

NO SUCH THING.

The Sensation of the Striking Hatters.

A MAN MURDERS HIS MOTHER.

Labor Troubles in Pittsburg—Increasing Their Capital—Suit Against Mapleson—The Explosion.

Entirely Sensational. New York, December 6.—E. W. Mapleson, editor of the Norwalk, Conn., News, telegraphs the Associated Press that the sensational stories in regard to riotous proceedings of striking hatters at that place are entirely untrue. Every thing is peaceful and no force is being used by the strikers.

Murdered His Mother.

HAMILTON, O., December 6.—George Snyder, a farmer, aged 40, living near Darrown, fifteen miles away, was put in jail here shortly after midnight, charged with the murder of his mother, Catherine Snyder, aged 75 years, who has been missing from her home in this city for weeks.

Labor Troubles.

PITTSBURG, December 6.—A. W. McCracken, superintendent of the Hocking Valley Coal Mining Company, is in the city for the purpose of securing men to fill the places of the strikers. Two hundred miners have already gone to this vicinity and as many more will be sent within the next few days.

The Railways.

NEW YORK, December 6.—The Post, in its financial article, says: It is reported from London this morning on what appears good authority, that New York Central has declared 1 1/2 per cent dividend, and that the same will be announced here on Monday.

The Telephone.

BOSTON, December 6.—Directors of the American Bell Telephone Co. have voted to petition the Legislature for authority to increase the capital from ten to twenty millions. Street gossip is that in the event of the authority being granted, the new stock will be issued at the rate of one million per annum at par.

Worrying the Colonel.

NEW YORK, December 6.—Ida Ricette, member of the Mapleson Opera troupe, brought suit against him and obtained an attachment against his property to the amount of $1,600 due for salary.

A Draw.

The Explosion Victims.

DOVER, N. H., December 6.—At 10 o'clock this morning all of the seven persons injured by the explosion at Stratford on Thursday evening, were still alive. With the exception of Miss Greenfield, all are in a critical condition, however.

The Chinese Question.

CHICAGO, December 6.—The Daily News' Washington special says: Secretary McCulloch is inclined to look at the anti-Chinese bill with a more liberal eye than his predecessor, the late Secretary Folger, and to this end new regulations regarding the admission of Chinese who may come from countries other than China, or who may arrive at ports of this country en route to other countries, are being prepared at the department and will be promulgated next week.

Committee Work.

WASHINGTON, December 6.—Representative Morey has informed the house committee on postoffices and post roads that he has received information from the Senate which leads him to believe that if the House passes the bill to secure cheap telegraphic correspondence, the Senate will accept it as a substitute for the postal telegraph bill now pending before it.

Business Failures.

MECHANICSBURG, Ohio, December 6.—John C. Baker and J. N. Spaul, leading business men, have assigned in consequence of their engagements for the Mechanicsburg Machine Company, which has assigned with liabilities, probably reaching $150,000 and nominal assets, $100,000.

Cable Cables.

LONDON, December 6.—The Times says: The prospect that America will put a stop to the coinage of silver by repealing the Bland bill, has unsettled business in India and caused Calcutta exchange to decline to 1 s. 6 1/2.

NEW YORK, December 6.—The woman's suffrage party have sent the Marquis of Salisbury a letter of warm thanks to the Conservative party of England for their friendly attitude on the suffrage question.

The Franchise Bill.

LONDON, December 6.—In the House of Commons the Speaker announced that the royal assent had been given to the Franchise bill.

Some Praise.

SALT LAKE CITY, December 6, 1884. To the Editor of THE HERALD. That new bridge on the State Road, just outside of the city, is the best thing out in that direction. If that elevated part of the road along the creek were gently sloped down on each side, instead of breaking off so abruptly as it does, there would not be so much chance of damage should a fraction or frightened horse run off the road thereabout.

Liberty Park.

Liberty Park is a pleasant place for a drive, and the planting of those clumps of evergreens is a good thing. But a very little rain makes the Park road sticky and muddy, and a little more makes it impassable. A ribbon of good gravel, three or four inches thick, and a road wide, laid all around the drive, would improve it vastly, and might do until more gravel could be afforded.

