

ARE NOW AT WORK.

The Census Enumerators Begin Their Labors.

A FULL LIST OF THEIR NAMES.

The Questions in Brief, to Which Answers Will Be Expected—Fourteen Days the Limit.

Below is the list of the census enumerators, as furnished by Dr. Condon, of Ogden. The enumerators commenced work yesterday, and are limited to fourteen days, unless they can give some good and sufficient reason why the time should be extended.

Christian name in full and initial of middle name. Surname.

Whether a soldier, sailor or marine during the civil war (United States or confederate) or widow of such person. Relationship to head of family.

Whether white, black, mulatto, quadroon, octaroon, Chinese or Japanese or Indian.

Sex. Age at nearest birthday. If under one year give age in months.

Whether single, married, widowed or divorced. Whether married during the census year (June 1, 1890, to May 31, 1891).

Number of living children and number of those children living. Place of birth.

Place of birth of father and mother. Number of years in the United States. Whether naturalized.

Whether naturalization papers have been taken out. Profession, trade or occupation.

Months unemployed during the census year. Attendance at school during the census year.

Abie to read; able to write. Able to speak English. If not, language or dialect spoken.

Whether suffering from acute or chronic diseases; with name of disease and length of time afflicted.

Whether defective in mind, sight, hearing or speech, or whether crippled, maimed or deformed, with name of defect.

Whether a prisoner, convict, homeless child or pauper. Is the house you live in hired, or is it owned by the head or member of the family.

If the house is owned by head or member of family, and mortgaged, what is the post-office address of owner?

THE ENUMERATORS AND THEIR DISTRICTS.

Table with columns: No., County, Enumerator, P.O. Address.

* Appointed from Washington. List of special enumerators: United States penitentiary, Salt Lake city—Bright Cox, supervisor; Utah school for the deaf, Salt Lake city—Henry Spencer, enumerator; territorial insane asylum, Salt Lake city—August Lange, enumerator; Fort Du Chateau, Ogden, enumerator.

NEVER DIED OF DIPHTHERIA. The local physician will tell you there is no specific or never failing cure remedy for that terrible malady, diphtheria; and some of them will cry out "quack! quack! quack!" when the specialist will advertise

A specific for the cure of most any chronic disease, more especially that one terrible affliction, diphtheria. To such local physicians, or any other who claim there is no specific remedy for diphtheria, I will give $1,000 for a case that my specific remedy fails to cure, where my instructions are strictly followed to the letter, and where the remedy is used before the patient is dead; no cure, no pay. Address or call at 253 South, West Temple street, Salt Lake city, Utah. Dr. W. M. Hand.

CACHE COUNTY ITEMS.

C. F. Adams and the Railway Situation at Logan—High Water.

LOGAN, Utah, June 2.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—Prominent citizens of Logan visited Ogden this morning and had an interview with Charles Francis Adams on the railway project. The meeting was very brief, about the only thing definitely accomplished being the conclusion of Adams to come here and examine the situation Wednesday.

Logan river is creating considerable havoc in the city and the general opinion is that it has not reached its highest point, the bridge on the county road on which most of the traffic between the north and south sides of the county is carried on is threatened, the water being up to its sleepers. Two men are on guard there night and day clearing away obstructions and watching the situation generally, which becomes more serious hourly.

Deputy Westerton is making his regular round up in this county—brought in two victims from Hyrum to-day who were taken before Commissioner Goodwin and bound over, Ira Allen $1,000 and James Tutwiler $1,500. The deputy proceeded on his errand of mercy this afternoon.

Pan-American Conference Recommendations.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The court of claims dismissed the claim of A. B. Mullett against the United States for compensation as architect of the building now occupied by the State, war and navy departments, amounting to about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The President today sent to Congress a letter of the secretary of state relative to the recommendations of the recent Pan-American conference on the subject of customs regulation in Washington.

Secretary Blaine in his letter asked Congress to appropriate $250,000 to provide a suitable building to receive and protect the proposed collection, which building may also be used for the proposed international bureau of information, and contain a hall or assembly room for the accommodation of such international bodies as the two conferences that have just been adjourned.

Public Debt Statement. WASHINGTON, June 2.—The public debt statement was issued to-day: Public debt, interest bearing debt, principal, $62,112,028. Interest, $5,272,953. Total, $67,384,981.

Must the Chinese go? NEW YORK, June 2.—Rev. Dr. L. S. Baldwin, of the Methodist Missionary society, lectured yesterday on the subject "Must the Chinese go?" He said: "The Chinese government did not make the suggestion to us that their people be permitted to emigrate to this country. The Chinese were opposed to emigration. The suggestion came from the United States, and that time they were especially needed, and it came in California. He built railroads, did a money business, and added to his property $200,000 to the value of his lands by irrigation and drainage. Yet he, who derived more benefit from the Chinese than any other state, is led by the hoodlum. In the last twelve years this country has accumulated only $200 million in property, and we have had the emigration of thousands of other foreigners as immigrants. It is charged that the Chinese send their money home, and that they have been in Boston declare with manifestations of his pride, that Irishmen in this country sent $70,000,000 a year to their families in Ireland. It is urged that they will not become citizens, yet there is a law which deprives them of the right to become such."

Parliament Resumes. LONDON, June 2.—Gladstone in reply to questions by Liberals in Glasgow, denies that he ever stated that the showing at the Mitchell town, Ireland, and the Siberian atrocities were parallel outrages though he spoke of them together.

Parliament reassembled to-day. In the common course of business, parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, declined to lay on the table the papers relative to the negotiations with the United States concerning the Behring sea trouble until the question was settled. Sir James also stated that neither the French nor the United States had received any information of the landing from French war ships of officers and men on the coast of Newfoundland, who ordered the Newfoundland fishermen to remove their nets, and upon their refusal to do so removed them themselves. He was sure, he declared, that the officers in both the English and French service could be depended upon to preserve a conciliatory attitude pending an arrangement of the Newfoundland fisheries troubles. The government had every reason to believe the alarmist reports concerning the situation of affairs in Newfoundland incorrect.

Fire in a Canadian Village. MONTREAL, June 2.—News has been received here of an extensive conflagration in the village of St. Jacques de L'Achene, which by twenty high winds has burned, rendering a number of families homeless. Loss, $100,000.

Inter-State Competition Drill. KANSAS CITY, May 2.—The interstate encampment and competitive drill opened to-day. Twenty-three companies from various parts of the United States are already here. The street parade occurred this afternoon. The competitive drill takes place tomorrow.

Cremented Through Carelessness. DENVER, June 2.—A Durango, Colo., special to the News says: "My Robert Morrow yesterday attempted to light a fire with kerosene. An explosion occurred which set fire to the clothes of the woman, her four-year-old son and a young baby. They were all three cremated in the house, which burned about them before any assistance could be rendered."

Paris Pools Prohibited in Paris. PARIS, June 2.—The minister of the interior has issued an order prohibiting the sale of Paris mutual pools outside of the race courses and all intermediary betting agencies.

Chicago Gas Trust Receivers. CHICAGO, June 2.—George R. Davis, county treasurer and a well known politician, was today agreed upon by the attorneys and appointed by Justice Collins, receiver of the Chicago Gas Trust company.

Government Inspectors of Pleuro-Pneumonia. WASHINGTON, June 2.—Two hours were spent by the Republican members of the Senate finance committee this morning in considering the tariff bill. The time was devoted to the schedule on wool and manufactures thereof. Progress was slow, considerable attention of opinion being shown over the rates of duty on timber.

Sectional charges have been made against government pleuro-pneumonia inspectors in Hudson and Bergen counties, New Jersey. It is said they not only are not trying to stamp it out but are taking pains to propagate it. They had a herd of cattle infected, certain them, slaughtered and sold the carcasses at a reduced rate to butchers in league with them. The inspectors also have cattle for sale with which they supply the dairies and sell the former another lot. Congressman McAdoo will ask for a thorough investigation of charges.

Died from Eating Wild Parsnips. OTTAWA, Ont., June 2.—Dead in his bed with a dying sister on either side, lay little Archie Campbell, of Lake George, when a neighbor woman came in, attracted by fobble cries of

SOMETHING UNIQUE IN MONEY.

