Park City Fire.
 About 1 o'clock on Thursday morning a fire broke forth in the house which had lately been occupied by Mr. Dominick Dignon, and which was, at the time, unoccupied, the building being burned to the ground. The fire is believed to have been the work of an incendiary, started with a view to plundering business houses during the excitement, but if such was the case, it did not operate. The store of Mr. Ascheimer caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before any serious harm was done, by the prompt and efficient services of the firemen, whose timely presence prevented what might have been a disastrous conflagration. Loss, $700.

JUST OPENED AT FARMER'S One Price Store, a new line of Kelly & Moore's Ladies' and Men's Shoes, and all are warranted for good wear.

The Distinguished Visitors.
 Thursday morning and the early part of the afternoon was spent to the best advantage by Senators Sherman and Harrison, Judge Strong, and the other noted visitors who have been in Salt Lake for a day or two past. They left on the 3:40 north bound Utah Central train, intending to continue still further north by the Utah and Northern.

Temperance Excursion.
 The enjoyment indulged in by the participants in the temperance excursion on Wednesday last, was all that Dr. McKenzie and its promoters could have desired. The officers of the railway did all in their power to make the excursionists happy; and on arrival at Lake Point the worthy hostess at once had the large and commodious rooms of the hotel thrown open for general use. Then came the use of the bath rooms, bathing dresses, etc., and all at once the water all around the pier was filled with the young and old of both sexes, vying with each other in the enjoyment of the beautiful Salt Lake bath. The band which accompanied the party in the meantime discoursed excellent music in the hotel, where others were enjoying themselves in the dance. The best of all was that there was no drunkenness, Mr. Southworth, the popular proprietor, firmly refusing to sell any intoxicating drinks during the stay, although one person offered $2.50 for a drink, and another $5 for a bottle, both of whom were indignantly refused. No event occurred to mar the peace and enjoyment of the day, except the act of some persons who put up a notice in the postoffice that the excursion would not leave until 9 o'clock instead of 8:10 as advertised, which no doubt prevented some from taking the enjoyment they intended to. This, however, by no means detracted from the general success of the party and the peace and harmony of the day.

Another Comet.
 SALINA, July 23d, 1881.

Editors Herald:
 I am sleeping out in the open air under the starry heavens, when bad weather does not prevent. June the 23d, about 1 o'clock, I looked to the northeast, and beheld four stars of the first magnitude, and a small part of the old moon, and a blazing comet in company. The comet was very low, the distance between it and me appeared to be only from ten to fifteen miles. The sun was underneath and caused the comet to look very bright and showy. I could almost see what kind of matter it was composed of. The bottom, or the nucleus, was solid matter. It looked as though it might be the remainder of a planet as big as Mars, which had been burning for many years. The nucleus has the color of lead. The light of the sun made it look like silver. The hairy coma is a thick lag of matter projecting over the nucleus. It is of a dark color. On top of this appeared to be a sea of liquid matter, pitch or oil, from which the flames ascended apparently to a height of six to eight feet. The flames were in motion as if from a light, soft wind. The comet stood still. When the sun advanced it started and moved off to the northwest. It came back and can be seen between the north end of the big dipper and the polar star. Yours respectfully,
 H. C. HANSEN.

 I know that Hop Bitters will bear recommendation honestly. All who use them confer upon them the highest encomiums, and give them credit for making cures—all the proprietors claim for them. I have kept them ever since they were first offered to the public. They took high rank from the first, and maintained it, and are more called for than all others combined. So long as they keep up their high reputation for purity and usefulness, I shall continue to recommend them—something I have never before done with any other patent medicine.

MEDAL MATCH.
The Monthly Meet of the Salt Lake Shooting Club.

