THE UTE.

Belmont Making a Strong Case Against Them.

Hatch Heard From.

Washington, 30.—Judge Belford has a letter, the accuracy of which cannot be doubted, which he will present to Congress for the purpose of showing that the claim in behalf of the Indians, that no outrages have been perpetrated outside of the reservation is a fiction. He writes from a gentleman well known in Colorado, and of the list of outrages appended he says: All of which I had plenty of other, settlers in that territory certify to as having been committed by Utes, and absolutely without the slightest provocation. Depredations were committed in the house of a Mr. F. M. Smith, in Egera Park, twelve miles east of the northeast corner of the reservation; the house of W. Springer, three miles from the reservation; the house, stable and corral of G. D. Wiltsey, over fifty miles from the reservation; the house of A. H. Smart, forty miles from the reservation; the house of G. C. Smart, in the same neighborhood, the house of R. W. Wells, on the foot of the mountains, over twenty miles east of the reservation; on October 1, 1878, the Utes ran off the horses of D. G. Whitney, four in number, from his place, forty miles from the reservation; on September 23, 1878, two Utes set fire to the grass surrounding forty tons of hay belonging to S. J. Smith, on July 1, 1879, Big Joe, a Ute, set fire to the grass and sage brush surrounding the house of Major Thompson, July 1, 1879, a Chinaman and his wife were killed at Major Thompson's house and destroyed it. To this list the letter goes on to add the burning of a house and blacksmith shop at Sulphur Springs, in 1873 or 1874, Indians admitted this deed. Their testimony was taken by me, and together with Myers' affidavit was filed in the commissioner's office. I think his claim was disproved. The Utes also burned a house belonging to A. H. Smart, forty miles south of Hayden, Routt County, on or about July 5, 1879, to the best of my knowledge and belief. More serious and more numerous depredations have been committed by Utes on Snake River, although I have not documentary evidence at hand.

New York, 31.—Washington correspondents are divided in sentiment as to whether an Indian war is probable, some declaring it, on the best authority, imminent, while others believe it is a mere bugbear. The Sun says the absurdity of Schurz' policy becomes more apparent as its results are developed. It says that the gallows is not dipping, even were the deatious of doing so.

Washington, 31.—In accordance with a decision arrived at in the cabinet meeting, this afternoon, Secretary Schurz telegraphed General Hatch, to-night, that friendly southern Ute chiefs may be brought to Washington. The secretary does not think there is any reason for apprehension with regard to the safety of General Hatch and his companions, and this view of the situation was also taken by the secretary of war and General Sherman.

Among the letters recently received by Judge Belford, from citizens of Colorado, regarding outrages of the Indians, is one from a lady who gives a brief account of an attack upon her home and the murder of her husband by Indians. The letter is dated December 18th, at Fort Collins, Colorado.

Secretary Schurz received two dispatches from General Hatch, written at Clino's ranch, on the 20th and 21st inst. One informs the secretary for the first time that among the Indians offered for surrender on the 25th inst., but whose surrender was not received, were Hondo (hostile chief) and several other principals in the Meeker massacre. The last sentence of the other dispatch seems to indicate that General Hatch refused to receive the surrender of these Indians they were permitted to go to lower Grand river, and hunt for game, and that they are not likely to be found again for months. Secretary Schurz entertains considerable doubt as to this being the real meaning of the dispatch as sent, and has telegraphed for explicit information. Clino's ranch is ten miles north of the mouth of the River Agency, and twenty-five miles nearer Lake City. It is inferred that General Hatch and his party do not consider themselves in danger, as the dispatches do not express any apprehension of the kind.

Irish Relief. London, 31.—The mayor of Limerick has a letter from the president of St. Patrick's Society, Chicago, informing him that he has forwarded $500 for the relief of the distressed poor in Ireland.

At a meeting in Galway, of the committee of the Irish Land League, a report was read from the relief commissioner of the distressed in Ireland, and it was resolved that the League would undertake to raise and distribute any assistance entrusted to them.

Montreal, 31.—A letter of the Catholic clergy to the committee of Irish societies, in reference to the proposal to collect funds for the relief of distressed people of Ireland, points out that in Ireland itself, where the nature and extent of the war has been well and correctly known, no general movement has so far taken place to draw help from more favored portions of the country, and therefore, the proposal to collect funds in Montreal for the relief of certain portions of Ireland is premature. A writ of injunction restraining the board of management of the temporalities fund, Protestant Church, in Canada, from administering annuities has been passed. Notice of appeal was taken at once served. The case is likely to be taken to the judicial committee of the English privy council.

