

THE RAINBOW LAND.

The Grand Entrance into Oklahoma Territory Yesterday.

ALL WAS PEACEFUL AND SERENE.

Everything Taken Already—Land Rises Five Hundred Per Cent.—The First Municipal Elections.

St. Louis, April 22.—The Republic's Arkansas city special says: "Oklahoma is open. The trials, struggles and sacrifices of years are partially rewarded, but the events of to-day made these days, weeks and months, to follow which will prove how far the supply is below the demand, and necessitate further concessions to avert disaster, bloodshed and other conditions little short of anarchy. The history of the territory is...

THE FRONTIER WILL LEAVE BEHIND A heritage of litigation which will be fruitful to the claims of poor and least-advantaged settlers.

The Santa Fe began training its sectional trains out of Kansas city last night, and picking up cars almost every station along the route. Hundreds of people were waiting at every depot, and the cars, all of which were filled before the border line was reached, could they have been loaded would have made the train over a mile in length.

The crowds were composed of speculators, adventurers, sight-seers, thieves, etc. The farming element was not largely represented, as all their homesteads have gone on or off. There were men in the cars from every great city and important point in the country, and reports from states or territory in the country which did not have its representatives.

The newspaper coach was the first out of Kansas city. It contained representatives of all the leading newspapers in the west, who were compelled to yield room and comfort for the good of the cause.

At Arkansas city there were over seven hundred campfires in the park waiting for the train. All of them were covered by the crowd before daylight, and long before the last eastward train of the day was awake and stirring.

The streets presented a lively appearance. Hundreds of people were on foot, and many were on horseback, and attempted to force an entrance into the cars, all of which were securely locked. The excitement may be judged from the fact that the windows were broken out by the people who were anxious to secure seats. It was in vain for the officials to say the trains would run in sections, fifteen minutes apart. Every train there was to be fifteen minutes ahead of everybody, and not fifteen minutes behind anybody.

The first section made up consisted of nine coaches, the newspaper coach and one ransome. It pulled out at 8:15, and was 9:30 when the line which marks the state line and the dividing line from the Cherokee strip was reached.

IT WAS RECEIVED WITH A CHEER which rolled from the lower car in front to the rustlers' coaches behind. It marked the departure from state government toward the country where government is yet to be created and established. Still the Cherokee country has been under the rainbow since then. Along the Pawnee trail the train also passed caravans of homesteaders, many going south, but some returning north.

Between Willow Springs and Pawnee agency, someone in the newspaper car discovered a man riding on the tracks beneath the coach. When the train stopped at Pawnee the man was taken up and identified as a member of the press association. He gave his name as Harvey Sadler, and he said he was born in England, that he had been in this country for many years, and had come all the way from Seattle, W. T., to get a foothold in Oklahoma. He was elected as representative of the London "Times," and also as mascot of the new city of Guthrie. At the last station outside of Oklahoma territory there was a great crowd of homesteaders who had been forced to take their teams through and to get in to get in by rail. There being no room inside, they climbed to the top of the coaches, and the entire train, from one end to the other, was a mass of men and horses. This train the line was reached about five minutes after 12 o'clock. Before the late line was reached and passed, however, the great transformation scene had begun and was plainly visible to the watchers from the train.

First came in view the white-topped wagons gathered in groups on the level prairie, or in the little valleys which are scattered about the entire country. It was at once noticeable that teams were not to be seen in any of these camps; it was plain they had been taken out of the harness to be carried across the border by the hard riders who were to lead the line. A little further in and this conclusion proved to be a surmise, for the entire face of the country as far as the eye could reach could carry the sight, was over-run with horsemen galloping to the southward. The fastest horses had evidently been picked for the work, and they were carrying the riders with a speed and vigor for goal. The fifteen or twenty teams were made in an incredibly short time by old horsemen familiar with the country, and who knew where the desirable lands were located.

THE DAY WAS CLOUDLESS, and far away in the horizon both to the east and to the west the clouds could be seen ascending from the foothills of hundreds of horses rushing toward their different destinations in most cases, but in some of them toward the same one. The riders were dressed in the most distinguished. The riders were eager, and their intense looks and merciless washing of their horses were sufficient evidence of the prize they were running after.

