

The Ruling Passion Strong in Death; or TWO YELLOW FEVER ANECDOTES. It is an old proverb, that 'the ruling passion is strong in death.' We see exemplifications of the fact every day, but never did we hear of its being carried out in its full extent till yesterday. We tell the tales as they were told to us.

About two weeks ago a young man, well known in this city, for his industrious and economical habits, was taken sick with the yellow fever. The young gentleman in question, we are sorry to say, was very mean, in fact, so much so, that in all probability he would have fanned the hide of a certain offensive insect, in order to have preserved its skin. This young man, although the very pattern of probity, wouldn't even wear stockings.

The consequence was, that he took cold one rainy day, took the fever, and would have died, had it not been for his parsimony. The fever racked his frame, made his head feel like a volcano on the eve of an eruption, and so palsied his limbs, that he was scarcely able to move a finger. 'The eyes of the mean young gentleman were too weak to move in their sockets—his tongue hung lazily in his mouth, and his heart had almost ceased to vibrate. His face was as yellow as saffron, and his miserable appearance showed that the 'scourge of our climate' had given him a splendid thrashing. The doctor who had been tending him, came in, and really believing that his patient was going to die, after feeling his pulse, told him that he must 'prepare for another and a better world.'

'Doctor,' said the dying man, opening his languid eyes, 'how long do you think I will live?'

'My poor friend,' answered the physician, wiping the tears from his spectacles, 'I do not think that you can live more than twenty-four hours.'

'Oh, doctor!' exclaimed the dying man, 'don't say that! But still, if I can't live, I suppose I must bend to the will of Providence!'

The dying man covered his face with the bedclothes, and the physician not being able to endure the scene, was just about to depart, when his patient called out to him, 'Doctor, what do you think it will cost for my funeral?'

'My poor friend,' answered the humane physician, with tears in his eyes, 'it will not cost much—probably not more than $25.'

The dying man started up in his bed, and raising his hands as though he was going to exercise a point, exclaimed in the most pitiable tones, 'Oh, no, doctor, don't say that! I can't afford to pay $25 to be buried. It's higher than other people pay, and I can't afford it.'

So saying, the young gentleman sunk back and wept like Niobe. Although worth some four or five thousand dollars in solid cash, he couldn't afford to die, because his funeral would cost him $25. The meanness of his disposition striking into his system, drove the fever out, and he recovered.

The next anecdote that we have to relate, is that of an unfortunate man who was taken sick with the fever, and who was attended on by a gentleman, in every way skilled in his profession. The worthy doctor, passing, in his gig, by a hole in the upper part of the city, early in the morning, heard some one moaning as if in great pain. His sympathies being aroused, he alighted, and went to the spot from whence the noise proceeded. It was a wretched apartment: in a little narrow room, the walls of which were covered with mildew—in one corner there was a bedstead that seemed almost too weak to stand up. A pine table, with very rheumatic looking legs, stood by the bedside; and there was a trunk and an old chair, and these were all the articles of furniture in the room of the dying man.

The physician approached the bed of the sufferer, and after looking at his tongue and feeling his pulse, told him that he thought he could not live.

'Oh, Doctor!' exclaimed the unfortunate creature, gasping all the while for breath, 'I've got something on my mind!'

'What is it my poor fellow! if you have anything that weighs heavily on your conscience, reveal it to me, for I solemnly assure you, that you have not long to live.'

'Oh Doctor! I've been a great gambler in my time, I was hell on chuckerluck, and great at thimble-rig!'

The physician told him that his remarks were not at all suited to his situation—that he was dying, and should place his thoughts on some more serious subject.

'Do you really think I'm going to die Doctor?' said the dying man.

'You have not twenty-four hours to live,' replied the doctor.

The dying man, in a faint voice, requested the doctor to hand him a pair of blue cottonade trousers, which were hanging on the back of the only chair in the room. The doctor did so, and the unfortunate invalid, plunging his wares, yellow head into his trousers' pocket, drew forth a bill, and informed the doctor that 'he'd bet him a cool $5, and go another $5 better, that he wouldn't die—he'd be d—d if he would.'

