CHIPS.

Mr. Dwyer has the April number of the Century.

Who is the mighty man of public spirit who will set on foot a street cleaning boom to-day?

The Union Pacific train was detained yesterday, and arrived here three hours and a half late.

The Denver & Rio Grande had eighty-seven passengers for the Pacific coast by yesterday morning's express.

The sale of seats for the Patti concert will begin at the box office of the Theatre next Tuesday morning, when seats may be reserved.

The passengers by the Oregon Shortline were detained at Pocatello eighteen hours on Thursday by an accident in which the fireman was severely injured.

The watch-stealing business seems to be in a flourishing condition, but James Keaton will try to prove that he has not been in the trade, before Justice Spiers this morning.

Will the Tribune offer a reward for the apprehension of Tobias Tobey, the stenographic reporter who took down B shop West's address? His inventive powers would make a strong addition to the staff of the paper.

The Constitution Convention will meet, as per adjournment, at the City Hall, Salt Lake City, Monday, April 7th next, at 7 p.m.

JOS. F. SMITH, President. ARTHUR STAYNER, Secretary.

Mr. R. Kirkham, the talented young Utah artist, has two very pretty little landscapes on exhibition in Mr. C. R. Savage's window. These paintings would attract a great deal of attention where art is appreciated.

The Hume cannery, on the Columbia River, has already received orders from Paris for 20,000 cases of salmon. It is feared that some of the markets are going to run short, as the cannery's capacity will be nearly exhausted by this order.

The first entertainment meeting of the Caledonian Society will be held in the Social Hall this evening, commencing at 7:30. An excellent programme is prepared for the occasion. Members and ladies, and other persons holding special invitations, are requested to attend.

Mr. Patrique Henri O'Lannan, the butcher editor (literally), insisted that the Bishop West article was authoritative, even after Mr. Teasdale's letter was quoted to him, and further declared that he wouldn't believe Mr. Teasdale under oath. Will he say the same thing to-day?

Ten Nights in a Bat-room will, by special request, be presented in the Music Hall next Monday evening. The piece met with such general favor on its former presentation by reason of the creditable manner in which it was performed, that the managers have been asked to repeat it.

In one of the interviews published yesterday it was said that the rates of freight were the same from Chicago to Salt Lake, as from Salt Lake to Idaho. This statement was slightly inaccurate. The rates are per cwt: Chicago to Salt Lake, $3.50; Salt Lake to Idaho, $3.25.

The many friends of Judge S. J. Jonason will be sorry to learn that he is confined to his home, 173 E. Second South street, by the sickness of himself and that of a child, 3 1/2 years of age, the latter having been very low with pneumonia for the past twenty days, while the judge is suffering from acute rheumatism. Yesterday was the 44th anniversary of Judge Jonason's birth.

When approached by the representative of THE HERALD in regard to the business outlook, Messrs. Walker Bros. expressed the opinion that it was rather too early in the season to predict anything reliable about the season's trade, and they therefore preferred not to be quoted. That is why this reliable firm did not appear in the lists we have given.

The U. P. paycar was making the mouths of the employees and sundry tradesmen water by dispensing dues amongst them at Ogden last night.

Wm. Haley and Henry Newman will endeavor to convince Justice Spiers of their innocence of the charge brought against them of stealing John Ford's watch, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

According to the police statistics published in the Kansas City Journal of March 18, Salt Lake City pays the highest salary to its old policeman of any city in the United States, namely $1,400 per annum.

Ogden depot wore a sad and lonesome expression last evening, owing to the non-arrival of the U. P. and U. & N. The U. C., and C. P. emigrant were correspondingly light. The Park City train left on time well patronized.

Robert Bruce will be required to explain why he assaulted his wife, in the Police Court at 2 to-day. Robert claims that a real estate agent has been trespassing upon his estate, and brought misery into his home. Hence this chaos.

A meeting of the committee appointed to solicit material aid for the snowed-out sufferers and bury the unfortunate victims will be held this evening at 7 o'clock at the office of Scott & Anderson opposite the postoffice where additional amounts will be thankfully received from such as the committee may have overlooked. A full attendance of the committee is requested.

A gentleman in Kaysville, who is interested in mills, writes to THE HERALD, saying that the people found a great deal of interest in the interviews with business men which we have published, and that many of the suggestions made would be of great value to the people if they would conform to them. Our correspondent thinks that overbuilding in the various trades is a great mistake.

A Traveled Man.