One saddled but riderless horse was seen galloping along the trail, an ominous sign of some accident or fatality which had befallen the rider. Some were in charge of the horses, and were evidently riding races toward the goal. Out of the dust which arose toward the east they could be seen after the train had reached the summit of the high ridge. The wagon caravan was fully two miles in length, and was being sped to the utmost speed of its horses.

These caravans were plainly out-distanced by the horse back riders, and after several miles of territory had been traversed, it was seen the best riders were winning best prizes. One homesteader, who had secured a magnificent mare in a section of rolling land, had dug a hole two or three feet deep at that corner of it where the surveyor's section was located, and where he had driven his stakes. Not looking upon the evidence of possession as sufficient to confirm his title, he seized a Winchester as the train ran by and fired out all of its contents and then emptied his revolver.

YELLING LIKE A COWBOY OR COMANCHERO all the time. Not only the calls but the shots were resounded to the east and west, and up from the entire length of the section, which proved conclusively how well the party was armed in expectancy of what might happen a few miles the other side of the line.

The train stopped at the military post where the white tents of the soldiers and officers surrounded the national colors, and were a gratifying evidence of power and authority able to maintain order. Troops of the Fifth regiment of cavalry of the United States army were quartered there, and the officers said that at the onset of the battle they were to have been a prominent unit among the troops camped along the border which had extended across the frontier line, and that the riding had been fast and furious.

AT GRETNA GREEN.

The Elopement of Chief Justice Fuller's Daughter.

ABOUT THE WASHINGTON GIRL.

Some of the Marriages That Have Taken Place at Gretna Green—Remarkable Elopement—Tragic Runaways.

Washington is the paradise of girls. Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States. In the first place there is less restraint upon the girls of Washington than in any other city in the United States. They are allowed to do pretty much as they please. They can go anywhere at any time and nothing is thought of it. It is a cosmopolitan society, that of Washington, and the most stringent people are liberalized and the opinions of the puritanically inclined are considerably modified after they have mingled in the gayety of the city.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

Not little girls in short frocks and circular hair combs and low heeled shoes. No girls in their second period; girls at the age when they conceive a tremendous fondness for the ristic novels of Mrs. Braddon and Mrs. Clay; when they yearn to go to Europe, dazle the continent, and marry a prince; when they want to emulate Mrs. Potter or become "cattle queens"; when they wear green knickerbockers and are disgusted because they are so uninteresting, healthy and unimpaired themselves look melancholy and pale; when they are tired of home and talk about "ideals" and "aspirations." For girls like these (and what girl is not at a certain age) Washington is par excellence the city of the United States.

THE CONSOLIDATION.

The Union Pacific Directors Recommend it.

SO SAYS A BOSTON DISPATCH.

The Oregon Short Line, Utah & Northern, Utah Central, Salt Lake & Western, Utah & Nevada, and Ogden & Syracuse.

A dispatch received by THE HERALD from Boston yesterday gives the following interesting railroad news:

In the Union Pacific report, the history of the Oregon Short Line is given as follows: The terms of the contract of 1887 between the railroads of the two companies. One provision of this contract was that the earnings of the Oregon Short Line were to be divided equally between the two companies. On the basis of this contract, it would be shown that up to May 31 last, the Short Line owed the Union Pacific company the sum of $2,000,000. Instead of $2,000,000 as shown by the published reports, the Short Line directors in July asked a revision of the contract of 1887. The revision proposed that in November they would practically eliminate the division of the earnings which had been in operation. At the same time the stockholders of the Union Pacific are to be asked to ratify the agreement between the companies on the basis of a straight split. The revision does not allow the Union Pacific to construct branches, a number of these lines have been authorized or separate companies which would control. These companies number fifty-eight, and are numerous. The directors, therefore, recommended that the Oregon Short Line, Utah Central, Salt Lake & Western, Utah & Nevada and Ogden & Syracuse be consolidated.

The above is another confirmation of the statement made some time ago in THE HERALD to the effect that the Union Pacific is about to consolidate all its western lines with headquarters in this city. The news created somewhat of a surprise when first given, but the more people think of it the more they are convinced, and every word that comes from the east only corroborates the news. It is believed that the Union Pacific is about to do something handsome for Salt Lake city beyond the shipment of a draft.

