

Salt Lake City Democrat.

VOL. 1---NO. 143.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH, TUESDAY, AUGUST 18, 1885.

FIVE CENTS.

HENLEY'S CELERY, BEEF & IRON

NEWS OF THE DAY.

MYSTERIOUS MAXWELL.

RACING AT SARATOGA.

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.

BOLIVAR ROBERTS.

W. A. NELDEN.

USE

DR. HENLEY'S
Celery, Beef and Iron!

The Great Nerve Tonic.

It causes an effectual cure in cases of Neuralgia, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Debility, Dyspepsia,
Indigestion, Languor and Malarial Diseases.

For Sale at all Druggists at One Dollar a Bottle.

Be sure and see that the name of Tut-hill, Cox & Co., or the Celery, Beef and Iron Extract Co. is on each bottle.

BUSINESS CARDS.

NOTICE—I HAVE THIS DAY BOUGHT out the Livery business of George W. Hill and am prepared to continue the business at the old stand. Stables on West Temple street, nearly opposite the Hotel office, at rates reasonable. H. HAZELGROVE.
August 18th, 1885.

E. R. CLUTE, DRYMAN, TRANSACTS A general Transfer business to and from Europe. Leave orders at Remington, Johnson & Co.'s.

WATCHES, CLOCKS AND JEWELRY REpaired by Adolph Pamerbach, 12 E. 1st S. St.
Fred Anderson, REAL ESTATE BRO-KER and Notary Public. Rents houses, collects rents and interests, loans money at low rates, makes out deeds, mortgages, etc. Houses and lots for sale in all parts of the city. Office in old Salt Lake House. No trouble to show properties.

HASINGS, STAR EXPRESS, HAS BETter facilities for moving Pianos, fine Furniture, etc. than any one, and if you wish moving done with care and dispatch, call on him at No. 141 Main Street. Telephone No. 138.
All kinds of freight handled. Orders promptly attended to.

CHINA AND JAPAN ZAAZAR. A LARGE assortment of Imported and Fancy Goods always on hand and for quick dispatch, call on me at No. 141 Main Street. Telephone No. 138.
Address: Dr. C. W. Higgins, No. 272 Main Street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

FOR SALE.
A GOOD FAMILY HORSE,
with buggy and harness. Price very low.
Address: "Holtcomb," P. O. Box 429, Salt Lake City.

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.
J. B. KEYSOR,
Dentist,
Herald Building, opposite Continental Hotel, West Temple Street,
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

A. S. CHAPMAN, J. L. WHITLOCK, D.D.S., CHAPMAN & WHITLOCK,
Dentists,
Walker Opera House. Anesthetics administered.
Telephone in office.

F. C. NICHOLS,
Dentist.
OFFICE, opposite Walker House. Telephone in office. Anesthetics given.

M. H. BEIDOLF,
Civil Engineer,
and United States Deputy Mineral Surveyor.
Room 19, Commerce Block.
P. O. Box 196.

E. B. WILDER,
Mining Engineer
AND U. S. DEPUTY MINERAL SURVEYOR.
A. Mining and underground surveys, with drawings of same, a specialty.
Office—129 Main street (post stairs) by Jones & Co.'s Bank.

ASSAYERS.
FRANK FOOTE,
Assayer,
No. 141 SOUTH MAIN STREET, SALT LAKE CITY. Personal attention given to all business.

F. M. BISHOP,
Assayer,
161 MAIN STREET, SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.
All work carefully and promptly executed.

J. MCKICKER,
Assayer,
Under McCormick's Bank, Main St.
SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH.

W. G. M. SIEWARD,
Assayer,
10 E. Second South Street. P. O. Box 449.
Under barber shop, east of U. F. Hotel Office.

INSURANCE.
LEWIS B. ROGERS,
INSURANCE.

THE LION FIRE INSURANCE CO., Of London, England. Capital and assets, $4,000,000.

