Ernest Webb Killed.

Ernest Webb of Charleston, a son of Wm. R. Webb of this city was instantly killed at the Wasatch Lumber company's saw mill in Daniel's canyon on Tuesday. He was engaged in off-bearing at the mill, when he slipped and fell onto the swiftly revolving saw. He was horribly mutilated in the contact and was dead when his companions reached him a few moments after.

Webb was a man 35 years old and was universally well liked. He is survived by a wife and six children. The remains were taken to Heber for burial. This is the second grown son Mr. Webb has lost in the past year and he is broken down with sorrow.

Apollis Defeat W. S. A.

In a fast, clean game of basket ball last Saturday night the Apollis defeated the Weber Stake Academy team by a score of 25 to 19. Nearly 600 people enjoyed the game and it goes without saying the result was satisfactory to the majority. The Apollis play the Y. M. C. A. at Salt Lake tonight.

Handed Roughly at Salt Lake.

James Thornton of Pinto, Utah is here on his return home from Idaho where he sold a bunch of cattle. Mr. Thornton reports rather rough treatment while at Salt Lake Sunday night, and the bruises about his head confirm his story. Arriving in Salt Lake on a night train he was walking up from the O. S. L. depot, when a man jumped from out of the darkness, striking him with some blunt instrument, after which his pockets were relieved of some $35 in change an over coat and new pair of over shoes which he was carrying. He must have lain sometime before gaining conscience. Thinking it of no use and considering himself lucky in not losing more money on him, the affair was not reported to the police department.

Missionary Farewell Program.

The regular missionary meeting in Science hall Sunday night will also be a farewell entertainment for Heber Hansen, who leaves on Tuesday to fill a mission. The proceeds of the collection will revert to Elder Hansen.

A good program has been arranged as follows:

- Music—Second ward choir.
Instrumental Music—Mrs. Roy Chipman.
Reading—Mrs. Lulu Robinson.
Vocal Solo—Edith Hindley.
Male Quartette—Direction of Ernest Paxman.
Humorous Talk—Osmon Justesen.
Vocal Solo—John B. Miller.
Reading—Myrl Chipman.
Remarks—Bishop W. B. Smith.
Duo—Chris Sisters.

FIVE JOHNS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tracey entertained a number of their friends at dinner on Sunday and on seating them at the table it was noticed that five of the six gentlemen present were named John. Bearing with the host John Tracey there was John Wootton, John Kelley, John Chadwick, and John Tracey Wootton the other gentleman being Bp. James T. Gardner.

Wasatch Forest Reserve.

Murray, Utah, January 1907
The Wasatch Forest Reserve, has been divided into 8 grazing districts for the separation and better handling of different classes of stock, the divisions are as follows: District No. 1.

The west and south slope of North Mountain, and the water sheds of Dry and Boxelder Creeks, except Boxelder Peak. Cattle and horse range.

District No. 2.
That portion including and east of Boxelder Peak and west of Mary Ellen Creek, and American Fork Creek on the south and the Little Cottonwood Divide on the north. Also that range between Mill and Baker Forks, and American Fork Creek and the Main Divide. This range for sheep only.

District No. 3.
That portion between American Fork Creek and Main Divide, and from Baker Fork to head of Canyon. Cattle and horse range only.

District No. 4.
That portion north of the North ridge of Snake Creek and east of Main Divide. This is a sheep range only.

District No. 5.
That portion East of the Main Divide, from the North ridge of Snake Creek on the North, to the divide between Bear Creek and South fork of Deer Creek on the South. This is cattle and horse range only.

District No. 6.
That portion between South Fork and Mill Fork and South East of American Fork Creek, also East of Main Divide and West Deer Creek, and bounded on the South by the Horse shoe Flats, and on the North Grazing 2—by the divide between Bear Fork and the South Fork of Deer Creek. This is cattle and horse range only.

District No. 7.

Randolph Makes Good.

M. O. Randolph is making good his statement that he would erect one of the finest residences in the county. His new home on West main street which is nearing completion is indeed a beauty, from basement to second floor convenience and elegance have not been overlooked in the least detail. Mr. Randolph has not spared means, but from foundation to chimney the best of materials have been used and he can well be proud of it. The work has been done under the direction of architect James H. Pulley by local mechanics. The plumbing and heating apparatus is now being installed by Arthur Adams. Mr. Randolph expects to go into his new home in about two weeks.

The editor of this paper would be the last man on earth to knowingly say a word to hurt the feelings of any of its subscribers or citizens, especially at a time when the dark winged messenger of death has brought sorrows to the home, but from the best of motives we desire to call the attention of our readers to the custom of publishing "cards of thanks." It is a custom that has outgrown its purpose, if it ever had one. When sickness and death comes to your home it is only natural that your friends and neighbors should do what they could to assist you. They would be heathens if they did not. They know from the expression of your face that you are thankful and deeply appreciate all they do and it is not necessary to rush into print and tell the world that your neighbors were kind when you were in trouble. The reading public are becoming tired of the old stereotyped "card of thanks." You can express to your friends, by a look or word your thankfulness in a more impressive manner than you can in a column of cold type.

A friend at our elbow suggests that the best way to head off the mail order houses is for the local merchants to advertise liberally and get the trade themselves. It does look reasonable. All of the successful mail order houses are heavy advertisers and if they can make it pay why not the local merchant.

