguinaldo approved. Aguinaldo said he would not approve if Lagarda was killed if captured by the insurgents. He also issued a proclamation putting a price on Lagarda's head.

Speaking of the insurrection, Lagarda said, laughing: "I do not care about that now. I am in the United States and conditions are different in Manila."

A DIMINUTIVE CUBAN CALLER. Senorita da Cenda Pays Her Respects to the President. The most diminutive caller who has ever been officially received at the White House and formally presented to the President was introduced by Mrs. McKinley yesterday. The Senorita Espirito da Cenda, familiarly known among her friends as "Chiquita," the little one. She is a loyal Cuban, and an ardent admirer of the President.

Senorita da Cenda is thirty-one years of age, is but twenty-four inches tall, and weighs only twenty-two pounds, yet she is as bright and as well developed as any woman. She was born near Matanzas, Cuba, and speaks Spanish, Italian, French, and English fluently.

When presented to the President yesterday she wore a gorgeous gown of panne silk and a cloak of the same material, with beautiful gold braid lapels and a handsome tulle skirt. She wore a brilliant array of diamonds. She was introduced by W. G. Rawlins, who carried her in his arms up the steps leading to the President's office.

By her presentation to Mrs. McKinley, Senorita da Cenda said: "I want to thank you, Mr. President, for all that you have done for my people."

In reply the President said: "That is a very nice little speech; one of the most welcome I have ever received." He then took a pink carnation from the lapel of his coat and presented it to his midsize guest. Senorita da Cenda has been in the United States for some time, and is now en route to her Cuban home.

STRIKES AND THEIR CAUSES. Carroll D. Wright Lectures Before Students on Labor Troubles. Carroll D. Wright, United States Commissioner of Labor, lectured before the students of the Catholic University at Carroll Institute Hall yesterday afternoon on "Strikes and Lockouts." After referring to the various causes which brought about the conflicts between capital and labor, Prof. Wright said in part: "Strikes are the result of increasing ignorance," said the speaker, "but of increasing intelligence. Formerly man revolved in ancient times, and manures negative in its action, and it is in consequence of the results of increasing intelligence will result in strikes being avoided. They usually occur in prosperous times, and have been known in this country since 1834.

"A sympathetic strike occurs when a body of workmen having no personal interest in the leading strike enter upon a strike in support of assistance. Lockouts occur in the same way. Manufacturers enter upon sympathetic lockouts in support of their own sympathetic strikes.

"Boycotts are a form of strike; the boycott is only a modified form of compulsion of which the essence is that it is negative in its action, and it may apply to persons not themselves parties to a strike or a lockout. One form of the boycott is the blacklist. The principle of the boycott is very old and exists in all forms of society and in nature. The name, however, having originated in 1830. Strikes are used sometimes as a means of compulsion in an increase in wages, and hence an increase in the price of the commodity must go with them, and so the consumer has to bear the brunt."

This Month Danger to health is especially great. You can best prevent illness by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla to keep your blood pure, sustain your appetite and build up your strength. If you think you are attacked by the grip or severe cold, the first and best thing to do is to open the bowels with a good dose of Hood's Pills.

MR. MCKINLEY'S ESCORT. The Honors to Fall Upon Mr. Edson and General Miles. They Will Accompany the President During the Inaugural Promenade. Officials of the State Department to Care for the Diplomatic Corps. The Sale of Ball Tickets.

It was decided by the Inaugural Committee yesterday that John J. Edson and Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, Chairman of the Inaugural Reception Committee, should be the escorts of President and Mrs. McKinley in the grand promenade at the inaugural ball at the Pension Building on the night of March 4.

This action was taken after a conference between the President, Chairman Edson, General Miles, and Chairman Ralph Jenkins of the Floor and Promenade Committee. At previous occasions this duty has usually been delegated to the Chairman of the Reception Committee, as one especially pertinent to his office. After deliberation in conference between Chairman Edson, General Miles, Chairman Ralph Jenkins of the Floor and Promenade Committee, and the President, the plan decided upon was deemed to be the preferable arrangement.

Chairman Jenkins, under whose direction the arrangements for the conduct of the ball will be formulated, is now engaged in the work of planning the ceremony. In regard to the promenade, with which the ball opens, much has already been effected. The hour at which the President will arrive at the Pension Building, and the details in connection with his escort from the White House to the ballroom, have yet to be determined.

