LATEST TELEGRAMS.

SENATE.

Washington, 26.—Rawson offered a resolution for a report on the condition of the Potomac flats. Adopted.

The Sherman resolution for the investigation of the Treasury accounts was modified so as to give the committee the fullest power, and was adopted, as also his resolution to refer the Melrose report to committee on appropriations. In executive session the Senate confirmed H. H. Garnett, minister to Liberia; J. C. McBride, postmaster of Lincoln, Neb.

The Senate is getting impatient at the President's delay in forming the cabinet.

In executive session a motion was made to adjourn sine die.

It was announced that the President would not delay the senators longer than Friday evening.

Foreign.

London, 26.—The United States minister at Manchester, referring to the cotton adulteration, in a speech at Oldham, said he would do his best to remedy the evil and believed in fair play and fair dealing.

The Sporting Life says the horses which Keene's "Foxhall" defeated for the Yorkshire and Cambridgehire stakes, were far superior to those defeated by "Roseburg" in 1876, the only previous occasion when the same horse, the same year, secured both stakes.

In the election of a member of Parliament for Berwick-on-Tweed, the liberal candidate received 1,046 votes, and the conservative 5,292. The Irish supported the liberal candidate.

Sir William Harcourt was carefully guarded by detectives while in Glasgow.

Alexandria, 26.—French newspapers have been suppressed for publishing that Osman, founder of the Ottoman Empire, was the son of a false prophet.

Rome, 26.—Baron Blanc, formerly minister to the United States, has telegraphed to the consul of the Italian government at New York that the identity of the brigand, Esposito, surrendered by the United States, has been fully established and an important service rendered to the cause of justice.

Constantinople, 26.—Two Circassians, who robbed and maltreated Pierce, American minister, have been sentenced to five years' penal servitude. Five others arrested in connection with the affair were discharged.

London, 26.—A pugilist named Carney and four others, were arrested charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Highland, champion light weight. Highland received fatal injuries in a prize fight near Birmingham.

Gladstone has arrived at Knowsly. Special precautions have been taken for his safety in the journey. His movement are kept secret.

City of Mexico, 26.—Government has ordered the commencement of the payment of the subvention to the Central railroad. It has been decided that the Mexican National Railroad Company cannot build to Guadalajara.

Ireland.

Dublin, 26.—Dr. Kenny, parochial medical officer, has been dismissed.

Only seven members of the Sliigo corporation were present at the called meeting to sympathize with suspects. The mayor refused to put a motion of sympathy, objecting to the wording.

Four persons were arrested today at Birra, Kings County.

London, 26.—Last night, at Liverpool, Chamberlain, radical member of Parliament for Birmingham, devoted considerable time to an exposition of government's recent conduct on Irish affairs. He said if the League leaders did not countenance their permitted acts of outrage and a system of secret terrorism which no civilized government could be expected to endure. The common sense of the country and political opinion of the people and of America, as shown universally in the foreign press, all confirm me when I say the objects of the Land League have been developed and have altogether changed their character since the land act passed. The original objects were even praiseworthy. To stifle agitation at that time would have been to have prevented reform, and would have brought ruin to thousands and tens of thousands of indigent people now protected by the land act. He concluded: "Unless government and the country accept the idea of the secession of Ireland from the union (cries of "never") and the severance of the two countries (cries of "never"), I think the time had come when government was bound to show its authority. (Loud cheers). The future is still uncertain, but I think it is not without hope. Our contact is not free from trust with the Irish people."

Woman's Suffrage Convention.

Louisville, Ky., 26.—At the Woman Suffrage Association, to-day, woman suffrage constitutional amendments, now in force in Indiana, Nebraska and Oregon, and the school suffrage already established in twelve states, were welcomed as an encouraging indication of progress. Hon. Erasmus McCortell, of Nebraska, was elected president for the ensuing year. A meeting of the citizens of Louisville was announced to form a city woman suffrage society, to-morrow. The convention adjourned this evening.

WASHINGTON.

The Daily Budget of Speculations.

Folger Will be Given and Will Accept the Treasury Portfolio.

Washington, 26.—The President has accepted the resignation of First Assistant Postmaster General Tyner.

The total amount of bonds embraced in the 105th call, received up to date, is $2,700,000.

Ex-Custodian Pitney will answer some of the charges in the Melrose reports.

Prominent Indiana men are endeavoring to secure the appointment of General B. Wright, as auditor of railroad accounts. A petition in this behalf bearing, among other names, that of John C. New, was sent to the President to-day.

Secretary Windom had a long interview with President Arthur this afternoon. The secretary says with the close of business to-day, his administration as secretary of the treasury virtually terminated. He will be at the department part of the time for the next few days.

