

THE BERLIN LETTER.

A Budget of News From the Fatherland.

THE EMPEROR'S AIM AT PEACE.

A New Russian Loan—Imperial Family—Roumanian Cession in Fort Construction.

BERLIN, November 24.—[Copyrighted 1888, by the New York Associated Press].—The Reichstag will re-assemble Tuesday, when business will open with a discussion of the budget and the loan for the re-construction of the navy. The speech from the throne continues to fill the public mind. The exaggerated optimism regarding the abiding place replaces the pessimism of forebodings current prior to the delivery of the speech. The speech is undoubtedly as pacific as the forecast given last week, but it is misinterpreted, if endowed with the character of it being an absolute assurance of peace. The most significant passage in the paragraph referring to foreign relations was the Emperor's declaration that his aim was an assurance of "PEACE AND GOOD WILL to the best of our endeavors." There is nothing here beyond the protest, so far, that it depends upon the Emperor whether his policy will be pacific. The concluding sentence, referring to the confidence shown in His Majesty during his tour, as justifying the hope of his being able, with God's help, to maintain peace in Europe, has been read as indicating a promise that the Emperor, besides the allied monarchs, will assist in preserving peace. It is officially known that the Emperor did not intend to convey the impression other than that he and his allies earnestly desired to avoid war.

The semi-official Post and Cologne Gazette are trying to tone down the public feeling to a lower pitch. The Post writes Germany that the situation does not justify the sanguine expectation that PEACE IS PERMANENT; that it is foolish to suppose war depends alone upon the decision of sovereigns; that the difficulty threatened is not France alone, and that the Emperor's language means simply that he is preparing with resignation to face the most serious task that can be placed on the chief of a great nation.

The Cologne Gazette says: "The speech is pacific only as far as we and our allies are concerned, and is reserved regarding others with which whose decisions we have no influence."

The Austrian official Freundenblatt says the manifesto passes over Germany's military apparatus in silence, and it is so well known as to render reference to it superfluous. The Emperor tells us simply Germany will not have to ENDURE THE MISERIES OF WAR unless she cannot help it. These reliable comments are already assisting to counteract the fantastical reports to the effect that Prince Bismarck is feeling his way to general disarmament.

From Vienna papers comes the rumor that the chiefs of the German Empire have so decided the results of a war that they are ready to make sacrifices to secure Fatherland against aggression. These unworthy suggestions appear to refer to the surrender of Alsace-Lorraine, which is an impossibility while Germany remains unified. In the meantime, instead of preparing for peace, the millionnaire governments are seeking to develop their sinews of war. Austria-Hungary has obtained a military loan, Russia and France are raising credits, and finally a new German loan is recognized as a necessity of national defense. It will be only by the Reichstag without prolonged discussion. It is the universal feeling that if Germany seeks her colonial expansion to compete with any success against England, a strong fleet is the first essential.

THE IMPERIAL FAMILY.

The imperial family is now located for the winter season in the old Schloss, occupying suites of rooms on the first and second floors, looking on Schloss Platz. A new Russian loan is announced to be issued on December 7th. In the meantime German holders of Russian securities are assiduously selling, finding Paris willing to absorb all kinds of Russian securities. The ready buying by foreign buyers combined with the authoritative announcement that the contract stipulates that the loan shall be used solely for the conversion of 1877 bonds, has maintained the prices of Russians and hardened the quotations of roubles, which closed at 209.50

ROMANIA NEWS.

Roumania announced, to-night, that it has an unfavorable anti-German element in Rissophia. General Mano, Minister of War, and M. Lahovary, Minister of Commerce, both oppose the King's policy of sympathy for the triple alliance. General Mano wants a cessation in the construction of forts designed to oppose a Russian advance. M. Lahovary has repeatedly declared that no Roumanian soldier would ever fire upon Russia. M. Katargi, president of the Chamber of Deputies, is also a Russian partisan. The king assents to a coalition cabinet, under the stipulation that General Mano and Lahovary will not interfere with the foreign policy, guided by M. Carp, Foreign Minister. The coalition will not last. M. Carp wants a new dissolution, and has appealed to the country.