"I don't like traveling as much as you would suppose," said Herr Dittman, agent for Her Majesty's Opera Company, yesterday, to the reporter who was questioning him as to the jolly life of advance agents. "You see," he continued, "I have been on the road a great deal during the last ten years, and can safely say that I have covered 300,000 miles in the United States and Canada. Many times have I been in most every city of 10,000 or more inhabitants, and in every State and most every Territory. I have been connected with the greatest artists of the world, in different capacities; treasurer for the great concert company of De Murska during her first tour in 1874, and of Clara Louise Kellogg's Grand English Opera in 1875 and 1876; agent of the first concert tour of America's lovely songstresses, Emma Abbott, in 1876, and Emma Thurbury in 1877; in the same year I became manager of the greatest New York societies, under the conductor, Dr. Damrosch, the Symphony and Oratorio Societies; subsequent manager for the handsome singer, Marie Rozz, wife of Henry Mapleson, son of the Colonel, during her concert tour, and manager of the first tour through this country of Her Majesty's Opera under Col. J. H. Mapleson, in 1878-9. The following winter I managed the first concert tour of the great violinist Wilhelmj, and later, that of the great pianist Joseffy. For the last two winters I did not travel, but remained in New York attending to Colonel Mapleson's Brooklyn season. He desired me to travel this winter, and I could not say, No. I am glad I came, for otherwise I would have been ignorant of the many nice people there are in this part of the country. It seems though as if it never would get dry." And he rolled up his pants and waded across the street.

The best cooks say that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the nicest, best raising for pastry. American housekeepers say that it lightens and sweetens the biscuit more efficiently; the chemists say it is strong and free from alum, ammonia or any objectionable drug; the physicians say it is nutritious and healthful.

Mrs. Daniele Venoye, Bremen, Marshall Co., was cured of Dyspepsia by the use of Brown's Iron Bitters.

RIVERS OF MUD.

Is There No Remedy For the Shocking Condition of Main Street?

Let every man who has a place of business on or near Main street consider for one moment what will be the result of the present filthy condition of the principal thoroughfares of the city unless they are attended to while attention can do some real good.

It is claimed that the revenues of the city are not sufficient to enable the municipal authorities to expend the money necessary to put the streets in a respectable condition. Granted that this is the case, shall the business portion of the city sit meekly down and endure the inconvenience, misery and losses which must naturally and inevitably follow from the present state of the streets. Every square foot of that mud will cause the loss of at least a dollar to the merchants of these streets unless it is cleaned off before it resolves itself into dust.

If the city is too poor, or if it is indisposed to see to the matter, the merchants should appoint a committee to day, raise a subscription, and put a gang of men to work as early as possible this morning. The mud would skim off very readily, and could be carted away and entirely banished for about one-fifth of the money which will be lost in damage to goods and to buildings if it is allowed to dry up where it now lies. This is a suggestion which is based upon what is done in similar circumstances in other places, and is therefore known to be feasible. One hundred men armed with hoes, scrapers, shovels and brooms would clean East Temple street from South Temple to Second South, and First and Second South from First East and West Temple street, in a day or a day and a half if properly managed. These men could be had for $1 a day; teams could be hired in any needed number at a reasonable figure, and the work could be accomplished for $300 or $400. Who will show sufficient public spirit to set this work afoot without delay? THE HERALD heads the subscription list with this suggestion.

The Birthday of Father Green.

KAYSVILLE, Davis Co., March 18th, '84. Father John H. Green, of this place, enjoyed his 83d birthday on the 15th of this month. He was agreeably surprised by a large party of his relatives, each presenting to him some little token of love and esteem. The old gentleman received them with many heartfelt thanks, and by a few choice words he expressed his happiness at being surrounded once more by his children, and great grand children. He regretted it was so that the whole of his children and grand children could not be with him on this occasion. Next came dinner, a splendid affair; after dinner all engaged in merry chat and laughter, music, etc. All enjoyed themselves, but none to a greater extent than Susanna, the aged wife of Father Green. We wish them both many happy returns of the day.

The young ladies' conference will be held in the Fourteenth Ward Assembly Hall to-day, at 2 o'clock p.m. A punctual attendance of the young ladies is desired.

MARY A. FREEZE.

At certain seasons of the year nearly every person suffers to a greater or less extent from impurity of the blood, biliousness, &c., &c. This should be remedied as soon as discovered, otherwise serious results may follow. Sherman's "Prickly Ash Bitters" will effectually remove all taint of disease and restore you to health.

Championship Medal.

A grand Athletic Contest will take place at Walker Opera House on Monday evening, March 24th under the management of J. K. Waite. Contests for the Police Gazette medal will take place; also for the diamond championship medal of Montana. Prizes will be awarded representing the championship of Utah in catch-as-catch-can Graeco Roman and Cornish wrestling. Greatest athletic programme ever witnessed in Utah.