Wherein a Certain Five Dollar Note Differed from All Others.

Yesterday afternoon, the crowd was thickest in the Palmer house rotunda, a young man approached a group of men at the counter and pleasantly remarked that it was rather an unpleasant day. The stranger wore a shabby silk hat, trousers shaped like elephants legs and a fancy shirt of a pattern resembling kitchen wall paper. He had a greenback in his hand and seemed to be greatly interested in the money.

"Pardon me," said the stranger by way of breaking the ice, "but I've just had the strangest experience of my life," and he looked intently at the $5 bill in his hand, holding it toward the light and trying to see through it.

The crowd gathered closer around the young man, but as he did not show any intention of telling his strange experience a drummer asked him to relate it.

"See this $5 bill?" said the stranger. "Now, I don't suppose there is a gentleman here who could tell it from any other bill of the same denomination."

At this point Clerk Cunningham and Dr. Sutton, of Rome, N. Y., picked up the stranger. The clerk is a numismatist of no mean ability, and the Eastern physician is in Chicago for the sole purpose of picking up curiosities to add to his large collection. Both of these men reached for the bill.

"It looks like any other," remarked its owner, "but I'll bet fifty cents that no one can tell why it is different from any other $5 bill. Not that I care for a mere half dollar, but just to test your knowledge of paper money, and to make the trial interesting, I'll put up fifty cents."

He handed his money to Mr. Cunningham. Dr. Sutton deposited a like sum. Then the relic hunter from Rome felt of the bill, held it toward the light, and scrutinized every number and line on the greenback; but he found no evidence that the note was either a counterfeit or a rare bill. Finally he gave it up, also his half dollar.

"If that is an odd bill," he said, "I am fooled. Now that I've given up my chance, will you tell me its peculiarity?"

"I don't mind," answered the stranger, "as he put two half dollars in his pocket. 'You see this $5 bill belongs to me, and no other does. Pardon me for taking your money, but I'm trying to get a stake so that I can get back to New York. Good afternoon, gentlemen.'"—Chicago Tribune.

A New Wrinkle Knocked Out. He walked into the Pennsylvania railroad depot in Jersey City with a pert look on his face, and, advancing to one of the benches, he stood his silver hauled umbrella on end, produced a chain and padlock from his pocket, and, running one end of the chain through the open handle, he made the umbrella fast to the seat and said to the nearest man:

"I haven't traveled over this country for five years without learning a thing or two."

He went away smiling and whistling, but had scarcely left the waiting room, when along came another dapper fellow, wearing a check suit and having a smooth cheek, and he walked right up to the umbrella, produced a three cornered file from his pocket, and in two minutes he had filed the chain in two. He put down his umbrella and walked off with the observation:

"If the fellow who is smarter than chain lightning comes back and asks who did it, tell him it was a hayseed who had never been off the farm before!"—New York Sun.

Unintentional Courtesy. Dr. Hand is getting patients from Spanish Fork and many other towns of Utah as far as 200 miles away. Most every train from the south brings in from three to eight new cases. Also from the north as far as Eagle Rock, Id. Dr. Hand has only been in Utah since April 1, but his cases already show over 200 cases under his treatment. Dr. Hand is a seasoned physician.

Our line of summer underwear is the largest and finest in the city. We invite an inspection. BAST-MARSHALL, MER. CO., 142 Main Street.

A LOVELY COMPLEXION. Can only be had by regulating the liver and bowels and removing the surplus of bile. Garfield Tea does it quickly, too. The handsomest ladies of America endorse it. Z. C. M. I., drug department.

South Lawn is within quick reach. Lots in Brighton can be had for a short time in installments of $1 per week or $5 per month, watch Brighton. Edwin W. Senior.

Hill's Clever Fun. Here is a clever pun from Rowland Hill: When at college, Hill had a conversation with some of his companions on the powers of the letter H, when it was contended that it was no letter, but a mere aspirate. Rowland took the opposite side, and insisted on its being, to all intents and purposes, a letter, and concluded by observing that if it were not so, it was a very serious thing for him, as it would occasion his being ill all the days of his life.