The promenade will be led by eight special aides of the Floor and Promenade Committee, whose duty is to clear the way for the procession which follows. Behind the aides will march Chairman Ralph Jenkins and F. B. P. Sand, President and Mrs. McKinley will come next between Edson and Miles, and General Miles, the Vice President-elect, and Roosevelt, will precede the members of the Cabinet, with their ladies. Eight aides will close the procession. The procession will be flanked on either side by a line of special aides, who will march forward at the same time with the promenade. The line will proceed to the end of the hall and return.

The President will then assume his place on the grand staircase, which will be erected on a level with the first gallery, overlooking the ballroom floor. Chairman Jenkins has added the following to the membership of the Floor and Promenade Committee: Mr. Charlesworth, Walter D. Davidge, Jr., F. S. Stewart, Davidge, Reginald S. Hulse, Hilliard Owen, and J. Honley Smith.

Major James W. Bell has provided room for the convenience of the Diplomatic Corps, on the first gallery floor, contiguous to the President's room. It is proposed that an official of the State Department, who will be in command of the Diplomatic Corps and see that the consideration proper to their station be accorded its various members.

Chairman Edson is in receipt of a communication from the Independent Club, of Columbus, Ohio, stating the intention of that organization to participate in the inaugural parade. George N. Woffley will be in command of the delegation of 110 men, who will be uniformed in military mackintosh capes, with lavender silk lining, and slate colored Algerine trousers, with lavender silk tassels. Cannon and bands, who will naturally play the national anthem, will be in the parade.

Business in the sale of seats on the inaugural stands to be erected within the Court of Honor is progressing rapidly at this time. The stands, which are located on either side of F Street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth Streets, John B. Lerner, Chairman of the Committee on Parks and Grounds, is in charge of the sale. The stands of the Court of Honor are being erected, in daily receipt of a large number of mail containing orders for seats. Already over one hundred orders for seats have been received. The seats within the Court of Honor are being sold at the rate of $1.00 per seat, and the demand is more than fulfilling the expectations of Mr. Lerner, who has expressed his confidence in the success of the committee would be able to recover the cost of construction by the receipts from seat sales.

In the event the experience at past inaugurations that seats on relieving stands were rarely disposed of in any quantity before the influx of visitors to the inaugural parade, the committee has manufactured under the direction of the Committee on Medals and Badges, of which Gen. Ellis Spear is Chairman, a number of medals, which will be distributed among the members of the committee, and whether they should be distributed among them gratuitously has been under discussion, but no action was taken, and the question was left to the Inaugural Committee, without recommendation of any character. Mr. Edson stated today in reference to the matter that the precedent had been established of distributing the medals to the members of the committee, and in the event of the Inaugural Committee, and that the same course would be pursued at the present inauguration.

The Academy - Thomas E. Shea. The attraction at the Academy next week will be the well known actor, Mr. Thomas E. Shea, in his new play, "The Voice of Nature," described by the manager as a very strong, romantic melodrama, the scenes of which are laid in St. Petersburg. There is a strong undercurrent of nihilism running through the piece which, for a melodrama, is somewhat of a novelty, as it contains any amount of good, laughable comedy.

There are many strong scenes, chief among which are the great "Bleed of Death" scene, the attempt to blow up the Academy.

CONSTANT SATISFACTION. "I have used Sarsaparilla almost constantly in my life for over eleven years, and find it no more satisfactory than any other medicine."

ANTISEPTIC GARDOLIN. For the Teeth and Breath. Until Feb. 20. $10 Fine Sewing Machines. Slightly used by Besting, Singers, New Homes, Standard, and other makes. $10.00. Domestic Agency. Phone 772.

PNEUMONIA CAN BE PREVENTED. This disease always results from a cold or attack of influenza, and is prevented by the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. That remedy was extensively used by the army in the Philippines, and it is now being used by a large number of soldiers, and a single case has been reported that did not recover or that retained pneumonia, which is a very serious disease. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a safe and reliable remedy for its cure of colds, coughs, and all bronchitis. Wholesale and retail, and all druggists.

COMING TO THE THEATRES. "The Columbia" - "A Runaway Girl." "A Runaway Girl," that tinsel and catchy musical gem that has already been witnessed in this city on two previous occasions, will again be seen at the Columbia Theatre next week.

