

UTAH COUNTY.

Interesting Notes from a Herald Correspondent.

To a person traveling at this glorious season of the year, when all is green and verdant, and when the aroma from the wild flowers that spangle our hillsides in all the various hues of the rainbow fills the clear, sweet atmosphere, everything leads a charm that makes the dull heart glad and fills the heart with an unaccountable thrill of happiness.

Having had an occasion to travel through Utah county, the thought suggested itself to me that a few notes by the way-side might prove interesting to your readers.

The little burg of Pleasant Grove, that has of late been everly visited by that awful disease, diphtheria, is now beginning to lift its head and rally from the ban of quarantine. The crops of the people there—as, in fact, is the case everywhere else—have been and are very backward. Their fruit crop being a total failure. This latter is very disheartening, as the same misfortune befel the people last year; but they do not feel discouraged, and, consequently, have hearts full of hope for the future. One of the most noticeable features of this little place is their graveyard; that speaks volumes for the people in regard to their care for the dead.

Nestled in the chambers of the mountains, and secluded and guarded from the bustle of the world by the grand, craggy sentinels of nature, is the picturesque little town of Alpine, where we found the people all busy on their farms plowing, sowing, harrowing, digging ditches, and getting all things ready for reaping the "bread of life." The spring has been so backward in this part of the county that some of the people have concluded not to do any farming this season, as it would not be profitable, comparatively speaking.

Passing through Provo from this place on the way south, the air was filled with rumors of the early publication of another newspaper by some energetic young man of Provo, to be called The Provo Enterprise. The people seem to favor the idea, and think that it will awaken the lull in the business circles of Provo, and do good to the people in many directions. We understood that it will make its debut in the field of literature next month.

In Springville we found the people busy in their various avocations of life, as was also the case in the prosperous settlement of Spanish Fork. At this latter place we discovered that it was "clearing up" day, and the fences around the various houses were decorated with clothing, spreads, quilts, etc., while the furniture lay promiscuously scattered around the houses. Stopping for a moment at mother Hannah Cornaby's who compelled us to partake of her hospitality, and who, by the way, we found to be in better health than for many years past, we found that the people of Spanish Fork raised 20,000 pounds of honey last year, while in the year 1881 they had a honey crop of 40,000. Mrs. Cornaby herself got 500 pounds of honey from one hive last year. This is a slight showing of what the people of Spanish Fork are capable of doing. We presume that it is the most progressive and energetic settlement in this entire country, and for it we see a brilliant future.

Leaving Spanish Fork we wended our way to the scattered settlement of Benjamin, three and a half miles north of Paysan. This is the greatest stock raising district, we presume, in the territory. When we say greatest, we do not wish to be understood as the most extensive but the finest and greatest for quality. Just outside of Benjamin is Greewood Farm, the residence of Mr. Andrew J. Stewart, and his nephew, Mr. P. Joseph Stewart, which contains 800 acres. Mr. A. Stewart is the owner of the celebrated Hamiltonian stallion, "Billy." This horse stands over sixteen hands high, and has the famed Maubriem Chief badge of a grey, right hand leg, from the foot to the hock. We need not say anything further about the horse, when we say he descended from "Almont," who made a record with the greatest ease of 2:32. Mr. Stewart is also the owner of "Rarus," the five-year-old colt now matched against Sharp Walker's horse for $1,000 a side, the race to come off on the Salt Lake Turf next September. Greewood Farm is stocked with fine colts from these two horses, and are valued at a high price, as are also some fine specimens of short-horn Durham cattle, one herd of this famous breed being said to be by far the finest in this Western country. They were imported from Kentucky, Illinois and Canada, and were selected with the utmost care. One cow has in her ear a silver medal that she won at the Kentucky Agricultural Fair, she having taken the first prize at that show.

If the people of this Territory were to follow the example of the Messrs. Stewart, this country would soon be among the leading districts in the world for fine stock. It would amply repay any person to take a trip to Greewood Farm, and inspect the fine stock that is being raised there. TRAVELLER. PATSON, May 8, 1884.

Elia Wheeler asks: "Have you heard of the Valley of Babylon?" No, but we have heard "from" it late last night.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

The majority of the ills of the human body arise from a derangement of the Liver, affecting both the stomach and bowels. In order to effect a cure, it is necessary to remove the cause. Irregular and sluggish action of the Bowels, Headache, Sickneess at the Stomach, Pain in the Back and Loins, etc., indicate that the Liver is at fault, and that nature requires assistance to enable this organ to throw off impurities. Prickly Ash Bitters are especially compounded for this purpose. They are mild in their action and effective as a cure; are pleasant to the taste and taken easily by both children and adults. Taken according to directions, they are a safe and pleasant cure for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Habitual Constipation, Diseased Kidneys, etc., etc. As a Blood Purifier they are superior to any other medicine, cleansing the system thoroughly, and imparting new life and energy to the invalid. It is a medicine and not an intoxicating beverage. ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR PRICKLY ASH BITTERS, and take no other. PRICE, $1.00 per Bottle.
