IS THE PRESIDENT A DEMOCRAT? The following appeared in the New York Sun of November 28th:

To the Editor of the Sun:

Siz:—As a life-long Democrat, who voted for Grover Cleveland both for the office of Governor of the State of New York and for that of President of the United States, I beg leave to dissent from your statement that "as long as the President appoints Democrats and not Republicans his party is not going to quarrel with him." I take issue with Mr. Cleveland, because his whole course since his induction into his present office shows unmistakably that he is not a Democrat. Not being a Democrat, he cannot reasonably be expected to recognize the binding force of the principles, the history, and the traditions of the Democratic party.

There is unnecessary alarm among many over possible contingencies. We haven't the least doubt in the world but that Mr. Cleveland will live to conduct a billity conduct a second Administration to a successful and glorious close, and then be succeeded by another Democratic President. Long live Grover Cleveland.

THE INDIANS.

Commissioner Adkins has made his renize the binding force of the principles, the history, and the traditions of the Democratic party.

To pass from generalities to particulars, he has failed to effect the reforms which I, in common with thousands of others, erpected at his hands. He has made no sappreciable reduction of the grand army of office holders, numbering not less than 110,000, myriads of whom were put in their places for the sole purpose of keeping the Republican party in power. He has frittered away his time in concocting new devices, under the name of civil service reform, to keep in office the rascals whom he was elected to turn out. He has spent several weeks in depriving that honest, capable, and faithful Democrat, George H. Sterling, of the petty office of a weigher in the Custom House to which he had been appointed in strict conformity with the law of Congress, and the rules framed pursuant to its provisions. For the first time in the history of the country—I trust for the last time in the history of the country—I trust for the last time in the history of the country—I trust for the last time in the history of the country—I trust for the last time in the history of the country—the has issued his imperial rescript, forbidding his fellow citizens, not excepting the members of Congress, from entering his presence.

For all these reasons, and for others too numerous to mention, I sought to rebuke him by advocating the nomination and the election of that sterling Democrat. Duvid B. Hill, to the office of Governor. Furthermore, I voted the entire Tammany ticket for county and municipal officers. What I have done in the past I shall do in the fature, without any variableness or even shadow of turning, so long as Grover Cleveland shall retain his present office.

A Country Democrat.

We take it that there is no doubt of the President's Democracy; likewise, there is no doubt but that "A County Democrat" is a thorough spoilsman, and in all likelihood believes that the profoundest maxim of free government that was ever uttered victors belong the spoils." " A County Democrat" makes many charges against the President, but they are more grumblings than anything else. It is pure nonsense to talk about the President issuing an "imperial rescript," and if any American citizen has any legitimate business with the President, the President can be seen at any time, if not otherwise en-

If the President has retained many Republicans in office, he has done no more than the party pledged itself to do when it favored civil-service reform. Mr. Cleveland has scarcely frittered away his time in devising new methods, "under the name of civil-service reform, to keep in office the rascals whom he was elected to turn out." If "A County Democrat" will prove any Federal office holder a ras-Cleveland will turn him out. to take issue with the President on to the good old Jacksonian theory, and it seems to give satisfaction all around, especially to the Democrats of Michigan, Missouri and Indiana.

WHO WOULD SUCCEED.

Since the death of Vice-President Hendricks there has been much discussion as to who will be elected President of the Senate, and this discussion, and the apprehension consequent thereon, arises from the fact that the President of the Senate would be President of the United States in case of the death of President Cleveland. The Constitution says:

The Congress may by law provide for the case of removal, death, resignation, or inability both of the President and Vice-President, declaring what officer shall then act as President; and such officer shall act accordingly, until the disability be removed or a President shall be elected.

In accordance with this power Congress, as early as 1792, made provision for the contingency contemplated in the Constitution by passing an act, which act now constitutes sec. 146 of the Revised Statutes of the United States. It is in these words :

Mr. Wm. M. Evarts holds this law to be sire to furnish the other with campaign the deference which is always paid to the present anomalous condition of things an additional interest! to them. Mr.

Evarts is also understood as favoring the succession to the Presidency from the Secretary of State down through the Cabinet. If such provision is made, and his views on the present law are various Secretaries to the floor of the House, and to participate in the debates Commissioner Adkins has made his report on the Indian question. The report in his capacity for civilization. The Indian question has simmered itself down to the question of the best method of advancing him and conforming his ways to the ways of the white man.

For this purpose, General Adkins reland in severalty, but that their power of by issuing to them trust patents. in their rights and to prevent them becoming the prey of unscrupulous men. If the Indians shall make the progress that is looked for, many of them would find such trust patents a hindrance to their improvement, as they would be a restraint upon trade. This could easily Dr. FOOTE, Senior, be avoided by inserting a provision in any act that might be passed authorizing the holding of lands in severalty provid- Hereby cautions the public NOT to ing for cases when a trust patent would Employ or Communicate with a but retard the advancement of the In- man styling himself "Dr. Foot, Jr.

