

A PECULIAR SUICIDE

A Clerk, Whose Accounts Are Straight, Kills Himself.

GAMBLING DOWNS A POSTMASTER

Money Orders Paid for Poker Chips—An Attempt to Abolish Some Nuisances in Cheyenne.

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 6.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—Thad Bridges, a young man of this place, committed suicide at Ham's Fork yesterday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock by cutting his throat with a razor from ear to ear. Bridges was a young man 22 years of age, and had charge of Ed Burgoyne's store at the grade camp at Ham's Fork. No reason can be given for the rash act, as he was a sober, industrious and honorable young man, and had been in the employ of Mr. Burgoyne about five years, and was one of his most trusted clerks, and was greatly loved by his employer. His remains were brought to Montpelier this morning and were buried this afternoon. His remains were followed to the grave by fifty-eight relatives.

This sad affair has cast a gloom over the entire community, and the cause of the rash act will never be known until the grave delivers its dead. All his accounts were straight, and he had left slips in the day books to explain everything, and there is no question but he has contemplated the act for some time. Mr. Burgoyne has borne the entire expense of the funeral. His parents are prostrated with grief and they have the sympathy of the entire community.

A Crooked Postmaster.

Cheyenne, Wyo., July 6.—[Special telegram to THE HERALD.]—Gambling downed James E. Cowan, postmaster at Dixon, a Snake river settlement. Inspector Lawrence figured Cowan over $1,000 short on his money order department. A hearing was held and bail fixed at $1,500 and furnished. They say the postmaster was a man of sharp eyes and would buy poker chips with money orders.

A BRILLIANT SCENE

A Royal Wedding in St. George's Chapel, Windsor.

A QUEEN AND EMPEROR THERE

Princess Louise, of Schleswig-Holstein, United in Marriage to Prince Albert, of Anhalt—A Contest of Courtesy.

London, July 6.—The Emperor of Germany arose at an early hour this morning and after a light breakfast left Windsor castle on horseback, accompanied by the Duke of Connaught and staff, for a visit to Eton school. Three hundred and fifty students were drawn up in line to receive the Emperor. After inspecting them and watching their military evolutions, the Emperor spoke a few words of praise to the young soldiers.

Crowds of people from London and all parts began to flock to Windsor at an early hour this morning, determined to see something of the great event of the day—the marriage of Princess Louise to Schleswig-Holstein to Prince Albert of Anhalt. In view of the crush expected a force of about fifteen hundred policemen was sent from this city to Windsor and in addition the entire constabulary force of Windsor and its neighborhood were on duty.

Flags, bunting and banners were everywhere displayed.

Shortly after 4 o'clock, amid a scene of splendor and with the most imposing cortège, Princess Louise, second daughter of Prince and Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, was married to Prince Albert of Anhalt in the historic St. George's chapel, Windsor castle. Not since the marriage of the late Duke of Albany has the castle been crowded with so many distinguished people. The decorations of the chapel were grand in the extreme. The route of the procession down the castle steps was a magnificent one, and troops and at the castle a guard of honor, composed of the Life Guards and Scots Guards, were mounted at every available point.

The royal standard of Great Britain from the highest tower of the castle floated proudly over the whole, while here, there and everywhere the military and naval bands, and the music of the brass and the drums of the imperial or royal families, heralded by a resounding blast from the trumpets of the state trumpeters, whose crimson and gold uniforms were of most gorgeous appearance. At the chapel doors the wedding guests were received by the lord chamberlain, the Earl of Latham, who, at that moment, was little or not in their places about the altar. In front of the altar a dais was erected, covered with a blue velvet carpet, with the Order of the Garter on the right, and the Order of the Bath on the left. Upon this royal carpet were velvet and gold seats for members of the imperial and royal families.

The Emperor and Empress of Russia, who were followed by the Emperor and Empress of Germany, and the Emperor and Empress of Austria, were seated on the right of the altar. The Emperor and Empress of Prussia, who were seated on the left of the altar, were followed by the Emperor and Empress of Italy, and the Emperor and Empress of the Netherlands. The Emperor and Empress of the United States, who were seated on the right of the altar, were followed by the Emperor and Empress of the Kingdom of the Netherlands, and the Emperor and Empress of the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

AN EMPHATIC DENIAL

The President Says Blaine Has Not Resigned.

The Secretary's Health—Bar Harbor News Says He Is All Right—Washington News Says He Is All Wrong.

Chester, N. J., July 6.—President Harrison this afternoon emphatically denied that Secretary Blaine has resigned, a rumor to that effect having reached here to-day.