The Disarmament Project. London, 31.—The London correspondent of the Edinburgh Scotsman says that he learns on good authority that the attention of the English government has lately been directed to the project of disarmament put forward by Prince Bismarck; that despite the recent qualifying statement, Prince Bismarck has projected a scheme for gradual disarmament, but Austria is the only continental power which has yet given absolute assent to the scheme in diplomatic circles. The correspondent says it is expected that Bismarck will make a declaration on the subject shortly, but there does not seem to be much confidence in the integrity of his motives.

Too Patriotic. New York, 31.—The Tribune says: It is an open secret, we believe, that McCormick, while in Paris, spent for the benefit of the United States more than three times the salary which the United States paid him. After having made concessions like these, it is not surprising that he feels the necessity of devoting some attention to his own business affairs. This is to be regretted, because he would have made an excellent representative of our country abroad, but having enjoyed the fruits of his exceptionally capable service in Paris without making any adequate return for it, we have no right to complain if McCormick finds himself unable to continue such sacrifice.

Not Enough Money. Boston, 30.—The Advertiser' Providence correspondent has reconsidered his previous decision to accept the Russian mission, and has declined, principally on account of the inadequate salary. Geo. Burnside, who was also tendered the position, declined for the same reason.

Murder and Suicide. Tipton, O., 30.—George Cleveland, nearly 70 years old, shot his wife, this morning, in a fit of jealousy, and then fired four balls into his own body. Both are living, with little chance of recovery.

Important Land Decision.

Washington, 31.—Secretary Schurz, to-day, decided the important case appealed to him and strenuously contested during the past year by private parties on the one hand, and the war department authorities on the other, concerning the correctness of Commissioner Williamson's decision in regard to the survey of the Bencho Case. The Modoc and President, in the Marin County survey, which purports to have been made by Deputy Surveyors Hanson and Allard, in 1873 and 1874. It appears from the testimony, however, that it was not made in the field, but was compiled from the records of a survey made by other surveys, principally those made by the tide land commissioner of the state of California. The objection was raised that the survey executed in this manner should not be approved, even if it conformed to the correct boundaries. Secretary Schurz, in his decision, is well taken, saying: I know of no law or reason for approving a survey made in this manner. A survey to be legally effective must be based upon lines actually run or established by triangulation in the field by the officer who makes the survey, in the manner prescribed by law and the instructions of the general land office. The marking of monuments of such survey must be established on the ground, as described in the field notes, and the whole verified by the usual and prescribed oath, etc. The survey in this case is not a survey proceeding in making surveys of public lands, but a survey of private lands, and the title to specific tracts must be proved by government and pass independent of the usual procedure and assignments and records, would establish a precedent leading to an enormous confusion and deprive the individual of that security and evidence of boundary upon the face of the earth which is guaranteed by the law establishing the surveying system and procedure. The secretary, proceeding to discuss the question of the correctness of the survey, in the case at hand, there is nothing in the case now, which authorizes him to set aside that decision and adopt such a construction of the grant as he thinks should have been adopted when the case was first presented to the department. After reviewing Commissioner Williamson's reasons for holding that the boundaries returned by Hanson and Allard's survey would be in accord with the decree of the confirmations, if modified in certain particulars set forth in Williamson's decision, the secretary concurs with Williamson's conclusions on this branch of the case, except to the extent that the boundaries returned by Hanson and Allard's survey would be made in conformity with the decision.

Another Railroad Accident.

St. Paul, 31.—Through the caprice of the Iowa and Minnesota division of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, this forenoon, being two hours late in reaching Mendota, near this city, and with running at a rather high speed, the high embankment along the Mississippi river, a rail broke and three coaches, including a sleeping car left the track. The train brought up stopping and rolled down the embankment to the river, a distance of 60 feet, but the fall was somewhat broken by the Sioux city track half way down the descent. The car was smashed to pieces and the six passengers contained taken up insensible. It was thought that certain persons set fire to all six alive at the present writing, though some seriously injured. No one forward of the sleeping car was hurt.

Alfonso's Escape.

Madrid, 30.—The King and Queen, on entering the city, were met with enthusiastic demonstrations of loyalty and gratitude at their escape. At the close of the performance an enthusiastic crowd of cheering people accompanied the royal carriage to the palace.

Beating the Swiss.

Geneva, 31.—One of the consequences of the industrial crisis has been the complete revolution in the embroidery trade of eastern Switzerland. American merchants, the principal purchasers of Swiss embroidery, have established their own houses in St. Gall, buy materials in the cheapest markets and give orders direct to operatives, who work at their own homes, thus dispensing with the help of manufacturers and agents.

Endorsement—A Strange Life.