Just Received.

Paris Jacquard Suitings in Silk and Worsted. Plain and figured, checked and striped Silks at F. AUERBACH & BRO.

IMMENSE shipment of Tape Manila, Chip Milan Hats and Bonnets of latest styles. Flowers and Feathers in great variety at F. AUERBACH & BRO.

The Difference.

Ignorance of foreign affairs characterizes the western papers as a rule. But when it comes to such a degree of dunceness as exhibited in this morning's Salt Lake papers, when they call the Italian states (State's bonds) "roules," patience ceased to be a virtue. We'll bet that not one of the editors handling or seeing that telegram from Rome knew what it was about; but then, why don't they rather suppress it than tantalize their readers who refer to their columns in the innocent expectation of getting light and knowledge from their columns?—O. D. Hera d.

Ignorance of foreign affairs is more excusable than ignorance of domestic affairs. Take for example the following extract from an editorial in our Ogden namesake:

GreweW.unar dro Inmol 6c7an f... (The text is largely illegible due to poor scan quality)

Translated, this means, "I am a Swiss myself."

PERSONAL POINTS.

Professor Clayton took a flying tip to the Park last evening.

J. F. Knowles, wife and two children, leave for San Francisco this morning.

Geo. M. Peterson, of Frisco, goes to Buffalo, N. Y., by the D. & R. G. this morning.

E. Dickinson, Esq., of the U. P., came down from Ogden last night in his special car.

Dan O'Brian, of Shoshone, goes to Philadelphia this morning by the D. & R. G. express.

Mex Myer, of Dillon, goes to Nashville, Tenn., this morning by the D. & R. G. express.

Mrs. Rundy, after having been laid up for about two months by a fall, is now rapidly recovering.

Mr. Geo. A. Mecars was suddenly called to Willard City yesterday by a telegram saying that his father was lying sick, and in a critical condition. The old gentleman is 82 years of age.

Mr. John W. Pace, for several months city editor of the Chronicle, withdrew from that paper yesterday evening, and will shortly proceed to his home in St. Louis. Pace drives a lively quill, and will doubtless find a better field for the exercise of his talents in the east.

Miss Agnes Olsen, a talented singer in the Tabernacle choir, well known to Salt Lakers, will sing in a concert at the close of Conference. Those competent to judge say that Miss Olsen has a remarkably fine voice, and there is some talk of getting up a benefit in her behalf to enable her to obtain a thorough musical education. Let talent of so rare a kind be encouraged.

The Cattle Bill.

MILFORD, March 19, 1884.

Editors Herald: We can see no reason or justice in the veto by the Governor of the bill in relation to the placing of hides of animals slaughtered, in a conspicuous place for examination for a reasonable length of time.

Stock men in Utah have had their stock killed indiscriminately by butchers in their slaughter pens and by persons on the range, and this bill was intended as a safeguard against these depredations.

We presume the Governor was led to veto this bill by the influence brought to bear upon him by the class of men against whom the bill was to act as a protection.

F. T. WEBBER.

MAMMAS, if your little ones contract skin diseases at school, apply GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP. HILL'S HAIR AND WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50c.

I. TANNER, druggist, Marshal County, says: "Brown's Iron Bitters sell well and give good satisfaction."

Wholesale Buyers.

I desire to call the attention of my customers and the trade in general to my complete stock of spring goods in the following departments: Men's and Boys' Boots and Shoes, Men's and Boys' Hats, Men's and Boys' Cheviot Shirts, Men's and Boys' Percale Shirts, Men's and Boys' Linen Shirts, Men's and Boys' Cassimere Shirts, Men's and Boys' Underwear, Men's and Boys' Hosiery, Men's and Boys' Neckwear, etc. I have the latest styles, the largest and best selection in the city, some of which I manufacture and import direct from the manufacturers, which places me in a position to supply the trade at lowest Eastern Prices. Merchants will consult their interest by examining my stock and prices before laying in their spring supplies. L. GOLDBERG, 205 and 207 Main Street.

WISE ADVICE.

How to Steer Clear of Poverty.

