Indian Matters.

Washington, 22.—The following telegram was received at the war department on June 20th:

PRESDIO, San Francisco.

To Adjutant General:

Following dispatch is just received from General Crook: I recommend for the present at least that the management of the surrendered Chiricahuas be left entirely in the hands of Crook and that both war and interior departments give him full authority and means to carry out his policy; this seems to be the only possible way of successful issue, evidently the Chiricahuas can't be treated arbitrarily as prisoners of war. General Crook alone has power to contract them. He telegraphs: "I see by the papers that Secretary Teller declines to receive on the San Carlos reservation any Chiricahuas Apaches except women and children. If these Indians are not fed they must either starve or go back to the war path. They are now as thoroughly subjugated as it is possible for them to be. By nature they are so suspicious and vigilant that at no time will they camp in one body, but occupy different elevated points, making the surprise or destruction of the entire band an impossibility. In like manner in surrendering, they would not trust themselves in our hands at once but came dropping in from all sides in small fragments. They would say: 'We give ourselves up to do with us as you please. Had I seized upon the first who came in, no others would have followed. Twenty warriors would have been as bad as the whole number. Chitto, in his raid through Arizona and New Mexico, had but 26 men. Hiramito, in his recent depredations in Chihuahua had less than 40. When the Chiricahuas reached the reservation they will be fully as nervous and distrustful, and any attempt to hold them responsible for their acts before surrender will drive them back to the cliffs and gorges of the mountains. We shall then have to fight them till the last one dies.

She made a full and explicit statement of her knowledge of her husband's nefarious operations. The chief of police will verify the statement, if possible, to clear witnesses.