San Francisco, 31.—A telegram, signed by a number of democrats, was sent, today, to the governor of Maine, endorsing his action, on behalf of the democracy, in San Francisco. The signatures included no prominent men of the democratic party.

Not Diamonds.

London, 30.—Mr. Markley, of the mineral department of the British Museum, writes to the Times that after a thorough test of the so-called crystallized forms of carbon obtained by James Meek of the St. Rollo Chemical Works, who supposed he had discovered the process of making diamonds, he (Mr. Meek) has no hesitation in declaring that they are not diamonds at all, but consist of a compound of silicious matter.

George, the Count Joannes.

New York, 31.—The Sun devotes two columns to the eulogy of its frequent correspondent and says editorially: Farewell to Count Joannes, the grave old count who has been so well known during these many years in this city. He was a man of many parts, of many interesting qualities and lively humor; a man of unique character throughout. Farewell!

The Year's Business.

New York, 31.—The Public owns its usual weekly table of clearing house changes this issue and compares the month with last December, and the end of the year with 1878. The year's comparison shows that there has been an increase in the volume of business during the year at every city except San Francisco and Providence.

Arranging for Trouble.

Washington, 30.—General Sheridan, before leaving the city, this afternoon, had an interview with General Sherman, when from what can be learned it was decided to make the best possible disposition of troops in order to secure their maintenance in the case of any sudden emergency in the west.

Wool.

Boston, 30.—Wool market steady and in moderate demand, but firm, and there is no pressure to sell. Sales: Ohio and Pennsylvania fleeces, 40,000; Michigan and Wisconsin fleeces, 40,000; for X medium and No. 1 fleeces, 50,000, including Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Both Drowned.

Hartford, 30.—Mrs. Henry A. Smith, living near Hog River, in Parkville, this city, got word this afternoon that her little boy, 6 years old, had broken through the ice in a pond, and was in the house and upon the ice, and both herself and child were drowned.

Domestic Dashes.

Nashville, 30.—N. Hirsch & Co. made an assignment, today, for the benefit of creditors. Liabilities, nearly $200,000; assets not yet ascertained. The debt is principally due to merchants in New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

St. Louis, Mo., 30.—The democratic congressional convention, at Louisville, to-day, nominated John F. Phillips, of the first ballot, as candidate to fill the term of Alfred M. Lay.

Indianapolis, 30.—The republican state central committee met to-night, and decided to hold the state convention at Indianapolis on June 17th.

Boston, 31.—Fred L. Ames was elected president of the Boston, Hoosac Tunnel and Western Railroad, in place of Geo. W. L. Burd, who built the road.

Montgomery, Ala., 31.—Hon. Geo. S. Houston, United States senator, died at Athens this morning.

Washington, 31.—The total amount of additional national bank circulation issued during the year ending December 31st, 1879, was $20,607,570. The amount retired $7,012,701. Net increase of bank circulation during the year, $13,594,869. Total amount of national bank circulation outstanding on December 31st, $380,888,012, not including the circulation of the national gold banks, which was $1,429,187.

Columbia, S. C., 31.—General Grant expected to spend a few hours here, today, and the mayor and city council and others prepared to receive him, but previous arrangements compelled him to proceed to Augusta.

Washington, 31.—The President and Mrs. Hayes and the Vice President will hold a reception at the Executive Mansion, on New Year's Day, according to the usual programme.

New Orleans, 31.—The board of canvassers have completed the official count. The new constitution was adopted by 50,118, and the debt ordinance adopted by 10,487.

Death Blow to New Year's Calls.

Montreal, 31.—The Catholic clergy have issued a card asking the ladies of Montreal not to visit the saloons before their visitors to-morrow.

Box to thank their Friends and the Public for the generous patronage bestowed upon them during the past five years and have much pleasure in announcing that their MAIN GALLERY, 69 Main Street, has been handsomely decorated and furnished throughout, and is now under the management of Mr. C. W. SYMONS.

In consequence of the great increase of business, Messrs F. & S. have leased the Gallery formerly occupied by Mr. C. W. Carter and opened a BRANCH GALLERY under the management of Mr. ALEXANDER FOX.

Both Galleries have received from the most celebrated artists of the day, for picture purposes, that can be procured, comprising Interiors, Terraces and Balconies, Boating, Cottages, Windows, etc., etc. These, with the addition of new and improved instruments, enable them to compete with and surpass the productions of any other gallery in Salt Lake. The public are respectfully invited to visit both galleries and see for themselves.

Just Received, a Large Assortment of New Styles of Frames, Patent Goods, etc., on exhibition in the show rooms of both galleries.
