A Few Weather and Other Notes.

SILVER REEF, Utah, Dec. 25, 1880.

Editors Herald:

A merry merry Christmas to all the good folks of the HERALD. We have had ten days of clouds, rain and mud, the like of which has not been known here for many years at least, and yet good prospects for more. Freight teams are stranded in the mud all along the road north. The ore teams for the Stormont Mill have been forced to strike or sink in the mud, so that mill has been forced to stop. The northern stage comes daily six hours behind time and even the wood haulers are down in the south earth as well as in the north. Yesterday was a gala here for the children. The ladies of the place obtained the new hall, got up a splendid feast, furnished music and gave all the children a holiday. Singing, recitations, songs and dancing were blended in pleasing harmony, and a really pleasant time the little ones had. At 11:30 o'clock the chapel bell brought cheer from the pews, and at 12 o'clock, Father Connor held high Mass to a crowded church.

At St. George two children in the family of C. A. Terry have died of diphtheria within the past week and another, of cough which set in after diphtheria; and it is said there are several cases of that terrible disease in this camp. Otherwise the health is usual and quite good, excepting colds, and seasonal troubles, and that is by some thought wonderful, considering the fact that there are three or four physicians in the place. Trade is very quiet although the products of the mines are by no means falling off. Yours verily, J.

Ostrich Farming.

The Gold Hill News can see no reason in the world why ostrich farming should not flourish elegantly in Nevada. It is the only natural home of the ostrich, and it is simply a wonder that they have never been found there. Where the Putes flourish there also should the ostrich abound. The Putes can stomach almost anything, and so can the ostrich, and the ostrich has a little old reputation of his own in that line. The camel never felt at home until he was imported to Nevada, and recognized the rolling bowlder fields and cheerful alkali deserts along down toward the sink of Carson as the genuine "Arabia the best." And so, too, the ostrich, by a stretch of his imagination, so to speak, might easily recognize Nevada as his natural home. The winter climate is no objection to the ostrich; he always has plenty of feathers and come to sell. Ostrich eggs would come in mighty handy around Christmas in the manufacture of egg-nogg, only one egg being required to make a bucketful of that popular beverage, an ostrich egg being equivalent in size to three dozen hen's eggs. Ranchers calling for ham and eggs, an omelet or even an ostrich on toast, at a restaurant, could be beautifully led at much reduced expense, and only one ostrich egg fried accurately at a political campaign orator would effectually silence him, where all similar and usual devices are a discouraging failure.

Hibernianisms.

It is but natural that our Hibernian citizens should feel proud of their numerous illustrious countrymen, and refer with pride to such names as Sarah, Montgomery, Toner, Wellington and the host of other brave soldiers; to Burke, Curran, Grattan, the modern Demosthenes, Daniel O'Connell, and the myriad of eloquent statesmen; to Thomas Moore, the purest of poets; Literature, the arts and sciences have been enriched by learned Irishmen. The "Emerald Gem of the Sea" has given to France, McMahon in Spain, the honored name of O'Connell, to America Meagher, Corcoran and a multitude of others who have immortalized their names on the fields of battle and in the forum. All this is true, but we do not think it fair for them to try and steal Von Moltke from the Dutch by claiming him as one of the Mulahy family, or hold that the father of English poets was Irish because he was a Chaucer (Chaw, sir).—Silver Reef Miner.

The Bay Horse Smelter.

The following reports show the work done by the new smelter which was put up at Bay Horse last summer. The smelter was not completed until about the 1st of September, when a forty day's run was made, and it then went out for the winter. The ore run was taken from the Ramshorn and Beards' mines, and 3,654 tons of bullion were made, weighing 224,449 pounds, valued at about $150,000. The bullion was shipped by Sharp & Galtie, a few cars being shipped to E. F. White, at Camas, and the balance to the N. W. Forwarding Company, at Blackfoot.

Disgusting Parisianism.

New York, 27.—At a meeting of the Brooklyn board of aldermen, today, a resolution was offered providing for a license fee of $5 for each Chinese laundry in the city. An amendment was offered that license be granted only to citizens of the United States, and it was adopted.