Charles Emory Smith, minister to Russia, called on the President to-day at the latter's request. His errand is not known. Nothing definite resulted from Mr. Wanamaker's conference on the postal subsidy.

Priestly's Carpet Factory Burned.

Philadelphia, July 6.—A fire this evening destroyed Priestly's carpet mill in Lawrence street, involving a loss of $100,000. Furlong & Co., who had machinery stored in the building, lost about $30,000, partially insured.

Blaine at Bar Harbor.

Bar Harbor, Me., July 6.—Secretary Blaine has been riding twice to-day. He may be stated on the best of authority that Mr. Blaine has neither Bright's disease, diabetes nor any other kind of kidney complaint. A marked improvement in his condition is noticeable. His physician says his patient is better to-day than any day heretofore; he eats well and exercises in all kinds of weather.

A Gun Disaster on the Warship Cordelia.

Stonewall, N. S. W., July 6.—The British warship Cordelia has just returned to this port after a disastrous trip to sea for practice with her big guns. The captain reported while firing one of the 6-inch breech loading guns, it exploded, killing Lieutenant Hillier, Lieutenant Gordon and four seamen and wounding three midshipmen and ten seamen.

Confessed to Being a Defaulter.

Albany, N. Y., July 6.—Charles H. Burton, secretary of the Burton and Cory Cider and Vinegar Manufacturing company, confessed to being a defaulter to the amount of $30,000. It is feared the amount made reach $50,000.

The President Announces Hamlin's Death.

Washington, July 6.—President Harrison to-night authorized the following official announcement of the death of Vice-President Hamlin: "To the people of the United States: The President with a profound feeling of sorrow, announces the death of Hannibal Hamlin, at one time Vice-President of the United States, who died at Bangor, Maine, Saturday, July 4. Few men in this country have filled more important and more distinguished public positions than Mr. Hamlin, and in recognition of his many eminent and varied services, and as an expression of the great respect and reverence felt for his memory, it is ordered that the national flag shall be displayed at half mast upon the public buildings of the United States on the day of his funeral."

A CYCLONE'S WORK

Houses Unroofed and Property Destroyed in Baton Rouge.

THE PENITENTIARY IN RUINS

Many Prisoners Were Killed and Injured—A Fire Alarm Sounded—The Storm Demolishes a Steamboat.

Baton Rouge, La., July 6.—A cyclone passed over the lower portion of the town this morning unroofing houses, tearing up immense trees and carrying pieces of the wreck through the air for many blocks. The boulevard is littered with trees that were torn up by the wind, and pieces of house top and other timbers. The penitentiary walls were blown down, ten persons killed and thirty wounded; the factory building is demolished and the hospital and penitentiary are a mass of ruins. The steamship Smoky City was blown to pieces, there being nothing left but the hull. Several of the crew were badly injured. In the city no one was killed though several were seriously injured. The following is a list of those killed at the penitentiary:

Witnesses of the Electric Executions.

SING SING, July 6.—Several witnesses arrived this evening. Dr. Southwick, of Buffalo; Dr. Alphonso Rockwell, of New York; Dr. Daniels, of Buffalo; Warden Durston, of Auburn; Dr. Carlos McDonald, of the state board of lunacy; Prof. Ludvig, of Columbia college; E. A. Davis, of New York; E. A. Brown, prison purchasing agent; Dr. Ward, Dr. Townsend and a Rochester physician are all at the prison. Father Croghan, when going home said he would not return, as he had been so badly injured. Several of the witnesses stated definitely the execution would not take place before 9 o'clock in the morning. There are three or four witnesses to arrive, but they are expected by late trains. Every one of the witnesses here, except Dr. McDonald and Warden Durston, decline to talk, claiming they would not return, as they had been so badly injured. Father Croghan and Assistant Father Hogan will accompany Wood and Slocum to the execution chamber. Deputy Attorney-General, Egan, and two priests attend the prison about 9:40 p. m.

ERST POSSART COMING TO AMERICA.

Berlin, July 6.—Stuart Robson's manager has engaged Ernst Possart for an American tour in 1892-93 for $75,000.

Moritz Haupt, the German organ composer, is dead.

Joseph W. Parker Assigns.

Boston, July 7.—Joseph W. Parker, merchant tailor, assigned to-day, liabilities $65,000, nominal assets are said to be slightly in excess of that sum.

A Revolution in Hayt Impending.