His Annual Pass

WASHINGTON, November 24.—The inter-state commerce commission, by Commissioner Walker, rendered a decision, to-day, in the case of Slater vs. the Northern Pacific Railway Company, which states that a complaint was made for the purpose of retaliation for fancied wrong, so as to get even with the carrier for a revocation of complainant's pass, which does not commend itself to the commission. A carrier which has conformed to the ruling of the commission should not be prosecuted for an alleged violation of the law in that respect, which have occurred before such ruling was made and under a constitution of law then approved by the commissioners' counsel. First transportation issued in the form of an annual pass to a person not in the regular or stated service of the carrier, nor receiving any wages or salary under contract of employment, but requested by him as compensation for throwing in its way what business he conveniently could, is held to be illegal.

THE "BOSTON" RETURNS.

A Number of Her Crew Die, Supposed With Yellow Fever.

New York, November 24.—The United States steamer Boston last reported at Port-au-Prince, Hayti, where she was sent when the Haytian government seized the American steamer Haytian Republic, reached New York this morning and anchored at quarantine. It is reported the Boston returned from Hayti on account of yellow fever breaking out among the crew.

Commander Rampel, of the steamer Boston, reports that he left Port-au-Prince November 14th. Surgeon Simon Franks, Thomas Seaman and Charles Mitchell, ordinary seamen, were sick on board; John J. Kelly and E. J. Traap, apprentices, died November 20th. November 21st John Usselman, marine, died, followed the next day by the death of John Ritzel, another marine. Yellow fever is supposed to be the cause. The steamer carries 356 men. Officers of the Boston decline to make any statement regarding the steamer Haytian Republic recently seized by Haytian authorities. They say the matter will have to be settled by the authorities in Washington.

CAPTAIN RAMSEY REPORTS.

WASHINGTON, November 24.—The Navy Department to-day received a telegram from Captain Ramsey commanding the United States steamer Boston, which arrived at quarantine in New York harbor, this morning, stating the vessel had yellow fever aboard. The Boston had been at Port-au-Prince, Hayti, on a diplomatic mission, but left on the 15th, when the fever appeared. Four men died of the disease, and Surgeon W. J. Simon and two men are now sick. There has been no new case on board since the 19th instant.

NO LATER NEWS.

No information of a late date from Hayti regarding the disposition of the seized American vessel, Haytian Republic, has been received at the Department of State, and it is presumed the Boston bears dispatches from the United States Consul.

REFERRED TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

Boston, November 24.—In relation to the Haytian Republic matter, from a chat with one of the officers of the steamer Boston, it seems the steamer Haytian Republic was captured while coming out of the harbor of St. Marie to raise the blockade, by the Haytian man-of-war Destinee. Captain Ramsey, of the Boston, had several interviews and interceded with the President of Hayti, who refused to release the steamer, and the matter was referred to the Secretary of State at Washington for final action.

Fire Record.

FINDLAY, Ohio, November 24.—A fire this morning destroyed three four-story brick blocks. Loss, $100,000; insurance, $50,000. The safe in Rhen Brothers' was opened and $500 in money taken. Burglars are supposed to have set the building on fire.

Of National Importance.

CHICAGO, November 23.—W. P. Vice, of the San Francisco Athletic Club passed through here on his way to New York. He feels confident he can arrange a fight between Dempsey and Mitchell.

Upheld by the Court.

EDINBURGH, November 24.—The judgment in the case of Parnell against the Times, in alleging the proof of the question of arrears from which the Times appealed, has been unanimously upheld by the judges of the first division of the Court of Sessions.

The British Evacuate New York.

New York, November 24.—Lord Sackville West and daughters, Joseph Chamberlain and wife, and Hon. A. S. Northcote were among the passengers who sailed in the steamer La Bourgogne to-day. It probably did not occur to them that this is the anniversary of the day the British evacuated New York.

A 100,000,000 Francs Loan.

PARIS, November 24.—The Grand Council at Saigon has opened negotiations for a loan of 100,000,000 francs to be guaranteed by China. The money is to be used to cover the first expense of the establishment of colonies in Tonquin.

The Knights of Labor.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 24.—At the forenoon session of the Knights of Labor some minor committees reported on matters of no general interest. The legislative committee favorably reported the resolution in support of the law placing the penalty on gambling in wheat and other necessities which the convention agreed to report, as it also did with the recommendation of the agitation in favor of the Australian system of voting. In the afternoon the law committee reported on the temperance question, and a long discussion ensued on the proposition which had been handed to the committee to abolish the section in the constitution which provides that no intoxicants shall be sold at picnics or other entertainments of the Knights of Labor. It was reported with the remark that the committee deemed it explicit, that according to the present constitution, saloon keepers are ineligible to membership in the order, and to get around this amendment it was proposed to give leave to outsiders to sell liquors at such entertainments, but that members of the order as Knights of Labor shall have no such privileges. The matter was warmly discussed on both sides, but an adjournment was taken before any positive action was taken, and it will be again taken up on Monday.