ORIENT INSURANCE CO.,
Of Hartford, Connecticut. Capital and assets, $1,500,000.

WASHINGTON F. & M. INS. CO.,
Of Boston, Massachusetts. Capital and assets, $1,500,000.

OFFICE—At Safe Deposit Vaults, Union National Bank.

CITY TAXES.

THE TAXPAYERS OF SALT LAKE CITY are hereby notified that the City Council of this city in accordance with law will all as a Board of Equalization, at the City Hall, on Tuesday, August 18, 1885, at 9 o'clock p. m. The business of said Board is to hear and determine all complaints which may be made in regard to the assessed value of any property, and, if they find it necessary to change and correct any valuation, either by adding thereto or deducting therefrom; also to remit or abate the taxes of any insane, idiotic, infirm or indigent person to an amount not exceeding five dollars for the current year. All persons concerned will take due notice and govern themselves accordingly. HEBER M. WELLS, City Recorder.

Natural gas has been struck at Port Colborne, Ont., in sufficient force to light the town.

The marriage has been definitely arranged between Sir Charles Dilke and the widow of Rev. Mark Pattison.

The Pall Mall Gazette's recent revelations of London vice have been dramatized at Vienna. The play is in five acts and is entitled, "Protect Our Daughters."

General Grant left no will. It is not unlikely that the family will return to New York the middle of September and then to their home in Sixty-sixth street.

The Detroit Journal says: Secretary Whitney is a kind of surprise party. The first general opinion wronged him. He is not a dude; he is, in fact, a dandy.

Our South American trade has been seriously crippled by the burning of Colon and the practical closing of the ports of Cartagena and Barranquilla, particularly the latter.

Rev. Talmage, Rev. Spurgeon and the Bishop of Truro have sent letters to the Hyde Park, under the auspices of the Pall Mall Gazette, expressing their sympathy with the objects of the meeting.

It is felt in many places in the South that the movement to General Grant would assume the dual character of a monument to General Grant and General Lee. Dr. J.
R. Hinekey, of Georgia, one of the best known physicians of the South, writes to Virginia, subscribes $500 for this purpose, and calls upon the proper authorities in New York to give the matter this shape so that Confederates may join in.

The New York World says the Sun might have allowed the Grays to grow and the grave of General Grant before seeking to belittle his reputation as a military commander and to depreciate his services to the nation. Yesterday it said: "If there had been no Grant we should beyond doubt have found some other successful commander.
We had many generals of character and genius to choose from."

Last Thursday the dead body of Mrs.
Harrison was found in an unused well at Desoto, Iowa. The circumstances indicate murder. The family relations of the Harrison were not very agreeable, owing to the presence of a Mrs. Lowry, to whom Mrs.
Harrison objected. All manner of evil rumors are afloat, and the excitement is great. Yesterday morning by Mrs.
Lowry drowning herself in a cistern.

Ten arrests have been made of members of a criminal society which has been operating in Rome, Naples and Spolito. A search of the house of a member of the society (a former government official) revealed the fact that a correspondence had been carried on with agents in New York for the sale to American agents of Italian girls who had been bought for small sums in the southern provinces. The prices asked ranged from $40 to $80.

During the absence of the President the White House will be thoroughly renovated and cleaned. Workmen are seen in all the corridors busily engaged in preparing the building for the occupancy of the President during the coming winter. All the carpets and furniture have been removed, and the chandeliers in the East room and in the lobby are to be taken down and "made as good as new."

Captain Davis of the Fourth Cavalry reports that Lieutenant Day struck Geronimo's camp northeast of Navkavi on August 7th, and killed three bucks, a squaw and Geroni-mo's son, aged 15, and captured five-teen women and children, among them three wives and five children of Geroni-mo. Geroni-mo was wounded. Besides him, only two other bucks and one squaw escaped. Everything in camp was captured. On the 29th Lieutenant Day ambushed a party of four Chinleahs, killed two and captured all the horses and supplies.

