The Holdens Adjudged Not Guilty of Contempt.

THE COON CASE IS UNDECIDED

It is a Matter of Public Importance and the Outcome is Awaited With Interest—Other Legal Light.

Judge Zane yesterday delivered his opinion in the contempt proceedings against the South Galena Mining company, Liberty E. Holden and Albert E. Holden. The matter grew out of the suit of The Live Pine Consolidated Mining Company vs. The South Galena, involving the title to valuable mining property situated in Bingham. Pending the trial of that case, an injunction was issued restraining the defendants from extracting any ore from the ground in dispute, except such as might be necessary, and in that case the ore extracted was to be stored to abide the decision of the court. The plaintiffs alleged that the defendants, in violation of the injunction and the stipulation under which certain work was allowed to be done, extracted from the disputed ground some four hundred and fifty tons of valuable ore, the greater part of which they sold. The defendants admitted that they had extracted something like half the amount of ore stated by the plaintiffs, and alleged that it was all taken out in order to maintain the dip and strike of the vein and prepare their case for trial, but claimed that there was no violation of the injunction. A considerable quantity of second-class ore was inadvertently mixed with other ore and shipped, but an equivalent amount of second-class ore was all the first class ore extracted had been stored to abide the decision of the court.

FOUR IN A FIX.

Trouble Among the Dnsky Occupants of a Tent.

A Jealous Husband Charges the Quartette with Adultery—One Couple Held to Answer.

For some days past a quartette of negroes, giving their names as Pat Strober, Annie Foster, Sarah Helton and Robert Moore, have been occupying a tent near the Utah and Nevada depot. On Tuesday the husband of the Helton woman went before Commissioner Greenman and swore out a complaint charging the whole outfit with adultery. Late on Tuesday night the deputy marshals went down and arrested the four occupants of the tent. Robert Moore and Sarah Helton had a preliminary examination before Commissioner Greenman yesterday afternoon and were held to await the action of the grand jury. In default of bonds, they were taken out to the penitentiary. The other pair will have an examination this morning.

Too Abrupt.

"Is Mr. Blank in?" he asked of the occupant of an office on Fort street west. "I am Mr. Blank," he promptly replied. The man looked him over, shifted about uneasily, and as he had nothing to say the other queried:

"What did you want?" "Well, sir—well?" "Is he in?" "He is not here."

"I'm interested, sir, and you must give me time."

"You asked for Blank. I am Blank. Now what is it?"

"Why, sir, I came in expecting to find you out and your clerk in, and I was going to sit down and talk with him and wait for an hour or so, when you came in and I was going to strike you—"

"For a quarter."

"Yes, sir; but owing to the sudden abruptness of this occasion, rather throwing me off my equilibrium, I—"

"Take a dime. Here it is."

"Thank you, sir. It's a great consolation in these awful times to find a man who can read human nature and appreciate an honest man."—Detroit Free Press.

He Was Glad to Hear It.

He had made an injudicious speculation in Wall street.

"Why, Henry?" she exclaimed, "whatever is the matter? You don't look like yourself at all!"

"I don't, eh?" he grunted savagely.

"Well, I'm glad to hear it. I'm very glad to hear it. Because, my dear, I'm a fool!"—American Gleaner.

One Man Pleased.

"You shouldn't run down your new house so. I heard a man talking about it today, and he simply raved about it—said it was magnificent."

A Breezy Grist From Fair Beaver City.

A BANK FOR MOUNT PLEASANT

Some of the Moves Now Being Made in the Interests of Progress in the South Country.

The Union Pacific has resumed the transportation of railroad construction material from Millford. Superintendent Charles Woolfenden, of Mansfield, Murdoch & Co. has gone to Salt Lake to make his usual spring selections of goods. The storm season still seems to linger, hardly a day passing without some sleet or heavy falling, which is just as quickly dissipated by the succeeding hours of sunshine. As a consequence all gardening operations in this section are exceedingly backward, and spring will emerge into summer before people are aware of it.

Mr. Charles Woolfenden, of Mansfield, Murdoch & Co. will shortly commence the erection of a handsome new residence on the bench on Court house street in this city. The design is by a northern architect and a great deal of the finer class of work on the job will be furnished by the Messrs. Adams & Sons company, Nephi.

WANTED HIS WIFE

The Racket Raised Over a Missing Spouse.

Failing to Find His Better Half, John Farmer Penetrates the Door of His Neighbor's House.

A man giving the name of John Farmer, who resides on North Temple street, between First and Second West, was arrested by Sergeant Glenn last evening for disturbing the peace. It seems that when Farmer went home he found his wife absent and went over to a neighbor's to find her. He was refused admittance, and he at once proceeded to kick in the door. After completing this job, he returned to his own house and relieved his feelings by smashing a lot of dishes.

Mount Pleasant Matters.

Mount Pleasant is to have a bank at once. David Cardand, of Chester, was seen on our streets to-day in a very excited mood.

Real estate matters are booming, so say our active agents.

Everything seems propitious for a bountiful harvest of every kind of fruit and grain.

Mr. Woolley, of the capital city, met with a number of the representative men yesterday.

A super-abundance of snow stored away in the mountains indicates a heavy yield of grain this season.

A large number of shade and fruit trees are being set out here this spring by our enterprising citizens.

For some time past Mr. Barton has been ailing with heart disease, and from which cause he expired so suddenly.

Mrs. Louisa Aldrich, a most estimable old lady, who saw hard times at Nauvoo, is seriously afflicted with dropsy.

C. H. Wheelock, an old veteran of the church, and a highly respected citizen, is somewhat indisposed at present. We hope to see him out again before many days.

The Latter-day Saints' seminary has closed for the summer vacation, Prof. Christensen has done an excellent work this winter in the seminary, and is worthy of the praise bestowed upon him for his invaluable services.

One of the most important structures to be erected at Mount Pleasant as soon as possible is a new tabernacle. A committee has been appointed to work it up, and plans will be received from some architect for the proposed building.

Our city fathers meet next Saturday evening to discuss putting in a system of waterworks and the building of a new city hall.
