A GOOD ENDORSEMENT. The People of Tempe Think Well of Mormons.

TEMPE, May 16, 1896.—Editor Gazette.—We hear much these days about the Mormons, and their habits, industry, etc., but not many people understand them.

their future destinies. Pluck and perseverance, however, triumphed over all obstacles, and the final result of the months labor, was the proud satisfaction of seeing water flowing over our present town site.

Soon, however, well-to-do settlers began to arrive, and with the usual generosity so proverbial among Mormons, of aiding one another, combined with what the younger members of the family could bring in by freighting, the elders managed to start little patches of fruit trees and grape vines, which have since, and now are being rapidly developed into immense orchards and vineyards, and which before many more seasons roll by, will be proof positive, of the Mesa being the best fruit growing portion of North America.

The early teachings of the founders of their creed—frugality, sobriety, industry and patience—came in right here to their aid, and with a great variety of the cause—the colonization of the desert, and the spread of their creed—they kept on right manfully in improving and enlarging their canal, until they have now one that is capable of irrigating 35,000 acres of land.