The New York Herald says: Among the visitors to the White House on Sunday were thronged of shop girls and their beaux in their finery. Added to these were Sunday outers and poor tenement house women with their babies, and their rough and frivolous conduct generally are not in the least relaxed because Grant lies here dead. It is asking too much of the Park authorities, now that it is quite certain that the gambols and silly flouting behavior of the great Sunday mass of ignorant persons out for a Sunday lark are not seriously impressed by the tomb, that there should be a judicious enforcement of the ordinary ceremonies.

Parkville, W. Va., is in such a social ferment as has never before been known over the publication of an article in a local paper stating that "upward of 500 women of this town are given over to infidelity; for every three virtuous women there is one known to be unchaste." The excitement, indignation and rage increase as time passes. The women of the city, of all grades of society, have read the scandalous article, and threaten if the men do not avenge the insult to their sex they will take it into their own hands and mete out to the editors of the newspaper their just deserts and treat them to a coat of tar and feathers.

George W. Was One of the Boys.
The story is put in circulation that the Harpers once employed James Parton, the biographer, to visit Virginia and write a life of Washington. After making extensive investigations he went to his employers and declined to complete his work. When asked to explain his refusal he said: "Well, the fact is, Mr. Harper, George Washington, illustrious character as he was and will ever be in history, was no saint. He was wise and brave, but he was not only a man of skill in battle, dignified in demeanor, and he brought the colonies through their troubles. But he went to cook fights and horse races, and gambled on both; was so close in his money affairs as to be almost penurious; was hard in his dealings with his neighbors; never gentle or generous toward his inferiors and tenants; and two of his letters, inviting Alexander Hamilton to Mount Vernon and reciting his attractions, have been destroyed. The letter is worth having my old eye replaced by a new one."
—American (Ga.) Recorder.

A Man with a Cat's Eye.
There is a man in America, one of whose eyes is black and the other a real cat's eye.
The pupil of the latter will expand and contract the same as that of a feline. Here is his own explanation for the curious phenomenon: "When I was a child I struck the point of a pair of scissors in that eye. The matter in it ran out of the wound. An old country physician was called, and he said probably the eye could be saved by putting a cat's eye in the place. A cat was caught, treated with chloroform, and while under the influence the eye was transferred to me. In ten days the matter was able to go out of the dark room in which I had been kept, and could see better than ever out of that eye.
Why, I can see in the night as good as day. The letter is worth having my old eye replaced by a new one."
—American (Ga.) Recorder.

Senator Edmunds Tells of England.
New York, August 18.—Senator Edmunds
and family arrived from Europe yesterday.
In an interview last night the Senator, in response to a question about the present condition of trade in England, said: "It is depressed, very much so. I made inquiry wherever I went on that point, and the reply was everywhere the same. The cause is undoubtedly over production, and England has gone on manufacturing until she has glutted her markets. There is already a wide feeling that England can only save herself and prevent starvation or emigration among her working people by following the example of this country and adopting a protective tariff policy. Indeed, I think she will be compelled to do so."

What Strong in Chicago To-day.
Chicago, August 18.—Wheat was excited, but somewhat stronger during the last half session, closed 1/2 under yesterday; 80% cash; 81% September; 83% October. Corn steady; 45% cash; 45% September; 44% October. Oats firmer; 25% cash; 24% September; 24% October. Whisky, $1.15.

Another Sensational Development in the St. Louis Trunk Tragedy.

The Great Railroad Strike Inaugurated
To-day—The K. of L. Ordered Out on the Gould Lines.

Senator Edmunds Gives an Opinion as to the Cause of Trade Depression in England.