A Natural Mistake. Diner—Here, waiter, what on earth have you given me here? I called for tripe, but this is the stringiest stuff I ever encountered. Waiter (after critical examination)—Just as I expected. That cook of ours is terribly nearsighted, and, instead of tripe, she's served up a piece of Turkish towel. Perhaps you'd like something else?—Tit-Bits.

A Natural Inference. Mr. Slowpaw—Madam, I am a reputable drummer, and you need have no anxiety about this bill. Landlady—You're a drummer, and I suppose you take this house for a drum. Mr. Slowpaw—What do you mean? Landlady—Well, you are trying to beat it!—New York World.

One Thing to Be Remembered. "Would any shock, at this stage of my trouble, cause a relapse, doctor?" inquired the patient. "Yes, and a serious one." "Please then, doctor, to remember that important fact in making out your bill."—Fliegende Blaetter.

No New Pair for Johnny. Mrs. Skimpshint (holding up for Mr. Skimpshint's inspection a pair of Johnny's trousers)—My dear, these are the best Johnny has. Don't you think they look a little too old and shabby to wear to church with his good coat and vest? Mr. Skimpshint (decidedly)—Yes, yes. They wouldn't look well together at all. (Bursting his pocket)—"You may get him his old coat and vest to wear to church with them."—Chicago Tribune.

Not Wholly Useless. Sentimental Young Woman (looking nervously at mummy)—Three thousand years ago this was a human being! A living, breathing, palpitating creature, with hopes, aspirations, joys and sorrows such as we have! And what has it earned by the preservation of its mortal part? Nothing but the contemptible celebrity of being a curiosity in a museum! Useless! Useless! Practical! Excuse! Not entirely, Miss Grimes. You take a mummy and grind it up and it makes a mighty good fertilizer.—Chicago Times.

Why He Had Never Done It. In an Omaha church recently Sam Jones shouted: "If there is a man present who never spoke a cross word to his wife! The silence was becoming oppressive. People looked here and there. Every husband present wanted to get up but did not dare to. But the sadness that laid possession of Jones' face vanished a moment later when a rosy faced, good natured man rose from his seat. "Thank God!" exclaimed Sam, "there is one man who never spoke a cross word to his wife!" The good natured man smiled a bland smile and said: "No, sir, I never did. I'm a bachelor." Then he put on his hat and calmly walked out the door.—New York Tribune.

What He Would Think. Tramp (with tears in his eyes)—I do not ask you for money, sir, but what would you think if I asked you to give me something to eat for forty-eight hours and my poor wife and children are now starving in the street? Practical Citizen—I'd think you were a liar. Good morning.—Washington Star.

The Real Cause. Hostess—What a modest youth Jimmy is in society! He hesitates to address himself to the belles, while you, Frank, are just the other way. Frank—Pshaw! it isn't modesty that ails Jim. "No. What then?" "It's lack of nerve."—Chicago Times.

Fearful! "A awful accident at the museum." "What was it?" "The wild dog from Borneo got loose last night and ate up three-quarters of the ossified man while he slept." "Does the ossified man know it?" "No; they're afraid to tell him."—Life.

Why She Looked Dejected. He (meditatively)—What makes that tall lady in blue look so unhappy? She (carelessly)—Oh, she was disappointed in love. He (interestedly)—Fellow went back on her? She (sharply)—No—married her.—West Shore.

THE SALT LAKE HERALD: TUESDAY, JUNE 3, 1890.

SOMETHING UNIQUE IN MONEY.

Wherein a Certain Five Dollar Note Differed from All Others.

Yesterday afternoon, the crowd was thickest in the Palmer house rotunda, a young man approached a group of men at the counter and pleasantly remarked that it was rather an unpleasant day. The stranger wore a shabby silk hat, trousers shaped like elephants legs and a fancy shirt of a pattern resembling kitchen wall paper. He had a greenback in his hand and seemed to be greatly interested in the money.

"Pardon me," said the stranger by way of breaking the ice, "but I've just had the strangest experience of my life," and he looked intently at the $5 bill in his hand, holding it toward the light and trying to see through it.

The crowd gathered closer around the young man, but as he did not show any intention of telling his strange experience a drummer asked him to relate it.