The company presenting the play this year is said to be equal in every respect to those appearing heretofore. The costumes are said to be new as well as also the scenic accessories. If the promises made as to the general merit of the present production are fulfilled, the outcome of the forthcoming visit of "A Runaway Girl" will be the same as on its two previous visits, viz., a warm welcome and liberal patronage. The roster of the present company has some sixty names in its composition. The drama, which is that of Mr. Arthur Dunn, the little but clever comedian. This artist has the leading comedy role of "Flipper," formerly played by Mr. James T. Powers. The part is said to be peculiarly fitted to Mr. Dunn's style of work and he is reported to have made quite a decided success in his rendition. The part of Alice is now assumed by Miss Clara Belle Jerome, who has been with Mr. Dunn for the past few years, in high class vaudeville.

The principal female part of "Winfield" the "runaway girl," is in the hands of Celeste Wynn, who is reported to be exceptionally clever, and is said to possess the rare combination of a sweet voice and handsome presence. Miss Miriam Lawrence (Armenia) is still with the production, as well as also Mr. Joe Fay and Miss Minnie de Rue.

COMING TO THE THEATRES. The Imperial Opera House at St. Petersburg by Nihilists, with dynamic bomb, and the great duel in the dark. On Tuesday and Friday nights, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be given, and on Saturday matinee and night, the great naval play "Man-o-Warman" will be the bill. An extra matinee will be given Friday, Washington's birthday, at which performance the "Man-o-Warman" will be presented.

Kerann's - "Parisian Widows." The annual visit to Kerann's of "Weber's Parisian Widows," the attraction next week, gives the patrons of this theatre ample assurance of a week of joy that none would care to miss. No other organization has left as complete a record at this house, and the promise that the management makes for the show this season encourage the belief that the "Widows" retain all their former charms. Mr. Weber seems to have struck a happy medium between splendor and staggerness, which marks all his attractions, and which can hardly be defined by any other word than "daintiness."

The novelty will never wear off of bicycle acts, while artists like the Johnsons, retain all their former charms. Snyder and Buckley, well known as musical artists, are recognized comedians, whose work ensures the success of both parts and burlesques. They are these artists, there are in the company Falke and Lillian, Elliott and Aileen, Gallagher and Barrett, Williams and Aileen, Fred West, Stella Gilmore, and Manjoo Macdonald.

The returns of the Jeffries-Kuhlin fight, which will be read from the stage, are calculated to lend additional interest to the performance tomorrow night.

The Bijou - May Howard's Company. The coming week's attraction at the Bijou will be May Howard and her extravaganza company, Burlesque and vaudeville. The program for the week is not taking chances when May Howard and her company hold the boards, and they may anticipate without the least danger of disappointment a show fairly alive with every novelty that has recently appeared on the theatrical horizon.

Miss Howard is said to be without a peer in that catchy, fragmentary style of entertainment which has become so popular in this city. Her company will be four star burlesque entertainers, Harry Evans, Jeff Barton, Lillian Cooley, Lury Lane, Marion and Pearl, Sheridan and Flanagan, St. Clair and Celeste, and a chorus of nearly thirty pretty burlesquers.

Ordered to Buy Horses. Major Earl D. Thomas, Fifth Cavalry, has been detailed by the Director of the Secretary of War to the Quartermaster's department for the purchase of horses. The purchase is necessary by reason of the increase in the army.

IN THE AIR. The Germs of Lathrippe Are Conveyed Through the Atmosphere. No one can escape the La Grippe germ because when an epidemic of the disease is prevailing the air is laden with it. The reason everyone does not have the disease at the same time is because the germs do not all catch at once. Health is able to successfully resist and throw off the infection, while those who fall readily victim.

The first symptoms are those of acute catarrh, resembling a hard cold and if prompt treatment is applied at this time, it can easily be broken up; one of the best remedies at this stage is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, sold by druggists everywhere and if taken freely, say one tablet every hour or two for two or three days, the danger of pneumonia and serious complications will be averted.

The Rev. L. E. Palmer, Baptist clergyman of Corcoran, Mich., makes a statement of interest to all catarrh and grip sufferers. He says: "Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have certainly been a blessing to me. I have used them freely this fall and winter and have found them a safeguard against La Grippe and catarrhal troubles from which I had suffered for years. I feel that I can freely and conscientiously recommend them."

Persons who suffer from catarrh of the head and throat are very susceptible to La Grippe and such will find a pleasant, convenient and safe remedy in this new catarrh cure.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are composed entirely of harmless antiseptics and may be used as freely as necessary, as they contain no cocaine, opiate or poisonous drug of any kind.
