City Council Holds Last Session

New License Ordinance Passed. Final Settlement With Rybergs.

The city council held a special session Tuesday evening to close up all unfinished business for the year. The committee on license reported a new ordinance making several changes in the licenses. The chief changes were made for conducting lumber, furniture and implement businesses. The city will get about the same revenue but the license is more equalized. The dance halls were also given a reduction.

Ryberg Bros. were present and most of the evening was taken up in effecting a final settlement. While the city and contractors differed widely in some of the details they were quite close in the final aggregate. An agreement had been made to purchase the screening plant from Ryberg Bros. that had been placed in the city's gravel bed. If the two parties could not agree then the matter was to be arbitrated. The city offered $140 as a settlement, while the contractors wanted $225. The matter was finally adjusted by Rybergs accepting the $140.

The following unsettled claims for damages done in constructing the sidewalks were agreed to:

J. E. Cotter	$ 6.00
Archie Smith	30.00
John Russon	6.00
John Miller	2.00
Southworth	2.50
E. A. Bushman	7.50

The contractors were given a check for $125.25 in final settlement.

The various officials rendered their final quarterly reports.

The report of the city marshal showed but six arrests during the past three months two only being for drunks.

The city physician's report showed the city to have been in a most excellent condition so far as contagious diseases are concerned, there not now being a single flag up for quarantine. Bills totalling $829.03 were allowed, chief among which was the one from the road supervisor approximating $600.00 and which was divided among 60 citizens for hauling gravel.

Sugar Factory Shuts Down

Closing Shortest Campaign in Years. Runs 80 Days—Cuts 103,782 tons of Beets—Sacks 25,713,700 Pounds of Sugar.

The Lehi Sugar Factory closed its season's campaign Tuesday when all the fire was drawn from all the furnaces and the plant shut down.

The last sack of sugar was sacked and placed in the store room Monday, making a total for the season of nearly twenty-six million pounds, or to be exact 25,713,700 pounds was sacked.

The run just ended commenced October 10th lasting just seventy-seven days which was the shortest run in the factory's history since the plant was remodeled years ago. During the campaign 103,782 tons of beets were cut averaging a little less than 1,400 tons of beets cut every twenty-four hours. Some days the plant consumed over 1,600 tons. The average daily consumption of beets was greater than for any previous year.

The cutting station at Provo finished cutting beets the same day that the Lehi factory closed, the station at Spanish Fork closing a week earlier.

There has been a gradual laying off of the hands for two weeks following the policy of retrenchment adopted by the company. Following the same policy there will be less men employed during the shut down than any previous year in the factory's history. Spt. James H. Gardner went to Salt Lake City, Tuesday, to make arrangements to keep as many men on as possible during the balance of the winter to make repairs till other work opens up in the spring. Following this same line of retrenchment all the heads of the Sugar Co. have had their salaries reduced. It is not yet known whether the men lower down will get a similar treatment.

During the campaign 2,000 tons of syrup have been shipped to Omaha and Washington state, chiefly to Omaha. This syrup is mixed with alfalfa meal, pressed into cakes and sold as "Molifalfa" a product used for fattening cattle, feeding horses and milch cows. It is pronounced par excellent for this purpose. The wonder is that this refuse molasses is not kept at home and made into a similar product here. Utah is famed for its alfalfa and the syrup would cost here less than one half what it would cost the Omaha stockmen.

The factory will run again next year and in a few days the farmers will be given the privilege of signing up for beets on the same basis as last year. As to what will happen after next year the sugar people will not now even venture a guess.

John Sims Passes Away

John Sims, one of Lehi's oldest citizens passed away Saturday night. He has been falling gradually for a number of years, but it was but a few days before his death that his illness became really serious.

Mr. Sims came to Lehi from England about 32 years ago. He was always known as a jovial, honest, hard working man and probably did not have a single enemy in the city.

About nine years ago his wife who came with him from England died. Later he married Mrs. Sarah Dove, who survives him, though she is quite feeble.

Mr. Sims was born in England 84 years ago. He leaves several children all of whom are in England.

The funeral services were held in the First Ward meeting house Tuesday afternoon. There was a good attendance of sympathizing friends. R. J. Whipple presided over the services. Hyde Willes, Joseph W. Goates, Andrew Peterson, H. J. Stewart, John Woodhouse and A. R. Anderson, were the speakers, all of whom paid high tribute to his high moral character as a man and his life as a Latter Day Saint.

Interurban Buys Depot Site

Station Will be Located on Third North Between First West and Second West Streets.

The Salt Lake and Utah Railroad company this week purchased the William Bone and L. A. Olmstead lots on Third North street between First and Second West streets, which site will be used for Interurban depot purposes.

The site is considered to be as nearly central as could well be chosen. It is midway between the two business ends of town. It is but two blocks from the tabernacle, one and a half blocks from Smuin's Dancing Academy, one block from the public school block, but one block from what will be the center of the city free delivery service when it will have been established. The company owns valuable trackage yards three and four blocks further west.

A Peculiar Accident

A week ago last Monday D. Ray Allred received an injury to his left arm while putting a belt on one of the pulleys at the sugar factory. It was so painful that he laid off that day and went to a doctor. No fracture could be discovered, so Mr. Allred went to work the next day, climbing ladders, oiling machinery, etc. He did his chores, milked two cows, chopped wood and carried water, two buckets at one time.

