

ODDS & ENDS.

Lines: Written on the death of Lieut. Peter Kaylor, who died from wounds received at the battle of Ringgold, Georgia, December, 1863.

Alas! that noble one is dead, Aye, lost to Cambria forever; Low lies his head, his soul hath fled To God, the mighty Giver.

Then calm each fear, and dry each tear, And love his spirit more; Though cold and drear his lonely bier, He trends a heavenly shore.

He left thee for the battle-field, In love's bright sunny morning; Thy love his shield, he scorned to yield, And fell his foemen slaying.

Then snatched in train the golden chain Which bound your souls as one, And brought thee pain and care again, To dim thy youth's bright sun.

Thrice honored is his loyal bed, His name thy ever cherished; He fought and bled where duty led, And for his country perished.

But not till Fame enrolled his name Upon her honored scroll, And angels came with heavenly claim, To bear away his soul.

Loved ones, dry fond mem'ry's tear, His name shall perish never; Time shall eadear and fove reverse His burial place forever.

Mourner, now thy thoughts conceal, While on this earthly shore, That time may heal, and blissful weal Attend thee evermore.

THE GRECIAN WRIGGLE.—Did you ever see the Grecian wriggle? It is daily practised by all ladies who wear hoops. It is done in crossing a gutter.

The first marriage notice ever published is re-published from an old record and finished in modern style, as follows: "And Adam said: This is now bone of my bone, and flesh of my flesh; she shall be called woman, because she was taken out of man."

The most direct method of determining horse power: Stand behind him and tickle his hind legs with a briar.

A CARD.—WITNER'S BRIDGE, Lancaster Tp. July 30, 1861.

MESSRS. EVANS AND WATSON: GENTLEMEN.—The small size No. 1 Salamander safe which I purchased from your agent, Mr. Adam E. Barr, in Lancaster City, on July 20th, 1858, has been subjected to a very severe test, which it withstood in a most satisfactory manner. This safe, containing all my books together with valuable papers belonging to myself and some to my neighbors and friends, and representing a value of over Twenty Thousand Dollars, ($20,000) was in my Mill which was destroyed on the night of the 27th of July, 1860, and passed through the fiery ordeal unscathed. The safe was on the second floor and fell to the basement or the Mill, and was subjected for six hours to an intense heat among the ruins, which was greatly increased by the combustion of a large quantity of grain confined within the brick walls. After the fire the safe was opened and the books and papers taken out in a state of perfect preservation, the paper not even being discolored. This fact was, however, to many bystanders a better recommendation of your safe than could be expressed in any other words from me. Yours respectfully, SAMUEL HANCK.

A large assortment of the above quality of Fire and Thief Proof Safes always on hand and for sale at as low rates as any other firm, at EVANS & WATSON'S, No. 16 South Fourth st., Philadelphia.

1863. TINWARE! 1863.
