

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

THE COUNTY PAPER.—If there is any enterprise which demands the protection of the whole people of a county, it is the local press. The interests of the county are, in a greater or less degree, the interests of each and every of its citizens, and in no way can they be so well advanced as through the medium of a home newspaper. Devoting itself to these interests, and guarding them with a jealous eye, it becomes at once the friend of the Farmer, the Mechanic, the Merchant, and indeed of every citizen of the county, no matter what his occupation, business, or profession may be. If properly conducted, it is the advocate of every local enterprise, tending to the benefit of the community; it excites public sentiment on every subject of importance; it gives the news of the county; and tells us what its people are engaged in—what they are raising, manufacturing, buying, selling—where they live, and all about them. These are matters which cannot, as a general thing, be brought home to the people through any other source than the county paper, and they furnish the best evidence of its usefulness. City papers are all right enough, and such as are able, should take and pay for at least one of them. But the home paper should in no event be neglected.—It should have the preference over all others. In our own county, there are several papers published, every one of which, as we think, is entitled to be liberally supported and encouraged. Is the reader a subscriber to one of them? If not, we hope he will at once make a selection of the one he wants, and hand over his name, his address, and his money. And should his choice happen to fall upon The Alleghanian, of course we must feel content.

CAUTION TO GUNNERS.—Under this head, the Hollidaysburg Standard, of last week, published the following article, which we insert for the consideration of each of our readers as sometimes go to the woods in quest of game:—"At this season of the year, when sportsmen are daily pursuing their pleasures, we hear of frequent accidents resulting from the careless manner in which some carry their fowling pieces. In almost every case, these result from the dangerous practice of keeping the hammer down upon the percussion cap. It is too plain to require proof, that a very slight blow upon the back of the hammer in such circumstances will fire off the gun; and yet three-quarters of the gunners have an idea that such is the safe way to carry a loaded gun. It is much more dangerous than the full cock. The only safe way is to keep the gun half-cocked while riding or handling out of the field. It is so improbable that anything should draw back the hammer and pull the trigger at the same instant, that it may be called practically impossible that a gun should be fired off unintentionally, when thus secured. Why will not people use a little common sense, and save what few brains they have?" With all due deference to the editor of the Standard, we incline to the opinion that the old way of carrying the fowling piece—that is, with the hammer down upon the cap—is much safer and better than the mode he suggests. What say our "Mountain Rangers" on the subject?

SAUER KRAUT.—We are by no means a lover of Sauer Kraut. On the contrary, whether it be in the barrel or on the table, we always make it a point to keep a respectable distance away from it, say ten feet at least. But as many of our readers doubtless differ from us in this particular, and may desire a good recipe for making the article, we hasten to lay one before them. It is simply this: In packing your Kraut, use no salt, except what you put in the bottom of the vessel, and let that be a mere "sprinkling." A very respectable old gentleman informs us that this has been his practice for over thirty years. He alleges that the cabbage itself has all the elements necessary to make Kraut, and that the article is only spoiled by the superabundance of salt usually thrown into it. We may state that our old friend is proverbial for getting up good Kraut, and as this is the season for making that dainty dish of Teutonic origin, some of our readers may find it to their advantage to try his recipe.

THE LYCEUM.—The following question has been selected for discussion at the Lyceum, on next Friday evening: Resolved, That no American patriot, or friend of the Union, should be in favor of the execution of John Brown, for his conduct at Harper's Ferry.

THE IRON CITY COLLEGE, of Pittsburg, Pa., is now the largest Commercial School in this country.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

LIST OF POST OFFICES.—At our request, M. C. McCague, Esq., the polite and accommodating Post Master at this place, has furnished us a list of the Post Offices and Post Masters in Cambria county, which, for the benefit of our readers, we now publish:

Table with 3 columns: Post Offices, Post Masters, Districts. Lists locations like Ben's Creek, Bethel Station, Carrolltown, Chess Springs, Cresson, Ebensburg, Galena, Gallitzin, Glen Connell, Henclock, Johnstown, Loretto, Mineral Point, Munster, Pershing, Platteville, Roseland, St. Augustine, Scalp Level, Soudan, Summerhill, Summit, Wilmore.

MARRIED.—On Thursday, November 10th, at Blairsville, by the Rev. Mr. Stillinger, PATRICK BRACKEN, Esq., of Mineral Point, this county, to Miss MARIA BREDIN, of Livermore, Westmoreland county.

We were somewhat surprised at the above announcement. Our friend Bracken called at our Sanctum about two weeks ago, and we had a very agreeable chat on many other subjects, but as to the fact that he was about to migrate to the State of Matrimony—"Oh no, he never mentioned it!"—and indeed we did not for one moment suspect it. But it is even so, and all that is left us now, is to wish him and his fair bride a pleasant journey over the many hills and hollows of this mundane sphere, and a good time generally in "the days of the hereafter."

A NUISANCE.—There seems to be a singular unanimity of opinion in the minds of a good many of our citizens as regards the utility and convenience of that highly-cultivated mud-puddle to be found directly in front of the Barber Shop—all agreeing that it could easily be dispensed with, and that without at all interfering with the general beauty of the street or the individual comfort of pedestrians.—Just such another disagreeable place for a person to plout into on a dark night, (as is generally the case,) could not be found, we venture to say, by a fast walker in a long day's journey.