"See this $5 bill?" said the stranger. "Now, I don't suppose there is a gentleman here who could tell it from any other bill of the same denomination."

At this point Clerk Cunningham and Dr. Sutton, of Rome, N. Y., picked up the stranger. The clerk is a numismatist of no mean ability, and the Eastern physician is in Chicago for the sole purpose of picking up curiosities to add to his large collection. Both of these men reached for the bill.

"It looks like any other," remarked its owner, "but I'll bet fifty cents that no one can tell why it is different from any other $5 bill. Not that I care for a mere half dollar, but just to test your knowledge of paper money, and to make the trial interesting, I'll put up fifty cents."

He handed his money to Mr. Cunningham. Dr. Sutton deposited a like sum. Then the relic hunter from Rome felt of the bill, held it toward the light, and scrutinized every number and line on the greenback; but he found no evidence that the note was either a counterfeit or a rare bill. Finally he gave it up, also his half dollar.

"If that is an odd bill," he said, "I am fooled. Now that I've given up my chance, will you tell me its peculiarity?"

"I don't mind," answered the stranger, "as he put two half dollars in his pocket. 'You see this $5 bill belongs to me, and no other does. Pardon me for taking your money, but I'm trying to get a stake so that I can get back to New York. Good afternoon, gentlemen.'"—Chicago Tribune.

A New Wrinkle Knocked Out. He walked into the Pennsylvania railroad depot in Jersey City with a pert look on his face, and, advancing to one of the benches, he stood his silver hauled umbrella on end, produced a chain and padlock from his pocket, and, running one end of the chain through the open handle, he made the umbrella fast to the seat and said to the nearest man:

"I haven't traveled over this country for five years without learning a thing or two."

He went away smiling and whistling, but had scarcely left the waiting room, when along came another dapper fellow, wearing a check suit and having a smooth cheek, and he walked right up to the umbrella, produced a three cornered file from his pocket, and in two minutes he had filed the chain in two. He put down his umbrella and walked off with the observation:

"If the fellow who is smarter than chain lightning comes back and asks who did it, tell him it was a hayseed who had never been off the farm before!"—New York Sun.

Unintentional Courtesy. Dr. Hand is getting patients from Spanish Fork and many other towns of Utah as far as 200 miles away. Most every train from the south brings in from three to eight new cases. Also from the north as far as Eagle Rock, Id. Dr. Hand has only been in Utah since April 1, but his cases already show over 200 cases under his treatment. Dr. Hand is a seasoned physician.

Our line of summer underwear is the largest and finest in the city. We invite an inspection. BAST-MARSHALL, MER. CO., 142 Main Street.

A LOVELY COMPLEXION. Can only be had by regulating the liver and bowels and removing the surplus of bile. Garfield Tea does it quickly, too. The handsomest ladies of America endorse it. Z. C. M. I., drug department.

South Lawn is within quick reach. Lots in Brighton can be had for a short time in installments of $1 per week or $5 per month, watch Brighton. Edwin W. Senior.

Hill's Clever Fun. Here is a clever pun from Rowland Hill: When at college, Hill had a conversation with some of his companions on the powers of the letter H, when it was contended that it was no letter, but a mere aspirate. Rowland took the opposite side, and insisted on its being, to all intents and purposes, a letter, and concluded by observing that if it were not so, it was a very serious thing for him, as it would occasion his being ill all the days of his life.

A Natural Mistake. Diner—Here, waiter, what on earth have you given me here? I called for tripe, but this is the stringiest stuff I ever encountered. Waiter (after critical examination)—Just as I expected. That cook of ours is terribly nearsighted, and, instead of tripe, she's served up a piece of Turkish towel. Perhaps you'd like something else?—Tit-Bits.

A Natural Inference. Mr. Slowpaw—Madam, I am a reputable drummer, and you need have no anxiety about this bill. Landlady—You're a drummer, and I suppose you take this house for a drum. Mr. Slowpaw—What do you mean? Landlady—Well, you are trying to beat it!—New York World.