The Great Strike on the Wabash.
St. Louis, August 18.—The publication of the order commanding a strike to-day by all Knights of Labor employed on the Wabash Railroad seems to have been premature, but the general executive committee late last night acknowledged the authenticity of the order, and said the strike will surely take place to-day. The order has been sent to Fort Wayne, Ind., by the Indiana Industry and Springfield, Ill., by the Deatur and Council Bluffs, Mo., by the St. Louis, Mo., Toledo, O., Council Bluffs, Iowa; and St. Louis. The committee claim that they have got the names of the named places sure, and claim to have the yards and train men, but are in great doubt about the engineers and firemen. They admit that the movement is an experiment, but express confidence in being able to pretend to suspend the operations of the road.

The general committee will remain in this city and conduct the strike from here. There are various rumors and statements to the effect that the men on the Missouri Pacific system will join in the movement, and that the men on the Illinois Central and other roads will also join in the movement, who say the Wabash alone is involved.

St. Louis, August 18.—At a meeting of the executive board of the Knights of Labor the committee representing local men on the Wabash road and Knights of Labor employed on the Gould southwest system, held this morning, resolutions were passed denouncing officials for attempting to break the Knights of Labor, and for causing the arrest of members of the organization by U.
S. Marshals. It is probable that an order calling out the men on the Gould roads will be issued shortly.

St. Louis, Mo., August 18, 9:20 p. m.—At noon to-day all the men in the Wabash shops went out. Everything is quiet and no demonstrations.

Monday, Mo., August 18.—Twenty-five men employed on the Wabash road went out to-day. No trouble.

St. Louis, August 18.—The order to strike on the Wabash road was observed at Mer-ber, Mo., Springfield, Ill., Deatur, Ill., Fort Wayne, Ind., and Toledo, O., but very few men went out. At 3 p. m. the executive committee of the Knights of Labor at the Gould roads west of the Mississippi river.

The New York "Sun" on Grant.
New York, August 17.—The Sun's leader of Sunday says: Many of the cultivated and eloquent writers and orators who, during the last few weeks, have recalled the history and services of Grant, have fallen into the error of representing him as the special Savior of the Union in its conflict with the powers of secession and slavery. It is a natural mistake. The hero of the hour eclipses all other heroes. His exploits fill the imagination and gain splendor and importance as they are told, but it is not time to insist upon the truth, and this is that the man who above all other men saved the Union was Abraham Lincoln. Had he been a more comparable politician and a more manful man, Lincoln could hardly have brought the war to a victorious end. More dextrous, or more successful in policy, than Lincoln, but that by which he carried through Congress the constitutional amendment prohibiting slavery; nor was there over a keener calculation of the effect of the amendment in the erection of Nevada as a State for the purpose of ratifying this amendment and making it permanently effectual.

A Sure Fight Between Sullivan and McCaffrey.
CINCINNATI, August 18.—John L. Sullivan and Dominic McCaffrey will fight six rounds, Marquis of Queensbury rules, at Chester Park, Cincinnati, August 31. There is no fear about a failure this time, as the contract has been signed, sealed and earnest livered, and each man is a dead earnest fighter, and each man is a champion.

McCaffrey is ambitious for championship honors, and has been waiting for over a year for a chance to shy his castor into the same ring with the big fellow. He has gone into training at Rockaway for the contest. Sullivan has a bitter hatred for McCaffrey on account of the latter claiming that he once brought the class from the Boston slinger's nose. John always denied it, and said that the alleged fight was nothing more than a friendly set-to.

A Mother and Three Children Blown Up.
NEW ORLEANS, August 18.—A terrible accident is reported from Little Caillon, Terrebonne parish. A few days ago while Emil Lietrite was engaged in moulding bullets for his gun, he asked his wife to fill his powder horn for him. She was some ten or twelve feet from the fireplace, where a few coals were smouldering. The task was but half completed when a gust of wind suddenly blown through the open door, kindled a terrible explosion followed. The roof of the dwelling was torn off and three children
brought the class from the Boston slinger's
nose. John always denied it, and said that
the alleged fight was nothing more than a
friendly set-to.

