SACKVILLE MATTER.

The Papers in the Case Made Public.

LORD SALISBURY'S LETTERS.

Minister Phelps Replies--A Republican Political Plot--That Interview Forms No Part.

LONDON, November 6.--The papers in the Sackville case were made public this evening. First is a letter from Lord Salisbury to Lord Sackville, dated October 26th. It is as follows: "Mr. Phelps, who is staying at my house, informs me that Bayard's request for your recall is not based on your letter to Murchison, but on a newspaper interview. I replied that I was glad it was not true that the request was due to the letter which made public only a betrayal of confidence, and it was only practicable to lay down the principle that a diplomatic representative should be prohibited from expressing even privately an opinion upon events passing in the country to which he is accredited. The language of an interview is different, you must be taken as having intended it for publication. Before admitting the need for the recall I was bound in justice to you to know exactly what the alleged objectionable language was. I therefore asked Mr. Phelps for a copy of the interview so as to ascertain from you whether you had been accurately reported. I told him I would then bring the matter before my colleagues. Phelps replied that he had not received the text of the interview, but would take steps to procure it. It was consequently understood that until a copy was received there should be no answer to the request for the recall. On October 28th, Lord Sackville sent the following communication to Lord Salisbury: "The letter was a political Republican plot. I mailed you an explanation. The plot was due to the approaching election. If my recall is demanded, I beg to express deep regret at what has occurred."

On the 30th Lord Sackville cabled that he had received his passport. On the 31st Phelps informed Lord Salisbury that the United States government had given Lord Sackville his passport, and added that President Cleveland hoped another minister would be sent to Washington. On the same day Lord Sackville sent the following dispatch to Lord Salisbury: "I beg to repudiate Mr. Bayard's statement, for the reasons for my dismissal, as an unjust attack on my integrity."

Lord Salisbury at once sent the following reply: "Place Mr. Herbert as senior secretary on the spot in charge of the legation."

On November 1st Lord Salisbury sent a communication to Mr. Phelps, referring to his promise to furnish him with a copy of the Sackville interview, and informed him that as he had no further information as to what Lord Sackville's statements contained or to whom they were made, he was unable to form any judgment upon the considerations which dictated the request for his recall or for forwarding his passport. To this, on the next day, Mr. Phelps replied as follows: "Our recollection of what passed in the conversation we had on Saturday differs slightly in one particular. It was not intended that the letter should have a part in the reasons for the request for the recall of Lord Sackville. I did say that the minister's remarks in the published interview were the principal reason. I am still without a copy of the interview. I have sent to Mr. Bayard a copy of Your Lordship's note, requesting full details of the language and circumstances."

The letter written by Lord Sackville on October 26th was read by Lord Salisbury on the 4th inst. He enclosed the Murchison letter, and his reply to it. He says: "I have certain information that the Murchison letter was constructed by a well-known firm in connection with the Republican committee, in New York. It was sent from Southern California, to prevent suspicion. Mr. Bayard, who I saw, to-day, said he regretted the incident very much. He accepted my disclaimer of any thought or intention to interfere with the domestic politics of the country. He said it was a political trap, but he frankly told me that I had been indiscreet. I frankly expressed my regret, and Mr. Bayard assured me that he bore no ill will."