A representative of THE HERALD in a conversation with ex-Mayor Little yesterday gleaned a few wise ideas, which, with an apology to that gentleman, he will give the readers of THE HERALD the benefit of. The topic was the interview with business men which have appeared in our columns, and Mr. Little said that they were in the main identical with his own opinions. "Steady, common sense business," remarked that gentleman, "is always the best, what are called 'flush times' invariably lead to extravagance, which is sure to be followed by depression if not stagnation. When a community has everything that man requires for his comfort and happiness at its very doors, as is the case here, there is nothing to fear. The follies of men, which lead them to mortgage their homes to build big houses which they cannot afford, are the source of more ruin than are the exigencies of bad seasons in trade, or any of the usual conditions which are blamed for the poverty and destitution they bring. It is always safe for a person to wait for a thing until he is able to pay for it. Mortgaging and borrowing, as a rule, will only result in exactly the reverse of what the victims hope for. The men who have the money to advance on mortgages will eventually own all the property if the system becomes too general, and the people will wake up some day and find themselves without homes. 'Flush times,' continued Mr. Little, "increase the imaginary wants of the people, and the extravagance thus engendered is very hard to get rid of, and anything like a system of economy is made impossible. In fact, the people of this country know nothing about economy, and their individual deficiency in this respect is a detriment to the community in general."

Mr. Little said much more, which young people might profitably take to heart, especially insisting upon economy, and a fixed determination to steer clear of the money lender. In conclusion he said that the signs are decidedly good for the season's trade according to his way of thinking.

Lecture on St. Helena.

On Friday night, in the Salt Lake Theatre, Mr. J. A. MacKnight will deliver a lecture on the "Captivity of Bonaparte at St. Helena." The gentleman having lately returned from that island, where he has been acting in the capacity of United States Consul. His opportunities for making himself familiar with every detail of his subject have of course been ample, and the theme itself is one of the most interesting that could be selected. It will contain a full account of the manner in which Bonaparte was treated by the British authorities from the time of Waterloo till the time of his death, and many other interesting details. The lecture will be illustrated by a fine stereopticon, with magnificent views of Saint Helena, Bonaparte's home and tomb, and the palaces, etc., associated with his career in Paris. Mr. MacKnight has recently delivered this lecture with excellent effect in the east, and being a capable and entertaining speaker, will give his auditors in Salt Lake equal satisfaction.

An Invitation.

The new store, situated near the Sixth Ward platform, has become quite a favorite resort for young roosters. The accommodations are good. The parties occupying the position of rooster can sit in the doorway and dangle their feet across the sidewalk, which does greatly endanger the passers-by. These roosters, unlike the common fowl, do not crow at the approach of dawn, but quietly rise, shake themselves, kles and depart.

A young couple occupies the one doorway six nights in the week, but there are one or two doorsteps as yet unoccupied. Persons desiring a pleasant place to hang out will do well to give us a call.

SIXTH WARD.

Wanted Workmen.

Following is a letter received yesterday by John Sharp, Esq., from San Francisco. It explains itself:

Dear Sir—We beg to ask you if you are prepared to supply us with say from 100 to 1,000 experienced railroad builders, as we may require that number shortly; also men with teams, wagons and scrapers. Transportation furnished from Salt Lake to the place where the work is being done; also state bed rock prices for labor. An early reply is solicited by yours truly, PAUL THOMMELTZ & Co.

WHY is it so many people are never satisfied? Their homes are marvels of comfort and luxury, friends are generous and affectionate; they are educated and refined, capable not only of enjoying, but of imparting happiness to others; yet they are dissatisfied, miserable, and really without intending to do so, make others miserable. Their blood is impure, they have taken a heavy cold or they are bilious. A few doses of Emil Fesse's Hamburg Tea would remove all obstructions, and enable them to enjoy with renewed zest, the pleasures they are now compelled to forego.

Conference Theatricals.

Miss Adams has secured the Open House for three performances during Conference, and will begin with "The Planter's Wife," on Friday evening, April 4. The succeeding performances will take place on the Saturday afternoon and evening following. Miss Adams occupies a deservedly high place in dramatic circles, and with such pieces as she will present, elegantly mounted, and with the best available local talent in the casts, there is no reason why she should not be greeted by "breathing room only" audiences. The complete programme will be announced hereafter.

The Press Gagged.

Nashville, 21.—This afternoon Matthew W. Allen, judge of the criminal court here, at the instance of John J. Vertrees, chairman of the State Democratic executive committee, granted an injunction restraining A. S. Colyer, president of the American New-paper company, from advocating in the American a protective tariff, and also enjoining him and his board and corps of editors from opposing the railroad commission. It is served upon all editors as follows: Enjoining and restraining said board of directors and said A. S. Colyer as president, from causing the American to advocate and promulgate any doctrines and editorially make any publication not in full accord and harmony with the platform of political principles referred to on the subject of regulations and control of railroads, and laying an imposition on tariffs. Vertrees does not claim to be a stockholder, but to have an equitable interest in the majority of the stock of said newspaper, as assignee of Duncan B. Cooper.