Things to Talk About.

The Colorado woman fought, fumed and fussed until they got womans suffrage and then as soon as they got it, decided they didn't want it. Isn't that just like a woman?

It is rumored that the Supreme Court Chief Justice Fuller will retire in a few months and that Mr. Taft who is expected to succeed him will fill Fullers seat fuller than Fuller.

The fashion upholders have decreed that the winter girl must be "small in the waist, full in the hips, high-busted and broad-shouldered." Architects are now at work upon the designs.

Some Massachusetts young women have organized and pledged themselves not to marry any young man whose salary is less than $30 a week. It looks like making matrimony a mere matter of money.

It has been necessary to employ extra guards at the New Jersey penitentiary to keep women from flirting with the convicts. It will be safe however, to continue to believe that the world would soon go to the bad if there were no women in it.

Professor Burbank, who has succeeded in growing blue roses, spineless cactus, seedless apples and various other freaks of plant life, says he can't obtain one seed of horseradish and he offers $1,000 for an ounce of seed of the horseradish.

An Adames Edin in Texas is the wild dream of Mary F. Haden, the Chicago novelist, who is arranging to establish a colony of 1,000 women in Refugio County, Texas on the line of the San Antonio & Arkansas Pass railway. She has acquired title to 5,000 acres and is now at work on the plans for her new and unique colony.

Harry Woodruff, star of "Brown of Harvard," a former sweetheart of Anna Gould, is going to marry the Countess Castellane. Some years ago Woodruff was engaged to Miss Gould, it is said. An arrangement was made to send him to Harvard university for a more complete education than he possessed. The Gould fortune was placed at his disposal and an agreement executed that he would not make any attempt to marry the daughter of Jay Gould until after he was graduated. When Anna Gould met Count Castellane, Woodruff was jilted.

Many mothers imagine that their daughter's fortune is made when she learns enough to thump on a piano or labors enough to daub a cheap chromo or to work a yellow dog on a door mat. Girls are too glad to be spoiled that way; teach them to command a regiment of pots and kettles; teach them to make good bread; and to make garments and patch them when they need it. Teach them physical development; teach them it is more cruel and less christian for American women to cramp and destroy their lungs, liver and stomach, than it is for the Hottentots to press their heads flat, or for the Chinese to make their feet small. Good, healthy and industrious girls make happy homes, good wives and mothers.

Next to a man's family and happiness nothing should stand dearer to a man's heart than the community in which he lives. It is his home. It is the place in which he earns his competence and educates his children. If he wants to make it as popular as possible, he cannot afford to be indifferent to any thing that will further these ends; it can be said that a town that is not worthy of the devotion of its citizens in making it widely and generously prosperous is a town in which it is not worth anything to live at all. If a town is worth anything it is worthy of our greatest energy, whether we merely take our share of dividend in dollars and cents or whether we merely take our share of the common benefits accorded our home town.

Who pays for the advertising of merchants and other business? Not the advertiser, for the cost is returned to him four fold in increased profits. Not the purchaser, for he buys cheaper there and has a better assortment and fresher goods to select from. Who, then, really pays for the advertising bills? The non-advertiser of course. A just proportion of the money he loses by his lack of initiative or enterprise finds its way to the printer, to advance the cause of education and the interests of the community. If you have never looked at it in that light, it is worth thinking about. If $10 worth of advertising should bring $20 additional profits, you would have your advertising free and be $10 ahead of the game besides. The non-advertiser who lost the trade and profits which you gained would then be bearing your advertising expense as well as adding to your profits.

Miss Holman has 11 students who have been neither tardy nor absent during the first half of the school year.

One of the pupils of the 4th grade gave Miss Thackham a surprise party last Saturday evening and presented her with a very pretty jaquiere. A large amount of time was enjoyed. Light refreshments were served.

McCarthy reports the attendance in her room not so good this week. She wishes the parents to encourage their children to keep up their good record of punctuality.

Miss Laura McCarthy has been suffering this week from neuralgia.

The beginners are studying Eakimo legends of the imaginary journeys to the land, the children huddle round their seats, turn up coat collars to make their hands and feet in order to keep warm.

Miss Hindley's room is studying the legends for their language and nature study.

Alpine Items.

(By School Correspondent)
Sam Healy, a boy of about 16 years and the misfortune to be run over by a sleigh Thursday evening. A crowd of youngsters were having a jolly ride when young Healey attempted to stop the team with the result that he was knocked down and stepped on and the sleigh passed over him. At latest reports he was improving rapidly.

The committee for the fair report, through Mr. John Moyle, that they have about twenty head of cattle donated also about five tons of cabbage and nearly $100.00 in cash besides other articles to varied to mention. The committee will give their complete reports Saturday evening. All are working with untiring zeal to make this the greatest event in the history of Alpine.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cor was badly scalded this week. The little one was playing around the room while the mother was dipping boiling water from the boiler when the child accidentally ran against her causing the cup of water to spill on his head. It is thought that the child will be all right in time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Vance entertained the school teachers Wednesday evening. A sumptuous supper was served and a delightful evening enjoyed.

This week the schools received a large shipment of books principally for the library. The funds used in securing them was obtained through the school entertainment given before the holidays.

Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney nerves. The kidneys, like the heart, and the stomach, and their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well. If your back aches or is weak, if the urines are scant, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Bright's or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell.