The regular monthly medal match of the Salt Lake Shooting Club was held at Buhring's Gardens, on the State Road, yesterday, at noon, and a goodly number of the members were present to participate in what proved to be one of the most interesting affairs of the kind ever held in this territory. The day was most pleasant, the birds good flyers, and the boys were in good humor. Everything passed off pleasantly, and as a consequence the best of feeling prevailed. The score, which we give below, shows that some very good shooting was done; and is also evidence of the fact that Salt Lake has among her sportsmen some shots who would make a match very interesting for some of the more noted "cracks" east and west. In this connection it may be stated that a pigeon club of a neighboring state is seriously considering the propriety of challenging our local club; and if they should finally "screw their courage to the sticking point," we may look for an interesting event in that line of sports. In the event that the western club does not "back water," a large sum of money will change hands, as both clubs will have plenty of good backers, and an exciting time may be looked for. Our Salt Lake shots, however, seem well able to hold their own.
 The gold medal, this time, was won by Mr. Campbell for the first time, and he shows it to the boys with an air of confidence that seems to say, "You've got to work hard to get it from me." Campbell is a good marksman, (by some it is claimed that he is the best in the territory, and when they say that, several places outside of Utah might also be included), and there is but little room to doubt that he will endeavor to hold the beautiful trophy as long as possible. The score shows that Messrs. Campbell, Meears and Scott tied for this medal, and Campbell had two formidable antagonists to shoot against on the tie, but he won it all the same. The silver medal was won again by Ed. Pitts, and this makes the second time the gentleman has earned the right to wear it. It begins to look as though he intended to keep it, and Ed. will do so if he can. The third prize had to be shot for on a tie, Messrs. Ordner, Heusser, Patterson and H. Denhalter competing. It became the property of the last named gentleman, Jule Kramer won the fourth prize, and wears a smile in consequence thereof.
 As is usual on such occasions, at the conclusion of the medal shoot, a sweepstakes match took place, in which there were about twelve entries, and the boys held up well.
 Below is the score of the medal match, and it is one of which the boys have reason to be proud:

 The construction of the U. & N. R. R. is using immense quantities of timber, 90 per cent. of which is procured at Beaver Canyon. A number of men are kept constantly employed loading cars, and it is seldom that a freight train passes either way that does not take from two to six cars of lumber. Something of an idea can be obtained of the amount of lumber cut from a report of one week's work from one of the mills: For the week ending July 2, the mill of W. N. Thomas, working ten hours per day, with five hours delay for filing saw, cut 75,000 feet of lumber, the actual working time being fifty-five hours, nearly 1,500 feet per hour. Edward Holden of Logan, Utah, was the sawyer.

Changes in the Ticket
 The following letters, which explain themselves, were received by the persons to whom they were addressed, yesterday:

SALT LAKE CITY, U. T., July 28, 1881.
 Hon. John Sharp, Chairman of the People's Central Committee:

Dear Sir—Allow me to express to you and the members of the Central Committee, and through you to the people of the territory, my grateful acknowledgements for the honor of the nomination for Territorial Superintendent of District Schools, which office becomes vacant by due course of law, during the coming month.
 And to respectfully say that, while I fully appreciate the kind consideration and confidence which have prompted the placing of my name for this position before the public, upon reflection, and in view of the many other responsibilities which devolve upon me, I deem it better for me to respectfully decline the nomination.
 I remain dear sir,
 Yours very truly,
 JOHN TAYLOR.

Chairman and Members of Salt Lake County Central Committee:

Gentlemen:—While thanking the convention of the People's Party for the honor done me in nominating me as a candidate to fill the office of Selectman, in Salt Lake County at the coming election, permit me, on more mature consideration, most respectfully to decline the nomination.
 A. GARDNER.
 WEST JORDAN, July 28th, 1881.

These resignations or declinations made necessary prompt action on the part of the respective committees, which were authorized by the conventions to fill vacancies by the action of the Territorial Central Committee, and the County Central Committee of the People's Party, were hastily called together, when Mr. L. John Nuttall was nominated by the former for Territorial Superintendent of District Schools, and the county committee nominated Mr. Francis Armstrong for Selectman. The various county committees throughout the Territory were also notified by telegraph of the declination of the school superintendency by Prest. Taylor, and of the nomination of Mr. Nuttall. Both of these changes can not be regarded otherwise than as highly proper. Mr. Taylor clearly sets forth his reasons for declining re-election, and they are good and sufficient. Mr. Nuttall should be able to devote more time and attention to the duties of the office than Mr. Taylor could possibly do in view of his many other responsibilities and labors. Mr. Gardner's surrender of the nomination to a membership in the county court puts in the place the gentleman who had the second highest vote in the convention for the position, and one who is most admirably fitted for the responsible labors which will devolve upon him. Whatever were the causes which operated upon Mr. Gardner's mind and induced him to retire, the county will hardly have occasion to regret the change which will place into the important office a young, active, clear-headed, successful business man, whose wisdom and practical judgement are well known and appreciated in the community.

