Garfield and Grant.

New York, 22.—Herald's Long Branch: The President has spoken with great freedom and frankness to friends of Grant. He expresses the strongest desire to recognize Grant. He points out his inestimable obligations to Robertson. To Robertson he owes his nomination, and not to reward this would be ingratitude. All attacks from the republicans organization in New York is that he might be allowed to pay this debt in the handsomest manner. It is not a matter of politics, but one of honor.

There are rumors from Ohio that disturb the equanimity of the President. It has been discovered that there are stalwarts in Ohio who wish a fuller explanation of the President's disregard of the implied obligations of the last campaign than have been vouchsafed. Postmaster General James, who will arrive tomorrow, it is understood, will come on this errand. James has won authoritative position in the cabinet, and those who believed that he, like his colleague, would say "ditto to Blaine," are disappointed. It is very evident that the President, to use the words of one who has seen much of him since he came to the Elberon, "will soon have to decide between Blaine and Sheridan."

New York, 22.—The Sun has the following: Grant wrote to President Garfield yesterday consenting to the publication of two letters which recently passed between them concerning some of the President's appointments. The correspondence began while Grant was in Mexico. He wrote from there to his friend Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, criticizing some of the appointments and approving the position taken by Senator Conkling. He enclosed to Jones a letter for the President which was delivered to Mr. Garfield by Senator Jones in person. The President sent a letter in reply directed to General Grant at the City of Mexico. General Grant says this letter reached him on the steamer at Vera Cruz, on the day of sailing, and that pressing business matters have since occupied his time so completely that it was not until yesterday that he found time to answer the letter. He says that the President's letter was courteous and friendly in tone but that it in no way changed his opinions on the course of the President in removing from office his friends, Consul General Badesu and Minister Cramer and in appointing his enemy, Senator Robertson, to the collector of this port. These things he considers the result of a deliberate purpose to injure him and his friends. The letter he wrote to the President yesterday replies to General Garfield's letter and the President is authorized to publish this reply also.

Ex-Collector Murphy is continuing his efforts to bring about an amicable understanding between the President and Gen. Grant. He is not so anxious, however, about reconciling the President and Senator Conkling. Mr. Murphy tells his friends that just after Mr. Garfield's nomination at Chicago, he took Mr. Garfield to General Arthur's rooms to meet Senator Conkling and that Mr. Garfield waited there four hours for Mr. Conkling but failed to see him. General Grant says he will not consent to meet the President until the latter has more satisfactorily explained his course. The presentation of the citizens' purse of $250,000 to General Grant is delayed for a few days at his request.

In another column the Sun has this: Long Branch, 21.—Garfield to-night declines to give for publication either Grant's letter to him or his answer to that letter, in relation to the New York appointment. He says he will not give the letters in response to any newspaper request, or public clamor for their publication, but intimates that if circumstances bring it about the letters may be made public hereafter. At present he declines to speak about the matter of the letters. He says he has had no communication from Grant upon the subject, nor has he any other knowledge of Grant's permission to publish his letter than what he derived from the newspaper report of an interview with Grant. He has no appointment to meet Grant here, he says, nor has he any intention of giving the letters to the public at the present state of the controversy.

The Duke Denies.
New York, 22.—Express: The Duke of Sutherland, who arrived last night, denied the statement telegraphed over the country about his having seen the man in California who claims to be the real Roger Tichborne. "It's no such thing," Dr. Russell said, "and what is more, I believe, from what I have heard, the man's a humbug. There is a lawyer in California by the name of General Barnes, and, while we were there we met him on a train, and he told us about the claimant, but there is nothing in it. The report is utterly false." No, said the duke, we never saw the man, and he may be a claimant for all we know, but we don't know anything about it.

Star Route Reductions.
New York, 22.—Times: Washington: The postmaster-general has made a reduction in the cost of the most notorious star ring routes, from Vinita, I. T., to Los Vegas, N. M. This route, which was 725 miles long, was originally let under competition to the Parker combination, for $6,330 per year for a term of three years and nine months. Within nine months the annual pay was raised, by expedition and increase in the number of trips, to $150,691. This was the pay for ten months, and it then became $129,178. Three months later, or about a year ago, it was reduced to $64,539, and contractors will draw pay at this rate until July 1st.

Big Rent.
St. Louis, 22.—It is reported that the bridge and tunnel is leased to the Missouri Pacific and Wabash, the lessees to pay 7 per cent. on $5,000,000 first mortgage bonds, 6 per cent. on $2,500,000 first preferred bonds, 3 per cent. on $3,000,000 second mortgage bonds, and 6 per cent. on $1,000,000 tunnel bonds, equal to an annual rental of $650,000.

A Plucky Woman—Light.
Detroit, 22.—The sheriff's plucky wife bagged some dozen farmers who were trying last night to lynch the murderer Vas Kamp at Grand Haven jail. She locked them in and aroused the citizens by a fire alarm.
Wealthy citizens are ready to lay pipes for the electric light in the city as soon as the council grants permission.

Murderous Cow-boys.
San Francisco, 22.—A dispatch from Tombstone, Ariz., says: Particulars of the killing of Hazlett Brothers, who killed Leonard and Harry Head, the Contention stage robbers last week, and a German at Eur-ka, N. M., by cow-boys last week. They were surprised by a party of twenty cow boys while playing cards in a saloon at Eureka. They had no chance to defend themselves. Bill Hazlett was shot six times through the bowels, five through the stomach and the German six times through the body. As soon as firing ceased the murderers mounted and rode away. No trace of who they were.

Mahone No. 2.
Washington, 22.—Virginia coalitionists claim that yesterday's meeting of the republicans was not legitimate, having been called by Chairman Latta, and that at a meeting on the 26th, coalitionists will have direct authority from the President that he favors coalitionists. It is not probable, however. Yesterday's action is very queer.
Congressman Speer (Georgia independent) will vote with the republicans to organize the House. He told this to the President and said he expected the democrats to attack him as they had Mahone.
