of the territorial committee, and his successor in the county chairmanship shall succeed him in the territorial committee.

The resolutions were adopted without debate.

THE DELEGATE TO CONGRESS. There was a good deal of suppressed excitement when names for candidates for Delegate to Congress were called.

Mr. McKenzie placed in nomination the name of a gentleman with whom he had long and intimate acquaintance, and who is known to all, and who has made a brilliant record, who was without a blot on his character, who has always been mindful of the fact that he should be a public man, and whose nomination would be satisfactory to every member of the People's party. He was a man who knew neither rank nor creed, and whose name was a guarantee of character, but who had done his duty, and who could not be said. (Applause). He named the Hon. John T. Caine.

The applause following was deafening in its character, and it has subsided, the chairman asked if there were any further nominations. None were made, and Mr. Richards moved that the rules requiring the delegates to be nominated by ballot be suspended, and that the vote be by acclamation.

This was carried unanimously, and the "aye" that followed was deafening, and Mr. Caine's name fairly made the rafters ring.

On motion of Mr. Sloan, the territorial central committee were instructed to notify Mr. Caine of his nomination.

RECESS TAKEN. The committee on resolutions not being ready to report, and there being no further business before the convention, a recess for thirty minutes was taken.

RE-CONVENED. At the end of thirty minutes the convention re-assembled, and Thomas D. Doe and H. H. Rolapp were elected members of the executive committee from Weber county.

THE LONG-LOST FOUND. The committee on resolutions at this point entered the room amidst a big burst of applause. They presented the following resolutions, which were adopted: Resolved, That the People's party is in favor of public buildings, suitable and ample for municipal, county and territorial purposes.

That we desire our municipalities and the federal government, recognizing its laws as supreme, and that we will devote our lives, fortunes and all our power to the maintenance of good government and the extension of liberty to all.

Resolved, That the People's party has been the unfailing friend of the laboring classes, as has been the number of labor home owners that have grown under its fostering care; and we demand any system of taxation that is calculated to deprive laborers of the possibility of owning homes, or which will consume their hard-earned substance to satisfy the greed of rapacious slave-holders.

Resolved, That the People's party has been the champion of the oppressed, and we demand that the law be so interpreted as to give to every individual the most complete personal freedom compatible with the general welfare.

All laws enacted in pursuance of the National Constitution are paramount. The decisions of the supreme court of the United States are final and authoritative, and it is the duty of every citizen to obey the law, and to respect the rights of every individual to the full extent of his power compatible with the general welfare.

CHICAGO NAPOLEONS.

A Special Car of Capitalists Arrives in the City.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING. A Lively Day in Stocks, Trewick Advancing the Market by Heavy Buying—Real Estate Notes.

Twenty-two men hailing from Chicago, who can write their checks for two hundred thousand dollars, arrived in the city last evening on a special car "Polkanolet."

With the party is J. F. Mallotte, the Napoleon of Chicago real estate men, who shows up in the business reports for several million dollars. It will be remembered that Mr. Mallotte's partner lost $200,000 by the failure of the Fidelity bank at Indianapolis, but the firm went about its business as usual, as if nothing had happened.

The Chicagoans came west on the solicitation of Mr. Ira B. Holmes, president of the Interior Land and Immigration company of Denver, Colo., and his secretary, Mr. A. M. Yonkers, in charge of the gentlemen and Willis G. Emerson, general manager of the Idaho Falls town company.

The following is the personnel of the party: J. F. Mallotte, capitalist.

George F. Robie, manufacturer sewing machine supplies.

H. W. Hoening way, dentist.

A. E. Wittman, manufacturer fertilizers and guns.

E. Kirk jr., manufacturer galvanizing iron work.

F. S. Hudson, manufacturer steam heaters.

George Melcher, capitalist.

George Muldoen jr., commission merchant.

D. Morrison, life insurance.

J. S. Kennell, president National School Furniture company.

L. E. Mackay, contractor.

J. J. Grier, physician.

F. Satter, wholesale liquors.

E. E. Hoppin, member state legislature and capitalist.

C. J. Swan, physician.

C. S. Widman, clothing.

Marshall F. Holmes, settling works.

John W. Yonkers, capitalist.

C. B. Cleveland, general agent North-western Mutual Life insurance company.

D. E. Childrester (Childrester), capitalist.

William H. Bartlett, capitalist.

The party left Chicago last Saturday morning and came direct via the Chicago and Northwestern and Union Pacific railways to Idaho Falls, Idaho, where they spent two days en route to the town and the water supply of the Snake river, which at this point is from fifteen to twenty-five feet deep and 500 feet in width.

The Northern Pacific railway is expected to cross the Union Pacific at this point and quite an effort is being made to boom the townsite. The Chicago capitalists were so favorably impressed with the prospects of Idaho Falls being the greatest city between Salt Lake and Helena, that they invested $4,000 there. It is located in the largest valley in the west, and furnishes a greater outlet than they attain in a small valley like the Salt Lake, where the winds are continually jamming up against the foothills of the Wasatch range.

The Chicago investors enjoyed the courtesies of the Union Pacific from Ogden to this city and a special will convey the party to the bright time. The smaller brocker could hardly Trewick's trick of swinging the market if they would load up during his absence, or when stocks are low and "corn" when he comes in to buy. This is very common on the exchange in larger cities, where a few bears with little capital worry the big bulls with millions in bank. The presence of a big broker on the board is no sign that he is not present in other orders who have quietly received their orders to buy or sell within the limit prescribed by their principal.

Trewick's tactics of taking care of a stock after another broker has given it a start was illustrated yesterday in Apex, when Davis bought 100 A. Hance from Bamberger at $2.50 and Trewick took a turn at the ball and at one bound the same 100 shares went up to $3. Apex had been lingering at 17c, with but little bid and Trewick bought 6,000 from Conklin at 18c, and then forced the stock to 18 1/2 by taking 2,000 from Bamberger. He also bought 2,000 from Bamberger at 18c, and then forced the stock to 18 1/2 by taking 2,000 from Bamberger. He also bought 2,000 from Bamberger at 18c, and then forced the stock to 18 1/2 by taking 2,000 from Bamberger.

Utah Limes and Cement which cost him a cool $5. On the first call Trewick's bid bought 300 from Conklin at $7.50 and Bamberger on the second call offered the same stock at $7.50 instead of $8.50. Trewick in a flash fotolot it home.

Only $1.40 was bid for Mammoth while Centennial-Eureka was wanted at $85.

The following is the record of yesterday's trading:
