SEN. VOORHEES APOLOGIZES.

The Railroad Land Grant Forfeiture Bill—Why Conkling Didn't Support Blaine—Etc.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—At the conclusion of the morning session, Senator Voorhees arose, and after stating that he had been ill for almost a week, said: "Referring to a discussion in which I participated last week, I desire to say to the Senate that, however severe the provocation which was given, yet I made use of language at that time contrary to the rules of this body, to parliamentary rules and the usage and decorum of the Senate. I regret having used such language, and tender a proper apology to the Senate of the United States for doing so. My high respect for the dignity of this body, of which I have so long been a member, as well as my self respect, induce me to make this statement."

After the close of Voorhees' remarks, Ingalls resumed the chair.

Hoar presented a memorial of the New England Conference Methodist Episcopal Church, protesting against the ratification of the Chinese treaty or any treaty that precludes Chinese ministers of the gospel or Chinese delegates to religious conventions from coming into the country, characterizing it as utterly un-American and un-Christian. Hoar said that until there could be an appeal from the American people drunk to American people sober the matter might be considered settled. He, therefore, asked that the memorial be laid on the table. So ordered.

The Senate then resumed consideration of the railroad land grant forfeiture bill, the question being on the amendment offered yesterday by Palmer.

Dolph moved to lay on the table Palmer's amendment. Spooner's amendment, and it was laid on the table, yeas 23, nays 18.

Berry moved to lay on the table the amendment offered by Spooner that the provision conferring the title of all persons holding or claiming lands in the State of Michigan, disposed of by the proper officers of the United States under the public land laws, provided that the Secretary of the Interior shall be satisfied that the cash purchases were made without fraud and in the belief that the purchasers were obtaining a valid title, shall not be construed as confirming any sales or entries of lands upon which there were bona-fide pre-emption or homestead claims on the 1st of May, 1853. The motion to lay on the table was defeated, yeas 17, nays 23. The amendment was then agreed to, yeas 25, nays 19.

Edmond moved to recommit the bill to the committee on public lands, with instructions to report it back amended as soon as might be.

The motion to recommit was opposed by Blair and Dolph and defeated, only nine Senators voting for it.

After some discussion of the amendments affecting the Michigan lands, the bill went over.

The following bills for public buildings were reported and placed on the calendar:

The Senate bills, for Reno, Nevada, $20,000, and for Virginia City, Nevada, $25,000.

A message from the President on the subject of the impressment into the French army of John Prussia, an American citizen, was laid before the Senate and referred to the committee on foreign relations.

Stewart, who offered the resolution calling for the correspondence, remarked that the man had been discharged from the French army since the resolution was offered.

Paddock introduced a bill to amend the act to encourage the growth of timber on the western prairies. Referred.

The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.

Bryce, of New York, rising to a question of privilege, read the language by Woodburn, of Nevada, in reference to ex-Congressman Hewitt, having apologized to the British minister for offering a resolution of inquiry as to the case of O'Donnell, under sentence of death in Great Britain. Bryce then read a long statement from Abram S. Hewitt, giving a history of the matter.

The House then went into committee on the tariff bill.

Stockdale, of Mississippi, took the floor in continuation of his speech in favor of the bill.

Hopkins, of Illinois, opposed the bill.

Maasur, of Missouri, delivered an exhaustive speech in support of the bill, and contended that the internal revenue system should be maintained for the payment of pensions and the remainder of the war debt.

J. D. Taylor, of Ohio, denounced free trade as a fragment of the Rebellion and as being as dangerous to the country in 1888 as secession had been in 1861.

Richardson, of Tennessee, supported the bill, and referred to the antagonism of Republicans to every effort which the Democratic party had made to fulfill its pledges for tariff reduction.

McAdoo, of New Jersey, said he spoke as a Democrat. He contended that the best way in which the surplus could be reduced was by the abolition of the internal revenue system.

Morrow, of California, argued that no better course could be pursued with reference to the surplus than to apply it to the purchase of United States bonds. He was in favor of an economical administration of the affairs of the government. No extravagant expenditures should be indulged in, but Congress should comply with the provision of the Constitution, granting it power to provide for common defense and general welfare. It should provide for a proper defense of the cities on the seaboard, and it should provide suitable accommodations for the transaction of public business in the cities of the country. The bill, he said, instead of building up the country, would retard its growth, and the exclusion of the Chinese from this country would be of little value, if the products of China were to be admitted free of duty, to compete with our own products.

The committee then rose, and the House took a recess till 8 p.m. At the evening session, Martin, of Texas, contrasted the respective status of the two sides of the House on the tariff question, declaring that the Democrats were boldly struggling for the interests of the country, while the Republicans resisted all efforts at a tariff revision. He, in conclusion, said: "We have before us a campaign that is to be conducted by the Democratic party, conducting the campaign on a reduction of taxes. We will have hoisted at the mast head the name of the glorious Cleveland, and in fighting the battle of the people will go to Kansas, Iowa and Michigan and all the other western States and carry them against protection. We will carry this great nation for Grover Cleveland, President of the United States."

Adjourned.

Why Conkling Didn't Support Blaine.

NASHVILLE, Tennessee, May 8.—The American prints an interview with A. M. Hughes, chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee, regarding the failure of Roscoe Conkling to actively support James G. Blaine in the last Presidential canvass. Hughes gives the facts, never before made public. In brief, Hughes said that after Blaine was nominated, Senator Chaffee, realizing the importance of securing the assistance of Conkling for Blaine in New York, came east and went to New York for that special purpose; that Chaffee, as the result of a prolonged and earnest conference with Conkling, secured from him the promise that if Blaine would write him a personal letter, requesting his assistance, that he (Conkling) would reply in an open letter, with a pledge to actively support him in the canvass; that Senator Chaffee, elated at his success, went on the first train which left New York after his pledge was given, and went to see Blaine at his home in Maine. The situation was explained, and Blaine wrote the desired letter to Mr. Conkling. This letter was given to Walker Blaine to be carried by him in person to Conkling, as a delicate compliment, and Chaffee, rejoiced that his mission was done, disappeared from the scene. His anxiety to see the publication of the response from Conkling, but it never came. Investigation proved that Walker Blaine carried the letter to New York, but on his way to Conkling's house stopped at the National Republican headquarters, mentioning the purpose of his presence in New York to Steve Elkins, B. F. Jones, chairman of the Republican National executive committee, and one or two others. These managers decided that it was best to ignore Conkling, and that the letter must not reach him. Accordingly, it was suppressed, and the world knows the rest. The animosity of Conkling was intensified at an additional affront and Blaine lost New York. Hughes is positive that these statements are correct, for they came directly from one of the gentlemen who suppressed the letter. This man revealed the circumstances after the death of Conkling, and when it was thought that Blaine would not go before the next convention.

The Walk.

New York, May 8.—Littlewood still continues to lead in the six-days walk. Since the start he has been off the track only 2 hours and 23 minutes. Hughes hangs on with dogged persistency, and Cartwright has been steadily losing ground. He stays off the track more than anyone else. There were but few people in the garden after midnight; nothing of interest occurred. Score at 9 o'clock this morning: Littlewood, 171 miles; Cartwright, 155 miles; Golden, 153 miles; Hegelman, 125 miles; Campana, 128 miles; Saunders, 124 miles; Hughes, 102 miles; Herty, 105 miles; Guerrero, 103 miles; Dillon, 129 miles. The exciting scene of the day occurred shortly after noon. Hughes, knowing Littlewood was probably disabled, rolled off lap after lap. Slowly he gained on Littlewood, until at 12.15 he passed him, amid enthusiastic shouts of the spectators. At 2 o'clock he was six miles in the lead. Hegelman and Day have withdrawn.

Walking match, midnight score:

Hughes, 232, Littlewood, 225, Herty 205, Golden, 218, Once, 0, 210, Noremack 206, Cartwright, 204, Campana, 189, Dillon 188, Vint, 180, Saunders, 154. Hughes is limping now.

The Coleman Failure.

CHICAGO, May 8.—W. T. Coleman & Co. have had no agency in either Chicago or New York since January 1st, their business in both cities having passed into the hands of Delafeld, Morgan, Kissell & Co., of which firm T. B. McGovern, the former Chicago agent of Coleman & Co., is a member. McGovern was seen late last night and said that he first heard of the failure a few hours before. It was a great surprise to him, as he knew it would be to the business community generally. He estimated the liabilities at $2,000,000, nearly all of which would fall upon New York City. Not a dollar would be lost in Chicago through the failure. The firm had been considered thoroughly reliable and its credit was excellent. Its paper had been on the market and was chiefly in the hands of various New York banks, upon whom the loss would fall. The collapse would also involve many salmon and fruit canning establishments of the Pacific Coast and many of these concerns would be unable to survive the crash. McGovern was at home as well as local agent of the Coleman Company and wound up its affairs before they withdrew from this point. He had seen some things that he did not exactly like, but was not prepared for any such outcome. He thought the firm would be able to make a good showing toward a settlement. His firm, he said, had often advanced money to the San Francisco house, but had taken goods for every dollar of it and would not lose a cent. Coleman & Co. have done business in Chicago amounting to as much as $200,000 a year.

New York, May 8.—The failure of W. T. Coleman & Co. was a complete surprise in this city, where the firm was well and favorably known. A representative of Dix & Pfyfe, who acted as brokers of the firm and negotiated paper in the east, said that he had distributed lists of paper of the San Francisco house among his clients as late as Saturday, and yesterday telegrams came in from various banks outside of the city announcing the acceptance of the paper of the Coleman house. Notices were sent, however, were received and stopped the negotiations. The paper of Coleman was considered A No. 1, and was held all over the east to the amount of about $900,000.

Cable Cables.

BERLIN, May 8.—Dr. Lucius, minister of agriculture, and four sons of Herr Steinman, the steel manufacturer, have been arrested by the Prussian police. They are charged with the murder of Herr Steinman, the steel manufacturer, who was killed by falling from a window while trying to escape from the husband. The prisoners were therefore released.

Delaware Democrat.

WILMINGTON, Del., 8.—The Democratic State convention assembled at Dover at 1.20 p. m. Robert Hill was made permanent chairman. The following delegates to St. Louis were chosen: L. C. Vandegriff, E. R. Cochran, W. C. Hardcastle, C. J. Harrington, W. F. Cousey and W. H. Stevens. The platform renews the pledges of Democrats of Delaware to the principles of the party; endorses the administration and the course of Bayard as Secretary of State; endorses President Cleveland's views on the tariff and his opposition to monopolistic trusts; favors his renomination and closes as follows:

Resolved: That we endorse and favor the passage of the bill now before Congress known as the Mill's tariff bill.

The convention was harmonious and enthusiastic.

The Sick Emperor.

BERLIN, May 8.—The Emperor passed a better night and slept fairly well. The discharge of pus is decreasing; fever low. The languor which the Emperor felt yesterday morning almost entirely disappeared in the afternoon. The Emperor is able to walk without effort.

Crown Prince William has requested Carl Schurz to thank Americans and Germans in America for their expressions of sympathy on the occasion of the death of Emperor William, and also for the sympathy manifested by them for Emperor Frederick in his sufferings.

Escaped from Jail.

LEBANON, Pa., May 8.—William Showers, under sentence of death for the murder of his two grand-children, escaped from jail here last night. He dug a hole through a solid stone wall, and lowered himself from the opening with a rope made from pieces of blanket. Showers is 70 years old. He left two letters, one addressed to his counsel and the other bidding defiance to the people who threatened to lynch him.

Cornering Corn.

CHICAGO, May 8.—The Daily News says that a syndicate composed of local bankers and two wealthy merchants are practically in control of all the corn in sight, with few exceptions. Shippers and receivers did their buying for them, consequently their movements have attracted but little attention. The syndicate propose to keep corn well up to 60 cents for all months up to the marketing of new crops.

Michigan Republicans.

GRAND RAPIDS, Michigan, May 8.—District delegates to Chicago were chosen by five districts here to-day, as follows: Fifth District, A. B. Watson, Cyril P. Brown; Sixth, William McParson, William B. McCree; Seventh, Edgar Weeks, Harrison Gee; Ninth, E. O. Shaw, George W. Crawford; Eleventh, Sam Stephenson, Perry Hannah.

