

THE IMPERIAL DEAD.

The Funeral Ceremonies Not Yet Arranged.

THE UNDIMINISHED SORROW.

Great Preparations for the Reception of the New Emperor—General News Notes.

The Dead Emperor.

BERLIN, March 10.—Regarding the funeral and other ceremonies nothing has been settled yet, as all depends upon the orders of the new Emperor. The will will not be opened before the Emperor's arrival here, but it has transpired that Emperor William expressed a wish that his funeral should be without any pomp. The city presented yesterday, a scene of deep mourning. Sorrow was depicted on every face, and the streets, especially those near Linden Avenue, wore a very mournful appearance. It was a quarter to 9 when the news was first made known to the crowd. At first the news was not believed, but when the purple imperial standard was seen to be at half-mast, there was no longer room for doubt. From this moment the crowds swelled rapidly and in a quarter of an hour a living mass of several thousands stood on Unter den Linden and thousands more came hurrying to the spot from all parts of the city. Deep emotion was visible on the faces of all, but it was evident that the event had been long expected and that the people were prepared for it. The crowd soon increased to such an extent that detachments of police were sent to keep people out of the place, and they closed Unter den Linden, and the square in front of the palace to traffic and pedestrians. On the palace the purple standard was flying at half-mast, but on the Crown Prince's palace there was no flag. At 11 o'clock, the imperial standard rose slowly. The windows were opened and there seemed to be great preparations going on for the reception of the new Emperor. Extra editions of newspapers, which gave detailed accounts of the Emperor's last hours, were rapidly sold, and the shrill cries of news vendors made a strange contrast to the general silence and sadness. A few minutes before 10 o'clock cannon shots were heard. It was the mourning salute of the army which rolled like thunder over the city, while all church bells tolled solemnly. Meantime carriage after carriage brought different persons of rank, who came to offer their condolence to the unhappy Emperor.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—The British bark Tasmania, which sailed from London on the 5th inst., for San Francisco, has returned with her bowsprit gone and her stem damaged by a collision with the British ship City of Corinth, from Liqueur for Hamburg. The Tasmania is anchored off Folstone. The City of Corinth sank. It is believed that twenty-eight lives were lost.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—The British bark Brussels, loaded with general merchandise, and A. Carpenter of this city, and consigned to Havre, burned late to-night off Washington street wharf. It is thought the vessel is a total loss, but the amount cannot be ascertained to-night.

LONDON, March 10.—At the Croden spring meeting the United Kingdom steeplechase was won by Ballona, by twenty lengths, Great Paul second, Dogger Bank third. Six starters.

A NEW COMPANY.

The Thistle Rock Company Incorporated—The Officers.

A number of well known business men of this city have lately incorporated the Thistle Rock Company. The object of this company is to work the well-known brown stone and salmon colored stone quarries, located near Thistle station, and a grey stone quarry located near Mill Fork. These quarries are all on the line of the D. & R. G. The company has already contracted for two 40-ton derricks, channeling and grading machines, etc., and will commence work very soon. The officers are James Anderson, of Scott & Anderson, president; Joseph Watson, of Watson Bros., vice-president; William M. Kay, secretary, and M. R. Evans, of Evans & Spencer, treasurer and manager, who, with S. C. Dallas, H. P. Mason and W. H. Kager form the board of directors. The company start out with bright prospects, and all the stockholders feel confident that they have a big thing. Good judges who have seen the rock, say that it is the finest in the country, and if satisfactory rates can be gotten, large quantities of the rock will be shipped to Denver and other cities. Mr. Miller, of Denver, leaves for Thistle on Tuesday to inspect the quarries.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 10.—The Emperor entered a railway carriage without assistance, and then turned and assisted the Empress to enter. The municipal authorities and a number of civilians were on the platform. Large crowds surrounded the station, and the Emperor raised his hat in response to their salutation when he reached the platform. He looks well, with the exception of his complexion, which is somewhat yellow. He shook hands with the German consul, Syndic, of San Remo, and others. As the train left the station the Emperor was heartily cheered.

