THE RACE.

"Ewing" Wins in Three Straight Heats.

The long talked of race took place on Saturday but was not as interesting as was generally expected. There was a very large crowd present at the start, which increased until a couple of heats had been trotted. The general expectation had been that, while the track would not be fast, it would at least be good; in this, however, all were terribly mistaken, for it is a question if a slower track was ever trotted on here. All down the home stretch, and past the stand on the out-turn, it was mud beneath which the horses would set their feet down, the ground would cup out, and the frozen bottom being reached, they would slip. It was painful to see them move in it, the mare especially, who appeared timid and could not be made to work. She had the inside. A start was easily effected, and just as she left the stand, she broke, and lost her place. She broke four times in that heat, which was won easily by "Ewing" in 2:42. The succeeding two heats—"Ewing" winning in three straight—was a repetition of the first, "Ewing" winning easily, the second heat in 2:41, and the third in 2:41 1/2. The gait of the mare did not justify her breaking, which she did on the slightest provocation, and on the best places on the track. "Ewing" broke once, on the outset of the third heat, but quickly recovering himself rapidly regained the place the mare was taking from him. The horse looked well, and felt in magnificent condition. He was eager to go; while the mare felt well Mr. Travis could not make her work, and ascribes it to her timidity on account of the bad condition of the track. The race was lacking in any interest whatever, and it seemed from the start that all present settled down to the conviction that the horse would win. Time bets were made, and many who looked for good time were sadly left.

As anticipated, the race will not settle the relative merits of the animals; but it demonstrates that Mr. Travis, well acquainted as he is with horses, cannot manage the mare as well as her owner, Mr. Carrington, can; it seems to demonstrate also that she will not trot well on a heavy track. Had the conditions been as was anticipated—as fine a track as the day was fine—then the race would have been interesting, probably exciting, but while the track was heavy, and the horses did well, the race lacked any interest whatever.

Theatre.

There was a large attendance at the Theatre last night when Baron Seeman gave his fourth performance in this city. We have referred to it before, but too great praise cannot be bestowed upon it, especially on the dissolving views, which are wonderfully beautiful and realistic. The various effects produced, and the intrinsic as well as historical merit of the views themselves, make that portion of the entertainment instructive as well as pleasing and wonderful. The suspension act is a marvel to many and a beautiful scene in itself. The audiences nightly become more and more convinced of the honesty with which the many and valuable presents are distributed. Last night, as on former occasions, poor persons took some of the most valuable prizes. On Saturday afternoon, the silk dress pattern was won by Miss E. Cohn, of the Twentieth Ward; the china tea set by Miss A. T. Riley of the Eighth Ward; a large Parisian doll by Miss Emma McCormick, of the Eighth Ward; a Parisian doll by Miss Medhurst, South Temple Street.

Last evening, the presents were drawn as follows:

Silk dress pattern, William Denhalter, Commercial Street.

Gold Watch, Mrs. Eber Case, Ninth Ward.

China tea set, Mrs. P. C. Hannibal Eleventh Ward.

Silver tea service, R. Mackintosh.

The presents above enumerated are given every evening, as will be seen by advertisement elsewhere. Baron Seeman is doing well here, and will do better, now that it is settled he gives a first class entertainment, gives away what he agrees, and makes the distribution honestly.

"Our Boarding House."

On Monday evening, December 5th, the Home Dramatic Club will make their reappearance in Grover's noted play "Our Boarding House." The production of the successful comedy in this city will form a notable event in theatricals, as all amusement lovers are acquainted with the reputation the piece has acquired, both east and west. It is the leading comedy in Robson and Crane's repertoire; and it is said would have been performed by those celebrated artists in their late engagement here, had not the cast required more people than they had in their company. The cast of characters in the present performance embraces eighteen speaking characters, among whom are Misses Wells, Spencer, Cummings, and Mesdames Colebrook, Claridge, Cummings, Clawson, Dinwoody. Mr. Geo. G. Staley, who recently appeared here, and Mr. Henry W. Malben, one of the old comedians of the Deseret Dramatic Association, will also take prominent parts in "Our Boarding House," with the club. The Careless orchestra furnishes the music for the occasion.

Runaway Accidents.

A couple of serious runaways took place on Saturday, early in the afternoon. The first was that of a young man and a young lady. They had been riding about the city for a time prior to going to the races, and the young fellow had a spirited horse and displayed his lack of sense by using the whip too freely. A number who saw him predicted disaster. While on the way to the races, he whipped the animal once too often and it ran away. He was then going down North Temple street, and as the horse turned towards City Creek and was in danger of plunging in the aqueduct, the youth pulled strongly in the reverse direction and the animal bolted in towards the fence, pitching out both the inmates. The young lady miraculously escaped uninjured, but the young fellow was banged up against a picket fence, and had his nose broken and his face badly hurt. The buggy was broken to pieces, the horse bolted off, and finally stopped at the rear of Mr. John Q. Cannon's house. The rig belonged to Mark McKinnin. At the same hour, Mr. Brim and Mr. C. E. Wallin were going to the races in Mr. Brim's rig, when by some means, while on South Temple street, the buggy overturned and both were thrown out. Wallin was very badly cut about the head and face and had to be taken to his residence, where medical attendance was secured. He was not seriously hurt.

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Miss., January 2, 1880.

I wish to say that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching all over. I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me. I am old and poor but feel to bless you for such a relief by your medicine and from torment of the doctors. I have had fifteen doctors at me. One gave me seven ounces of solution of arsenic; another took four quarts of blood from me. All they could tell me was that it was skin sickness. Now, after these four bottles of your medicine, my skin is well, clean and smooth as ever. HENRY KNOCH.
