The Pacific Roads.

New York, 24.—A Wall street paper of bear propensities, says a good many people think Central Pacific stock paying 6 per cent. is pretty low at 80. We doubt if this be the case; on the contrary, it is more than likely to go a great deal lower. Central Pacific people, in building the Southern Pacific, have invested, so we are told, at least $100,000,000, and the property is practically dead. The only chance of saving it is in building up the country by inducing immigration, and this they are about to do by carrying passengers from New York via New Orleans for $200. Of course the Central Pacific and Union Pacific will go to the dogs, but the only hope of getting $100,000,000 out the Southern Pacific is in the new scheme of population for the Pacific Slope.

We are told the Central Pacific people are resolved upon the scheme to let the government take back its property for the amount of the mortgage, and that the par rate would not have been made with the Union Pacific last winter were it not that the Central Pacific people wanted a little more to get out of their stock. Under these circumstances we would advise the purchase of Central Pacific stock.

The Stockholder says of the Union Pacific: The secret generally is not favorably impressed with the report of the government directors so far as that document has been made public and as a result of its conclusions is disposed rather to sell stock short than buy it for a possible rally. Still, strong people are free buyers, and the point given out is that stock will again sell at par within thirty days.

San Francisco's Trouble.

San Francisco, 24.—Bulwer declares a dividend of five cents. The committee of conference appointed to devise means to release the municipality from its present financial embarrassment, met to-day. The general feeling has been in favor of reducing salaries in all departments, the police department to be reduced one-third involving a decrease of the force. At an informal session of the board of supervisors the plan of reduction was approved and the committee instructed to ask the Legislature to authorize the issue of bonds if found necessary. Wholesale dealers who furnish supplies to public institutions notify the board that unless bills are paid by next Wednesday the supplies would be stopped.

Small Pox.

Denver, 24.—Notwithstanding the strenuous efforts to throttle it, small pox appears to be getting the upper hand of the authorities of Leadville. The public schools are closed, a new pest house is being built, and the alarm is becoming general. It is also reaching out into the surrounding towns, and some of them are establishing quarantine. Denver authorities are using every precaution to prevent the appearance here, and are successful thus far.

A Rogue Kans.

New York, 24.—Harry Kellogg, a familiar name in Colorado mining circles, has disappeared. For a dozen years he has been actively engaged speculating in mining property; first in Denver, and still later in Leadville. He has bought and sold prospects to a large extent, not only in the east, but in Europe as well. His latest prominent venture was in the Castle Peak mine in Leadville, which he had developed in connection with Postmaster Sherry J. Graham and other gentlemen, of New Haven. Kellogg's wife and child are left destitute.

Fanny Driscoll Dead.

Milwaukee, 24.—Fanny Driscoll, the well known poetess and writer, died yesterday. She was married in December last to H. T. White, of the Chicago Tribune, and was suffering at the time from a cold, which developed into quick consumption. The deceased lady's writings are very popular in the north-west and the country generally.

Damaging Rain.

Chicago, 24.—At 7 o'clock this morning a fine driving rain began, freezing as fast as it fell. The buildings, sidewalks, streets, telegraph wires, etc., are already heavily coated with ice. The effect is already felt by railroads and telegraph offices. Serious interruptions to trains and wires are probable.

Miscellaneous.

New York, 24.—The sportsman announces that Sanford's racer "Tilly Precious," will be brought east in the summer for engagement in the fall events, particularly the four-mile race at Sheepshead Bay. The ex-governor is quietly developing his young stock on the road, working out all the famous ones.

The Sluggers.

Baltimore, 24.—The excitement in pugilistic circles over the respective merits of Sullivan, Slade, Maco and other rival sluggers has been at fever heat for several days, threatening on two or three occasions a scene of violence and bloodshed. R. K. Fox is here and says positively a match between Slade and Sullivan will take place within six months, probably in Louisiana or Missouri. During the past week the Maco-Slade combination has been giving sparring exhibitions in the Monumental Theatre. On Wednesday evening both men lost their tempers, and the friendly bout became one of a more sanguinary nature. Maco getting a black eye and battered nose. They go to Washington from here.

Murder.

Omaha, 24.—A letter received here to-day, brings news of the murder at Driftwood, Hitchcock County, last Tuesday, of a man named Owens by Silhus Karns. They were brothers-in-law, residing at Driftwood. They had been bitter enemies for some time, owing to an old family feud. On Tuesday they had a quarrel about family matters and became very excited. Finally Karns drew a revolver and exclaimed with an oath, "You son of a bitch," and fired, the bullet taking effect in the stomach and coming out at the back. Owens died on Wednesday. Karns made his escape.