Resigned.

WASHINGTON, November 24.—C. W. Vickery, superintendent of the third division of the railway mail service, with headquarters in this city, has tendered his resignation, on the request of the postal authorities, and will be succeeded on next Monday by Eugene Carrington, superintendent of mails at Baltimore. General Superintendent Bancroft said, to-day, there were no changes in his office against Vickery, who has held the superintendency since 1880.

A Fish Story.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 24.—The President-elect took a half holiday this afternoon, and the weather being pleasant, went fishing. The party comprised only General Harrison and his old friend, R. S. McKee, under the guidance of Samuel Hanway, an experienced sportsman, who is familiar with all the good fishing grounds up and down White River. The party left the city about 11:30 driving north along the river three miles. They had remarkable good luck, for on their return home, at 3:30, they exhibited a string of twenty-five shining black bass. They were all very proud of their catch, but the General could not be prevailed upon to tell how many were captured on his hook, as they had agreed to pool the result of the afternoon's sport. From another source, however, it was learned that the President-elect was the luckiest fisherman in the party, as his catch exceeded either of the other gentlemen. Several of the largest bass on the string were left at Harrison's residence, and the remainder Messrs. McKee and Hanway distributed among friends.

To-day's mail brought a photograph from Albion, Idaho, of the high peak in Cassia County, which has recently been named Mount Harrison. The ceremony of christening the mountain, accompanying the letter, explains that it took place Sunday evening, when Frank Roberts and J. A. Gardner, of Albion, climbed to the top of the mountain, 10,000 feet above the level of the sea, and there erected an octagon tower or altar, some twenty feet high, on the top of which they placed the stars and stripes and sang Columbia and other national songs. Mount Harrison is the highest point in Cassia County. Its twin, looming nearly as high, has long borne the name of Mount Independence.

An Affectionate Son.

New York, November 24.—John R. Andrews, well known stock broker, is reported to have gone to Europe last August under somewhat mysterious circumstances. He informed his father and family he was going to Cuttyhunk near New Bedford, Mass., and then left for Paris. George R. Andrews, his father, has obtained an attachment for $50,000 against his son for money advanced in 1878 to purchase an interest in Tiffany & Co. Prior to sailing for Europe he informed his father he had sold his yacht, and the son's wife said he had sold $50,000 worth of Tiffany stock and $100,000 worth more of stock which he had purchased with his own money. The father alleges that his son in the Stock Exchange was sold for $22,000, a few days ago. The father's attachment is to get the proceeds of the sale of the Stock Exchange seat.

John L.'s Man.

PHILADELPHIA, November 24.—Charlie Mitchell, the English pugilist, who is now in this city, when shown the Boston dispatch announcing John L. Sullivan's offer of $1,500 to Mitchell to stand up eight rounds in front of him in a public glove contest, said: "I don't want to take an advantage of the man; he is sick. He must have had advisers. My advice to him would be to lay off for five years, instead of five months, and by that time he might regain his feet. However, if he wants to have a go, I'm willing to fight him, and what is more, I will give him $1,500 if he will stand up against me for eight rounds."

A Horrible Deed.

KANSAS CITY, November 24.—A Journal's special from Ozark, Mo., reports a horrible tragedy twenty miles south of Ozark, in Taney County. Mrs. Amanda Trutt killed two of her young children with a hatchet, and then cut her throat with a butcher-knife. No details are given, but it is supposed the unfortunate woman was demented.

A Cheap Inauguration.

WASHINGTON, November 24.—At a meeting of the executive committee on inaugural ceremonies this evening, Colonel Elliott Shapard, and Robert F. Porter, of New York, were appointed the finance committees. Captain George E. Lemon, chairman of the latter committee, reported the subscriptions to the guarantee fund to date at $31,500. The amount required is $750,000.

Instantly Killed.

LEMARS, Iowa, November 24.—City Marshal George Hamilton, was shot and instantly killed this morning, by John Gaylor, aged 25. Gaylor and three companions were out for a lark. All were intoxicated, and the marshal undertook to arrest them. Gaylor fled from town, but has been captured.

CHAMPION OARSMAN,

O'Connor, of Canada, Beats the American Champion.