No Let-up in the Bad Business.

Dublin, 24.—The only sound that breaks the quietude of the present week is that of active preparations for the trials that begin after Christmas. Even here there is a possibility that the whole affair may break down, according to the defendants' counsel and extraordinary law has already been discovered in the proceedings which a leading counsel informed me last night will postpone the trials till April. The trouble is that among the remaining twenty-four of the jury panel from which the jury will be chosen there turns out to be a post-office clerk who, as a government employe, is exempt from jury duty. He has already applied to the Queen's bench to be removed from the panel. The counsel for the defense express their deliberate opinion that government has taken this method of evading the trials. Of course, when the prosecution and defense were selecting the present twenty-four jurors from the original panel of forty-eight, both knew the profession, relying on an standing every man on the panel. They knew that Mr Smith was a post-office clerk, and therefore ineligible. The government having the privilege of striking off twelve, might have struck off Mr Smith if they had desired to avoid a legal difficulty, but they did not. Mr Smith did not make any protest, although his name was published as one of the original forty-eight a week before the selection of the panel, but it was too late to remedy the matter as the panel was selected. The defendants' counsel say a perfectly new panel is absolutely necessary, and that a new panel must be struck which would delay the trial for several months. The crown counsel say, however, they have power to strike off any of the panel "for cause" and allege that he has no difficulty. One of the most important links in the prosecution, which up to the present was missing, is the stenographic report of the proceedings at the weekly meetings in the League office, Dublin, which report it is believed would tend to sustain many of the indictments against the accused. All the Dublin reporters have invariably refused to report the proceedings, but it is now revealed that the editor of the Express, an anti-League paper, has been permitted to publish his report of the proceedings since February, and will hand it over to the government. Four of the Express reporters have been subpoenaed to the point of doing so, intending to stop his sale throughout the country and force its agents to stop selling it and all local correspondents to stop sending news, but friendly counsel intervened and the idea was abandoned for the present.

Mr. Parnell has not publicly appeared in connection with the League or at private meetings for five weeks, save once at Waterford. Mr Davitt is at present the active head of the League. Dublin, 25.—A circular of the magistrates in reply to Forster's letter, states that the magistrates are unable to carry out the law of the 10th of June. A farmer's house at Portadown has been maliciously burned. The Land League meeting which was to be held in Barris in Osnery on Sunday was prohibited. The military and police were present to enforce the prohibition. There was a riot on Saturday in Dublin, between soldiers and civilians. The police separated the combatants. The Gazette publishes a proclamation prohibiting a meeting at Athgreany, Wicklow, on Sunday, which was called for the purpose of denouncing a certain individual. The Gazette declares Limerick County, to be in a disturbed state, requiring additional police. At Cork, to-day, on the police ordering a disorderly crowd to disperse, a volley was fired at the police from revolvers. A policeman was shot but not mortally wounded. Monaghan, 25.—The anti-League Association has issued a manifesto calling on loyal men to combine for mutual defense and to combat the hateful teachings of the Land League.

London, 25.—The Times, to-day, acknowledges that the Queen no longer rules over one-half of the island of Ireland, and that the Land League is growing in power daily. The truth is that the Irish question seems to be better understood in New York than in Downing street. Dublin, 27.—It is generally said that so far as a Christmas has never been experienced here. Sullen people, and traders who for some time have been feeling very acutely the effects of the disturbed state of the country, are beginning to exhibit signs of great embarrassment, but the agitation which is paralyzing trade, putting capital to flight and poisoning commercial life, still extends its deadly influence, while self-interests look on its progress in helpless dismay. The efforts of the Land League are now chiefly directed towards the north of Ireland, where it is persistently trying to overcome the repugnance to its practices. There can be little doubt that it has succeeded considerably when most districts are honeycombed with its organization. The exertions of the agitators are also directed towards the County of Dublin and the borders of Dublin itself. Malahide, near Dublin, was the scene of a second demonstration on Sunday, but there was no reason to boast of its success.