Return to Liberty Park.

Returning to Liberty Park, an "entrance out," as Paddy would say, at the southwest corner, would be a great convenience to the public. There is a road out, at the southeast corner, but such a road!

A Railroad Train Stopped by Robbers.

A New Industry—New York Free Library—The Re-Distribution Bill—Cutting Down.

Daredevil Robbers.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., December 6.—At 10.30 to-night, a passenger train on the Little Rock, Mississippi River & Texas Road, coming to this city, when three miles below here, was stopped by five masked robbers, who switched the train, took complete possession and went through all the passengers. Conductor Rice and Express-messenger Honeycut were in the baggage car. The robbers opened fire as he went toward the engine, and both men were covered by revolvers. About seventy-five people were in the cars and great excitement followed. All were ordered to hold up their hands and the robbers then went to work. They broke open the express safe and, according to reports, got $2,000, and, besides, obtained from the passengers in watches, jewelry and money, $4,000 more. No indignities were offered the passengers, and when the finishing robbers disappeared, they enforced a promise from the passengers not to leave the train for ten minutes. A strong posse, headed by detectives, has gone in pursuit. The train arrived at Little Rock at 11.30 p.m.

Breach-Widening.

LONDON, December 6.—In consequence of the foreign office having ordered the government of Hong Kong to refuse to allow the French fleet to take on coal or provisions at that point, Prime Minister Ferry has asked for an explanation. He reminds the Foreign Secretary of State that under the arrangement for the French blockade of Formosa France refrained from searching neutral ships on the high seas on condition that England should not prevent the French fleet from refueling at any point. It is reported that Granville holds that this agreement stipulated the enforcement of the foreign enlistment act at Hong Kong, inclusive of the indirect against-coaling. The misunderstanding of this matter is widening the breach between England and France.

Free Library.

NEW YORK, December 6.—The branch of the New York free circulating library, erected and supplied with 10,000 volumes, both English and German, by Oswald Ottendorfer, died at the age of 70, in honor of his deceased wife, was formally opened at 139 Second Avenue to-day. Mr. Ottendorfer, Carl Schurz, Assistant Bishop Potter and Henry C. Pell, president of the board of trustees, made addresses.

A New Industry.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 6.—A statement is published this evening that the London Telegraph has purchased a large tract of railroad land in the Mojave desert, for the purpose of using the Yucca plant which grows on it for the manufacture of paper. The plant will be ground into pulp at a point on the Colorado river, shipped by rail to New Orleans and thence by sea to Liverpool.

Opposed to the Treaty.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 6.—The Board of State Viticulture have adopted a resolution requesting the California Senators and Representatives to oppose the execution of the Mexican reciprocity treaty.

Unexpected Relief.

NELSONVILLE, O., December 6.—Relief for the striking miners of Hocking Valley is now coming in from quarters wholly unlooked for. The cowboys of Texas send $150 to the central relief committee.

Destructive and Fatal Blow.

PITTSBURG, December 6.—A terrific wind and rain storm passed over Western Pennsylvania at 6 o'clock this evening, and although it lasted but a few minutes, great damage was done to property. In this city, telegraph wires, swinging signs, chimneys, etc., suffered severely. One sign, four feet wide and covering the entire top of a business house on Seventh Avenue, was carried away, falling on a woman named Plaff and her two children, Willie aged 6, and Gertrude 3 years old, who accompanied her. The boy was killed instantly and the mother and little girl were seriously injured. There were rumors of accidents in other parts of the city, and Allegheny, but nothing definite is yet received. At Greensburg, Westmoreland County, the roof of the Court House was carried off, but no one was injured. No reports of damage have been received from other towns. The telegraph companies are experiencing great difficulty in handling business.

The Redistribution Bill.

