Mr. and Mrs. John Bradshaw and son Fred leave today for California to spend the balance of the winter.

If you have anything to sell a little ad in the want column brings results. See page 2.

Early in the week W. E. Racker and Miss Lizzie Shaw were Salt Lake City visitors for the purpose of ordering spring and summer goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Evans of Logan came to Lehi this week to attend President Evans' ruby wedding celebration.

I am in the market for all kinds of cattle, beef cattle, breeders or milch cows; also mutton and veal. AMOS RHODES, Lehi, Utah. 31-21

Nate Rockhill will plant a hundred acres of barley and alfalfa this spring on his land under the new canal west of the Saratoga Springs.

The Racker Merc. Co. has been making some improvements in their store, changing the office from the old building to the new one.

This week the bridge building outfit pulled away from the bridge crossing the mill pond and the cement men completed the big concrete viaduct under the D. & R. G. north of Lehi.

Dr. Christensen went to Provo on Wednesday to attend the funeral of his father, Dr. J. N. Christensen, who recently passed away at the age of 77 years.

Robert Ball went to Salt Lake City Tuesday to get his mother, Mrs. Caroline Ball, who recently underwent an operation for tumor of the breast. Mrs. Ball is much improved.

W. K. Hopkins and W. W. Dickerson are in Logan attending the Round-Up as representatives of the Alpine High School and local school districts, respectively.

The Missionary Wives and Mothers' society was entertained Thursday evening by Mrs. Annie Goates at her home. A program of songs, speeches and letter reading was given, after which refreshments were served.

Richard Bradshaw, who spent the past ten days in Lehi on his way home from his mission to England, proceeded on his way to his home in Magrath, Canada, last Thursday.

Messrs. O. A. Slade and company have taken the selling rights for the new dirigible auto light for four middle states and will leave next month to place them on the market.

The Garff Brothers will install a freezing plant in connection with their butcher business. The open winter so far has prevented the harvesting of any ice. The ice on the lake has entirely disappeared. It has been many years since the lake broke up in January. Garff Brothers this week opened their meat market in the Co-op shop on State street.

Mrs. R. N. Cooper returned Tuesday from a month's visit with her son, James Cooper, in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. C. B. Peterson entertained a dozen of her lady friends at a keusington Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Glichrist went to Blackfoot, Idaho, this week to visit with her daughter, Mrs. James Trinnuman.

B. W. Brown will leave on the mid-winter excursion for Los Angeles to spend a month with his son Marion.

J. M. Kirkham, who is one of the directors of the Utah Development League, is in attendance at the league's annual meeting this week.

Mrs. S. A. Smith entertained last Thursday evening in honor of Miss Birdie Sabine of Bountiful, who is visiting in Lehi, the guest of Mrs. Wesley Ritchie.

The case of John E. Standing, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Manny Taylor vs. William T. Taylor et al., has been set for hearing next Monday in the District Court.

The Salt Lake papers this week announce the commencement of operations of the Interurban on February 1, but as this issue goes to press we haven't heard the gong sound for anybody to get off the track.

Dr. J. J. Buswell, Ophthalmic Specialist, will be at the Union Hotel, Monday, Feb. 2, 1914. No charge for testing eyes. References: Mrs. J. M. Crabb, Mrs. William Price, Mr. S. I. Goodwin and many others. 31-11

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Smith were given a welcome into the ward party Thursday evening by the bishopric of the Second Ward and a number of neighbors and friends. The evening was spent in games, music and refreshments.

John W. Zimmerman came in this week from Fairfield, where he has been assisting in taking up the old Mercur railroad. Mr. Zimmerman was engineer on the shay engine. A lumber company of Oregon has purchased the engine and has made Mr. Zimmerman a proposition to go there with it.

Monday at 2 o'clock the adjourned meeting of the Lehi Irrigation company will be held in the First Ward meetinghouse. The meeting, which is a most important one, is for the purpose of voting on the proposed agreement with the Provo River Reservoir company. Every stockholder should be present.

From a roundabout way it is learned that Peter Beck has probably secured the contract for carrying the mail from Lehi to Topliiff, Cedar Fort and Fairfield. Mr. Beck's bid was $1,500 per year and was considerably lower than his nearest competitor. If Mr. Beck, who now resides in American Fork, secures the contract, he will have to move to Lehi, as the regulations provide that the contractor must live on the route.

Nate Kirkham, who has been visiting with his father, Joseph Kirkham, returned to Garland Tuesday. Mr. Kirkham spends his winters in Garland and his summers on a homestead in Stone, Idaho.

On Tuesday evening a very enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mrs. D. L. McVicar, the occasion being the birthday of her daughter, Miss Verna Comer. After music and cards a sumptuous chicken dinner was served, which all those present thoroughly enjoyed.

The Home Economics Club held its by-weekly meeting in the grammar school building Wednesday evening. Mrs. G. L. Stookey gave a paper on the description and distribution of legumes; Mrs. Alice Ross on the nutritive value of legumes and their digestibility. Mrs. A. H. Bone gave a paper on their preparation for food.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. A. J. EVANS ENTERTAIN AT WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Probably the largest social gathering ever held in Lehi was the 20th wedding anniversary of President and Mrs. A. J. Evans in the Smuin Dancing Academy, Monday evening. There were over 500 invited guests present, and it appeared that every family in Lehi was represented. The host and hostess greeted the guests as they arrived and were in the best of spirits. The guests all seemed to partake of the spirit of the evening and the party may easily be voted the most successful social function of the year.

One of the features of the party was the step dancing contests by a dozen participants, which easily demonstrated that the young people of today are neither as light footed or as artistic as their senior relatives. James Kirkham, representing the owners of the hall, officially named it the "Smuin Dancing Academy." President Evans and his wife made brief addresses and President S. L. Chipman, representing the many guests, responded.

History Of Lehi Issued From The Press

The much talked of "History of Lehi" has at last been issued and is now ready for delivery to subscribers. The book is one of the best, if not the best, history ever issued by any city in Utah. The thoroughness with which the data and material has been collected and the excellency with well justifies the promoters in their long delay in having it published.

The frontispiece is in colors and is a picture of the Old Fort wall, and is by a native son and renowned artist, J. T. Harwood. There are over 350 illustrations.

At the time of the dedication of the Pioneer Monument the committee, consisting of Andrew Fjeld, W. S. Evans, M. B. Bushman, A. B. Ander-

The Drinking Man's Boast

"I can quit any time I wish," is a frequent expression, but why don't the drinker make good his boast? Why don't he quit? When a man brags he can stop drinking whenever he wants to, he has usually reached the point where he cannot. He knows he cannot make good this boast—unaided. He is in need of treatment—The Neal Treatment—which is a harmless vegetable remedy that will transform the terrible cravings for liquor into a positive abhorrence for anything alcoholic, in three days' time without the use of hypodermic injections. If you are drinking you should look into this. If you have a friend who needs help, we urge your investigation. Come in and talk it over, or write or telephone for book of information.