The belief that Conkling is ultimately designed for the secretaryship of the treasury seems almost universally entertained here, and if he were at liberty to accept it, it is believed the President would have appointed him. Ex-Secretary (now Senator) Windom informed the associated press agent to-night, positively, that Folger had been offered, and has formerly accepted the treasury, and that the President will nominate him to-morrow. Howe will be nominated to-morrow, also, for attorney general, and it is quite likely the Senate will adjourn to-morrow evening.

The democrats think Sherman's modification of his resolution for information regarding treasury matters has taken away its vim and force. Senator Farley, who was asked on Friday to get the testimony out upon which the Melrose report was based, has not recurred to the subject and does not intend to. The feeling among democratic senators is that it will be much pleasanter to have the matter taken up when the House meets, as the members of that body will not be restrained, as are senators, by courtesy towards Mr. Sherman.

It is positively stated to-night that Chief Justice Folger of New York, has been tendered and accepted the appointment of Secretary of the treasury, and his name will be sent to the Senate to-morrow. In connection with the appointment it is asserted that Folger agreed to accept on condition, or with the understanding, that he shall be appointed to the United States Supreme bench to succeed Hunt, who, it is confidently believed, will be retired on account of physical disability by Congress. Judge Folger really did not want the secretaryship, but is ambitious to go on the Supreme bench. It is still asserted by those who assume to know that Conkling will succeed Folger in the treasury before Arthur's administration grows very old. It is also said that Conkling would have been appointed, but that since he left the Senate he has taken several very important lawsuits, and accepted some thousands of dollars in the shape of retainers, and therefore cannot abandon these cases; and it will be some months before he can attend to them. Arthur is very anxious, so the story goes, to have Conkling at the head of the treasury, and his great embarrassment since Morgan declined, has been to find a man who would make way for Conkling, when he gets ready to go into the cabinet. Folger's retirement from the chief justiceship of the New York court of appeals will necessitate the election of a successor, and the democrats may win the election and thus get a majority. This is one reason why there was some hesitation in appointing Folger to the treasury, but after looking over the field it appears the President concluded he was the man he wanted.

Richmond, 26.—Twenty thousand strangers united with the entire resident population in the observance of the Richmond, Yorktown Centennial celebration. The procession of the military and civic organizations and industries of the city occupied two hours in passing the given point. At the close of the parade the British flag was run up over the late capital and saluted. A pyrotechnical display finished the festivities.

Again Postponed.

Vienna, 26.—The long promised interview between the Czar and the Emperor Francis Joseph was to have taken place at Kezesnovice yesterday. Every preparation had been made for this interview, and it was given up as a matter of necessity. Kezesnovice is an Austrian town a short distance from Cracow. Prince Thurn had gone to the town to look after certain pleasures for the Emperor, but at the last moment the alert advisers of the Czar informed him that nihilists were perfectly informed of the intended meeting and that from prudential reasons it ought to be abandoned. It is said the Czar was amazed at this intelligence; indeed, it is difficult, if not impossible, to conjecture in what way the nihilists leaders keep themselves so correctly and closely informed of even the most secret movements of both Emperors. Both Emperor Alexander and Francis Joseph have been using the resources of the diplomacy of the two empires for several weeks towards the one object of an effective personal interview, without public knowledge, and have been baffled in every attempt. Each time that arrangements have been concluded, by some unknown means the whole programme has been given the widest publicity, and men of known revolutionary propensities have flocked to the point of the intended rendezvous. Every disappointment has added to the Czar's nervous prostration, and the circumstances which compelled him, yesterday, to continue his seclusion at Gotschina, instead of going to Kezesnovice, have depressed him very much; but his advisers were, as heretofore, right. At Kezesnovice at the appointed time of the meeting, there suddenly appeared many mysterious strangers, who, to-day, are not to be seen, but who are not absent. The enemies of the Czar, fearing a tripartite imperial alliance just now, more than anything else, are determined to prevent, at all hazards, the interview which they believe will consummate it. Owing to the perfection of their plans the confidence they felt that the imperial meeting would surely take place, and the knowledge they had of what was then to be done, nihilist leaders in various parts of the empire, during the afternoon, assured their followers that the thing intended had actually been done, and from these assurances the most alarming rumors were spread.

Lion Loose—A General Row.

Atlanta, 26.—After the performance at Coup's circus, at Cartersville, a difficulty occurred between circus men and deputy marshals and others. A negro was shot dead; others on both sides badly beaten and bruised. Two circus men were shot. Whisky is at the bottom. A lion and a bear escaped from cages during the fight. The bear was killed, while the lion is still at large. There is considerable excitement.

Finishing the Celebration.

Richmond, 26.—Twenty thousand strangers united with the entire resident population in the observance of the Richmond, Yorktown Centennial celebration. The procession of the military and civic organizations and industries of the city occupied two hours in passing the given point. At the close of the parade the British flag was run up over the late capital and saluted. A pyrotechnical display finished the festivities.
