

Pleasant Grove Department

Final Decree Entered Settling Water Case

Wednesday the parties to the dispute wherein the water of the Pleasant Grove system was in dispute appeared in court at Provo and settled by stipulation at a total court cost of $13.90, the case of Mark Bezzant et al. vs. Pleasant Grove City, that at the time threatened to cost thousands of dollars and to almost disrupt the community.

Both sides are felicitating each other over the happy ending of the dispute and everybody seems to be well satisfied. From the best information obtainable it appears that the city got all that it was entitled to and a sufficient quantity for all domestic purposes.

When the case was commenced this paper strongly advised the course that as finally taken and subsequent results amply prove the wisdom of the advice. So many are interested in the final adjustment that we reproduce in full the decree as it is now on the official record:

Decree.

This cause came on for trial the 10th day of April, 1914, at Provo, Utah, before Hon. A. B. Morgan, Judge, presiding without a jury; S. R. Thurman, Esquire, appearing as attorney for the plaintiffs, and Harvey Cluff, Esquire, as attorney for the defendants. The respective parties by their attorneys having stipulated in open court that findings of fact and conclusions of law be waived, and the following decree entered, it is thereupon ordered, adjudged and decreed that the defendant, Pleasant Grove City, is the owner of 1.35 cubic feet of water per second of the waters of Battle Creek, in Utah County, Utah, as described in the complaint, and its title thereto is hereby quieted and affirmed.

That the said defendant, Pleasant Grove City, is not the owner of any other quantity of water whatever within the Pleasant Grove irrigation system, in any manner of form, except the right to manage, control and distribute the same among the owners and users thereof and the ownership of seven and three-quarter acres of water for city cemetery and one acre of water for city hall, aside from the 1.35 second feet for waterworks.

That the plaintiffs and other persons whom they represent are the owners of the remainder of the waters of said Battle Creek and their title thereto is hereby quieted and affirmed.

That the waters of said Battle Creek shall be divided between the parties hereto in the proportions now stated at the place where it is now divided near the mouth of the canyon of said creek and the portion measured to plaintiffs herein shall be conducted by means of a water tight pipe without loss or diminution to the west end of the present pipe line conveying the same, excepting the water now being diverted and used by parties at the weir.

That the defendant shall, at its own expense, construct and perpetually maintain in good repair, suitable and efficient measuring devices at the point of division of said water and construct and perpetually maintain a good and sufficient water tight pipe to carry the water hereby awarded to the plaintiffs without loss or diminution from the point of division to the west end of the pipeline as it now exists.

That in the event a dispute arises as to whether or not said pipeline is conveying water the same shall be referred to the water commissioner hereinafter provided for, and if in his judgment said pipeline is defective and is not safely conducting all of the water awarded to plaintiffs to the west end of said pipeline, or in the event said commissioner is in doubt and cannot accurately determine the matter to his own satisfaction without a measurement of the quantity of water flowing to the west end of said pipeline, then it shall be the duty of the defendant, at its own expense upon request of said commissioner to measure said water or cause it to be measured, both at the point of division and at the outlet of said pipeline for the purpose of determining the question in dispute.

That a water commissioner, capable of accurately measuring flowing water and determining the quantity thereof shall be appointed from time to time by the court (and for that purpose jurisdiction is hereby retained), whose duty it shall be to measure said water and make proper division thereof and determine the quantity flowing to each of the parties herein whenever there is a dispute concerning the same, and in his judgment it is necessary in order to determine the quantity flowing to each of said parties. In the event that the commissioner refuses to make a measurement of said water in case of dispute, then either plaintiff or defendant may, after reasonable notice to the other party, make such measurement and the expense thereof shall be paid by the party which fails to establish its side of the dispute.

That said commissioner shall perform such other duties relating to the measurement and division of said water as may be necessary to carry out the terms of this decree, and shall at all times be subject to the orders of the court in respect to the matters determined hereby.

That Frank Weitz is hereby appointed water commissioner as here provided, and shall serve in said capacity during the pleasure of the court and until his successor is duly appointed.

That the costs of this action shall be equally divided between the parties plaintiff and defendant, and may be taxed accordingly.

A. B. MORGAN, Judge.
Dated at Provo, Utah, this 29th day of April, 1914.

Half Holiday For Business Firms

Commencing next week all the business houses will give their employees a half holiday every Wednesday afternoon. This will last all summer and is in harmony with the actions taken by the business men of American Fork and Lehi, so that the action is now unanimous in the north end of Utah county.

