IT IS TRULY WONDERFUL. To see what improvements now exist as compared with railway travel only a few years ago. To become convinced of this, one has only to select for his route East, the popular and well-known CHICAGO & NORTHWESTERN RAILWAY.

You are loaded by the Union Pacific Railroad in the Union Depot at Council Bluffs, where the greatest of all the Pullman Trains, composed of Pullman Hotel Cars, Pullman Sleeping Cars, Elegant Day Coaches, Smoking, Baggage, Postal Cars, etc., ready to convey its passengers through Iowa and Illinois, and across Chicago, gliding smoothly along over the superb track of steel rail, comfortably seated in this train, one scarcely discovers the high rate of speed which he is riding.

These troubles and many others all grow out and from a torpid liver, and called dyspepsia or indigestion. They can be cured and have been cured, and in every case with a guaranty that they will be cured by the use of Dr. Mintie's English Dandelion Pills. Sold by all druggists. Price 50c. per bottle.

Health, strength and vigor of the Kidneys and Bladder always follow the use of the great Buchu compound, Dr. Mintie's Nephreticum. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Inflammation, Stricture or Private Diseases are quickly cured by it. For Leucorrhoea it has no equal. Don't be persuaded to take any other preparation. Every one who has tried it recommends it. For sale by all druggists.

DR. AMLEY COOPER'S VITAL RESTORATIVE.—The great English remedy has made more cures of Nervous Debility, Spinal Weakness, Lost Memory, nocturnal emissions, lassitude, despondency and inability for mental labor, despondency and such diseases as are induced by youthful follies and excesses, than all other medicines combined. It is not stimulant, nor narcotic, is perfectly safe to take, is not a quick nostrum, and produces results that are wonderful. Price 35c. per bottle. Four times the quantity, $1.00. It will not disappoint you. Try it.

LAST CHANCE.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 3, 1880. Editors Herald: As this is the last chance to say anything in favor of the canal before the vote comes off, I feel inclined to say a word about the canal, not about the borrowing specially.

Some favor reservoirs instead of the canal. I do not. Am I in favor of reservoirs? Yes. Am I in favor of pumping water? Yes. Am I in favor of a canal from the Jordan? Yes. I am in favor of any reasonable practicable means of increasing the daily available water supply. But first I am in favor of the most practical means, and that is the canal. Pumping can be resorted to at any time desired. So can the digging of local reservoirs. But the canal must be dug now or never. In the Utah Territory there is a plan of water. Thence to this city the topographical configuration is such as to give plenty of fall, and there are no insurmountable difficulties anywhere. A local reservoir is a practical impossibility, and a canal is the only way to get water to the city.

The canal was thought of and talked of from the first settlement of the country, but it was not until very recently, as its necessity was not so obvious until the drought of last year. It should have been started long ago, and progressed with regularity and persistently every year.

The canal will be mainly for irrigation, and water for irrigation is all the better if it is neither pure nor cold. For pipes and for drinking water from the local creeks and from the wells will not doubt be far preferable to that in the canal, though it is reasonable that the canal water will be used for irrigation also, unless the canal is made on a scale much larger than the city can afford. But look at the expense of making a canal of such capacity, locks included.

Now, Messrs. Editors, permit me to say to your many readers that we might quit carrying, all of us who are indulged in it, and hand up the hands of the City Council in their endeavor to do something for the common good. No doubts they will do as well as they know how in this water business. Besides some of us voters might become city fathers yet, and in that case we should wish we had done to others as we would like them to do to us.

THE SPECIAL ELECTION.

How the Canal Question Stands. To-morrow the special election will be held which is to decide whether this city shall have water or not. The columns of the HERALD have been thrown open to everyone on this subject, and many citizens have expressed themselves freely on it. Since the call for the special election was published every communication on the subject has been given room, and no one can complain of being slighted. The discussion thus indulged in has shown a wide difference of opinion, as to the best means for obtaining it, but a universal acknowledgment that more water was needed. While many plans have been suggested the preponderance of reason and argument has supported the idea of the Council that the most feasible method of procuring an adequate supply is by means of a canal; even those who suggested other ideas, have conceded that a canal would do if the water supply was insured, but their two plans were naturally preferred. So the question has narrowed down to, can or cannot; water or no water. The route mentioned in the address of the City Council has been attacked and criticized very freely, whether with justice will not be discussed here; but one thing in this regard is worthy of special notice—the first purpose of judgment is yet to be found in any of the proposals. It is not a question of route, but of a question of route, and that of a question of route. No person is foolish enough to imagine that Mayor Little and the City Council who have so much at stake personally will expend one dollar on this canal from the point where the disputed and questioned section commences, until assured of the result, as well as science and sense can assure a result. The Council is not committed to any route, and if it is found that the old Council Canal will not answer, any man of sense knows that another route will be chosen.

So long as the result of an affirmative vote has been weighed, but is not enough to look at the result of a negative vote on this question. If the necessary two-thirds vote for the loan be not cast, then we are not going to have water. The present Council will continue for two years, and one refusal in this respect will in all probability be enough; it is then a question if the succeeding Council will be willing to risk a vote on this matter unless they put it in July or August, at which time the arguments in the contrary, the present vote would go through with scarce any opposition. During this two years other canals will probably be finished, and the surplus water of the Jordan become the property of others. Then we will want water, and if we get it, will have to pay treble and quadruple what it would now cost. Even if we could get it then, the benefit of two years time is irretrievably lost—we have everything to risk in the delay, and get the first thing to gain, not a solitary thing. A computation would show this question of time to be one of no small importance. As to the intimation that every foot of the route should be known and the canal set down, it is simply absurd. A reasonable idea, of course, could be given; but even if these were stated and the vote put upon them, it would be liable to the very objection urged concerning the Council address, that is, the Council would be committed to a certain route, and no matter how palpable it might be that a mistake had been made, it could not be rectified. Now, however, the Council is not committed to any route, and in that case we should wish we had done to others as we would like them to do to us.

As the time is fast approaching when horse breeders are on the look out for stallions for breeding purposes for this year, I thought that a few quotations from the best authors on the question of "What is the profitable horse for farmers to raise," "Joseph the Steer" is that he was a prophet of God and duly appointed and ordained by the heavenly Mediator and Aaronic priests to do in the dispensation of the fullness of time; that he came in fulfillment of prophecy as uttered by ancient prophets and apostles. The prophecy of Daniel is greatly favored by them, parts of which read as follows: "In the days of these (certain) kings the God of heaven shall set up a kingdom which shall break in pieces all other kingdoms and stand forever." "shall never be thrown down or given to another people." Now, Sirs, the elders of the above order affirm that this kingdom, though the instrumentality of the above order, was established or "set up." This being the case as per their own showing, how is it that they claim to be that kingdom, when it is well known that they came no into existence as an organized body till many years ago, and stand forever." "shall never be thrown down or given to another people." Now, Sirs, the elders of the above order affirm that this kingdom, though the instrumentality of the above order, was established or "set up."
