A Case of STOMACH CATARRH.

Miss Mary O'Brien, 206 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes: "Peruna cured me in five weeks of catarrh of the stomach, after suffering for four years and doctoring without effect."

Mr. H. J. Henneman, Oakland, Neb., writes: "I waited before writing to you about my sickness, catarrh of the stomach, which I had over a year ago."

Catarrh of the stomach is also known in common parlance as dyspepsia, gastritis and indigestion. No medicine will be of any permanent benefit except it removes the catarrhal condition.

Tom Ochiltree's Moon. After Tom Ochiltree, that able congress reamateur and laugh generator for the afflicted rich, settled in New York as the amuser of the John W. Mackay family, he exercised in a thousand different directions, and was as good in some ways as Sam Ward.

How's This? We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

Oldest Congregational Church. The Pilgrim Congregational church, near London, founded in 1616, is the oldest of the denomination in the empire, and it was from it that the London contingent of the men of the Mayflower was recruited.

NORTHWEST NOTES

August Kromerl, of Thermopolis, Wyo., will probably die as the result of being kicked by a horse.

After spending thirty hours at the bottom of a shaft in Leadville, down which he had fallen, Thomas Lewis was rescued by men who heard his faint cries for help.

David Dose, a blind man, 45 years of age, committed suicide at Laramie by shooting himself with a small rifle.

Andrew Harrell, the millionaire Nevada stock raiser, who is said to have been the largest taxpayer in the state with the exception of the Southern Pacific railroad, died August 25 in Palo Alto, Cal.

Mrs. F. P. Baumgartner, of Portland, ran down and seriously injured E. H. Evans, an employe of the Western Union in Seattle, with an automobile last week.

Charles Bailey, a teamster of Portland, shot and killed his wife and her 12-year-old daughter, Rhoda Bradley. Bailey then shot himself to death.

Fire destroyed the barn of the City Day Scavenger company in Spokane, and twenty-two head of horses were cremated.

Robert Hennessey is in jail at Trinidad, Colo., charged with fatally shooting Frank Price, a 16-year-old boy, at Delagua. It is alleged that Hennessey quarreled with a woman, procured a rifle and attempted to shoot her as she ran from the house.

Despite the fact that Montana's wool production shows a falling off of 5,000,000 pounds as compared with the preceding year, this state still holds its prestige as the banner end of the nation.

Dr. Perry Crosswait was probably fatally injured while alighting from a street car in Tacoma. An operation at the hospital disclosed a blood clot and recovery is doubtful.

One of the most peculiar criminal cases ever recorded in Montana was up for trial in Miles City last week. The case is that of the state against Charles Walters. The defendant is held on a charge of forgery, which he preferred against himself.

The bank of Auburn, Wash., was robbed one night last week, the robbers securing $5,200. The bank building was entered by some one possessing a pass-key and the safe was opened by some one either in the possession of the combination or an expert knowledge of opening safes, for no violence was attempted.

The second annual meeting of the Montana Woolgrowers' association will be held in Helena, October 2, 3 and 4. Several questions of great importance will come up for consideration.

John Beatty, one of the oldest and best known commercial travelers in the west, died at Butte, Mont., from the effects of carbolic acid, apparently taken in a fit of despondency over failure to secure work in his line of business.

Suffering from a pressure on the brain caused from a fractured skull received in the United Steamship Bennington disaster, off the coast of California, more than a year ago, William H. McDonald, an ex-naval officer of Newport News, Virginia, was picked up on the streets of Colorado Springs, and is in a hospital in a serious condition.

The action brought recently by T. S. Tallafiero of Rock Springs, Wyo., to test the validity of coal land withdrawals by President Roosevelt is to be appealed to Secretary Garfield of the Interior department, and should Secretary Garfield sustain the legality of the executive order, mandamus proceedings to compel the general land office to accept filings on land withdrawn by the president will be instituted.

Abhorring burial in a grave over which a monument would never be erected and on which flowers would never bloom, Andrew Russell of Wadsworth, Nevada, who died a few days ago, made a deed turning over all his possessions to J. O. Gregory, who in return for the riches agreed to carry out the wishes of the dying man.

C. H. McKinnon, brother-in-law of Charles Haywood, has been elected president of the miners' union of Goldfield, defeating John Reach. The announcement came as a surprise. McKinnon is known as a radical Socialist.

Twelve persons were killed and twelve others injured in a wreck of an express train on the Rock Island railroad at Norris, Ia. The express train, which was north-bound, jumped the track, and while going at full speed collided with a freight train standing on the siding.

For the first time since the inauguration of Labor day the great parade of the unions was omitted in Chicago. Several weeks ago the various organizations decided to abandon the parade and devote to other uses the large amount of money which was formerly expended on the parade.

Announcement is made that William J. Bryan will begin a tour of speech making in New York state in October, under the auspices of the New York Progressive Democratic league. Mr. Bryan is scheduled to make an address at the unveiling of the Bennett statue at New Haven on October 20.

WORN TO A SKELETON.