New York, July 6.—The Atlas line steamer Alvena, which has arrived here from Jamaica and other West Indian ports, brings some interesting Haytian news. The Alvena left Jamaica June 20, and there were no signs of any revolution, but the public would soon be the scene of another bloody rebellion. So strong is the opposition to Hippolyte that an outbreak is apt to occur at any moment. Many rumors are so fearful of impending insurrection that they are leaving in all haste. There have been no executions by Hippolyte's soldiers since the killing of six men some time ago.

The Newark Singsong.

Newark, N. J., July 6.—Four thousand singers rehearsed at this morning's meeting of the Singsong. This afternoon was taken up by prize singing. To-night a grand concert was given.

A FEMALE DUELIST

An American Beauty Challenges a French Baron.

Miss Stevenson Resents the Slighting Remarks of Baron Saint Croix and Desires to Exchange Shots With Him.

Paris, July 6.—Miss Stevenson, a well-known American beauty, who is now here, has started a duel with a challenging Baron Saint Croix to a duel with pistols. There was no mistake about the serious nature of the challenge either. The baron had insulted her by a certain levity of speech and the lady determined to make an example of him. It had become too much the fashion for men of title to imagine that every American woman was hunting for the position of mistress, and she was determined to make an example of him. It had become too much the fashion for men of title to imagine that every American woman was hunting for the position of mistress, and she was determined to make an example of him.

Constables Killed by Indians.

Bakersfield, Cal., July 6.—Friday last Constables John Powers and Sam Gunn, with Mr. McCoy, a lively man of Lemore, went out in Mojave desert near Coyote holes to arrest Indians charged with firing shotguns. A fight ensued, and Powers and McCoy were killed, also two Indians. The bodies of the constables were found in the sand; the body of Powers was found with his throat cut from ear to ear; the body of McCoy was found with his face in threads. Powers was a single man; McCoy leaves a wife and six children.

World's Fair Appointments.

Washington, July 6.—Acting Secretary Nettleton has received a letter from Director General Davis, of the World's Fair exposition, announcing the following gentlemen were selected to visit Europe in the interests of the excursion: A. G. Bullock, Massachusetts; W. J. McCarty, Kentucky; Pech Chichou, Benjamin Butterworth, Ohio; and M. P. Handy, Pennsylvania. The last named gentleman has been selected as disbursing officer.

Romero Says No Revolt Is Likely.

Washington, July 6.—Senator Romero, Mexican minister, when shown the San Francisco dispatch to the effect that Mexico was ripe for a revolt against the government of President Diaz, said the telegram was absolutely untrue.

Drought in Indiana.

Jeffersonville, Ind., July 6.—The drought is becoming serious, the grass is like tinder and constant alarms of fire keep the farmers along the railroads busy partly saving their wheat. Several wheat crops have already been destroyed.

Bank Examiner Drew Dismissed.

New York, July 7.—A Washington special says: The comptroller of the currency to-day sent a letter to Bank Examiner Drew, of Philadelphia, dismissing him from service, the department having lost confidence in him.

Lacey's Correspondence With Drew.

Washington, July 6.—The correspondence relative to the dismissal of Bank Examiner Drew was made public to-day. June 29, Comptroller Lacey wrote to Drew calling his attention to the fact that in his report of January 25, as to the condition of the Keystone bank, Drew had omitted completely to mention the indebtedness of the bank to the clearing house of $44,581 for which notes and bills amounting to $720,000 were pledged as security.

Drew, under date of June 30, responded that his failure to mention this amount was clearly an accident. He did not include it in his regular report, intending to make it the subject of a special note.

The correspondence touches on other points and ends with a letter to Drew from Comptroller Lacey, under date of July 3, informing the examiner that so important an omission after fifteen days' examination of the bank is not consistent with the confidence which must be reposed by the department in the reports of examiners, and calling for Drew's resignation.

Bank Examiner Shepard, of Pittsburgh, and Bank Examiner Lacey, of Philadelphia, will conduct the affairs of the Philadelphia office until Drew's successor is appointed.

RUSSIA AND THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Constantinople, July 6.—The World's fair committee has instructed the Turkish minister at Washington to report on the best means to secure for Turkey and to make representation at the Chicago exposition.

Rev. C. Spurgeon's Condition.

London, July 6.—Rev. Charles Spurgeon passed a restless and critical night; physicians are in constant attendance upon him.

Many persons called on Gladstone to condole with him upon the death of his son. Among the callers were United States Minister and Mrs. Lincoln. The funeral will take place Wednesday at Haverland.

Cherokee Strip Home Seekers Convention.

