Close of the "Little Tycoon" Engagement.

MR. LINDSAY'S RE-APPEARANCE

The Festival at the Talk-Home Club Visit to the Park--The Younger Exhibition--Notes.

The exclusive topic in musical circles during the week has been the big stroke of managerial enterprise on the part of the Chorus society in engaging Emma Thursby and Myron W. Whitney to head the June festival. The board of directors are at work on a statement or appeal to the public, setting forth the immensity of the project and asking for support commensurate with the importance of the enterprise. The expenses of the festival will be at least $4,000 before the chorus receives a nickel for its labors in working the thing up. Two thousand dollars of this goes to secure the two stars and their traveling and hotel expenses, and the remainder is for orchestral and advertising expenses, the purchase of the building, the railroad, will all run cheap trains to and from the city during the two days the festival is in progress, and it is not too much to expect that the event will take on an interest that will make it an inter-mountain affair, instead of a merely local one. Subscription lists are being sent out at once; all subscribers pay $2.50 and can secure a reserved seat to the series of three concerts, and a day will be set apart in advance for the reserving of subscribers' seats excepted. The festival at the house will also be held for sale in Park City, Ogden, Provo and Logan.

The charm and rhythmic swing in Mr. Spenser's music seem to offer an ample atonement for the stark silliness of his libretto, at least his audiences yesterday afternoon and evening kept up surprisingly well both in size and appreciation. The matinee was well attended and the night house was large. A second witnessing of the opera induces no change in the estimate previously placed on the work; it is a wedding between very charming music and very rubbishy words, but the balance is heavily on the side of the music, and the plot is so good that the imperfections in the story. For ourselves, we confess we are just enough imbued with the Wagnerian contagion to feel like insisting on having the story to which the music is set. "The Little Tycoon" is successful, of course--if the face of box office receipts like those to which it has played for 2,000 nights it would be useless to say anything else--but Mr. Spenser is discerning enough to know that the sort of success which attends his work is not the most elevated that is to be sought for; it is not the clientele of interest which he seeks, and even the unconsidering masses--the clan that fills his houses--swallow the anecdotal of his plot only because a double portion of the sugar coat which he has along with it. But perhaps a man who can grind out songs like "Love Comes Like a Summer Night" ought not to be too severely judged. We wish Mr. Spenser, and may the public deities long continue to flow in your direction.

The only dramatic event at the theatre this week is the re-appearance of the well known old time actor, John S. Lindsay, who will render "Ingomar" Tuesday and "Damon and Pythias" Wednesday, the latter event being under the auspices of the local Knights of Pythias. To all old timers Mr. Lindsay is too well known to need a word of introduction; to the many new theatre-goers who have come into our midst during Mr. Lindsay's absence from our boards, it may be said that he is one of the foremost among that coterie of actors who made the Salt Lake stock company famous twenty years ago. Nearly all the old members have retired from the stage, but Mr. Lindsay has held constantly to his chosen profession. Of late years he has been touring with great success in the east, and he brings the company which has supported him to Salt Lake this week. We wish his ventures success.

The Home Dramatic club go to Park City Tuesday morning by Utah Central, play "Young Mrs. Winthrop" that evening and return Wednesday morning. The club will be tendered an informal reception after the performance by Mrs. A. B. Richardson and Mrs. W. W. Mackintosh, who are old friends of several of the members. The next appearance of the club in Salt Lake will be on Decoration Day, but the play has not yet been decided on.

Next Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, the theatre will be turned into a ball-room again, one of Prof. Younger's bright exhibitions of the art of the juggler being the event. The professor states that this exhibition will be the most important and comprehensive that he has yet given, and one of the features to be introduced will be the production of some new dances not yet seen here, which are to be taught by the professor during the next ball season. The list of the young people and children who will delineate the new steps includes the names of many prominent society people of the city and there is no doubt that both events will be greeted by large and fashionable turnouts. The prices range from 50c. to 75c. and reserved seats will be sold.

The profession at large rejoices in the decision of J. M. Hill to close his theatre against further performances of "Thou Shalt Not." The obscene play that William A. Brady succeeded in getting into Mr. Hill's theatre while Mr. Hill was away. Mr. Brady takes a curious but characteristic view of the matter. He said to a friend the other day that if he didn't succeed in getting the mayor to interfere with the entertainment on the ground of its immorality he would "go broke." He added: "If I can only get that advertisement out of it then 'Thou Shalt Not' will be valuable property throughout the country. The people will come to see it because it was too immoral to be seen in New York."

That is one way of looking at it, but it is more than likely that Mr. Brady's scheme in getting this advertisement will fail to work, for it is not to be supposed that a decent city like Philadelphia will permit the production of a play that the authorities of New York practically forbade. At any rate, the decent citizens of Philadelphia had better look out at it once and take measures to prevent the production of the piece.

Mr. John Stetson, of Boston, came over to see it and at once declined to have anything to do with it. He remembered the loss of a license by another theater for producing "The Clemenceau Case," another of Mr. Brady's ventures. By and by it will happen that when Mr. Brady appears on the horizon managers in other cities will run for their lives. At any rate, other communities cannot do better than follow the example of New York and frown down on obnoxious plays.--Journal.

Deep Creek the One Theme in Business Haunts.

RICH CASTLE VALLEY COAL FIELDS

Big Strike in the Red Rose at Tintic--Rich Ore From Nanpete--General News of Our Mines.

The one big theme in mining and business circles during the week just closed was Deep Creek, and the rich discoveries made in the Red Rose at Tintic, and the unmined ore, who had never braved the journey across the desert to the Eldorado beyond, the term had but one significance, a publication or town bearing that name. The publication in THE HERALD of yesterday, however, of a map of the much-talked-of section brought fully home to all who saw it the fact that Deep Creek is a country of magnificent distances. To the late comers who had heard much about Deep Creek during the past few months, and the old resident who had heard of its treasures years ago and almost forgotten them, the map proved a source of wonderment and delight and received very favorable comments on all hands. It was just what was wanting to give Salt Lake in particular and the outside world in general an idea of the country of which they had heard and read so much, but of which they knew so little. Mining in Deep Creek may be said to have taken on a new phase. That there was mineral in abundance no one doubted; that it was always reported and generally believed to be of low grade, was also well known. When the first shipment of rich ore--assaying forty percent of anything--was found--arrived there were the usual knowing ones who were satisfied some mistake had been made; that the ore had been salted, etc. A short time, however, served to convince this class of their error, and each succeeding shipment proved that the first was genuine. The discovery was a surprise all around, and has induced an emigration to the west borders of Utah that will probably not be checked ere the snow falls. Admitting for a moment that the section has been over-rated--there is, as yet, no evidence in proof--the scratching it will prove of vast benefit, and must result in the development of some big mines. It is too early yet to predict the possibilities of Deep Creek, but it would seem safe to say they are almost boundless.

Stocks and Realty. Both seem to have been affected by the Deep Creek fever. Many realty brokers who, a year ago, would not even think of looking at a mine are turning their attention to the mining industry, and with good results. Sales have been light, although there have been symptoms of an improvement.

The Building Boom. The old-time landmarks continue to tumble about one's ears to make room for edifices of the present age, and those that will be a credit to the city for years to come. It is a shame, however, that there is not an ordinance forbidding the erection of such structures as are now going up on several prominent blocks.

Lead and Silver. Both metals have shown a downward tendency during the week. Lead opened at $14.25, and closed last evening at $14.15. Silver opened at $1.05, and last evening the figure was 97 1/2.

In the Sanpete Country. Recent assays from the Alexander, in the West Mountains, Sanpete county, shows 14.35 silver and some gold. S. A. Skinner and others interested in the property of such structures as are now going up on several prominent blocks.

