TO RETIRE EDMUNDS.

The dispatch which came over the wires the other day, saying that an effort was being made in Vermont to retire Senator Edmunds, is full of interest to the people of Utah. It is true we can do nothing to help the cause along, and it is unfortunate that the best wishes and earnest desires of the community cannot count against him; but it can do no harm to express the wishes of the people of the Territory in the premises. Judge Edmunds has been the worst enemy that Utah ever had, and not for cause but merely to please others. He has permitted himself to be used by the wicked and malicious, heartlessly caring nothing for the effects of the measures which he has fathered and urged. So careless has he been in allowing the use of his name and influence, that when his attention was called to a cruel and vicious provision in a bill which he had introduced in the Senate, he expressed astonishment, and confessed that the bill had been drawn by somebody else and he had introduced it without having read it; his cruelty, however, was emphasized when he said that now that the provision was in he would not ask to have it stricken out, though he would not oppose an amendment to that extent, provided the amendment would not displace the bill or delay its passage; if it would do the latter, he would insist upon the bill going through with all its wicked provisions. A man who will consent to legislation of that character and in that way, even though his victims are the despised Mormons, ought not to be a legislator. He cannot be a good man, however learned he may be and whatever his degree of skill and training in statesmanship. He has cost this Territory millions of money and brought much suffering to people, sparing neither the innocent nor guilty.

The opposition to judge Edmunds arises largely from the fact that he refused to do anything for his party last summer. He gave no money and though repeatedly solicited to deliver some speeches for the ticket, declined to take part in the campaign, and it is said that he did not vote. He wanted the nomination for the Presidency, and failing to get it, he was so vengeful that he gladly saw his party fail.

Speaking of the movement to retire him, the Omaha Republican, says: We can think of nothing that would give the people generally greater pleasure than the retirement of "the watchdog of the Senate" to that private life he so gracefully adorns. Mr. Edmunds has been posing before us as a great man until we have all come to know that he is small-souled, envious, disloyal, vindictive and not altogether able. We have seen the real man under the austere and pompous guise which he has so delighted to assume. The vanity of Senator Edmunds has caused him to overlook the people. As to what they may think, he presents a supreme indifference which has the aspect of contempt. It is this fact, as well as his attitude towards the Republican party in the Presidential campaign which has given birth to opposition to him in Vermont, a State conspicuous in the past for loyalty and steady adherence to the principles of Republicanism. The candidates named in opposition to Edmunds include some strong men and if a determined struggle is made for the place, it is probable that the walking Achilles will be defeated.

ADVERTISING SWINDLERS.

One F. W. Hoyt, the manager of the "Columbia Work Company," Boston, has been arrested for swindling and his establishment broken up. His plan for catching the gullible and beating the simpletons was to advertise for persons to do "light work at home" at high prices, and free from the objectionable features of canvassing. Many caught at the bait, and were themselves caught. They sent for the "work," and on its arrival found that a small "deposit" was required "to insure us against possible loss from your failure to complete the pattern," as the swindlers said. The deposit was equal to three or four times the value of the material sent; and if the duped individual went on and completed the design and sent it back to the advertiser's address, the swindler kept it, thus obtaining the benefit from the simpleton's time, labor and money. This is a new scheme for swindling, and we see by the eastern papers that it has been worked successfully and quite extensively throughout New England and the middle States. There are a good many people in this world who have more money, little as the sum may be, than good common sense, and these are the persons that the swindlers are ever scheming and planning to swindle. A very good rule to follow is to send no money to unknown or irresponsible parties, unless you have a "string" to it, by which to draw it back. An honest advertiser, who does not intend to cheat you, will be as willing to place himself in the way of being beaten as to beat, but he will do neither, neither taking advantage nor permitting others to get the better of him. It is no difficult matter to ascertain whether or not an advertiser is responsible, and until the fact is known the safe way will be to send him no money.

THE REGISTRATION OATH.

The Provo Enquirer, of Tuesday, relates that Dr. Pike, of that city, applied to the registration officer of the district to be registered, but refused to subscribe to the oath provided by the Utah Commission, until the clause pertaining to bigamists, polygamists, etc., had been stricken out. The doctor contended that this clause did not apply to him as he did not even believe in polygamy, but that the oath was meant to apply only to those who did, and should be exacted from all such persons. After some reflection upon the matter, the registration officer complied with the demand, and the doctor was thereupon registered as a voter. The Enquirer says "it will be a matter of curiosity to learn just how Mr. Hill will act when a Mormon applicant for registration shall make the same demand of him that was made by the non-Mormon referred to."

It might be interesting to know what the registrar would do should a Mormon refuse to take the oath formulated by the Commission, but it is certain that he acted wisely and well in not refusing to register Dr. Pike, when the latter declined to take the oath. The only oath that can be required of an intending voter is the one in the Utah statute, and any changes or interpolations by the Commission or registration officers are unauthorized and without the sanction of law, and neither Mormon nor Gentile can be compelled to subscribe to the mutilated form. The United States Supreme Court, in its opinion in the suits against the Commission, made this point very clear. When a person entitled to vote—that is to say, possesses the qualifications as set out in the Territorial law, and is not disqualified by the United States statutes—offers to subscribe to the oath as given in the local law, the registration officer must register him or refuse at his peril, the citizen having a right of action for damages against the officer. The duty of the registrar is simply to see that no person not entitled to vote is registered, and the officer may get his information as best he can, but he cannot get it through compelling the applicant to take any other oath as an essential to registration than that given in the law, which must be required of all, Mormons and Gentiles. We are glad that Dr. Pike took the course he did; and every other applicant for registration, Mormon or non-Mormon, should have taken a similar stand where the registration officer was a man of property and a suit for damages against him would mean something more than fighting the wind. The Supreme Court having relieved the Commissioners from responsibility in the case, the only redress that the citizen has who is deprived of his right to vote is against the registration officer, and in most instances the Commission has made redress impossible by appointing irresponsible men as registrars.

THE WORCESTER, Mass., Spy, Republican, is endeavoring to give the Democrats a little hope. It says: "If the Republicans should lose four Senators and gain none, the Senate would be equally divided, and with Mr. Hendricks to give a casting vote, would be practically Democratic, and that is not unlikely to be the situation during the last two years of President Cleveland's administration." The encouragement derived from this prospect is about equal to what it would be in the suggestion that if eight Republican Senators were to turn Democrats, the latter would be in the majority.

PERHAPS THE most accommodating postmaster in the country is a Republican named Peterson, whose office is located in one of the little towns of Sangamon County, Ills. Recently a letter was received at the Postoffice Department in Washington, signed by a score of Peterson's townspeople, accusing him of offensive partisanship and demanding his immediate removal. At the bottom of the letter was the following, signed by Peterson himself: "I heartily concur in the above. I think I ought to be bounced at once." He ought to be a good enough Republican to satisfy the administration.

Coughing Congregations. Clergymen who are annoyed by fits of coughing and nasal trumpeting, so common in churches and meeting-houses at this season of the year, cannot do better than recommend to their flocks an immediate resort to "Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar." The result of the advice, if taken, will be comparative quiet on the succeeding Sabbath; for this potent remedy will by that time have effected a general cure. Many pastors know from experience the value of the preparation as a cure for bronchial affections, and can therefore conscientiously endorse it. Sold by druggists everywhere at 25c., 50c. and $1.00. Great saving by purchasing large size. Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one minute.
