THE IRISH.
Continuance of Outrages—The Cavendish Murderers.
London, 11.—Police Inspector Peel, mainly instrumental in convicting Thomas Walsh, keeper of the Fenian army at Clerkenwell, was assaulted by a party of Irishmen. One knocked him insensibly by a blow. Two long knives were found with the assailants.
A man supposed to be connected with the Phoenix Park murders was arrested at Swansons on his arrival from Dublin.
Dublin, 11.—Divers are searching the basin of the Grand Canal for the knives which Kavanagh deposited he and Brady threw into it. The water will be drawn from the basin if the divers are not successful.

The servant of Deputy St. Lynch, of County Galway, was wounded by a shot from behind while unharassing the horse, after driving the family home from church. The assassin escaped.
Tom McCafferty has been arrested. Kavanagh identifies him as the man on the car he drove into the park on the day of the murders. Cafferty is a relation of a man already arrested. The crown accepts the evidence of another informant, who will identify the actual murderer of Cavendish and Burke.
The sword blades which the informer, Kavanagh, testified on Saturday that he and Brady threw into the basin of the gas works after the attack upon Field, were discovered to-day in the basin.

London, 12.—O'Donnell, member of Parliament for Dunganry, writes to the Times complaining that while informers and paid witnesses are allowed every opportunity for putting their stories together, and improve their memory by consulting each other, the Irish prisoners in Kilmainsham Jail are kept in solitary confinement, and hindered from producing evidence for their defenses.
The Times, in an article on the programme of the Irish party in Parliament, says it is possible T. M. Healy's scheme for local government in Ireland will form the basis of the chief Irish bill. In the address in reply to the speech from the throne, there will be a debate on the general subject of the Irish policy of government. Parnell will demand an official account of the private inquiry held at Dublin Castle, and will point out the necessity for further measures for the relief of distress in Ireland. A bill to amend the land act has been already drafted.

Henry Prouse Cooper, tailor, from New York, was before Bow street police court to-day, charged with being a suspicious character, and loitering in Charing Cross dressed in female attire. He was remanded.
Henry Prouse Cooper was released on his own security, for good behavior for six months.

The Monagenarian.
New York, 11.—Peter Cooper was 93 years old yesterday. The event was quietly celebrated by a dinner at his residence on Lexington avenue, at which about thirty guests were present. Cooper said he suffered somewhat from sleeplessness, but the old mechanic, inventor, philosopher and philanthropist looks as well as at any time during the last fifteen years. A volume containing his speeches and writings on finance, tariff and kindred subjects will be issued. John Bernard will present M. Cooper on Monday with a handsome bouquet and a postical tribute in commemoration of the occasion. Pupils of Cooper Institute will also present their venerable friend with a colossal bouquet.
New York, 12.—Peter Cooper received a large number of friends and congratulatory offerings to-day, being his ninety-third birthday. The first volume of his autobiography was issued to-day.

A New Swindle.
New York, 11.—Alfred Keegan, James M. Jarvis, Patrick Cunningham and W. E. McGrath, deputies in the office of commissioner of justice, were arrested on the charge of malfeasance in office, and by the confession of one of them it appears they have been receiving tribute from 2,000 or 3,000 business men who paid for being relieved of jury service. Some paid whenever drawn, and some paid a fixed sum yearly. The practice has been in vogue since '77, and the conspirators realized large sums.