The doctor left and the man survived.—Delta.

DEFINING A POSITION.—An elderly maiden lady, with a pride above being dependent upon a wealthier relative, retired daily to her chamber to pray for a 'comfortable competency,' which she always explained in these words, with a more elevated voice: 'And lest, O! lord, thou shouldst not understand what I mean, I mean four hundred a year, paid quarterly.'

Those who are of opinion that money will do everything, may be reasonably suspected of doing everything for money.

DR. LE ROY'S Vegetable Universal Pills.
The only known Medicine that at the same time purges purifies and strengthens the system.
LONDON, July 7, 1846.

DR. LE ROY'S Pills are a new medicine which has just appeared, and is fast taking the places of all others of the same class. These pills are composed of many ingredients, but the two principal ones are Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry, so united that they act together; the one, through its admixture with other substances, purifying and purging, while the other is strengthening the system. Thus these pills are at the same time tonic and opening; a desideratum long and eagerly sought for by medical men, but never before discovered. In other words they do the work of two medicines, and do it much better than any two we know of; for they remove nothing from the system but the impurities; so that while they purge they strengthen; and hence they cause no debilitation, and are followed by no reaction. Dr. Le Roy's pills have a wonderful influence on the blood; they not only purify without weakening it, but they remove all morbid particles from the chyle before it is converted into blood, and thus make impure blood an utter impossibility. As there is no debilitation, so there is no nausea or sickness attending the operation of this most excellent medicine, which never strains or tortures the digestive functions, but causes them to work in a perfectly natural manner; and hence persons taking them do not become pale and emaciated, but the contrary; for while it is the property of the Sarsaparilla, united as it is with other ingredients, to remove all that is foreign and impure, it is equally the property of the Wild Cherry to retain all that is natural and sound; and hence a robust state of health is the certain result of their united operations. Price 25 cents per BOX.

WILL BE PUBLISHED IN WASHINGTON, D. C.
ON THE SEVENTH OF DECEMBER, NO. ONE OF THE UNITED STATES REPORTER.

A Daily Journal of Government, Legislative and General News.
THE SUBSCRIBER IS NOW ENABLED to announce the completion of his arrangements for the establishment of a well-organized and independent Journal of News at the Seat of the General Government.

The leading features of the United States Reporter will be the following:
I. Early intelligence of the Movements of the various Departments, in reference to domestic affairs and to the foreign relations of the country, will be given with scrupulous fidelity. Passing peculiar facilities for obtaining information, the Reporter will be enabled frequently to communicate, exclusively, intelligence of the most important character.
II. The Proceedings and Debates in the Senate of the United States, which the proprietor is bound to furnish daily to that body, in accordance with the terms of the contract made at the close of last session of Congress. The arrangements now made will at once fully secure to the Senate of the United States an authentic and complete record of its debates; and to the people, in a greatly enlarged degree, the benefit of the experience, sagacity, and statesmanship of that body to which they have ever looked with solicitude and respect.

III. The Proceedings and Debates in the House of Representatives will also be given with fullness, impartiality and the utmost promptitude. Each day's record will be completely made up, and appear in the Reporter's next morning.
IV. A Synopsis of the Proceedings and Debates of all the State Legislatures will be regularly given. Members of Congress, and all classes of readers, will thus be kept fully and systematically informed of domestic legislation in all sections of the United States.

V. Early intelligence of all important movements in the Legislatures of Great Britain and Europe, will be communicated by every steamer. Reports from foreign reporters in London and Paris, who possess peculiar facilities for obtaining information.
VI. The General News of the Day will be given in a condensed form, with industry and attention.
VII. Reports of Arguments before the Supreme Court of the U. S. This department will be so conducted as to make the Reporter indispensable to every lawyer in the country.

