

Brief Sketches of Live Candidates Who Will Make Good If Elected Next Tuesday

JOHN H. WOOTTON

Republican Candidate for the State Senate.

He has served three terms in the lower house of the State Legislature and is eminently qualified to represent this county in the Senate.

His record is absolutely clean and one of efficient work for the interests of the people and especially for those of the working men.

A man of varied interests and wide experience. The people of this locality would unquestionably find in him an able and sympathetic champion on all matters in which they are concerned.

He stands for everything for which the people of Utah County stand, and will go to the legislature with an open mind, willing to listen to the wishes of his constituents.

F. A. Hulsh of Provo.

For Commissioner, 4-Year Term

Mr. Hulsh is a man you can't buy—a man you can't coerce. He is one hundred cents on the dollar at the banks—ask them. He has made a success of his own business and is absolutely safe to handle the finance of the county. He believes in good roads, because it adds to the capacity and efficiency of the farmers' team and wagon and thereby adds to his income. He says our methods of taxation are ancient, inequitable and discriminating. Believes that corporations and big interests should pay more and the working man less. Says we should lower the valuation on improvements so as to encourage people to build and improve, and raise the valuations on real estate so as to discourage holding property vacant and unimproved. Mr. Hulsh is not a politician and believes the county should be run on strictly business principles and not on the low level of party politics. He is the only man named for commissioner from Provo by all the parties, so if the center of the county with its vast business interests is to have a commissioner, you must vote for Hulsh. The disadvantage of not having a commissioner in Provo, the center of the county, must be apparent to all.

CHARLES L. WARNICK

Republican Candidate For State Representative.

Mr. Charles L. Warnick was born in Pleasant Grove. He was educated in the public schools and was graduated as a teacher from the Brigham

Young University, and was an active teacher in our public schools until called to fill a mission to the South Seas. Upon returning he chose farming as his life avocation, and took advantage of an opportunity to farm at Idaho Falls, Idaho. At present he is operating his own farm at Pleasant Grove.

During Mr. Warnick's residence in the state of Idaho, he served two terms in the state legislature. During both sessions he took a prominent and leading part in moral and temperance legislation.

Further, his service in the assessor's office and in active assessing work, while in Idaho, gave him valuable opportunity of learning and knowing the practical workings of the tax problem for revenue purposes. His previous legislative experience will be valuable in our coming legislature, as they will undoubtedly have to consider and revise our tax and revenue laws. The taxes, especially in this county, are very high and the tax burden unequally distributed. He believes firmly that there are legitimate means whereby they can be materially reduced.

He has never hesitated in telling the people that if elected he will render the best economic service within his power and ability, and will help to adopt a law permitting the people to vote on the question of state wide prohibition.

GEORGE P. GARFF

Progressive-Democratic Candidate for Assessor.

George P. Garff of Lehi, the Progressive-Democratic candidate for County Assessor, is a man of wide experience and just the kind of experience to qualify him for making an intelligent adjustment of land and business values.

He was born in Draper, June 17, 1870. For twenty years he worked on his father's farm and helped to subdivide it from a worthless tract and make it one of the best in Salt Lake County.

He attended school at the State University, took a mechanical engineering course in the State Agricultural College, and finished from the normal department of the Brigham Young University.

For ten years, part of the time intervening between his courses in college, he taught school in Draper, Salt Lake County. Was a teacher in the Hawaiian Islands. While on the islands he was also bookkeeper on the church plantation, also for the plantation store.

He has had experience in farming in Salt Lake and Wasatch Counties, owning sheep, cattle and horses, and has been actively engaged in business for the past nine years, and now is one of the largest private individual owners of business property in Lehi. He is responsible for the installation of one of the best and most sanitary meat and refrigeration plants in the state. He was bishop of Wallburg for eight years.

In all these experiences he has been eminently successful, and the wide range of them has particularly qualified him for the position of assessor. He has decided views on assessing property. He thinks that all assessors should be made with the idea of inducing men to make improvements, whether it be in the erecting of new buildings, the cleaning of new lands or the building of new industries. There are many instances of unequal taxation which he thinks could and should be remedied, and if elected this will be his first duty.

