

A HORRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Terrible Slaughter by Fire in a Bull Ring

IN THE CITY OF CELAYA, MEX.

It was the saddest tragedy in the Three Centuries' History of the City—Other Notes.

Fire in a Bull Ring.

CINCUENARI, April 4.—A special from the City of Mexico says: Two Republics published the following advice from Celaya: On Saturday afternoon, about forty-five minutes past 4 o'clock, the bull ring of Celaya was crowded with spectators of the general national sport. A company of bull fighters from Leon was still playing with the first bull, when a fire suddenly broke out on the sunny side of the plaza. A panic seized upon the vast assemblage and a frightful catastrophe was the result.

The scene in the neighborhood of the bull ring was sickening beyond description. Women and children divested of their clothing and crazed with suffering from their burns, ran aimlessly through the streets, and could scarcely be overtaken or collected by their friends. Several persons lost their reason from the severe mental shocks to which they were subjected. The fire was incendiary. In the Celaya Jail were a number of prisoners, army deserters, etc., who had obtained permission from the authorities to attend the bull fight. They were accompanied by a strong guard of soldiers to prevent their escape, but one of the deserters surreptitiously struck a match and lighted one of the dry piles. In an instant the "Sol" side of the ring was ablaze. In the confusion and excitement the prisoners succeeded in making good their escape, taking chances to effect their ends. The best society of Celaya was in attendance. It was Easter Sunday, the return of the season of gaiety after Lent. There was an unusual number of ladies and little children present, and these were the sufferers. No man lost his life. Helpless little ones and their mothers, who would not desert their offspring, were the victims of the appalling catastrophe. Celaya is mourning to-day. On every side is heard the wailing of prisoners loved ones, dead, dying or suffering. It is the saddest tragedy that has occurred in the three centuries of the city's history.

Boulanger's Position.

LONDON, April 4.—The correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette had an interview with Boulanger, in Paris, last evening, in regard to his candidacy for the Chamber of Deputies for the department of Nord, and his reasons for not going there to conduct his own canvass. He said that he was not like the ordinary candidate. He did not appeal to the electors on petty departmental questions, but as the representative of a great principle. The principle he represented, he said, was the revision of the Constitution. The Chamber of Deputies had been stricken with impotence, and no longer represented the people. In the dissolution of the Chamber and the revision of the constitution was the only remedy for the evil. Being asked to explain the basis of his plan of revision, he said: "That is my secret, which I shall keep to myself."

Carnegie's Revenge.

PITTSBURGH, April 4.—The strikers at the Edgar Thompson steel works, to-day, rejected Andrew Carnegie's co-operative proposition. Mr. Carnegie immediately ordered the complete shutdown of the great plant until January 1st, 1889. This announcement was received with dismay by the workmen. It will throw out of employment over 5,000 men.

The Rock Island Sticks to It.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The managers of the Rock Island road boldly maintained, in court, this morning, that, notwithstanding the denials of the Burlington officials, the Rock Island charges are true; that the Burlington had been trying, by rate wars and strikes, to force the formation of a great western railway trust. The Rock Island entered a motion that the whole matter be referred to a master, before whom testimony should be taken to establish the truth of the charges. The Rock Island's rejoinder, in conclusion, says that yesterday's affidavit of Henry B. Stone, general manager of the Burlington, displays temper and recklessness in his assertion and denial, which renders it eminently proper that he be subjected to cross-examination, under circumstances which will compel him to frame his own answers instead of having them prepared for him by counsel and in which he will have an opportunity to explain how he can deny that the Burlington communicated to one or more managers of railways its purpose to prosecute the rate war until the officers of the western railways should consent to abdicate the powers placed in their hands by their stockholders to an unlawful trust, when such communications were made by other officers of the Burlington company, and not in the presence of said Henry B. Stone. And for the Burlington, Wirt Dexter, by cross-examination of said Henry B. Stone, and by testimony of other witnesses, whom it proposes to examine sustain each and every allegation the Rock Island has made, and establish the falsehood of every contrary allegation made in the affidavit of said Henry B. Stone. The reiteration of the Rock Island charges and the motion for reference to a master caused a hot interchange of denunciation between the attorneys of the two corporations. For the Burlington, warmly declared that the Rock Island officials were attempting to boycott the Burlington, and that the boycott was a criminal, indictable offense in Illinois. Judge Gresham interposed at this point with an adjournment until the afternoon. When the court reconvened, the arguments were resumed. At the conclusion, Judge Gresham said that even if the trust allegations made by the Rock Island were true, it did not relieve that road from its duty as a common carrier. Again he did not think the Rock Island had refused to do its duty. The Burlington did not need protection from this, its strongest competitor, and as there was no danger of injury accruing to the "Q" road, no injunction would be issued just now. Future developments, he said, might alter this order.

Municipal Bonding.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The House committee on Territories has authorized a favorable report on the Gifford bill to empower city corporations within the Territories to bond improvements and real estate, to an amount not exceeding 4 per cent. of the assessed value of said cities, in addition to their present bonded debt, such money to be used for necessary public improvements.

The Panama Canal Lottery Loan.

PARIS, April 4.—A committee of the Chamber of Deputies, to which was referred the proposal of the Panama Canal Company to issue a lottery loan, is equally divided for and against the loan. The committee, therefore, will report to the Chamber that they are unable to arrive at a decision.

The Sitting Member.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The House committee on elections had under consideration the Frank H. Glover contest from St. Louis, and although no final action was taken, it is apparent that the committee will report in favor of the sitting member.

Rhode Island Election.

PROVIDENCE, Rhode Island, April 4.—The weather to-day was fair and the election for State officers progressed quietly. A tremendous vote was polled in this city. Enos Lapham, Republican, for Lieutenant-Governor, was freely scratched.