Giant Powder Fishing.
 Authentic reports come to us from Strawberry Valley, that some of the fishermen in that section are in the habit of employing giant powder as a means of catching trout when they fall to capture them with their hooks and lines. Men who engage in this dishonorable practice are cognizant of the fact that it is contrary to law, and when they violate the law knowingly, their punishment should be extremely severe. The Indians, our informant tell us, complain bitterly of the whole sale slaughter of the finny tribe and they do not hesitate to make known the means employed, catching the fish. At the present rate in which trout are slaughtered by this nefarious practice, fish with hooks and lines will soon be to be a luxury. The patience of Indians will become exhausted and these intruders will be ejected from the fishing grounds in a manner that will afford an interesting episode in our history. Fishing with the hook and line is said not to be as good as it was a year ago; the cause may be justly attributed to the use of giant powder. She on men who will so degrade themselves, even in the eyes of trusky sons of the plains.—Par City Record.

Race Talk.
 The running races on Monday and Tuesday have not resulted so that the contestants are satisfied. Dr. Williamson, the owner of "Nimbus" and "Octopus" is confident that both animals can do better. He is willing to back the little horse again against the "Pendleton colt" for any amount, but in view of the fact that others entertain similar ideas, no race of that kind is likely to be made. He also believes that "Octopus" can beat "Victress," winner of the Utah colt race on Tuesday, and there is talk about another race between these animals. Messrs. Carrington & Young have confidence in the filly and are ready to make another race like that of Tuesday, if it is wanted. They do not believe that either "Octopus" or "Sorrel Charley" can make her run near her best in such a race.

Endurance is conceded to be the backing feature in "Octopus," and in a mile or two mile race it is not believed that there is anything here to compete with him. There are those, however, who believe that "Benton," the horse which won the half mile dash between himself, "Baby" and the Gipsy pony can outrun him, and there is talk of a mile race between him and "Octopus." What will be the upshot of the talk, however, is not known, and unless some money is shortly put up it is likely to end as it began—in talk.

Utah and Wyoming.
 We believe, however, that we have received a piece of information that gives good grounds for the opinion that there is really a determined purpose to build the Utah and Wyoming from Granger and Randolph through Paradise to Corinne, at an early date. On Sunday last, the chief engineer of the company called on Mr. A. M. Monteith, an intelligent and respected citizen of Paradise, to ask for information respecting the shortest and most feasible route from Randolph to Corinne. Mr. Monteith, who is familiar with the topography of this entire region, gave the following opinion that the best route lay through Paradise Canyon to old Paradise, thence over the divide to Mantua, which would probably involve a tunnel in one place. From Mantua to Corinne the route would be direct and easy. The engineer desired Mr. Monteith to convey him over this route, saying that if it proved direct and feasible it would be chosen, and a branch road would be built from Paradise to Hyrum and Logan. Mr. Monteith was to have started out with him some days ago. The engineer stated positively that it was the determination to have trains running from Granger to Corinne before the expiration of the present year, but this seems hardly practicable. It seems, however, to be a settled fact that the immediate construction of this road has been fixed upon.—Logan Leader.

 "Fun on the Bristol."
 Last evening Jarret & Rice's company appeared for the first time here in "Fun on the Bristol." The reputation of the performance given by this company had the effect of drawing out a very large and a fine audience, which enjoyed the admirable performance immensely. The piece is of the burlesque character and is replete with good musical sketches and many fine pieces of character acting. The members are all artists and sing finely. "Fun on the Bristol" is one of those pieces which cannot be described, and like "Dreams," has to be seen to be appreciated. Mr. Sheridan, who takes the part of the widow, is undoubtedly a fine comedian, but there was some difficulty experienced last night in understanding what he said; in fact, in the first act it was a general complaint that no one knew what he was talking about. This may have been the intention; if so, the object was attained, for blissful ignorance generally prevails as to the greater part of his speeches. His song and dance, the latter especially, in the first act, brought down the house. Next to Mr. Sheridan came Mr. Courtwright, the noted negro minstrel, and it is a question if he was not the favorite of the evening. Mr. Dumbur has a fine baritone voice and is a good actor. Both Mr. Waldran and Mr. Tannehill were good, the former having a fine bass voice. The ladies, Misses Kate Castleton, Agnes Halleck and Georgie Kane, were not a whit behind the gentlemen, and sang and acted well. The whole performance, as a provoker of mirth and laughter, is very meritorious and will more than repay an attendance. There is nothing poor nor low in the whole, and while it will please all classes, can give offense to none.
 It will be repeated again to-night, to-morrow afternoon for a matinee, and to-morrow night for the last time.