Such is a brief view of what the "United States Reporter" is designed to be. All the plans and arrangements have been well matured, and the hope is confidently cherished, that the "United States Reporter" will prove itself an energetic, industrious, dignified and perfectly independent journal. It will have no party views—no political bias. The proprietor, by the terms of his contract with the Senate of the U. S., is bound to the condition that "the paper shall contain no political discussions except the debates." It will be the vehicle of news—not the organ of any set of opinions. The grand aim of the subscriber is to establish at the seat of Government a faithful and prompt reporter of all sorts of intelligence—a responsible agent, on whom the politician, the business man, the manufacturer, the mechanic, and every one interested in the affairs of Congress and the Government, may rely at all times with implicit confidence.

It is believed that the establishment of such a reliable journal of intelligence on terms which place it within the reach of the great masses of the people, at the commencement of what promises to be a most interesting and eventful period in the history of Congressional proceedings, will be regarded with favor by all classes of the community; and having thus stated his objects, the subscriber respectfully solicits a liberal and generous support from the enlightened public of the United States.

JAMES A. HOUSTON, Stenographer to the Senate of the U. S.

The "United States Reporter" will be printed on a large and handsome sheet, and issued every morning, except Sundays, at the rate of six dollars per annum; single copies, two cents.

In connection with the daily paper, there will be issued from the same establishment, THE MIRROR OF CONGRESS.

The publication will contain exclusively the reports of the proceedings and debates of the Congress of the United States. It will be issued semi-weekly, in an elegant quarto form, throughout the session of Congress, and will be furnished to subscribers at the rate of two dollars for the long session and one dollar for the short session. It is believed that this great national work will be deemed indispensable in the library of every public institution, politician and professional man throughout the country; and that it will be regarded by the great mass of the people as the very best political textbook for their own instruction and that of their children.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.
Throughout the session of Congress, Extras will be issued from the office of the "United States Reporter," containing the reports of such debates as may possess particularly exciting interest.

All subscriptions and communications to be post paid, addressed to "J. A. HOUSTON, United States Reporter, Washington, D. C." August 14th, 1847.—ly

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.
WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS.
From the Camden Democrat.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS.—These celebrated Pills, so universally used and admired, have become to be considered almost as necessary in families as water or fuel. In fact, the principle upon which this medicine has established its reputation—purgative—is now pretty generally acknowledged to be the only one, by which health may be preserved, or restored when impaired. Wright's Pills are now a universal favorite.

From the Philadelphia Saturday Evening Post.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS, are attaining great celebrity in New England, as well as other parts of the United States. The attempt of persons to defraud the public by the sale of spurious articles meets with general reprobation. Dr. Wright is an indefatigable business man, and shows an array of courage by the medicine which warrants confidence in the virtues of his Indian Vegetable Pills.

From the Boston Daily Times.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS.—People are pretty well satisfied by this time that cholera, and the other thousand and one mineral preparations of the shops, are better adapted, as a general rule, to kill rather than cure the patient; as a matter of course, vegetable medicines are therefore in great request. There are many humbugs however, among the latter, and we would advise all those who have the least regard for their health, to Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills of the North American College of Health, as they are the preparation of one intimately acquainted with the healing art.

From the Boston Daily Times.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS.—Of all the public advertised medicines of the day, we know of none that we can more safely recommend for the milder that fever is heir to, than the Pills that are sold at the depot of the North American College of Health, No. 198 Tremont street, Boston.

Several instances we know of where they are used in families with the highest success; and no longer ago than yesterday, we had an eminent physician of this city recommend them in high terms.

The following highly respectable storekeepers have been duly appointed agents for the sale of Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills, in Northumberland county:

- Henry Masser, Sunbury.
- E. & J. Knuffen, Augusta township.
- Samuel Heib, Little Mahony.
- William Deppen, Jackson.
- Benjamin Holman, Upper Mahony.
- John G. Ryan, Tip of Mahony.
- Samuel John, Shamokin town.
- Forrest, Wilson & Co., Northumberland.
- E. L. Piper, Watsonburg.
- Island & Hayes, McEvensville.
- James Peed, Port-Grace.
- Wm. G. Scott, Rayville.
- Harman Knoebel, Elysburg P. O.
- Am. T. Beissel, Turbushville.
- Ed. on Shadel, Upper Mahony.
- Rhodes & Farrow, Snyderstown.
- John King, Farmersville.
- Silas C. Cook, Martin's Creek.
- J. De Young, Hevells.
- Abraham Shetter, Richmond.
- Samuel Taylor, Statefort.
- John H. Vincent, Chittaqueque.
- Wm. Hennes, Crother, Milton.
- Beware of Counterfeiters.—The public are cautioned against the many spurious medicines, which in order to deceive, are called by names similar to Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills.