The arm still caused some pain and was apparently growing more stiff so last Sunday he had it examined by an X-Ray machine when the doctors found that one of the bones had been broken off just above the wrist. He now has it bandaged and is carrying it in a sling.

W. J. GURNEY QUITE ILL.

W. J. Gurney, the Supt. of water works, is still in a very critical condition. It has now been about five weeks since he ran a fish bone in his jaw back of the wisdom tooth, causing an infection which in turn has caused a series of abscesses.

During all this time he has not been able to eat anything, and taking only a little nourishment in a liquid form. Also he is able to sleep but about 20 minutes at a time all of which is telling quite severely on his otherwise strong constitution.

Have Your Deeds Recorded.

Mrs. Mary Winn and Mrs. Heber Allred went to Provo, Monday, to get the title to Junius Bank's home straightened out. In order to clear his title Mrs. Winn will have to be appointed guardian of her own children so that she can give a deed for the property which her husband once deeded but which deed was lost before putting it on record.

Moral—Record your deeds soon as you get them.

Surveying Canal Through Cedar Valley

100,000 Acres May Come Under Irrigation.

A surveying party of seven engineers spent the past week running a line from the Jordan Narrows through the pass back of the clay beds and south of Cedar Point, through the north end of Cedar Valley and through the Five Mile Pass into Rush Valley.

The proposed canal, as shown by this preliminary survey takes in nearly all of the north end of Cedar Valley, passes close to Brig Mulliner's farm down the west street of Cedar Fort town and just in below the shearing corral west of Fairfield. Unless a higher head than this can be obtained the water would have to be taken through a tunnel from Cedar Valley to Rush Valley, but even if this becomes necessary the engineers say the project is a feasible one.

The engineers say that so far as Utah and Cedar Valley are concerned the project is entirely practical and ought not to cost the land owners more than from $60 to $75 per acre. If it is taken into Cedar Valley at the level run by the engineers last week, it will cover approximately four townships—part of 5 South, all of 6 South, all of 7 South, all of 8 South and part of 9 South, all in range two West, also a fringe of sections bordering on each side of this string of township which will make a total acreage of 98,000 acres.

Some of the best land in the state is located in the valley and if this project is developed it will mean the building of a new empire, probably the formation of a new country, for it would place under irrigation nearly as much more land as is now irrigated in Utah county. It would mean the addition of from ten to fifteen millions more to the state's wealth, and probably 20,000 to its population.

There are yet a few more Smoot homesteads that may be obtained in this valley that local residents should take, and get in on the ground floor, for land that is now worth from eight to ten dollars per acre will instantly jump to $75 or $150 per acre with water.

Returns From the Philippines

Archie Sorrenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Soren Sorrenson, returned from the Philippines, Monday. About one year ago the young man enlisted in the U. S. navy and after spending several months in the training yards in San Francisco, he was put on regular duty and sent to the Philippines. He received several advancements and was making fine progress when he developed trouble with the arches in his feet and became what is known as flat footed. He was sent to the hospital in the Philippines for several weeks and later spent sometime in the government hospital in California.

Being unable to get the relief that would bring him up to the required physical standard he received an honorable discharge and was sent home. He is looking well and feeling fine, and is well satisfied in being back home.

M. I. A. Contest.

The Mutual Improvement Association of the Alpine Stake are developing considerable activity along advanced lines. The contests will include oratorical efforts, retold stories, boys and girls choruses, and mixed quartettes.

Practically all of the wards are drilling along these lines and the contests between the various wards in the final stake contests promises to be quite intense.

The winners in the stake contests will represent the stake in the contests between all the stakes at the annual conference in June.

Will Undergo Operation at St. Marks.

James Schow, who has been working in Bingham for the past year, spent the holidays with his family in Lehi. He went to the St. Marks hospital Monday where he will undergo an operation to have a cataract removed from his left eye. He is totally blind in one eye caused by having it cut with a piece of steel about one year ago.

Resolutions of Respect

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to call home our Beloved President, Sister Rebecca Standing, We, her Sisters and Co-laborers of the Relief Society of the Alpine Stake, deem it a pleasure to show our love and esteem for her past services. While her death was not expected, yet it cast a gloom over the whole Stake.

Sister Standing was not only very much beloved by all the Sisters of the Relief Society, but by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. She will be missed in the home, in the ward, and in the Stake. Her beaming countenance made one feel better even to look upon her; We, her Sisters, loved and trusted her, she needed no passport, wherever she went her manner and bearing inspired confidence and respect. She bore the stamp of a Prophetess and as one highly favored of God.

Whereas, Sister Standing was our President for thirteen years and has given us many good instructions, may we profit by her teachings and good example that when our earthly race is ended, we may be found as ready and well prepared as she was, for while we mourn her loss, we feel assured that she is far happier in the society of her dear departed husband and friends.

Be it resolved that these resolutions be placed upon our record, and a copy be presented to the bereaved ones, and one also given to the Exponent for publication.

She has gone to her rest. Then a loving good-bye; For a time, our fond Sister, Adieu, We'll think of thy memory And our tears will be dry, And we'll joyfully hope, To join thee on high. Our friendship and love to renew. ANNIE C. HINDLEY, SINA CHIPMAN, ELIZABETH DURRANT, Committee.

Mr. A. L. Toone, the government representative who is looking after the enforcement of the nine hour and minimum wage law, spent Tuesday in Lehi. He made one employer, who was not paying his help the amount required by law, pay the young lady $30 in back pay. Mr. Toone has collected in other parts over $9,000 in back salaries.