Republican Candidate for County Surveyor.

Mr. John R. Stewart, the nominee for County Surveyor, is distinctly a product of Utah County. He was born and raised in Provo, while his father and mother and grand-parents on both sides were the original pioneers of this valley and helped to settle Provo, Payson, Benjamin and Lake Shore.

If any man in Utah County is fitted for the position of surveyor it is Mr. John R. Stewart. While he was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth it might almost be said that he was born with his eye to the little end of the transit, as his father, grand-father, great grand-father, and great great grand-father were surveyors before him and he knew how to run a line with a transit while he was still in knee trousers.

His father was in the employment of the U. S. Government Survey Department for about 40 years, following his father over the length and breadth of Utah State John R. learned every phase of the surveying business from the carrying of the chain to the making of the plats.

However, besides this thorough training in the field, John R. Stewart stands in the very lead of the technically educated engineers in the state and for the matter of that in the entire country, as was shown in the U. S. Civil Service examination of January 1912, that put all U. S. surveyors on a classified basis, and in which Mr. Stewart passed the highest of any engineer in the state and 7th to the highest in the whole United States, almost reaching the perfection mark in mathematics and the adjustment and use of instruments.

He received his High School education at the Brigham Young University of Provo, and in 1908 took out his degree of Bachelor of Science in mining engineering at the School of Mines in the University of Utah.

Mr. Stewart has been associated on numerous contracts amounting to large sums of money and covering almost every portion of the state. He is particularly familiar with Utah valley, as his work for the last few years has been the establishing and re-establishing of government lines in this county. Added to his technical knowledge of this county, Mr. Stewart, as a member of the firm of Stewart and Sons and Stewart and Stewart, civil and mining engineers, he has gained a wide experience in general engineering in the line of irrigation, rail road location, mineral surveys, etc.

John R. Stewart is a man of honor, integrity and industry. He is one of the clean, strong, rising young men of the community, thoroughly conscientious and reliable in any work entrusted to him.

Of his amiable and kindly disposition, a prominent Democrat, associated for some time with him in his work, tersely remarked "that any one who couldn't get along with John R. Stewart couldn't get along with himself."

J. P. CREER

Candidate for Supt. of Schools.

If there is one office that should be kept out of politics it is the County

Supt. of Schools. John P. Creer, referred to by Governor Spry as the "Human Dynamo," has eminently succeeded in keeping the schools out of politics and as a result probably no other man in the state has had more support and esteem of the teachers under him than has J. P. Creer.

Why we should vote for Superintendent Creer.

1st—Because he has been thoroughly non-partisan in the school work. He has never permitted politics in any of his school policies or decisions.

2nd—Because he has looked after the interests of all the districts. He has been as generous, as loyal, as enthusiastic over the schools of the north end of the county as those of his own city.

3rd—Because he has been faithful to the trust the people have imposed on him. He has never shirked a duty. He has and is giving his entire time to the schools.

4th—Because he is progressive and thoroughly alive. Supt. Creer has attended every National Educational Association since he became superintendent.

5th—Because Supt. Creer has brought into our county more leading educators of national repute, than any other man, and has given our schools a standing with the big men of our country.

6th—Because he is a man of experience, looking into the physical, intellectual, moral and spiritual development of our children. He is a graduate of the B. Y. U. and L. D. S. Universities, holds the first state High School diploma granted in Utah county, has taught in all the grades, has been principal of Spanish Fork High Schools and supervisor of Spanish Fork's district schools.

Supt. Creer has used his own private auto to visit county schools, and has given us our best county institutes.

SHERIFF HENRY EAST

"By Their Fruits Ye Shall Know Them."

Very few men make competent sheriffs, and Sheriff Henry East is one of these few. He looks every inch a sheriff and acts the part well. His record is clean, consistent and competent. He has been diligent in keeping down the tough element and has collected $1,758 in fines in 1913, as compared with $220 for 1912. His civil record compares equally favorably.