A Dead Body Found. (Special to THE HERALD.)—The body of an unknown man was found last evening on a small island below this place in the Port of the river. The face was crushed so as to be unrecognizable. The body was enclosed in a pillow case and two gunnys sacks filled with rocks were attached to the neck. The body had evidently been in the water about two or three weeks. He has a brown mustache, and has a club foot.

For the Endgame. WASHINGTON, April 22.—Secretary Windom is expected to-day the commissioner of the Oregon Short Line to use the "Oregonian" line in meeting all acceptances of the river route to the desirable emerald passengers of the stretched steamer Danmark, brought to Philadelphia on the steamer Missouri.

The resignation of Nicholas W. Bell, superintendent of foreign mails, postoffice department, has been accepted by the postmaster-general.

A DAILY CONVERSATION. "Mrs. Smith, where do you buy such fine coffee?" "At John McDonald & Sons. They keep the finest groceries in the city."

Julius Hawthorne and Inspector Byrne's stories of "Another's Crime," begins this Sunday. Subscribe now.

Jane Harding tells ladies' fashions, chauntilly fashions, new Japanese fashions, etc., in "Another's Crime," begins this Sunday. Subscribe now.

Look out for our next great story in THE SUNDAY HERALD, "Another's Crime." Subscribe now.

Parlor suits, latest styles, combination plushes, in suit, waist, cherry and mahogany any. S. H. Marks & Co.

Electric Bitters. This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the liver and kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent its return. It cures all Constipation and Indigestion try Electric Bitters—Exquisite satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle at A. C. Smith & Co's drug store.

LOCAL AND OTHER BRIEFS. Hereafter the Salt Lake postoffice will make up a through pouch for Denver and dispatch it by No. 4 over the D. & R. G. at 7:30 p.m., and will receive a direct pouch from that point on No. 4 arriving at 7:30 a.m.

Soon after 1 o'clock Sunday night a falling meteor was observed in the central part of town. Those who saw it said that it lit up the whole town and appeared to fall somewhere in the block on which THE HERALD office stands.

Shortly after 12 o'clock last night, burglars broke into the back door of Denford's shoe store on Main street, made a light and began to rummage about, when George Dunford, who was sleeping in the room, woke up and seized the fellows of the he called the watchman, but no trace of the burglars could be found.

WHAT IS SCROFULA. It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually referred to as "humors"; which, fanning upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can IT Be CURED. By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other remedies have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually referred to as "humors"; which, fanning upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other remedies have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually referred to as "humors"; which, fanning upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other remedies have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually referred to as "humors"; which, fanning upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other remedies have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually referred to as "humors"; which, fanning upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other remedies have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually referred to as "humors"; which, fanning upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other remedies have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually referred to as "humors"; which, fanning upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other remedies have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually referred to as "humors"; which, fanning upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

WILLIAM CARROLL,

Architect, Contractor and Builder,

No. 12 W. FIRST SOUTH STREET.

DESIGNS, SPECIFICATIONS, ESTIMATES—Elegantly gotten up, reliably prepared, and accurately calculated. The above promptly submitted on application, at moderate rates.

HEATING—Latest improved system for the diffusion of heat.

SANITARY—Particular attention given. Best plans adopted for avoidance of malaria and security of health.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTURE—M. Dudson Kern, the Eastern Professional Architect, ready to attend to all the above departments of my business.

ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

White & Sons Co.,

SLAUGHTERERS.

THE UTAH STOVE & HARDWARE CO.,

Successors to

P. W. Madsen & Co. and Frank W. Jennings,

Lawn Mowers, Ice Cream Freezers,

Lawn Rakes, Western Washers,

Forks, Spades, Clothes Horses

Shovels, Hoers, and Drying Bars,

Seythes and Snaths, Wire Cloths and

TIN AND GRANITE IRONWARE,

Wholesale and Retail,

AT THE

UTAH STOVE & HARDWARE COMPANY,

The Celebrated Arnold Steam Cooker,