Arkansas City, Kas., July 6.—Preparations are now complete for a gigantic convention of home seekers in this city next Saturday. The presence of over one hundred thousand cattle on the Cherokee strip has aroused the people and they feel they are ever to get homes in that land, they must act. Jerry Simpson, Senator of Kansas, Charles May, and other prominent men have been promised to be present and make addresses.

Silver Purchases.

Washington, July 6.—Six hundred and thirty-five thousand ounces of silver were purchased to-day at prices ranging from 1.0135 to 1.0149.

A SOCIAL TRIUMPH.

Mrs. Mackay's Dinner That Put Mrs. Bonynges' in the Shade.

It Was Undoubtedly the Most Superb Entertainment Ever Given by an American in London.

[Special to THE HERALD—Examiner Dispatch.]

New York, July 6.—A Sun cable says: Mrs. John W. Mackay scored another social triumph Friday evening which quite put out of sight Mrs. Bonynges' recent dinner with two continental princes at her home. Mrs. Mackay's entertainment was beyond doubt the most superb ever given by an American in London, and there was first a dinner at which were present H. H. Teck, the Duke of Teck, the Princess Victoria of Teck, Maria, marchioness of Silesburg, United States Minister and Mrs. Lincoln, Miss Lincoln, Lord and Lady Arthur Butler, the Earl of Kenmar, Lady Jersey, Countess of Romney; Ben Dupuy, Thomas Kelly, of New York, a son of the banker Eugene Kelly; William Gillette, Miss Edith Green, Miss Green, Mrs. Hungerford, Mrs. Mackay's mother; Sir Charles Wyke and Mr. J. W. Mackay, jr.

The dinner table was decked with orchids. After dinner, there was a concert by Miss Eames, Miss Richard Maurel and Johannes Wolf and Coquelin, cadet. Mme. Reichburg gave monologues and also two charming comedies, "Leveillé" and "Leveillé de Marie-Louise." After the dinner still more royally came in the person of Princess Louise, marchioness of Lorne, who was attended by Lord and Lady Bunsby, the Duke and the Marquis of Lorne and the Prince and Princess Edward of Saxe-Weimar. The Prince and Princess of Monaco also had their own table, and a number of Americans who had been fortunate enough to be included among the 250 who were asked. Fully one thousand requests for invitations from the smartest English set were refused.

Mrs. Mackay gave a general party a week ago when everyone was asked, but at this one she had to restrict as well as the many invitations left out. Among the Americans who shone resplendent were Mrs. Bradley Martin, ablaze with diamonds; Mrs. Dudley Wright, formerly Miss Helen Rockwith; Lady Fairfax, Hon. Mrs. Carington, Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts, Mrs. Reynolds, Miss Jessie Fellows, Mrs. Beach Grant, Miss Adèle Grant and her young sister, Miss Edith Grant, who is one of the greatest beauties in the American set, Mrs. Charles Maule Ramsay and Mr. McCormick. At the conclusion of the concert young Sir Mackay escorted the Princess Louise to the dining room, where supper was served at small tables. The Duke of Teck took Mrs. Mackay to supper. Mrs. Marshall O. Roberts was the only other American at this royal table.

Blaine's Health Again.

[Special to THE HERALD—Examiner Dispatch.]

New York, July 6.—A World special, Washington, says private advices from the family to friends in this city with regard to Mr. Blaine's health, indicate the secretary is in a precarious condition. Mr. Blaine's friends have been very apprehensive since he left here for his true condition while in New York. He was under estimated, and that while he was confined to his room in that city he was a very sick man. Mr. Blaine's family have always maintained the utmost secrecy whenever the secretary has been indisposed. On several occasions when Mr. Blaine was confined to his house in this city and required to the daily attendance of physicians, visitors was informed that the secretary was in good health and was simply resting after the studious labors of the state department. On one occasion indeed, Mr. Blaine was said by the servants at his house on Lafayette place to be out riding, when, as a matter of fact, he was confined to his bed with Dr. McGruder, his family physician, calling twice. Mr. Blaine's friends have not cared to talk about his illness, but among themselves they do not hesitate to say he is far too sick to resume the active management of the state department within the next six months. Exactly what ailment he is afflicted with no one seems to know. He appears to be suffering from over work, but his friends doubt much more than that. His condition was never better. They scout the idea that his mind is not so bright and as vigorous as it has ever been. Those who know Mr. Blaine best are of the opinion that the political situation here are confident that the secretary's resignation cannot long be delayed. They feel sure he will leave the department by the first of next year. By that time the present negotiations looking to the ratification of reciprocity treaties with several South American republics, including Mexico, Venezuela and San Domingo will have been completed. Speculation is again rife as to who may be Mr. Blaine's successor in the event of his withdrawal from the state department. Everything now points toward the choice of Senator Sherman. There are reasons for and against the selection of the Ohio Senator, but he seems to be by far the most available man.