HIS JUST DESERTS.

Nathaniel W. Hatch Meets His Death

WHILE ATTEMPTING TO ESCAPE

From an Enraged Husband—Delaware Democrats—The Sick Emperor—Other Notes.

A Terrible Retribution.

New York, May 8.—The dead body of Nathaniel W. Hatch, member of the firm Walter T. Hatch & Sons, bankers and brokers, was found in the yard of No. 61 West Twentieth Street, this morning. The story of his death cannot now be told, but the story of Mrs. Lillian Scofield, a handsome woman of about 30, suggests that the murder was actuated by jealousy. Mrs. Scofield and her husband, Charles W. Scofield, were taken to the police station this morning, where Mrs. Scofield says she had dined with Hatch, who accompanied her home about midnight. She invited him into the house, Scofield was asleep in the back parlor, but was aroused by the movements of his wife and Hatch. The latter was hastily concealed on the second floor. Scofield's jealousy was aroused and he questioned his wife in a most violent way concerning the man who had been with her. She steadfastly refused to give the man's name and insisted that he had left the house. Scofield then left the house. She searched for Hatch, but could not find him, and thought he had also left the house. She retired and knew no more of the broker or what happened in the night until the body was discovered in the yard this morning. Scofield was formerly a broker in good circumstances. He told the police that he had had cause on several occasions to doubt his wife's fidelity. Hatch was 33 years old, and lived with his wife in a handsome house on Fifty-third Street. His wife was formerly one of the most prominent ladies in Brooklyn society. The general accepted theory is that Hatch was killed by falling from a window when trying to make his escape. The coroner's inquest was held this afternoon, and Mr. and Mrs. Scofield were examined. From their testimony it was evident that Hatch was killed by falling from a window while trying to escape from the husband. The prisoners were therefore released.

The convention adjourned.

The Earth Exhales Poison.

To the air in localities where vegetation, rotted by freshets, is laid bare to the sun's rays by the retiring flood. Millions of square acres, in the vicinity of the great tributaries of the Mississippi and the Missouri in the south and south-west, give forth this fever-laden miasmatic vapor, disseminating malarial pestilence broadcast. Not only throughout the great west, but wherever on this continent fever and ague makes its periodic appearance—and what locality is wholly exempt from it? Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the recognized defense, the most highly accredited and popular means of cure. Fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake are eradicated by it. Nor is it less potent when used to remove constipation, liver complaint and dyspepsia, kidney troubles, nervousness and rheumatic ailments. Use it upon the first appearance of these troubles, and with persistence.

New Hampshire Republicans.

CONCORD, N. H., May 8.—The Republican State Convention to elect delegates to the National Convention, met to-day. It was called to order by J. H. Gallagher, who made a short address of congratulation upon the favorable outlook for the party. His reference to Blaine was greeted with long-continued applause. Henry E. Barnham, of Manchester, was chosen permanent chairman. Barnham made a long speech, in which he reviewed the career and achievements of the Republican party, and its great benefit to the country, while the Democratic party has given us Grover Cleveland and three years of pretence and hypocrisy, subservience to free traders of the south and a shameful surrendering of the great American interests entrusted to his keeping, and the administration of which has been a constant menace to our most important business interests, and which has finally proclaimed its hostility to the long-established policy of this country, under which it has attained its greatest prosperity.

The platform denounces the administration for its tariff policy; for its pension policy; for its fisheries policy, and for its "pretense" at civil service reform. The platform is particularly severe upon the wool clause in the Mills tariff bill. It denounces the Democratic party for identifying itself with the interests of the liquor dealers throughout the country, and instructs the delegates this day elected to Chicago to use every honorable effort to place in nomination a ticket that will command universal confidence, defy every assault, and be resolute at the polls; a ticket that in its triumph, which we unhesitatingly predict, shall restore government to the only party that is national in its aims and just in its purposes. Pierson Cheney, Jacob H. Galtinger, Hiram A. Tuttle and Alfred T. Batchelder were chosen delegates to the National Convention at Chicago. They were unanimously adjourned.