The cultivation of the earth is is the famous Jacksonian one, "To the gradually spreading among the Indians. and those who have engaged in agricultural pursuits rarely leave them for the chase, while the returns which their labor in the fields brings them are far superior to the returns of the chase. The Indian loves comfort as well as the white man, and when he becomes used to it and sees that it can be had by the labor of his own hands, he will perform the labor for the reward it will surely bring him. The various tribes will not all so readily take to the ways of civilization as some in Indian Territory have, and particularly is this so of some tribes in Arizona and New Mexico. But everything is encouraging.

WAS IT A MISTAKE?

The Chicago Herald says the enfranchisement of the blacks was a mistake. cal, be his politics Republican or be they It is not the first time this remark has Democratic, he may be certain that Mr. been made, but the Herald makes it in

That many evils grew out of the en have been known to this Democrat, and | franchisement of the negroes is true. It yet there was no complaint about his could not have been otherwise; but to Democracy while he was Governor. And could not have been otherwise; but to emancipate them and refuse to them the sident he has pursued the same rights of citizenship, would have given rise to as many or more evils than their "A County Democrat" takes issue with complete enfranchisement accompanied the President because he has not turned with all the rights of the white citizen, all the "rascals" out, which is but a did. Where ignorance is given great complaint because Mr. Cleveland has not power, there is always danger of such divided the "spoils." If we were going power being misused. The danger of ignorance under tutelage is equally as his Democracy, we should take issue with great. Many say it was a great mistake him for his departure from the Chicago to enfranchise the negroes; but have any platform in the matter of appointments two ever agreed as to what the conditions for Utah. In Utah the President has should be that would fit the negro for the made appointments for the friends of exercise of the elective franchise? Had politicians in the East, when the party it not been bestowed at the time it was, pledged itself to the true Democratic doc- would it have been bestowed to-day, and trine that "the selection of Federal officers would the negro be as far advanced mafor the Territories should be restricted to terially and intellectually as he is to-day? citizens previously resident, therein." If the negro had been held in political Utah, thus far, has been treated according | bondage, is it not probable that he never would have made sufficient advance to entitle him to the privilege of the elective franchise, unless he had accepted the political faith of the one or the other political party?

In America, all our prejudices and instincts are against any restraint upon the elective franchise, while the English idea of a property qualification has always been repugnant to American ideas. England is fast coming to universal enfranchisement, while in America we have it already. If events could be foreseen as well as they are seen long years after they occur, how different things would be. In that case the war itself might have been avoided. But the enfranchisement of the negroes was a Gordian knot, and would have remained so. Such being the case, there was but one method of treating it, and it was best that it was applied as soon as the knot was discov-

PARNELL'S TRIUMPH.

The result of the English elections is a triumph for Parnell. He has succeeded in neutralizing the power of the Tory and In case of removal, death, resignation, or inability of both the President and Vice-President of the United States, the President of the Senate, or, if there is none, then the Speaker of the House of Representatives for the time being, shall act as President unril the disability is removed or a President event, Parnell remains triumphant. No event, Parnell remains triumphant. No legislation can now be had against Ireland, According to the New York Tribune, for neither Tory nor Liberal has any deunconstitutional, and reports him as fol- powder, nor to lose any chance of "It has always been my opinion that the present law was unconstitutional, and I so contended in the impeachment trial of President Johnson. In the first place, the Constitution does not give to Congress the power to declare who shall be in the line of succession, but only what officer shall fill the vacancy, and, moreover, if forbids members of Congress from holding any office under the Government. But of course there was a great deal of uncertainty about the matter when it was under discussion originally."

England should hold—the position of masterly inactivity. The result of the filling its own cartridge boxes. These views are interesting owing to masterly inactivity. The result of the

This man came to Sait Lake City representing himself as the son of Dr. E. B. Footh of New York, the well known specialist, as abundantly proved by affidavits. As rumors came into Sait Lake City from Dakods and Montana from an expose made there, he changed his base and represented himself as the son of a more noted specialist in New York City than Dr. E. B. Footh, the well known nuthor. Mr. John F. Thow, of the well known trow's Directory, in New York City (forty years in the directory business), Ex-Governor Frank Fuller, of Utah, and the Hon. Abram Warmman, for many years Postmaster in New York City, also Surveyor of the Port, gave their affidavits that there are no other doctors in New York City, also Surveyor of Tooth, excepting Dr. E. B. Footh, and Dr. Hubber Tooth, and his two sons, Dr. E. B. Footh, Jr., and Dr. Hubber T. Footh. The genuine Dr. Footh, Jr., will hereafter always employ the initials, E. B., in designating his name. Heretofore he has been known not only at home but wherever his publications have been circulated, by the name of Dr. Footh, Jr. Greater care will be taken hereafter, in view of the fact that an unprincipled person has assumed to profit by his and his father's reputation.
