

Treasonable Plot in Ohio.

A special dispatch from Cincinnati to the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin contains the following respecting a treasonable plot discovered there:

An extraordinary case of treason has recently come to light, implicating several persons in this city, Columbus, Covington and Newport, in conspiring to release the prisoners at Camp Chase, and overthrow the State Government. The conspiracy was brought to light by U. S. detectives, who were supposed by the parties implicated to be spies from the rebel army, and were treated with full confidence. The plot, as disclosed to the detectives, was that an attack was to be made on Camp Chase, release the prisoners confined, 3,500 in number, to seize the arsenal at Columbus, take possession of the penitentiary, release John Morgan, and other officers confined there, and then to commence the rebel campaign in Ohio.

United States Marshal Sands and Provost Marshal Major Reaney arrested the following persons implicated in the plot: Charles W. H. Cathcart, of Columbus, formerly School Commissioner of Ohio; T. D. Cressop, of Columbus, formerly sutler in the 18th Regulars, who were to lead in the attack on Camp Chase; James D. Patton, of Covington, regular agent of the rebel Government, who furnished the detectives with money, under the impression that they were spies, and, according to agreement, were to meet Cathcart and others at Camp Chase, and expected to mature the plan of attack on Camp Chase; Ruth McDonald, of Covington, who acted as mail carrier through the rebel lines, and whose home was the headquarters of the rebels; Samuel P. Thomas, a merchant tailor of Cincinnati, and his wife, and Catharine Parmenter, of Cincinnati, and a Dr. Lazelle, who stands high among the Copperheads. Lazelle was put in the penitentiary, and the others were brought in irons to this city, and transferred to the county jail.

Mrs. Parmenter, was a washerwoman at the United States barracks in Newport, and a go-between of the prisoners and outside emissaries. The detectives gained her confidence and that of Mrs. McDonald, and became parties to their plans. They all met frequently at Thomas's house. Thomas furnished money to buy axes and chloroform to release the prisoners, and furnished a disguise to the detective who traveled between the Columbus and Cincinnati confederates. He visited Columbus frequently, and conferred with Cathcart and others there, and was in conference with him when arrested.

The plan of release at Camp Chase was as follows: When the prisoners saw a beacon light at a certain point, they should be ready. The guard would be shot by their outside friends, and axes would be thrown over to them. Once out, with axes and arms provided, they were to storm the penitentiary, release Morgan and the other officers, and start for the Ohio river and cross near Maysville. Cathcart was to go along, receiving a commission in the rebel army for his reward.

Cathcart was arrested at Rev. Sabin Hough's house. Hough is the secessionist to whom Vallandigham wrote in 1861 that "the Union was hopelessly divided." Cathcart was from Dayton, and is one of Vallandigham's particular friends and admirers.

Wild as was the scheme, there seems to be abundant evidence that it was to have been tried a week ago, but the plans miscarried then. Other arrests are to be made. It is not known how extensive the organization for this infernal business was. Information has been obtained that an organization exists in Illinois, awaiting the outbreak in Ohio, to produce similar results in that State. Other particulars are known to the authorities, but not yet made public.

"Sir," asked a gentleman of a crusty old sea captain, "did you ever know coffee to hurt any one?"

"Yes," was the response; "I knew a bagful once to fall on a fellow's head—it killed him!"

An old toper who overheard the other day advising a young man to get married. "Because then, my boy, you'll have somebody to pull off your boots when you go home drunk."

Charles Lamb's opinion of water cure—"It is neither new nor wonderful, for it is as old as the deluge, when, in my opinion, it killed more than it cured!"

The Alabama Legislature passed a law recently that any man who sells salt higher than $15 per bushel, shall be at once put in the active State militia.

It may sound paradoxical, but loose habits generally stick closer to a person than any other kind.