LONDON, December 6.—The Liberal Associations and electoral agents continue to protest against the division of the boroughs into sections under the new redistribution bill. The managers of the London association of working clubs protest against the sectional representation. They say it will destroy the natural organizations and split the popular vote. Chamberlain advises the Liberals of Glasgow to make the municipal contests political, and so prepare the way for the Parliament contest. The Constitution papers are devoting much attention to the revolt of the Radicals against the single seat principle. The Parnellites calculate that they will be able to return sixty-five members to the House as soon as the redistribution bill goes into effect. The United Ireland declares the redistribution bill will produce the most momentous change in the Irish Constitution that has ever been proposed by Parliament, and says it will lead to the final triumph of the national cause.

The Plenary Council.

BALTIMORE, December 5.—The closing secret sessions of the plenary council took place to-day. The principal business was the completion of a pastoral letter, which will be read in all the churches of the United States two weeks hence. To-morrow, the last solemn public session will be held. Weather permitting there will be a procession, but the weather to-night is unpromising. High mass will be celebrated at the cathedral by Bishop Corrigan. Bishop Riordan, of San Francisco, will preach on the "Perpetuity of the Church."

Egypt.

DONGOLA, December 6.—A messenger who arrived in eleven days from Khartoum says the Mahdi was within three hours' march of Khartoum. General Gordon had sent General Kasha Melmoo, with five steamers and 500 men, to harass the rebels on the bank of the Nile. The lowness of the Nile prevents them from reaching Berber. The troops are marching rapidly on Debbeh.

Cutting Down.

HARTFORD, Conn., December 6.—The Willimantic mills, employing nearly 2,000 hands, makes a general reduction of 10 per cent on January 1st. The Hartford Carpet company at Thompsonville, employing 1,500 men, have reduced their time nearly a half.

Violent Slave-Catchers.

LONDON, December 6.—Advices from the west coast of Africa state that two Mohammed slave-catching tribes had attacked the king of Talaba in his capital. The King's household and officers were blown up with gunpowder.

Pickpockets.

There seems to be an organized gang of these pests around, and one of their bases of operations of late has been the postoffice. And this is to give notice to visitors to that institution to keep their eyes open hereafter. On Friday a lady from the country was relieved of some $30 there, and yesterday Mrs. Doctor Pratt was a sufferer by the light-fingered gentry to the tune of over $50.

A Budget of News From the Capital.

THE WASHINGTON MONUMENT.

The Ceremonies at Its Completion—Attorney-General Brewster Renders a Decision.

Items of Interest from the Nation's Headquarters.

WASHINGTON, December 6.—The collections of internal revenue the first four months of the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1884, were $34,375,876, the same period previous fiscal year, $40,389,470, decrease, $2,623,794. There was an increase of $300,373 in collections from fermented liquors, and a decrease of $258,859 on spirits, $274,912 on tobacco and $157,390 on miscellaneous items. The aggregate receipts of October last were $1,596,675 less than the same month in 1883.

Attorney-General Brewster rendered an opinion sustaining the position taken by Acting Secretary of the Treasury Coon, last summer, that it was illegal to approve plans for public buildings where the expenditure was greater than the lands owned by Congress was clearly contemplated, and which would be necessary to complete the building.

The long expected completion of the Washington monument obelisk was accomplished this afternoon, by the setting in place of the marble capstone, and its pyramidal apex of aluminum. The ceremonies were few and simple, an elaborate celebration of the event being reserved for Washington's birthday. Shortly after 2 o'clock, Colonel Thomas L. Casey, the government engineer, in charge, and his assistants, Captain Davis, United States Army, and Bernard B. Green, civil engineer, together with Master Mechanic McLaughlin and several workmen, standing on the narrow platform built around the sloping marble roof near the summit, proceeded to set the capstone (weighing 3,306 pounds), which was suspended from a quadrupole of heavy joists, supported by a platform and towering forty feet above them.