BERLIN, March 10.—Before the Reichstag opened to-day the Bundestag met. Prince Bismarck with great emotion, alluded to the death of the Emperor in terms similar to those which he used in the Reichstag yesterday. He specially confirmed the statements made yesterday in regard to the Emperor's dying allusions to Austria and Russia in referring to Emperor Frederick's accession to the throne and the transfer of the imperial dignity connected with it. Prince Bismarck said that the new Emperor, like his late father, would take as his guiding principle the conscientious maintenance of the constitution of the empire and in which Emperor Frederick will count upon the co-operation of his allies. Herr von Lerchenfeld expressed to Prince Bismarck the condolences of the Bundestag, and asked him to communicate them to Emperor Frederick. Funeral services were held over the remains of Emperor William in the mortuary chamber in the palace last evening. The chamber was profusely decorated with flowers. The dowager Empress Augusta, the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Baden, the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Weden and other royal personages attended he services. The body of the Emperor lay in the same position which the monarch occupied when he expired. A ivory cross was in his right hand. Chaplain Egl, in his sermon, alluded to the moment when Empress Augusta held the hand of her deceased consort. After the services the late Emperor's aide de camp, Lieutenant-General Von Lehndorff and Lieutenant-General Von Waldersee, acted as guards of honor at the dead monarch's couch. The decree of Emperor Frederick in regard to national mourning, is universally approved. Municipal authorities will wear mourning for six weeks. All newspapers, with the single exception of the Volkblatt, are published with deep borders of black. The body of the Emperor will remain in the mortuary chamber until the requiem service in the flag-room to-day, which will be attended by members of the royal family, and their suites. Prince Bismarck, Count von Moltke and chief court officials. Later the body will be taken to the Cathedral, where it will lie in state, by Emperor Frederick's order, in accordance with the desire of the deceased ruler. The body will be clad in the uniform of the first regiment guard, and will be enveloped in a military cloak. The guard of honor will be relieved every six hours. Besides Victoria at Charlottenburg Castle, rooms have been allotted to Countess Perponcher, two des de camp, Herr von Seckendorff and Dr. Mackenzie, Hovel and Schroder. Princess Victoria, Sophia and Margaret will reside at Emperor Frederick's palace in Berlin.

Col. R. H. Kiewer, editor and proprietor of the Opelika, Ala., Times, under date of Aug. 3, 1882, writes: "When I was a young man, through indiscretion, I contracted a disease which has stuck to me for years. Some five or six years since I was troubled with pain, so as to make it difficult for me to walk. Having advertised in the S. S. S. in my paper for several years, I concluded I would try it to see if there was any efficacy in the medicine. I commenced using it according to the directions and used half dozen bottles. I was once at a way station and, getting left, I walked the seven miles and home, feeling as if I were a young man and can go to the case when necessary and set up from six to eight thousand miles without any inconvenience. I send you this without solicitation.

Mr. E. Weck, 211 North Avenue, Chicago, under date of June 12, 1882, writes: "I deem it my duty to thank you for the cure I received from your excellent medicine. I contracted a very severe case of blood poisoning about two years ago. Hearing of your medicine, I went to a drug store, the proprietor of which persuaded me to buy a preparation of his own, which he said was a sure cure. I used six bottles of his stuff and grew worse in the time. At last I got disgusted and despaired of a cure. I met a friend who told me that your medicine had cured him. I went to the store and bought your medicine and demanded your medicine. He reluctantly sold me twelve bottles, and I am now perfectly cured. I write this for the benefit of sufferers, to prevent their being deceived by false representations. I thank you again for the benefit derived from your medicine."

Dr. J. N. Cheney, a prominent physician, residing in Savannah, Sevier County, Georgia, in a letter recounting the infallible success he has in curing contagious blood poison cases in his extensive practice, writes: "Those who know the almost inevitable, permanently dangerous effects of mercury will welcome your discovery of S. S. S. as a boon to humanity. The medical profession, always wary of proprietary medicines, is coming slowly, and in some cases, ready to the use of S. S. S. in cases of blood disorder. Of course a medicine that cures poisoning in its worst form must purify the blood of every disorder."

Reports from various sources rend the existence of submarine oil wells very probable. Oil floating on the surface of the ocean has been frequently observed, and in many cases this has been thought to be due to the escape of petroleum or other oils from wrecks, but it has been found in such a great number of places and in such quantities that this source is insufficient to account for its presence. An officer of a British steamer reports having passed through a large body of what was thought to be whale oil, about 100 yards square and a foot deep, and there are many indications in the Gulf of Mexico which point to the existence of submarine oil wells or springs of some similar substance, and to these must be added the source of the floating oil is attributed.
