A Slav was badly slashed about the head during a fight at this place. The sight of one eye may have been destroyed by a knife thrust. The injured man stated that he did not know who had stabbed him. Deputy Sheriff Harry C. Williams and Constable Robert Kerr went to Lucerne and arrested three fellow countrymen of the injured man, who were named in an information made by the injured man. It was learned by the officers that the three men under arrest had been at work at the time of the cutting. Two men who are alleged to have done the cutting, learning of the arrests, remained in the mines all night and escaped arrest. Officers are still searching for them.

Russia Ready for New Foe.

Petrograd, Oct. 29—Russia now counts Turkey as an enemy. This became evident following the report here of the bombardment by a Turkish cruiser of the Russian seaport of Theodosia and the demand for the surrender of Novorossysk. By this step, in the opinion of well informed circles here, she has marked her as an ally of Germany in the great struggle now in progress for the supremacy of Europe.

Theodosia (formerly Kaffa) is a Russian seaport on the southeast coast of Crimea, about 100 miles northeast of Sebastopol, by which it is connected by rail.

Novorossysk is on the northeast coast of the Black Sea and is the capital of the territory of the Black Sea. It is almost directly opposite Theodosia, at a distance of about 120 miles.

FIVE MINUTES WITH OUR FRIENDS

What's the Matter With "Jack?"

"Jack" Ness, a barber on Philadelphia street, has always been noted for his prowess as a hunter. "Jack" can go out into the woods and dig up more game than anyone on the line, unless it's E. R. Springer, Elmer Allison or David Weamer. But this year "Jack" doesn't seem inclined to hunt.

"Jack" hasn't got a license yet," commented one of his fellow friends. "He must be sick or something."

Nothing's license; perfectly good dogs lying idle and "Jack" only grunting when you ask him about hunting. Something wrong.

Several suggestions have been offered as to "Jack's" reason for not procuring a license this season. Some declare he's jealous of "Seal" Black's famous rabbitskin boots and is waiting until he gets a chance to get a pair like them. Others still maintain that "Jack" refuses to hunt because he has to get a license and wear a tag, just like his hunting dog, and the idea doesn't sound good to him. Either of these two reasons may be the correct one.

Ernest Miner Held Up

While at the spring to get a bucket of water, J. Zampiccoli, a niner, found on his return home a smooth-faced tall young man, who without hesitating drew two revolvers and said to Zampiccoli, "Hands up!" (which he did). He then put on his guns in his pocket and took from Zampiccoli's pocket $5.00.

Hospital Is Presented to Indiana County

Building and Equipment Valued at $165,000 Is Gift of Coal Operators.

A modern hospital, erected and equipped at a cost of $165,000 was presented to Indiana county on Thursday by Adrian Iselin, Jr., and his sister, Miss Georgine Iselin, of New York City. The Iselins have large holdings of coal in this county, and the gift was made as a result of their interest in the industrial development of this section of the state.

Simple ceremonies marked the presentation. Lucius W. Robinson, of Rochester, N. Y., general manager of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railway Company, made the presentation address and Justice of the Supreme Court John P. Elkin, who is president of the County Hospital Association, accepted the gift in behalf of the local organization.

Among those who attended the ceremonies were Adrian Iselin, Jr. and two daughters; C. O. D. Iselin and Georgine Iselin, of New York City; William T. Noonan, president of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railway Company and directors of that company. Sara Morgart, of Johnstown, is superintendent of the hospital.

W. T. Wilson Loses Money.

William T. Wilson, a member of the Indiana delegation who went to Blairsville Tuesday evening to greet Theodore Roosevelt, had his pocket picked while listening to the speaker. The pocketbook was taken from his pocket and contained about $30.

A Correction.

Last week's Patriot on its editorial "Down With the Speed Fiends," in the next to the last paragraph should have read, "We feel sure that we voice the sentiment of the people."
