The Aim of the Foreign Language Papers of America

TO HELP PRESERVE THE IDEALS AND SACRED TRADITIONS OF THIS, OUR ADOPTED COUNTRY, THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA; TO REVERE ITS LAWS AND INSPIRE OTHERS TO OBEY THEM; TO STRIVE UNCEASINGLY TO QUICKEN THE PUBLIC'S SENSE OF CIVIC DUTY; IN ALL WAYS TO AID IN MAKING THIS COUNTRY GREATER AND BETTER THAN WE FOUND IT.

HE PRESENTED DEMAND FOR DUMBA'S RECALL

AMBASSADOR PENFIELD.
Mr. Penfield is the representative of the United States at the court of the Hapsburgs. He may be dismissed by the Austrian government in retaliation for the Dumba dismissal.

The Exception.
"If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."
"That's good theory, but it isn't always wise practice."
"Why not?"
"I once tried to paper a room myself. I didn't succeed, but I assure you that my experience taught me never to try it again."—Detroit Free Press.

KINDNESS.

Do not be afraid of spoiling any one with kindness. It can't be done. Instead of spoiling it beautifies the character, cheers the heart and helps to raise the burden from shoulders which, though brave, sometimes grow very tired. Let not a little coldness frighten you away, for under a frigid exterior there is always to be found a tender chord which is to be touched by kindness.

How Could He Tell?

George was told to draw a line on the blackboard and write a sentence. Instead of obeying instructions to the letter he wrote the sentence first.
"George, why didn't you draw the line first, as I told you to do?" was the teacher's impatient inquiry.
George regarded her with wondering eyes. Surely the ways of women were beyond comprehension. Then he asked seriously:
"How could I tell where I'd want that line till I got it wrote?"—Indianapolis News.

No Chicken.

Lady (recently married)—Do you know I find it quite hard to remember my new name?
Her friend—Naturally, dear. You had the old one so long, you know.—Detroit Free Press.

Fight Film Ordered Destroyed.

New York, June 18.—The 3,542 feet of movie film depicting the Ritchie Welsh fight in London in July, 1914, is to be destroyed by the federal authorities in accordance with an order issued by Judge Hough in the United States district court.

Danish House Records Its Neutrality
London, June 18.—A Reuter dispatch from Copenhagen says the Danish Folkething, or lower house of parliament, unanimously resolved to support the ministry in its policy of absolute neutrality.

A Lost Mine.

Among the famous lost mines of the western world and one which is again being sought is the Tisingall of Costa Rica. It is said to have yielded great quantities of gold in the time of the Spanish domination. After quelling the Indian uprisings, however, the Spaniards failed to relocate the mine. It is thought that it lies hidden in the bed of one of the larger streams. Many legends are heard dealing with its wonderful richness, and many attempts have been made to find it, but so far without avail.—Argonaut.

Lords and Commons.

An ancient English custom forbids the participation of a peer in the election of a commoner, so that when a general election is actually in progress the lords are oratorically muzzled by a fiction that supposes them to be quite indifferent to the composition of the lower house, but until the candidates have been actually nominated the peers may use all the eloquence with which nature has endowed them for or against the issue involved in the approaching election.

ONE-OF-THE-GHOST.

Ghost; Ghost! I've been trying to scare that fellow for half an hour, and he hasn't moved a step.

A Canine Feat.

A blind man, guided by a large and athletic dog, went down the street the other day. Just as they turned a corner the blind man's dog saw a dog it knew and darted forward in a way that threw the sightless mendicant to the ground. He was speedily assisted to his feet, however, by a wagging passerby, who remarked that he had heard some remarkable stories of the feats performed by dogs, but this was the first time he had ever known one to pull down the blind.—Exchange.

Small Anvils.

The anvil that rings to the sturdy blacksmith's sledge may weigh 200, 300 or 400 pounds, but there are anvils whose weight is counted in ounces. These are used by jewelers, silver-smiths and various other workers. Counting shapes, sizes, styles of finish, and so on, these little anvils are made in scores of varieties, ranging in weight from fifteen ounces up to a number of pounds each. All the little anvils are of the finest steel. They are all trimly finished, often nickel plated, and those surfaces that are brought into use are made as smooth as glass.