New York, 27.—At a meeting of the Fourth ward branch of the Irish National Land League here yesterday, Stephen J. Meany, who had just returned from Ireland, denounced the so-called agrarian outrages there as an invention. There may have been a few rash acts on the part of impulsive individuals, but such conduct is without sympathy from the masses of Irish people, and is especially deplored by leaders of the Land League. The Irish people are in an attitude of passive resistance to extortion and eviction. The Griffith valuation, on which government and municipal taxes are based, is claimed by tenants, in the basis on which their rents should be calculated. Four or five times the amount arrived at is demanded by landlords in nearly every case, and tenants merely offer the proper amount, and if it is refused, return the money to their pockets and use it for the support of their families so sadly needed. The proceedings for eviction and delay legal expenses necessary to relieve their fellow countrymen from the grip of the law is one of the first uses to which the money contributed by the Irishmen in America will be put.

The Lord Mayor of the Fifth Ward had a regular meeting on Varick street, yesterday. Hugh King, the president, on taking the chair, said that he had been treasurer of the general council. He remained $100 to one hundred pounds sterling to England weekly. The money was coming in from all sides. It was announced that a convention of the League of America will be held in Buffalo on January 17th. The attendance at both the above meetings was small but enthusiastic.

London, 27.—John Bright replies to the Earl of Carnarvon's letter protesting against Bright's speech at Birmingham last month. He says: "You comment on my speech of the 16th of November, and find in it terrible blemishes not discovered by other critics. You condemn me for attacks on foreign aristocracy and land owners. I have defended the monarchy although defence is little needed in this country and in this reign. I have warned the aristocracy of the danger I wished them to avoid. As to the land owners, I have been one of the most prominent supporters of its policy, so necessary for the country and so wise for them, that had it been steadily resisted, the great land owners of England and Scotland would long ago have been fleeing for their lives, as some of the Irish land owners are reported to be doing now. I will not reply at length to your letter. I am content to leave it and my speech to the judgment of the public.

Rome, 27.—The Publication of a note in the Osservatore Romano in which the Pope discloses the serious character of the agitation in Ireland is one topic of conversation among British Catholics here. These are divided into two groups, active sympathizers with the Land League and those who feel how serious may be the consequence to Catholicism in Great Britain should the Pope be supposed to favor the movement in Ireland. The latter are greatly in the Vatican and influence with the clerical press, spare no effort to convince the Pope that the agitation is legitimate and the condition of Ireland is grossly exaggerated by the London press. The home-rule members of Parliament held a meeting in the City Hall to-day, Edwin Gray presiding. There were thirty-seven members present. Parnell was elected chairman of the party. Parnell proposed that a vice president be chosen, as he might be unable to attend Parliament. Justin McCarthy was then elected vice-chairman.

A resolution was carried pledging the members to consult together on important questions and to abide by the decision of the majority. A resolution was also adopted binding the members to sit in opposition to every government measure that refused the just demands of the Irish people, especially that for legislative independence. When Parnell, coming out to the meeting, entered his carriage, a crowd detached the horses and drew the carriage through the streets.

Many of the jurors in the state trials are securely boycotted and Mrs. Dunlap and daughter, have been fired at in Wexford, Wexford County, but neither was hurt. Their assailant fled. Miss Dunlap secured her gun. A torchlight procession, which was to take place to-night, has been prohibited. Joseph W. Foley, nationalist and home-ruler has resigned his seat in Parliament for New Ross. Forty-two members of the rifle brigade, arrived at Galway, are assigned two gunboats in the bay. At the home-rule meeting to-day, the parliamentary committee was employed to act as it should deem advisable when the Queen's speech is known, and it was also recommended that the party should produce no measure until government had shown its hand. On motion of Parnell it was resolved that the committee arrange for an amendment in reply to the Queen's speech, praying the Queen to refrain from employing the navy, police and military in enforcing ejections where the rent exceeds the poor law valuation, pending consideration by Parliament of the land bill.