C. A. A.—The sixth annual distribution of the Cosmopolitan Art Association will be made on the 31st January, 1860. Every subscriber of Three Dollars will be entitled to a certificate of membership; a beautiful steel engraving entitled "Shakespeare and his friends;" a copy of the "Art Journal" for one year; and a season admission to the Galleries, 548 Broadway, N. Y. Mr. George W. Oatman has been appointed Honorary Secretary for Ebensburg and vicinity. Call upon him, and see the engraving of "Shakespeare and his friends."

DRUGS, MEDICINES, ETC.—Dr. R. S. Bunn, whose location is almost opposite the "Mountain House," has opened out a very large and superior assortment of the most approved Drugs and Medicines, together with a variety of other et ceteras, to which he invites the attention of the public. He keeps by several degrees the best store of the kind in town, and is patronized to an extent which shows that the people of Ebensburg have confidence in his abilities to fill the responsible duties of his calling.

T. P. FENLON, ESQ.—By late arrivals from Kansas, we learn that this gentleman, formerly a resident of Ebensburg, has been elected Prosecuting Attorney of Leavenworth City. It is not a part of our nature to rejoice over any defeat, however trifling of our party or its candidates, but we confess that when a good fellow like Tom Fenlon wins the race, as he has done, the fact assists mightily in taking the sting from a Loco-Foco triumph. Thomas will please consider us his, most respectfully.

MARRIED.—At Shade Gap, Huntingdon co., Pa., on Thursday, the 10th inst. by the Rev. Doyle, Dr. H. C. CHRISTY, of Wilmore, Cambria co., to Miss M. A. STARR, of the former place. We congratulate our friend, Dr. Christy, upon the happy consummation to which he has brought this little business arrangement. May his love towards his bride, and his bride's love towards him, ever be "True as the needle to the pole, And fixed and constant as the Northern Star."

ANOTHER BEAR KILLED.—On Monday last, three or four of our crack hunters while out in quest of the "varmints," about two miles from town, and near the Jefferson Plank Road, succeeded in treering two bears upon one tree. Following up the advantage thus gained, a quietus was speedily given to one of them, but the other, taking advantage of the time when their guns were all discharged, very suddenly decamped, and has not since been heard of.

LECTURE AT LORETTO.—On Thursday next—Thanksgiving Day—a lecture will be delivered in St. Mary's Church, Loretto, by the Rev. James Kearney, of Johnstown. Subject: "The Church and Democracy." The proceeds are to be applied in payment of repairs done to the resident Pastor's house. As the subject is an interesting one, and the Lecturer well qualified to handle it, a large audience will most likely be present.

THE RING.—A short but energetic "Mill" came off at Wilmore Station, on Tuesday morning, between two track-layers, which afforded amusement to a crowd of passengers awaiting the arrival of the Express train. The opponents were very unequally matched, both as regarded size and skill; and although the smaller of the two retired with an ugly looking mug and the loss of some claret, he evidently had grit.

COL. JOHN G. GIVEN.—We had the pleasure yesterday of meeting with our old friend, Col. John G. Given, formerly of this county, but now engaged on the "Daily Democrat and News," at Davenport, Iowa. Few better specimens of humanity than the Col. are now in existence. We understand he leaves in a few days "for keep." Long may he live, and may he live longer.

SENSIBLE.—At a meeting of the Lyceum on Friday night last, it was Resolved, That hereafter, ladies shall be admitted as spectators and listeners at all the meetings of the Society. This is right. But it does not go far enough. Why not allow the ladies to take part in the deliberations of the Society? We should like to hear some maiden speeches there.

CHANGE IN MAILS.—On Monday last, a new mail arrangement went into operation. Matter intended for both the East and West leaves here every morning, at 7 o'clock, and matter from those points is received here daily at 12 o'clock, M.—We consider this arrangement decidedly preferable to the old, and believe it will be so regarded by our readers.

SUPREME COURT.—Of the cases carried up to the Supreme Court from this county, and argued week before last, the following have been decided: Philip Groff et al. vs. Simon J. Weakland and Daniel Colclough. Affirmed. D. R. Galway's Appeal. Affirmed at costs of appellant. Opinion by Strong, J.

GROCERIES, ETC.—Our friend Isaac Wike, Esq., of Wilmore, keeps constantly on hand a large and superior stock of Groceries, Confectionaries, etc., which he makes it a standing rule to sell at as low prices as can be got in any store in the place. Customers are requested to crowd in.

NOT DEAD.—The Cambria Tribune published a notice, some time ago, of the death in the State of Indiana of R. F. Holder, formerly of Wilmore. It appears that "Richard's himself again," his friends having recently received a letter from him in which he reports himself alive and kicking.

IN TOWN.—Charlie Litzinger, Clerk at the Scott House, Pittsburg, and George M. Riddle, of the firm of Riddle, Gill, & Co., Philadelphia, both formerly of this county, have been spending a few days with their friends in this place. They are both good fellows, and have our best wishes for their future prosperity.

DICKENS' NOVELS.—We have received the seventh volume of the weekly issue of T. B. Peterson & Brothers' cheap edition of Dickens' Works for the Million. Being so very cheap, everybody should purchase the entire set. Price, five dollars.

MORE MUSIC.—We are glad to notice that Prof. Smith is again in town. His appearance amongst us is always the forerunner of a rich musical treat. We understand he is engaged to teach a class in Loretto. Success to him!