He Has a $5,000 Character.
HILLSBORO, Ill., August 18.—Pierre A.
Miller has brought an action for slander against Mary L. Hood, a pretty schoolmarm who has taught in the public schools of this city for several years, and who has always moved in the best society circles. She is the daughter of B. S. Hood, editor of the Littlefield Monitor. The plaintiff is a young man and lives in Littlefield, this county, but during his last year has been in the employ of the plaintiff. The amount of damages asked by the plaintiff. There has been no declaration filed yet, but the action is said to be based on remarks alleged to have been made by the fair defendant derogatory to the plaintiff's character.

Senator Edmunds Tells of England.
New York, August 18.—Senator Edmunds
and family arrived from Europe yesterday.
In an interview last night the Senator, in response to a question about the present condition of trade in England, said: "It is de-
pressed, very much so. I made inquiry
wherever I went on that point, and the reply
was everywhere the same. The cause is undoubtedly over production, and England has
gone on manufacturing until she has glutted
her markets. There is already a wide feeling that England can only save her-
self and prevent starvation or emigra-
tion among her working people by following
the example of this country and adopting a
protective tariff policy. Indeed, I think she
will be compelled to do so."

What Strong in Chicago To-day.
Chicago, August 18.—Wheat was excited,
but somewhat stronger during the last half
session, closed 1/2 under yesterday; 80%
cash; 81% September; 83% October. Corn
steady; 45% cash; 45% September; 44% October. Oats firmer; 25% cash; 24% September; 24% October. Whisky, $1.15.

Racing at Saratoga.
SARATOGA, August 18.—Racing was continued here to-day. The weather is fine.
The first race was for the Tennessee stakes, for two-year-olds, with non-winning allowances; distance, three-fourths of a mile. The starters were Kirkman, Farenc, Bonnie Bettler, Bead and Col. Sprague. The race was won by Kirkman, with Bluestone second, and Bluestone second, and Farenc third. Time, 1:17.

The second race, free handicap sweepstakes, one and one-half mile; starters, Easter, Boatman, Valet, Lucky B., Favor,
Bettler, Bead and Col. Sprague. The race was won by Valet, with Col. Sprague second, and Favor third. Time, 2:40. Mutuals paid $145.20.

The race was for Congress Hall stakes, non-winning allowances, beats three-quarters of a mile. The starters were Pearl Jennings, Conking, Rapido, Kosciesko and the California horse. The race was won by Pearl Jennings, with Jim Renwick third, time, 1:16. In the second heat, Jim Renwick was most of the running, but Rapido coming very strong in the stretch, won cleverly by a length and a half, Pearl Jennings second, Kosciesko third. Time, 1:17.

The third heat was won by the California horse, Rapido second. Time, 1:17.

In the fourth race, for all ages, three-quarters of a mile, the starters were Editor, Strathey, Telie Doe, Mission, Belle Chance and Ingleside. The race was won by Strathey with Telie Doe second and Editor third. Time, 1:10.

Fifth race, a steep handicap for all ages, distance about two and one-quarter miles; starters, Quebec, Captain Curry, Re-sister, Esquival and Col. May. The race was won by Captain Curry, with Resister second and Farquin third. Time, 4:26.

New Developments in the Maxwell Case.
St. Louis, August 18.—A letter is published here to-day dated Sunny Bank, Cheshire, England, July 19th, 1885, and signed Samuel N. Brooks, which speaks of his son, H. M. Brooks, having left home last January on a business trip to Ireland, and that no word has been received from him since. It had been learned however, that he was in the city of London, and that he had been engaged in the adjoining parish for a commission, and that they had indulged in various extravagances, and that Brooks' name had got mixed up with the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of the writer and makes an urgent appeal for information in regard to the person concerned, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The
letter shows great distress on the part of
the writer and makes an urgent appeal for
information in regard to the person concern-
ed, and that they had in-
dulged in various extravagances, and that
Brooks' name had got mixed up with
the "St. Louis tragedy," and that he had
got mixed up with Doctor Maxwell. The letter shows great distress on