The Castle Valley Coal Fields. Mr. B. F. Thornburg, one of those interested in the Castle Valley Coal company, whose fields are located about forty miles southwest of Price station, on the Rio Grande Western, has returned from an inspection of the property. Several tunnels have been run, and the farther they go the better the quality of the coal. The vein runs along the mountain side for a distance of half a mile, and can be reached by a hole of three or four feet at any point, there being merely a thin layer of dirt over the coal. The vein is from sixty to seventy feet in thickness, and is said by those who have tested it to be the best coal ever yet mined in Utah.

The Shamrock. An immense ledge of low grade ore was struck this week in the Shamrock. At a depth of thirty-five feet a drift was run and when forty feet from the shaft the ore was encountered. Another drift will be run from a greater depth and when the ledge is again tapped they expect to have shipping ore. Such reports as these are very encouraging to the north country claim owners.

The Monte-Christo. Quite an excitement was caused this week when it was learned that a sample from the Monte Christo, in the Homansville country, brought in by Messrs. Schwartz and Burk and assayed by Hansauer & Hird, had gone 639.97 ounces silver and $2 in gold. As no mineral has been discovered in this section heretofore, it is, however, who is not interested in the property, assures us that he dug the specimen out himself and that the vein is five or six feet wide. This will stimulate prospecting in that vicinity and other discoveries may be made soon. Verily, 'tis better to be born lucky than rich.--Chief.

Centennial-Eureka. The recent assessment of 50c., amounting to $15,000, has been paid.

RICH CASTLE VALLEY COAL FIELDS

Big Strike in the Red Rose at Tintic--Rich Ore From Nanpete--General News of Our Mines.

The money market in New York is quite undisturbed, though at all eastern markets there is more than usual disposition to loan on call rather than on time, and at Boston there is considerable stringency. Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are easy, but at Cleveland there is some pressure, Cincinnati is a tight close, and at Chicago there is good demand at 6 per cent. At other western points generally the money markets are comparatively easy and at the south not materially changed. Collections are not, as a rule, quite satisfactory, owing to bad weather and bad country roads. But the treasury has again put out about $3,000,000 in a week more than it has taken in, and no signs appear of heavy gold exports as yet. The stock market decidedly improved most of the week, with good railroad earnings and the prospect of easy money, but has since grown weaker, though still averaging about $1.37 per share higher than a week ago. Probably the fear of important labor troubles has some influence, but the state of the great industries is just now altogether encouraging.

The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days, as reported to R. G. Dun & Co., number, for the United States, 211, and for Canada, 52, or a total of 263, as compared with a total of 242 last week, and 256 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 209, representing 176 failures in the United States, and 33 in the Dominion of Canada.

At the Banks. The ore and bullion shipments received by the various banks of the city for the week ending April 18, 1891, amounted to $117,175.00, as compared with $84,735.28 for the week previous. They were reported as follows:

By McCornick & Co.:
Hansauer bullion.....$ 3,225.00
Silver and lead ores..... 35,100.00
Total.....$ 38,325.00
By Wells, Fargo & Co.:
Bullion.....$ 38,151.00
Ores..... 11,149.00
Total.....$ 49,300.00
By T. B. Jones & Co.:
Selected lead.....$ 4,320.00
Ores..... 7,990.00
Bullion..... 10,530.00
Total.....$ 22,910.00
Total shipments for the week.....$ 117,175.00

NEWS FROM THE MINES.
Mr. Hansauer reported the week a fair one only. The reports from various camps are to the effect that bad roads still impede shipments to a remarkable degree for this time of the year.

The Allice. Twelve bars of bullion were received by the Union National during the week.

The Horn Silver. Several very large lots of Horn Silver ore came up and were disposed of during the week.

The Bullion-Beck. Everything is running smoothly, the embarrassment caused by the recent strike having been lost sight of.

The Eureka Hill. The usual output continues.