Lost at Sea.

Boston, 24.—A special from Hull, England, says the steamship Bywell Castle, from the Black Sea, with a cargo of cotton seed and beans, bound for this port, is thought to have foundered and all on board were lost.

The DeBelleville Case.

New York, 25.—The motion for alimony and a counsel fee in the DeBelleville divorce case was granted, $30 weekly and $250 fees allowed. The Court advised that the papers in the case be laid before the general term, that the counsel who obtained an alleged divorce might be dealt with by that tribunal.

The Passion Play.

New York, 25.—Judge Donohue decided that he had no power to grant the injunction asked by Salmi Morse. If the police do anything not authorized by law, the question can be tested by the arrest or any other act. Morse said to a reporter that under the advice of counsel he would positively give a full dress rehearsal of the Passion Play to-night.

The Happy Czar.

St. Petersburg, 25.—It is stated that letters have been received by the authorities, conveying a threat to blow up the Kremlin at Moscow, where the czar is to be crowned. Search was made, but nothing indicating preparations for the destruction of the palace was revealed. A close watch is being kept, and the public are not allowed to enter the buildings.

XLVII. CONGRESS.

SECOND SESSION.

SENATE.

Washington, 24.—A long discussion upon the influence of the Typographical Union in the government printing office resulted upon the paragraph increasing the pay of government printers, in the course of which it was stated the office was entirely under the control of the union and the government had to submit to its dictation.

HOUSE.

Washington, 24.—Immediately after reading the journal the speaker proceeded to call the committees under the "pound" rule.

Randall, under instructions from the committee on ways and means, called up the bill to prevent the importation of adulterated or spurious tea, and there being but one objection was amended and passed.

Several other bills were called up and objected to.

Several other bills and motions were introduced, appropriate action being taken, and the House finally adjourned.

RED CLOUD.

The Old Chief Hangers for Money and Not Cows.

Washington, 24.—The Sioux chief Red Cloud had a hearing before the committee on appropriations. He is seeking payment for horses, blankets, etc., taken for the use of the government by Gen. Crook. He spoke through the interpreter and was quite earnest in his manner. He began: "I am Chief Red Cloud. Look at me," and then went on to urge, though not a man of education or cultivation, that he had good common sense and business capacity, and was able to take care of the affairs of his people. He therefore protested against the recommendation of Secretary Teller that the money which they reported as justly due, government should use for the purchase of cows and farming material for the reservation. The committee declined to act on account of the shortness of the session, but told him he must come before the next congress, a disappointing announcement which the chief took far more good-naturedly than would have been the case with many white claimants.

The following is Red Cloud's formal address which he brought in writing:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 20, 1883.

To the Law Clerk:

I am an Indian. Look at me; my name is Red Cloud. I have sense; the government through Gen. Crook, in '70, took wrongfully 603 horses from me and my people. I have sense, so have my people; I represent them; I am in debt and have a large family. Secretary Teller asks me to take cows for my horses; if the government gives me all the cows they have already promised, I will have more than what we can milk. I am a man of sense; I want money to pay my debts. Law Chief, pay me not in cows but cash. I am at peace; let me remain thus.

(Signed) RED X. CLOUD, Mark. Witness, Laramie."

Heber Newton.

New York, 24.—It is stated by those who have seen the proof sheets of the forthcoming sermons on the Bible to be published next week by Heber Newton that they don't differ materially from the newspaper reports, and their appearance will be followed by ecclesiastical action, also that the controversy promises to be a very bitter one, several prominent divines being on the side of Newton, among them Dr. Rynance, of the wealthy St. Mark's, and Dr. Shipman, of Christ Church, Fifth Avenue.

Lyoch Him.

Greensboro, N. C., 25.—Jerome, a negro, became enamored of the beauty of Mrs. Wm. Terrill, a well known citizen. When Mr. and Mrs. Terrill were asleep the negro got into the house and crept into bed with them, with a knife and revolver in his hand, which woke Mrs. Terrill. He told her he would kill her husband if she waked him, and made a base proposal to her. She awoke her husband and a fearful struggle ensued. The husband disarmed the negro, who in the course of the melee fatally hurt Terrill's son, 10 years old. The negro was finally overpowered and locked up. It is believed he will be lynched.