THE WATER UNFAVORABLE.

The Champion Will Go to Australia to Try His Hand With Searle—Nautical Notes.

WASHINGTON, November 24.—William J. O'Connor, Canadian oarsman, defeated John Teemer, of McKeesport, Pennsylvania, the holder of the title of the championship of America, this afternoon, in a three-mile race on the Potomac, opposite Washington, for the championship of America and $2,500 a side. O'Connor rowed in splendid form and led from start to finish. Teemer at no time being able to overtake him. O'Connor will now go to Australia to battle with Searle for the championship of the world.

The course selected was three miles and turn. When the tide for the race, 3:30, arrived, the Dumps Gas Works wharves and boat houses were lined with people, fully 10,000 being spectators from on shore, while many occupied seats on small river rafts.

THE SPECTATORS SHIVERED

in the chilly, raw air, while the preliminaries were being arranged. The water was smooth but muddy, and other conditions were unfavorable to good time being made.

Betting became quite lively just before the race, and considerable money changed hands. O'Connor men first betting even and then giving odds of 5 to 4, and when no takers could be found, offered 5 to 3. It was 4:20 when Mr. J. Adler, of the Columbia Athletic Club, who had been selected referee, got the men in line. One minute later he gave the signal "go." O'Connor was off like flash and was half a length in the lead before Teemer could dip his oars in the water. O'Connor, with a stroke of 34 to the minute, gradually gained on the McKeesport sculler, who pulled about two strokes faster. At the half mile, the Canadians had between him and his competitor, and slowed down his stroke to 32 to the minute. At the mile he held his lead, but was out of the course, and lost some distance, so at the turn he was only a length ahead. Rounding the buoy, O'Connor put on a spurt and with a long, powerful pull of 32 to the minute, he rapidly gained on Teemer and dropping his stroke to 28, was good three lengths in the lead. When two miles of the course had been gone over, the Canadian sculler was fresh, and every stroke seemed full of power, while Teemer, though pulling 32 to O'Connor's 28, moved ahead slowly, and seemed in labor. From this point on O'Connor and slowing towards the finishing line, he crossed it winner, about ten lengths ahead of Teemer. The winner's time was 20 minutes, 33 seconds. Teemer's time was not taken, but was estimated to be 25 seconds slower. O'Connor pulled over to the referee's boat and inquired if everything was all right. Elder told him it was, and that he had won. He paddled off obediently to his boat house, without a word. His backers were, however, jubilant, and loudly gave vent to their feelings.

INCREASED HIS LEAD,

Joseph Rogers, of Toronto, a backer of O'Connor, said as soon as the race was over, that he now proposed to go to Australia and wrest the world's championship from Searle.

O'Connor was trained by George Lee and Teemer by Albert Hamm.

THE CHAMPION,

William J. O'Connor, who, by to-day's race, becomes the champion oarsman of America, was born in Toronto, Canada, about twenty-five years ago, and first came into prominence in 1882 as a member of the Don Amateur Rowing Club of Toronto. In 1883 he won the senior single championship of Canada at Hamilton Ontario, having a short time before, with his partner, Enright, won the championship for the double from the Lang brothers. He became a professional oarsman in 1885, by challenging Ritz, of Pittsburgh, to race for $1,000 a side, but the latter declined to row. In 1887 he defeated Hamm, but in his next race, at Buffalo, his boat was swamped and he only took third place. Having won in March, this year, he defeated Peter-Pan, Pacific Slope champion, at San Francisco, and subsequently met and defeated George Lee, Gadamer and other good men. He is five feet ten inches in height, and weighed 163 pounds to-day.

the present fiscal year. The revenue of the department for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1889, are estimated at $62,508,638, which is an increase of $9,813,482 over the revenues for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1888, and an increase of $1,454,924 over the estimates for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1889. The Remarkable Cures

Which have been effected by Hood's Sarsaparilla are sufficient proof that this medicine does possess peculiar curative power. In the severest cases of scrofula or salt rheum, when other preparations had been powerless, the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla has brought about the happiest results. The case of Miss Sarah C. Whittier, of Lowell, Mass., who suffered terribly from scrofulous sores; that of Charles A. Roberts, of East Wilson, New York, who had thirteen abscesses on his face and neck; that of Willie Duff, of Walpole, Mass., who had hip disease and scrofula so bad that physicians said he could not recover, are a few of the many instances in which wonderful cures were effected by this medicine.
