A Bloody Murder for Money in Ohio.

THE NICARAGUAN TREATY.

The Explosion at London Bridge—Transcontinental Association—A Cold Wave.

The Nicaragua Treaty.

New York, December 18.—The Tribune, this morning, prints the President's message sent to the Senate with the Nicaraguan treaty. The President in his message, relates that it was signed December 23; refers to it as a necessity demanded by our political and material interests, in providing for an inter-oceanic canal that State; within the generation the western coast has developed into an empire with a large and rapidly growing population, with vast but partially developed resources. At the present rate of increase the end of the century will see us a commonwealth of perhaps nearly 100,000,000 inhabitants, of which the west should have a considerably larger and richer proportion than now. The President briefly advertises to the efforts by means of surveys to find a practicable route for a ship canal across the Isthmus between the two oceans, all of which, with a single exception, have resulted in the discovery of insuperable obstacles, to the building of a profitable inter-oceanic canal. The proposed treaty canal, primarily, is a domestic means to a water communication between the Atlantic and Pacific shores of the two countries which unite for its construction, one contributing territory and the other furnishing money. Recognizing the advantages which the world's commerce must derive from the work, the two governments have provided for the possible use by all nations on equal terms, while reserving to the coasting trade of both countries, in which none but the contracting parties are interested, the privilege of favoring tolls. The terms of the treaty as to the protection of the canal, while scrupulously confirming the sovereignty of Nicaragua, amply secure that State and the work itself from possible contingencies of the future which may not be within the power of Nicaragua to meet.

Murdered for Money.

CLEVELAND, O., December 18.—Last evening a farmer named Harrington, living near Geneva, was called to the door, and opening it was confronted by a masked man with a drawn revolver, who demanded money. Harrington took a small sum from his pockets and handed it to the robber, who took it and cried "That isn't all; I want the balance." That moment a handkerchief fell from his eyes, and Mrs. Harrington, standing near, exclaimed: "Oh, I know him!" "You do, do you?" shouted the ruffian. "Take that, then," and he fired, the bullet going through her shoulder. She ran to a neighbor's for help, returning with friends. Evidence of a desperate struggle were found in the house, and Harrington lay dead, a bullet hole in the forehead. Mrs. Harrington recognized the murderer as a farm hand named Teck. The citizens as scouring the country for him.

The Bridge Explosion.

LONDON, December 18.—Col. Magendie, chief of the department of explosives, says, in his report about the explosion at London bridge, that dynamite was probably suspended to the grating over the sewer hole at the base of the pier. The force of the explosion was much greater than was supposed at first. Several stones were badly shifted and joints opened. The curb stone at the bottom of the sewer was pulverized. A diver found fissures in the pier extending six feet into the bed of the river, into some of which he could thrust his hand to the wrist. The damage to the bridge, however, is merely superficial, and the strength of the structure remains unaffected.

The Transcontinental Association.

CHICAGO, December 18.—The Transcontinental railway association had another session to-day and adjourned until January 12th, when another meeting will be held in San Francisco, and the question of continuing the present pool be again taken up. In the meantime, a truce was agreed upon to be continued until January 31st, and a committee was appointed to report the basis for a settlement. This committee was now in session.

General passenger agents of eastern trunk lines are in session, endeavoring to secure the restoration of east bound passenger rates. Nothing is yet agreed upon.

Bad Business.

St. Louis, December 18.—It is stated, on high authority, that owing to the general depression of trade, the closing of manufactories in all parts of the country and the slow movement of grain, railroads east of here are doing scarcely more than half the business done at this same time last year.

The Congo Country.

LONDON, December 18.—Stanley has written a letter in reference to Congo matters, in which he points out the urgent necessity for settling the neutralization of the Congo country, of determining definitely its frontier and bringing about a general recognition of the African International Association before the Berlin conference has concluded its labors. If these problems shall not be settled, he thinks the Congo will only prove a tempting bait to France and Portugal. He thinks England should propose to Germany that inasmuch as the association cannot make war, therefore, war shall not be made against the association. If the conference disbands before these great questions have been settled then farewell to the Congo basin, and a long good night to its development.

Base Ball.

St. Louis, December 18.—The board of directors of the Union Base Ball association held an executive session in the Laclede Hotel to-day, and awarded the pennant to the St. Louis club; decided to keep the association down to eight clubs and not admit any club that cannot show a thoroughly sound and strong financial condition, and accepted the resignation of the Baltimore club.

Insurance Rates.

St. Louis, December 18.—Several prominent fire insurance men held a secret meeting here yesterday to consider the question of raising the rates of insurance in various cities of the country, but it is not known that they reached any definite conclusion. The proposition to advance rates in this city from 5 to 10 per cent., was taken under advisement.

The Cold Wave.

CHICAGO, December 18.—The weather is the severest in this city, experienced the present winter, and the same is true throughout the entire western and northwestern States. At 7 a. m. in this city, the thermometer stood 11 degrees below and at 9 dropped to 12 below. Omaha 15 below, St. Paul 20 below, Des Moines 13 below, Dubuque 20 below and Fargo 30 below.