Poisonous Gas Geysers.

In the midst of the great faunal wilderness near Nairobi, Africa, is a big blowhole in the earth issuing poisonous gases. Surrounding this hole for many yards are piled bones of dead animals, poisoned by this gas geysers. Dogs dragged by ropes over the hole were killed in less than a minute. The gas has been found to be hydrochloric, coming from some volcanic depth. The death trap has been fenced and billed all around with warnings.—New York Press.

Trademarks.

A trademark is a registration of a word or design attached to goods of a certain trader making it clear to the public that they are his manufacture and that nobody but he can use that same trademark. Its use is almost indispensable in the commercial world, and this can be realized better when one knows what its functions are in respect to the trader and his customers. In the first place, being a certificate of genuineness, it protects the public. Secondly, being an identifying mark, the trader is protected by the law against any competitor who endeavors to trade on another's name or goods. Trademarks were issued as far back as the time of James I.—London Mail.

FOR SHERIFF

VOTE FOR
HARRY A. BOGGS

Subject to the decision of the Republican Primary, Tuesday,
September 21 1915, 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

The Logic of It.

The Yale freshman year was proving too expensive to father, so father decided to have a "heart to heart" talk with Johnny, home for the week end.
"Now, son," said he gravely, but affectionately, "your mother and I are spending just as little as we possibly can. I get up in the morning at 6:30, and I work until after 5. But, son, the money just won't go round at the rate that your expenses are running. Now, I ask you, as one man to another, what do you think we had better do?"
For a moment Johnny's head was buried in thought, and then he replied: "Well, father, I don't see any way out but for you to work nights."—New York Post.

DO IT NOW.

Decision never becomes easier by postponement, while habit grows stronger every day. Common sense as well as conscience says, "Choose this day."

On the Moon.

The question "Could a man live on the moon?" has been put to an eminent astronomer, who replied: "I am afraid not. A man transplanted to the moon would find himself the lone inhabitant of a perfectly lifeless orb in which eternal silence reigns. He would have to manage without air, water or fire. He would not need to put windows in his house, for there is no wind, no rain, no dust, upon the moon. It has been truly and practically observed that the moon is apparently abandoned to death, nourishing no inhabitants, producing nothing resembling trees, flowers or beautiful things of any kind—useless, in short, except as a mass of extinct volcanic rubbish, which drags the sea into tides and reflects the sunbeams in moonlight."

Baked Men.

Workers in porcelain factories are literally baked, but by some miracle they remain sufficiently undone to live. At least if they are not quite baked they endure a stronger heat than that which browns the Sunday sirloni. The furnaces wherein porcelain is finished are kept at the fiercest heat used in any industry. A chain of workmen, their heads and bodies swathed in fire-proof garments, take the finished pieces from the fire one at a time and pass them to the cooling room. The man at the head of this chain—he who stands nearest the furnace—can only work in five minute shifts. In his interims of rest he lies on a mattress, drinking glass after glass of ice water from the hands of a small boy.

Dean Swift's Complaint.

It is no new thing, this complaint which one hears of the high cost of living. Writing to Stella from London in the year 1710, Dean Swift remarks: "I lodge in Bury street, St. James, where I removed a week ago. I have the first floor, the dining room and bedchamber at 8 shillings a week; plaguy deep, but I spend nothing for eating, never go to a tavern and very seldom in a coach, yet, after all, it will be expensive."

Making Him Pay.

Lawyer (to kicking client) — Well, have you at last decided to take my advice and pay this bill of mine? Client—Yes, Lawyer—Very well. (To clerk) "William, add $5 to Mr. Smith's bill for further advice."—Boston Transcript.

Opportunity Calls.

"Opportunity is at your door."
"What is it?" inquired the pessimistic citizen. "Opportunity to subscribe to some worthy cause, or a chance to invest?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

How They Do It.

Steve—They say that waiters can always size a man up. Lillian—I suppose they measure him from tip to tip.—Judge.

Wealth is not his that has it, but his that enjoys it.