Nationalist Procession in Dublin.

Dublin, July 6.—Ten thousand Nationalists marched in procession from Castle Martyr to Kilbeggan and unveiled the memorial cross on the grave of Timothy Daly, the Fenian martyr.

Several fights occurred in Carlow yesterday between Paralytics and anti-Paralytics. Several persons were injured.

FOUR ELECTROCUTED

Slocum, Wood, Simler and Jugro Put to Death.

DETAILS OF THE EXECUTION

They Are Not Given to the Public—The Attorneys' Efforts Were in Vain—Killed by Indians.

SING SING, N. Y., July 7, 5 a. m.—An extra just out has this: James J. Slocum, Joseph Wood, Harris A. Simler and Schlimm Jugro were killed by electricity, in conformity with the legal decree, in prison this morning, in the execution of the crimes they had committed. Only the prison officials, scientific experts and witnesses especially summoned were present. Simler was the second electrocuted, at 5:15 a. m. Warden Brown said at midnight unless some papers were served on him he would execute four of the men. The warden said no one but himself knew the names of not even the condemned men. The general opinion at midnight is that the execution will occur after 4 p. m. The warden said: "The men are all dead. It was just down to see them. They are very quiet but they evidently know something is coming."

Father Croghan and Father Lynch were in prison at midnight in the execution of the prison captain. They will be with the condemned at an early hour; some time before the hour set for the execution. They will probably be the first to know what the hour is. It is not improbable that the hour will be the hour, though the general impression is it will be nearer sunrise. R. J. Haire, attorney at law, arrived in Sing Sing at 12 o'clock and at 1 o'clock he had a certified copy of a petition for a habeas corpus filed by him with Judge Laocum.

After conferring with the warden Lawyer Haire left the prison. It is believed he went after a notary for the purpose of swearing to some paper to be filed with the court in support of his claim for a stay. Marie returned later bringing a copy of Wallace's reports containing the decision in which he bases the claim that the filing of his petition acts as a stay in the Wood case.

2:30 a. m.—Breakfast is being prepared in the warden's house for witnesses. Lawyer Haire came out of the prison a few minutes ago and said he had a long interview with the warden, the result of which he did not know. When asked if he had any hope of Wood's reprieve he said he did not know what to expect.

Mormon Missionaries for Europe.

New York, July 6.—Eighteen Mormon missionaries have sailed here for Liverpool. They will visit England, Ireland, Scotland and Germany, preaching in small towns. They will remain about two years.

THE FOURTH AT PAYSON.

Prof. Paul and Chief Justice Zane Present—A Fine Programme—Notes.

The guns were fired at daybreak and sunrise and the Champion silver band, under the able G. H. Donah, directed the sweet melodic music. At 8:00 the bells of all churches were rung for the people to get ready for the procession. At 9 a. m. the procession started from Mayor Lemmon's residence to Second ward school-house, thence counter march to the City park where the following programme was finely rendered:

An overture, silver band.
Prayer by Chaplain A. C. Todd.
Selection of hymns of fifty voices.
Address of welcome by Mayor Lemmon.
Music, silver band.
Oration, Prof. Paul.
The band and fifty voices.
Violin solo by Mr. Myr Brimhall (Mr. Mc-Clellan pianist).
"Star Spangled Banner" by Miss Snyder (accompanied by choir and piano).
Address by Chief Justice Zane.
Miss Snyder now sang in a most excellent manner, "The Little Log Hut," which brought immense applause to which she answered with a Scotch song.
Then the marshal announced games and amusements in the park at 2 o'clock p. m.
The band then played a selection and the crowd dispersed.

RECEPTION AT HOTEL FRANCIS.

The distinguished guests were taken to the Hotel Francis where an excellent dinner was served. The Goddess of Liberty also partook of the repast served by Mr. Francis of the city of fifty voices.

Many visitors were present which crowded the hotel. An overcrowded ball at Hancock's hall in the evening closed the day's sports. Brimhall's excellent band furnished the music.

NOTES.

Miss Snyder is a grand soloist. Her voice charmed the people of Payson. The "Bal Bogey," sang by her is a difficult selection and the accompaniment was too perfect for the accomplished young ladies who were entertained while here