But the chief reason why Henry East should be re-elected is that he stands for what the big majority of the people stand for—the enforcement of the law against illicit liquor selling. He has cleaned up the dives in almost every city in the county, but in doing so has incurred the enmity of every dive keeper in the county, and all their friends. It is up to the people now as to whether this condition is to be maintained.

Following is a list of Mr. East's victories—the people's victories—the names and dates of whiskey vendors and boot leggers who have been arrested, etc.

Wm. Jenkins arrested February 11, 1913, convicted.

Hollis Bromley arrested February 14, 1913, convicted.

Joseph E. Crook for maintaining a liquor nuisance, February 17, 1913.

Harriet Crook for maintaining a liquor nuisance, February 17, 1913.

H. S. Bruce arrested February 26, 1914, convicted.

Albert Ferre arrested February 27, 1913, convicted.

Fon Chipman arrested May 23, 1913, convicted.

Lawrence Briggs arrested May 23, 1913, convicted.

George D. Charlier arrested May 23, 1913, convicted.

Hill Loveless arrested July 23, 1913, convicted.

Fred Dart arrested and convicted August 11, 1913.

Oscar Lewis arrested August 23, 1913, convicted.

Jim Lombardi arrested August 23, 1913, convicted.

Thomas Arrowsmith arrested August 29, 1913, convicted.

Sarah Arrowsmith arrested August 29, 1913, convicted.

Albin Sanderson arrested September 6, 1913, convicted.

Paul Soulier arrested November 5, 1913, convicted.

Joseph Dudley arrested November 10, 1913, convicted.

Harriet Crook arrested March 10, 1914, convicted.

Erich Hanson arrested May 19, 1914, convicted.

Mrs. James Lombardi arrested May 20, 1914, convicted.

Oliver Senior arrested May 26, 1914, convicted.

Albert E. Provansal arrested June 19, 1914, convicted.

Anthony H. Engberg arrested June 7, 1914, case pending.

Joseph E. Crook arrested and serving time July 28, 1914.

The extra expense of hiring detectives was $575.00, and fines paid in result of their work amounted to about $1200.00.

There is little doubt but what the next legislature will pass a law under which the people will adopt state wide prohibition. In this case, the state will depend on the county sheriffs to conduct its big fight. Henry East is a big man filling a big office. It is a certainty that the element which he has been fighting will oppose him. Will the law abiding element elect him?

JOHN WILLIAM WING, JR.

Candidate for the Legislature

John William Wing, Jr., candidate for the legislature, is a native Utahn, being born in Heber, July 28, 1870. The early part of his life was spent on his father's farm, where he acquired a sturdy character and a love for good stock, which accounts for his later activities in bringing pure bred horses into Utah county, and his eighteen years spent in the livery stable business in Lehi. In the breeding of pure bred horses he was one of the pioneers of Lehi.

Since Mr. Wing was fifteen years of age he has made his home in Lehi, excepting for two years spent on a mission in Great Britain. He has held many positions of trust, particularly in a church capacity, having served as president of the Y. M. M. I. A. and as one of the presidents of the sixty eighth quorum of seventies, holding the latter position for seven years, till June 22, 1913, when he was chosen as a member of the Lehi Second Ward bishopric, which position he now holds.

In business affairs Mr. Wing's integrity and strong, pleasing personality has earned the confidence and trust of a wide acquaintanceship. As a special representative of the Beneficial Life Insurance company, he has been eminently successful, and his experiences have given him a wide acquaintance with the needs of the county and state. His knowledge of the needs of his constituents and his great desire to please will make him an ideal legislator. He stands for submitting the question of state wide prohibition to a vote of the people.

HYRUM R. CHRISTENSEN

Republican Candidate for Assessor.

Hyrum R. Christensen's home is in Salem, where he has gained the reputation of being one of the leading farmers in the south end of Utah county. Besides this he is a business man, having graduated from a two years' business course in the L. D. S. Business College. This experience gives him a good knowledge of farm values and business property. He is thirty-three years of age.

He served the county two years as chief deputy in the County Clerk's office, and his services as county assessor for 1911-1912 is a record of efficiency and satisfaction to the taxpayers. He used his farming experience in fixing property values and his office showed the result of a thorough business training.