The turf.

LONDON, April 4.—The great Northamptonshire stakes were won to-day by Sir Throckmorton's Oliver Twist. Lord Penrhyn's Decision second. Betting was 7 to 1 against winner.

Card of thanks.

Words cannot express our heartfelt thanks for the great kindness and sympathy shown, and kind assistance rendered by our many friends in our great hour of sorrow and bereavement. We sincerely thank them all, and should it ever befall their lot to lose a much beloved one, as we have done, we will try and share their sorrow. May God bless you all, dear friends. Respectfully and sincerely, JOHN F. AND MARGARET CARHOON.

What Constitutes a Family Medicine?

A preparation which is adapted to the relief and cure of ailments to which members of a household are most subject, and which is not only allowed to do this, but has long and unfalteringly proved its ability to do it, assuredly deserves the title of a reliable Family Medicine. Among time-honored preparations, which experience and the sanction of the medical profession indicate as deserving of popular regard and confidence, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a medicine adapted to the eradication of dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness, the three most frequently occurring ailments that vex mankind. Derived from a botanic parentage, it is efficient as well as pure and wholesome. It relieves nervous disquietude and inactivity of the kidneys, and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. For renewing flagging strength and imparting appetite it can be implicitly relied upon. Fever and ague, rheumatism and debility are remedied by it.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Walthall reported the following substitute for his bill for the withdrawal of public lands: "Resolved, That from and after the passage of this act, the public lands of the United States now subject to private entry shall be disposed of under and according to the provisions of the homestead laws only. Cookrell gave notice that he would oppose the passage of the bill. The Senate then briefly discussed the bill to reimburse the creditors of the Freedmen's Savings and Trust Company, after which the bond-purchase bill was taken up, the pending question being Beck's amendment, which, after some discussion was agreed to. A lengthy debate followed the offering of an amendment by Beagan, directing the purchase and cancellation of bonds with the $100,000,000 gold in the Treasury for the redemption of legal tender notes. McPherson moved to add to the bill: "Provided, that nothing in this act shall authorize the Secretary of the Treasury to coin more than $4,000,000 per month." Stewart moved to lay the amendment on the table, and without action the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

After the reading of the journal, an effort was made by a friend of the special order, the direct tax bill, to make an arrangement by which the final vote on the measure would be insured to-day, at 8 o'clock, but Breckenridge, of Arkansas, objected to the proposition. E. B. Taylor, of Ohio, thereupon moved to limit the general debate to one hour. The opponents of the bill then resorted to all bustling tactics. The entire day was consumed in voting upon dilatory motions. At 6 o'clock a vote occurred on the motion for a recess until to-morrow at 10 o'clock. Breckenridge made a motion that McMillan be excused from voting upon Taylor's motion. Reed, of Maine, and Barrows, of Michigan, made a point of order that the motion to excuse was not in order. Reed suggested that if it were, more money should be submitted to excuse every member. The Speaker said that while this might be very inconvenient, he thought the motion to excuse was in order. Grosvenor, of Ohio, remarked, suggestively, that it might be a very convenient motion for the minority to avail itself of. There were 145 members of the minority. At six hours a day they could use up fifty days upon every vote, and he gave notice now, if God spared his life, and this motion were admitted, if he could get the majority to stand with him, he would do it on a question which would affect somebody very materially. The House was asked to put a technical construction on a rule that would paralyze the legislation of the country and into the hands of the minority. The Speaker said he had expressed no opinion as to what the rule ought to be; he had simply stated what it was. Breckenridge, Arkansas, withdrew his motion to excuse McMillan. Grosvenor, of Ohio, inquired if the ruling of the Chair would be allowed to stand. The Speaker replied that he supposed all the proceedings would stand as a part of the record of the House, but the Chair would give this question a thorough examination. The motion for a recess was set aside by a motion to adjourn until Friday. On this no quorum voted and a call of the House was ordered. At 10:30 the situation remained unchanged, except that there had been a general falling off in the number of members responding to their names upon roll call. At this hour the prospects for an all-night session are strengthening. The House at 2:15 a. m. took a recess until 11:45.

THE BOYCOTT RAISED.

The Result of the Meeting of Employees.

TO FIGHT THE "Q." SYSTEM

Everybody Connected With the Road to be Called Out, if Possible—General.

The Strike.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The final result of the meeting of employees of the various roads in this city, which began yesterday afternoon and lasted until a late hour last night, is announced, this morning, in a declaration that the boycott of the "Q" cars has been permanently raised, and that henceforth the contest will be confined strictly to the "Q" system. All strikers, except the "Q" were to stop forthwith, and all those which were imminent were to be averted. The business of Chicago is to be restored and maintained by the strikers with strict decorum. Other roads were absolved from the requirement of neutrality, and violence is to be discontinued according to the well-known policy of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The arrangement agreed upon, it is stated, is directly due to the exertions of Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Engineers, Grand Master Sargent, of the firm's Brotherhood, Mayor Monaghan, of the Switchmen's Association, Mayor Roche and Mark Crawford, who also represents the switchmen. The final decision was reached by a mass meeting held with closed doors last evening, and which was addressed by General Manager Jeffrey, of the Illinois Central. Fifteen hundred railway employees were present at the meeting, representing the elements which had previously been at times antagonistic. Grand Master Sargent, of the firm's Brotherhood, was the first speaker. He stated that he came not only as a representative of the firm, but also to voice the views of Chief Arthur, of the engineers. The strike on the Burlington was a just cause, and they had used every honorable means to treat with the company. With such a record behind them, it would not be proper for the strikers to stand by and see helpless people suffer from the base practices of the company. Sargent urged, therefore, that the boycott be raised, and the "Q" deprived of its most dangerous weapon.