Following is the agreement and the names of those who signed it, the list being unanimous:

- We, the undersigned merchants and proprietors of places of business, hereby agree to close our places of business on Wednesday afternoons, starting May 6, 1914, at 1 o'clock p. m., and continue until September 1, 1914. We pledge ourselves to comply with the foregoing agreement and will do all in our power to make this a half holiday in very deed for ourselves, our employees and the public.

Fruit Growers Association Manager Arrives

C. A. Hickenlooper, Traveling Representative, Also Here, Signaling Up New Members.

Leonard Matthews, the new manager for the Pleasant Grove branch of the Utah Fruitgrowers' Association, arrived here this week and is now in charge of the company's affairs at their local office. Mr. Matthews hails from Ogden, where he has had much experience in the fruit industry. He is pleased with the season's prospects and pronounces Pleasant Grove as the most beautiful town in the state. He expects Mrs. Matthews here by and bye.

Mrs. C. A. Hickenlooper of Ogden, the traveling representative for the state association, has been here for the past ten days initiating the local growers into membership in the association, and he reports that he has signed up nearly all of the prominent local fruit growers. Over fifty of them have taken stock and will market their fruit through the state exchange. Besides this he has listed practically all of the fruit growers of Lehi, Alpine and American Fork.

Mr. Hickenlooper says that the association has a most promising season before it, having already contracted for a large part of the peach crop at advanced prices over last year. The association has installed C. C. Backus, an experienced commission man, in charge of its local and express shipments. It will take care of the berry crop and will handle express shipments as well as carload lots.

It has been supplying its members with arsenate of lead for spraying purposes at prices less than they could obtain it from other sources, and will also supply them with their berry boxes at cost.

Bulletin Issued to Fruitgrowers

Series of Spraying Demonstrations Called to Attention of Horticulturists.

The state horticultural commission, through J. Edward Taylor, state inspector, assisted by the various county inspectors, is planning a series of demonstrations to teach the farmers of the state the best methods of spraying apple and other fruit trees and the necessity for such spraying.

As this season is about the best time to demonstrate the spraying of codling moths, which do immense damage to fruit trees, the demonstrations will be begun at once in every part of the state.

That the department intends to give the orchardists fair warning that their fruit will be condemned in the fall if it is wormy, was stated yesterday by Mr. Taylor. He says that there is absolutely no excuse for wormy fruit if the trees are properly sprayed for moths. Mr. Taylor says that the codling moth does more damage than all others with which the apple-grower has to contend. He will send out to fruitgrowers the following bulletin telling what remedies should be used:

Spray with arsenate of lead or Paris green as soon after the blossoms fall as possible. Repeat in nine to fourteen days. If the orchard has been badly infested or is within a quarter of a mile of other infested ones from which moths may fly in, spray for the second brood.

Never spray the tree when in bloom. The first two sprays should be thrown from above down, and from the sides in, so as to force the poison into the calyx cups. For these sprays use a Bordeaux nozzle, giving a coarse, fan-shaped spray that will carry six feet before it forms a mist. The two sprays should be continued until every flower has been thoroughly soaked and the trees are dripping heavily. For the latter sprays use a finer mist-like spray, and stop as soon as the trees begin to drip.

Fat bands on the trees a month after blossoming and remove every ten days and destroy all larvae until the 20th of August. Remove bands until picking time. Remove bands after fruit is picked, kill larvae and put bands away until next year. Scraping the bark in the spring, screening the fruit house and picking off all wormy apples about two weeks after the first worms come under the bands will also aid in controlling them.

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW TITHING OFFICE

The committee having in charge the erection of the new tithing office met this week and let the contract for the erection of the building. There were a number of bidders, but Alex. Thornton's was considered the lowest and was given the contract for a little less than $3,000.

He will commence work on the building in the near future. It will be located on the lot southeast from the Tabernacle, and will be convenient in arrangement and attractive in design.

SCHOOLS DEBATE CONSOLIDATION

Tuesday evening a large audience listened to the debate in the Tabernacle between Miss Susie Kirk and Mr. Omar Larson, representing the Pleasant Grove high school, and Miss Marie Bredesen and Alvin Kirkham, representing Lehi. The local debaters took the negative side of the question, while the visi-

DON'T JUDGE CLOTHES BY PRICE

It isn't a fair basis. High Art Suits and Top Coats are not any higher in price than scores of other makes. They would be, though, if we marked them ALL that their intrinsic value and effectiveness justified. It is a truism in this case that the "best is cheapest"—not only in the end—but at the out-start.

Compare the wools; the tailoring; the character of design; the fit—every feature that satisfaction hinges on. High Art Clothes—from the lowest grade to the best—have reached a degree of perfection this season that has no near rival.