During the two years he served the county as assessor his time was devoted to county matters, much in contrast to the record of present incumbent. Mr. Christensen promises, if elected again, to give the people a strictly business administration, dealing justly with the property owners from all parts of the county.

GEORGE AMOS

Democratic-Progressive Nominee for County Recorder.

George Amos, Democratic-Progressive nominee for county recorder, is a Utah county young man, born and reared in the southern part of the county. His home is at Payson, where he attended the district schools and later the B. Y. University. Much of his life has been taken up with agricultural pursuits, but still he has a large and varied experience in business pursuits of different kinds, and is numbered among the most progressive young men of his home town. Mr. Amos is scrupulously honest and trustworthy and in every way capable to fill the office to which he aspires. Being well balanced, able and conscientious, and well liked by all classes of people, old as well as young, in his community, the voters will make no mistake in electing him to the office of county recorder at the election on Tuesday of next week.

BERNARD N. CHRISTENSEN

Candidate for 2-Year Commissioner.

The people in the north end of Utah County will vote for Bernard Christensen because they know that he has time and is free to give every citizen and taxpayer a square deal. No one questions his honesty and integrity, and his two years experience in the office to which he aspires has eminently qualified him to give the people better service the next two years than he has done in the past two. He now knows every need and condition in this end of the county particularly, and his experience will enable him to look after them satisfactorily.

Voters should remember that Mr. Christensen is not pitted against Jas. H. Gardner, the 4-year candidate, but against J. F. Bringham, the 2-year man. The election of Bringham would give the people south of Provo two commissioners, which would be unjust to the balance of the county.

Mr. Christensen was born in American Fork, October 3, 1876. He grew up here, and spent three years on a mission in New Zealand. He is a farmer by occupation, though having also engaged in business. He was a student of the State University, also of the B. Y. U.

As a county commissioner he has been careful with the people's money, insisting in value received for every dollar expended. He has so handled the widows' pension fund that all needy and deserving widows have been taken care of every month in the year, where as other counties have exhausted their widows' fund before the year was half over.

During his administration the State Road from the Point of the Mountain to Sautiquin has been graded and surfaced until now no other county has better roads. The last stretch to be surfaced, that between American Fork and Pleasant Grove, is now a perfect boulevard. The county has now sufficient sprinklers and road drags to keep these roads in perfect condition, so that it can next year carry out its policy to build up the side roads. Mr. Christensen says that one of the first roads to be built will be that from Jordan Narrows to Mosley, to develop this new and growing district.

The thing, however, that should appeal most strongly to those working for better conditions, is the lead taken by Mr. Christensen in cleaning up the dives in the county and the way he has stood back of Sheriff Henry East in his successful fight against undesirable conditions.

JAMES H. GARDNER

Candidate for 4-year term Commissioner.

James H. Gardner has the well earned reputation of being careful, conservative, yet progressive, and as being a man who does things. His father, Archibald Gardner, was a Utah pioneer of 1847, and his sturdy, energetic, resourceful character was transmitted to his son, who was born at Mill Creek, July 27, 1859.

His boyhood was spent on the farm, and his early manhood in the lumber camps. When 21 years of age he was called on a mission to the Hawaiian Islands. Most of the next three and a half years was spent traveling among the natives and making sugar during the sugar seasons. This accounts for his later life being devoted to sugar making, and during his twenty four years in the business he has earned the reputation of being the best sugar man in America.

In religious matters he has followed in the foot steps of his father, who was bishop of West Jordan. Holding different important positions of trust he was chosen bishop of the Lehi Second Ward when Lehi was divided into four wards in 1903. This position he now holds.

He has given much time to public service, serving successfully in the school board, City Council, county Commissioner and as president of the Lehi Commercial club. Starting life as a boy on the farm he has more or less kept in touch with farm life ever since, filling on and perfecting a home-stead in Idaho after returning from his mission. He is now one of the largest farmers in the county, so that his business connections, manufacturing experiences and farm life largely accounts for his successful service as county commissioner, to which position his friends say he will again be elected.