One Thing to Be Remembered. "Would any shock, at this stage of my trouble, cause a relapse, doctor?" inquired the patient. "Yes, and a serious one." "Please then, doctor, to remember that important fact in making out your bill."—Fliegende Blaetter.

No New Pair for Johnny. Mrs. Skimpshint (holding up for Mr. Skimpshint's inspection a pair of Johnny's trousers)—My dear, these are the best Johnny has. Don't you think they look a little too old and shabby to wear to church with his good coat and vest? Mr. Skimpshint (decidedly)—Yes, yes. They wouldn't look well together at all. (Bursting his pocket)—"You may get him his old coat and vest to wear to church with them."—Chicago Tribune.

Not Wholly Useless. Sentimental Young Woman (looking nervously at mummy)—Three thousand years ago this was a human being! A living, breathing, palpitating creature, with hopes, aspirations, joys and sorrows such as we have! And what has it earned by the preservation of its mortal part? Nothing but the contemptible celebrity of being a curiosity in a museum! Useless! Useless! Practical! Excuse! Not entirely, Miss Grimes. You take a mummy and grind it up and it makes a mighty good fertilizer.—Chicago Times.

Why He Had Never Done It. In an Omaha church recently Sam Jones shouted: "If there is a man present who never spoke a cross word to his wife! The silence was becoming oppressive. People looked here and there. Every husband present wanted to get up but did not dare to. But the sadness that laid possession of Jones' face vanished a moment later when a rosy faced, good natured man rose from his seat. "Thank God!" exclaimed Sam, "there is one man who never spoke a cross word to his wife!" The good natured man smiled a bland smile and said: "No, sir, I never did. I'm a bachelor." Then he put on his hat and calmly walked out the door.—New York Tribune.

What He Would Think. Tramp (with tears in his eyes)—I do not ask you for money, sir, but what would you think if I asked you to give me something to eat for forty-eight hours and my poor wife and children are now starving in the street? Practical Citizen—I'd think you were a liar. Good morning.—Washington Star.

The Real Cause. Hostess—What a modest youth Jimmy is in society! He hesitates to address himself to the belles, while you, Frank, are just the other way. Frank—Pshaw! it isn't modesty that ails Jim. "No. What then?" "It's lack of nerve."—Chicago Times.

Fearful! "A awful accident at the museum." "What was it?" "The wild dog from Borneo got loose last night and ate up three-quarters of the ossified man while he slept." "Does the ossified man know it?" "No; they're afraid to tell him."—Life.

Why She Looked Dejected. He (meditatively)—What makes that tall lady in blue look so unhappy? She (carelessly)—Oh, she was disappointed in love. He (interestedly)—Fellow went back on her? She (sharply)—No—married her.—West Shore.

S. P. TEASDEL

Has Just Received a Large Assortment of the Latest Novelties in

Lawns, Percales,

Seersuckers, Dress

Ginghams and Satteens,

And all the Leading Fabrics for the Season.

A FULL LINE OF CHOICE HOSIERY IS NOW ON HAND.

Ribbons, Laces and Notions

IN GREAT VARIETY.

Call and Examine Quality and Prices.

A Complete Assortment of General Merchandise Always on Hand

Teasdel's -4- Stores,

Main Street, Salt Lake City.

"Insure To-day; To-morrow May Be Too Late."

HOME HOME

FIRE LIFE

Insurance Co. Insurance Co.

UTAH UTAH

PAID-UP CAPITAL, $300,000. ASSETS, OVER $272,865. Cash Capital, $100,000.

Officers. JOSEPH F. SMITH, President. HEBER J. GRANT, Vice-President. LEWIS S. HILLS, Treasurer. ELLIAS A. SMITH, Secretary. W. J. BATEMAN, Ass't Secretary.

Directors. HENRY DUNWOODIE, JOHN HENRY SMITH, GEORGE W. WELLS, JOHN HENRY SMITH, THOS. G. WEBBER, DAVID ECKLES, P. T. FARNSWORTH, GEO. W. THATCHER, WILLIAM H. ROWE, FRANK W. JENNINGS, CHARLES S. BUCKTON, RICHARD W. YOUNG.

Heber J. Grant & Co., General Agents, Herald Building.

Utah Cracker Factory, 37 E.