A Wonderful Restoration Caused a Sensation in a Pennsylvania Town.

Mrs. Charles N. Preston, of Elkland, Pa., says: "Three years ago I found that my housework was becoming a burden. I tired easily, had no ambition and was falling fast. My complexion got yellow, and I lost over 50 pounds. My throat was terrible, and there was sugar in the kidney secretions."

My doctor kept me on a strict diet, but as his medicine was not helping me, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They helped me at once, and soon all traces of sugar disappeared. I have regained my former weight and am perfectly well."

JUST A GOOD HINT. One Remedy Approves Indicated Noblemen Have Never Tried.

The earl of Surrey, afterward eleventh duke of Norfolk, who was a notorious gourmand and hard drinker and a leading member of the Beef-steak club, was so far from cleanly in his person that his servants used to avail themselves of his fits of drunkenness—which were pretty frequent, by the way—for the purpose of washing him. On these occasions they stripped him as they would a corpse and performed the needful ablutions. He was equally notorious for his horror of clean linen. One day, on his complaining to Dudley North at his club that he had become a perfect martyr to rheumatism and tried every possible remedy without success, the latter wittily replied: "Pray, my lord, did you ever try a clean shirt?"

A Horse's Good Fortune. A spiritualist came to our house some time ago and claimed to be able to locate our lost friends if we desired. We had an old horse which we had sold years ago and my mother wanted to know where he was. Mother began: "We had a very good friend who always did all our work. He passed from us several years ago and the last we heard of him was that he was in Los Angeles. I would like to know if he is still living."

The spiritualist made certain motions and knocked on the table and then said: "Your friend is in Los Angeles and is married to a rich young woman."—Judge.

Why Advertising Pays. "You will be pressed for money oftener because you have no advertising bills to pay than because you have," observes the Buffalo News. "Big advertising bills and big bank balances grow, together, out of the same publicity campaigns." The merchant who holds down his expense account by cutting out advertising saves money just the way the railroads would if they should stop buying coal for their locomotives. Without coal publicity trade comes to a standstill. It pays to throw silver out of the window that gold may come in at the door.

A Pardonable Fault. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, discussing a rather flimsy attack that had been made on certain recent statements, smiled and said: "But who or what is blameless? It is like the case of the Scottish hen. An old Scottish woman wished to sell a hen to a neighbor. "But tell me," the neighbor said, "is she a'thgether a guid bird? Has she got nae faults, nae faults at all?" "A'well, Margot," the other old woman admitted, "she has got one fault. She will lay on the Lord's day."

FAMILY FOOD. Crisp, Toothsome and Requires No Cooking. A little boy down in N. C. asked his mother to write an account of how Grape-Nuts food had helped their family.

She says Grape-Nuts was first brought to her attention on a visit to Charlotte, where she visited the Mayor of that city who was using the food by the advice of his physician. She says: "They derive so much good from it that they never pass a day without using it. While I was there I used the food regularly. I gained about 15 pounds and felt so well that when I returned home I began using Grape-Nuts in our family regularly."

"My little 18 months old baby shortly after being weaned was very ill with dyspepsia and teething. She was sick nine weeks and we tried everything. She became so emaciated that it was painful to handle her and we thought we were going to lose her. One day a happy thought urged me to try Grape-Nuts soaked in a little warm milk. "Well, it worked like a charm and she began taking it regularly and improvement set in at once. She is now getting well and round and fat as fast as possible on Grape-Nuts."

"Sometime ago several of the family were stricken with LaGrippe at the same time, and during the worst stages we could not relish anything in the shape of food but Grape-Nuts and oranges, everything else nauseated us. "We all appreciate what your famous food has done for our family. "There's a Reason." Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

IN THE SUPERLATIVE DEGREE.

Little Son's Explanation Seemed to Cover the Case.

Little son, aged seven, whose training has been of the most painstaking and conscientious, rather took away his mother's breath in describing the dog's game of ball. He ended with: "And, mother, Topsy caught the ball in her mouth, and then just ran like h—!"

"Like what?" cried the startled mother. "W'y, like h—, don't you know, mother?" innocently.

"No, I don't believe I do. Just how is that, dear?" she asked faintly. "Well, I don't know jus' what it means, myself," he confessed, "but it's a whole lot faster than 'lickety-split'!"

CASE OF ECZEMA IN SOUTH. Suffered Three Years—Hands and Eye Most Affected—Now Well and is Grateful to Cuticura.

"My wife was taken badly with eczema for three years, and she employed a doctor with no effect at all until she employed Cuticura Soap and Ointment. One of her hands and her left eye were badly affected, and when she would stop using Cuticura Soap and Ointment the eczema came back, but very slightly, but it did her a sight of good. Then we used the entire set of Cuticura Remedies and my wife is entirely recovered. She thanks Cuticura very much and will recommend it highly in our locality and in every nook and corner of our parish. I. M. Robert, Hydropolis, La., Jan. 5 and Sept. 1, 1906."

And occasionally a soft answer genders wrath.