As soon as the capstone was set, the American flag was unfurled overhead, and a salute of twenty-one guns was fired by a battery in the White House lot, far below. The sound of cheers also came up faintly from the crowd of spectators gathered around the base of the monument, while a number of invited guests on the 500-foot platform in the interior of the monument at that level, spontaneously struck up "The Star Spangled Banner" and other patriotic songs. A steady downpour of rain had given place a little while previously to a brisk gale of wind, at this elevation, blowing about fifty-five miles an hour, and very few invited guests cared to avail themselves of the privilege of climbing the nearly perpendicular ladder from the 500-foot platform to the dizzy height of 553 feet from which three or four journalists and half a dozen other adventurers climbed and witnessed the setting of the capstone, and subsequently ascended to the pinnacle. Meanwhile, the Washington Monument Society, represented by Dr. Joseph M. Toner, Hon. Horatio King, General Wm. McKee Dunn, Mr. Daniel B. Clark and T. L. Harvey, secretary, held a meeting on the elevated platform at a height of 500 feet, and when the artillery firing announced the setting of the capstone, adopted a resolution, offered by General Dunn, congratulating the American people on the completion of this enduring monument to our nation's gratitude to the "father of his country." Among those present to-day at the completion of the structure was one of the master mechanics who laid the corner stone of this monument more than thirty-six years ago, and an old watchman of the monument, who had been continuously employed in that capacity during nearly the whole of the intervening period. The flag over the monument is floating to-day from the flagstaff, the top of which is exactly 600 feet from the ground, thus displaying American colors at the greatest height of construction ever yet known in the world. The monument itself, with its total height of 550 feet, far overtops every structure of human hands. The aluminum apex of the monument is engraved with inscriptions as follows: On one face, "The Chief engineer and architect, Thomas Lincoln Casey, Colonel Corps of Engineers; assistants, George W. Davis, fourth United States Infantry, Bernard B. Green, civil engineer; master mechanic, P. H. McLaughlin. On another, "Corner stone laid on the bed of the foundation, July 4th, 1848; the first stone set December 6, 1884." One a third, "Joint commission at the setting of the capstone, Chester A. Arthur, W. W. Corcoran, chairman, M. E. Bell, Edward Clark, John Newton; act of August 2d, 1876." On the fourth the words, Laud Deo.

The Hawaiian treaty was signed to-day by Secretary Frelinghuysen for the United States and Mr. Carter representing the Hawaiian government.

It is understood that the sub-committee of the Springer committee on expenditures in the Department of Justice, to investigate the charges made against United States Marshal Lot Wright by Representative Pollett, will consist of Messrs. Springer (Illinois), Van Alstyne (New York), and Stewart (Vermont). The sub-committee will probably start for Cincinnati on Thursday night.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

THE TEMPLARS OF HONOR give their anniversary ball at Sheldon's Hall to-morrow evening. The character of these annual social parties is too well known to need comment from us, and the names of the committee, Messrs. Symons, Buckle, Armstrong, Folsom and Paul, form a guarantee of a good time to all who attend. See their advertisement in THE SUNDAY HERALD.

COFFEE JOHN has always maintained that he carries the best, freshest and juiciest oysters to be found in the Salt Lake market, and that the article he cans himself is superior to that which other dealers receive from the east; some one must have been impugning this claim, for John comes out in THE HERALD this morning with a sort of flinging-down-the-gauntlet-kind of oyster which will create something of a stir in the local oyster world.

A WELL KNOWN mining man advances still another reason for the actions of First, Second and Third Robbers, Adams, Shelby and Kimball. "The Oregon Short Line has proved an expensive pet to the U. P. and they have got to make it earn something for itself. Then they are enraged too that the ore they have been sending here and expecting to have it sent back in bullion, was sold to Scott & Anderson and sent by them to San Francisco." Mr. First Robber Adams, however, is still a heavy stockholder in the Kansas City concern.

LOGAN ITEMS.

A WALKING match between Yinger, of Salt Lake, and Hill, of Smithfield, commenced at 8 p. m. on Friday, for twenty-four hours. It terminated at about 11 a. m. on Saturday, with a score of 63 to 58 miles in favor of Hill. Yinger giving up. It was a square heel-and-toe walk, and Hill showed that he had the elements, with proper training, for at least equalling the best record.

AN item from Ogden in the Tribune of the 5th announces the polygamous marriage of Fred Turner, "superintendent of the Co-op," here, with Sarah Cardon. There are a few Tribune inaccuracies in this statement, as follows: Mr. Turner is not superintendent of the Co-op, he has not married Miss Cardon polygamously; he has not married Miss Cardon at all. But this is near enough for the Tribune.