The safest course is to purchase of the regular agents only, who are gentlemen that may be relied on.

Office devoted exclusively to the sale of WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS, of the North American College of Health, No. 288 Greenwich Street, New York; No. 198 Tremont Street, Boston; and PRINCIPAL OFFICE No. 169 RACE STREET, PHILADELPHIA. June 12th, 1847.—19ly

SOMETHING NEW!
THE Subscribers have the exclusive right of vending J. M. THATCHER'S Hot Blast Hot Air Cooking STOVES.

in the counties of Northumberland, Columbia and Schuylkill; and from the encouragement met with already, they expect to do a large business. This stove is constructed on an entirely new principle, and on the only principle that can make both a good wood and coal stove. The inventor has overcome all the difficulties that so frequently belong to other stoves. He has by his arrangement, constructed a broiling oven in front, where, in broiling, roasting, frying or baking may be done, and all the small articles therefrom, must pass into the combustible chamber, and is not at all thrown out into the room. Besides this, there is an oven only two inches less than the whole size of the stove, wherein broiling or roasting may be done as well as it can be in the common brick oven. This oven is always fit for use when the stove is heated, as the whole draught of hot air passes around it constantly.

Public attention is particularly called to this stove. It can be seen at our Store and Tin Establishment in North Danville, at the sign of the Columbus Tin Shop, and at the Foundry of Robinson & Clement in Sunbury, where its particular qualities will be fully shown and explained to any person wishing to examine it.

The subscribers continue to have on hand all kinds of parts stoves, such as radiators, cylinders, tanks and plain, suitable for all who may favor us with a call; also common sheet and Russia Iron, which can be made in any desirable shape; together with a general assortment of tin and japanned ware, wholesale and retail. Country merchants are invited to call and examine our stock, as our work cannot be surpassed, and prices moderate.

N. B. We can safely recommend the above mentioned stove to persons who wish to employ it in a good business. The patentee will sell either county or state rights, to suit purchasers, and on reasonable terms. He or his agents may be found in Danville, Pa. J. & J. ARTER.

The undersigned, having seen in operation the hot blast hot air cooking stove, invented and patented by J. M. Thatcher, certify that we believe, from the manner of its construction and operation, that it is the best ever offered to the public. The arrangement is so complete and the construction so judicious, that there is a saving of one half the fuel and time in doing any given amount of work, over other celebrated stoves. In short we recommend it in preference to all others, for the simple reason that it embraces every branch of economy.

THE ROUSSEL'S Universal SHAVING CREAM.
Small quantities given without Charge. At 114 Chestnut St., PHILADELPHIA.

This new and splendid article, as its name denotes, is professed to be superior to any Shaving Cream in the United States or Europe. It is unsurpassed for beauty, purity and fragrance, tho' somewhat analogous to Guerlain's Ambrosial Cream and other similar compounds. It surpasses them all by the most beautiful consistency of its lather, which so softens the beard as to render shaving pleasant and easy. It further possesses the advantage over the impure article, in being freshly prepared, no skill being wanting in its manufacture. E. Roussel having had many years' experience in the celebrated Laboratory of Laugier, Pere et Fil., now Renaud & Co., of Paris.

Besides being the best, it is the cheapest article for shaving; it is elegantly put up in boxes, with splendid steel engraved labels. Price $3 per dozen, or 37 1/2 cents for a single box, to shave one year. It is also sold at $1 50 per lb. or 12 1/2 cents per oz., so that gentlemen can have their boxes filled at EUGENE ROUSSEL'S, Wholesale and Retail Perfumery and Mineral Water Establishment, 114 Chestnut Street, Dec. 19, 1846.—ly PHILADELPHIA.</
