Thomas Approves the Anti-Polygamy Bill

FERRY AS A GREAT HUMORIST

The Bounty Bill Made the Special Order for Tuesday Next—Building Associations Must Pay Taxes.

The Council had another short session yesterday, and but little business was transacted. The governor announced that he had approved and filed with the secretary the bill prohibiting the practice of polygamy and kindred offenses in the territory of Utah. Baskin introduced a bill that will be watched with a good deal of interest, as it provides for the refunding of the special school tax collected under the act of March, 1890.

The bill providing for the payment of bounties on certain manufactures was made the special order for Tuesday. It will undoubtedly be defeated.

The bill exempting the deposits of building and loan associations from taxation was killed by a vote of 7 to 8—the speaker voting in the affirmative. Had the friends of the measure looked after it more closely, it could easily have been passed.

The Council.

The proceedings of the Council, after prayer by the chaplain, were begun with a message from the governor informing the Council that he had approved C. F. No. 1, to punish polygamy, and that he had also signed the same with the secretary of the territory, which was received and placed on the agenda.

By Lund—Signed by 121 citizens of Kane county praying for an appropriation for $5,000 to be applied upon the highways of that county, which was referred to the committee on highways.

By Baskin—A communication from Toole county regarding arrangements in teachers salaries. Referred to the committee on education.

By Evans—From the chamber of commerce asking for an appropriation sufficient to establish a chair of agriculture in the Agricultural College. Which was referred to the committee on university.

By Lund—A communication from A. W. Travis, assessor and collector of Washington county, asking for an appropriation of $3,000 for the collection of taxes. Referred to the committee on ways and means.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES. From the Committee on University—Report back C. J. M. No. 4, accepting the conditions of the acts of Congress pertaining to grants of public lands for the University, recommending its passage. Adopted and filed for second reading.

From the Committee on Memorial—Reporting back C. J. M. No. 4, relating to use of industrial home for deaf mutes, recommending its passage. Adopted and filed for second reading.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS. By Baskin—A bill authorizing the refunding of the special school tax collected under the act of March, 1890. Referred to committee on ways and means.

By Evans—A bill to more effectively prevent cruelty to animals. Referred to committee on judiciary.

By Evans—To amend Section 408 of the compiled laws of Utah, relating to probate courts. Referred to committee on judiciary.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE HOUSE. A communication was received from the House returning C. F. No. 3, relating to the inauguration and government of metropolitan cities, with amendments and retaining the same for further action. After reading with the amendments a conference committee was then, on motion of Evans, requested and the chair appointed Messrs. Peters and Higgins as such committee.

Also a communication that the House had considered C. J. M. No. 3, relating to Home Rule for Utah and the same was referred to the committee on live stock.

That H. F. No. 15, relating to the suppression of contagious and infectious diseases among domestic animals, and passed the same which was referred to the committee on live stock.

That H. F. No. 17, regarding the practice of dentistry, had been passed, and the same was referred to committee on public health.

Consideration was then given to the bill to amend Section 408 of the compiled laws of Utah, relating to probate courts, which was referred to committee on judiciary.

C. J. M. No. 3 was read a second time, and under a suspension of the rules a third time, and then made a special order for Monday.

C. J. M. No. 4 was read a second time and filed for third reading.

THIRD READING OF BILLS. C. F. No. 3, providing for the payment of jurors, witnesses and photographic reporters, and creating and defining the office of coroner, commissioners, was read a third time. The bill was partially read on motion of Mr. Evans further reading was suspended, and the bill made the special order for Wednesday.

And then at 3:25 the Council adjourned.

The House. The Liberal members were all in their places yesterday when the speaker's "The House will come to order" resounded through the hall—a little hoarse, perhaps, for the rattle-darrie of the previous evening at the Liberal convention, but still able to follow the reading of the minutes, which were amended by Ferry and then adopted.

FROM THE EX-TREASURER. James Zuck, ex-territorial treasurer, asked that a committee be appointed to examine his accounts for 1891 and 1892, as the committee appointed by the last legislature had not finished that work. Referred to the special committee—Lawrence and Stokely.

"STOGEY." The governor returned H. F. 31, with certain recommendations. The communication and the bill were referred to the committee on judiciary.

TERRITORY OFFICE. H. F. No. 15 (substitute), fixing the time of elections and the tenure of office, was reported back from the committee, with the recommendation that it be put upon its passage. Adopted.

H. F. No. 17, in relation to mining records, was reported back with the recommendation that it be put upon its passage. Adopted.

NOT ENTERED. H. F. 35, amending section 216 of the compiled laws of Utah, which was reported without recommendation, as it could not be under consideration on account of the absence of the committee on education.

ON EDUCATION. The committee on education reported on H. F. 35, a bill authorizing the sale of certain lands for the benefit of the University of Utah, recommending its passage. Adopted.

RECORDING LIVE STOCK. The committee on live stock recommended that H. F. 30, in relation to the herding of live stock, be put upon its passage as amended. The amendment recommending the herding of sheep within one mile of any stream of water used for domestic purposes.

ADULTERATED FOOD. The intention of H. F. 31, to prevent the adulteration of articles of food, and the sale thereof when adulterated. Referred.

CATTLE AND SHEEP. Marshall introduced H. F. 71, forbidding the herding or driving of cattle and sheep on any highway within two miles of any city of the first class or metropolitan city.

FERRY'S LITTLE JOKE. Ferry perpetrated the joke of the session and stamped himself as a humorist akin to Bill Nye by introducing as H. F. No. 1, the preamble and resolutions adopted at the Liberal bear garden of the evening previous. As the previous document was being read, he leaned back in his chair in a most complacent manner, as though he had no doubt that the batch of misapprehensions contained therein would be adopted at once and forwarded to Congress. No one paid attention to the clerk as he waded through the mess.

Ferry asked that it be referred to the committee on memorials.

Arnett moved that the document be referred to John Whitlock, of Nephi, for correction.

Speaker—I second that motion. (Laughter and applause.)

Arnett moved that the document be referred to its entirety and that it be placed upon the records in any manner, shape or form. Adopted.

NO SESSION ON MONDAY. Ferry moved that when the House adjourn

WORSE THAN OLSON

The Liberals Nominate John Lawson for the Council.

He is the Man Who Renounced His Nationality, Changed His Name and is Now on the Liberal Ticket.

"We downed McNeice." "The church people got left in." "The preacher is a not in it."

These were the remarks exchanged by the delegates to the first precinct Liberal convention held in the federal courtroom last night to select a candidate for the city council to succeed Olson, deceased.

Now Olson did not reflect any credit upon the Scandinavians, whose representative he was supposed to be, but the man selected to succeed him is an insult to that sturdy race. His ancestors went by the name of Larsen, an honored name in Scandinavia, but on coming here, this fellow Anglicized his name to Olson, the sort of a man he may be judged from the testimony given by Mrs. Vall, wife of Engineer Vall, who was at the fire department, when he was on trial for perjury.

Well, these delegates met in the court room, and after sitting around for some time, Jassey Greenwald, a member of the committee, moved to read Olson's letter of resignation, as written by Judge Powers. He then called A. L. Williams to the chair.

ALL TOOK A SMOKE and waited for somebody to take the initiative. As no one did it, they divided up into groups and canceled. At about 8:30 Judge Sawyer moved that the resignation of Olson be accepted. A number of men in the rear of the room rose and said "No" but the motion was carried just the same.

Then nominations were called for, and Arnett called for a ballot. It was requested to present the name of J. D. Updegraff, against whom no one could vote, and the name of John Lawson, a moral man, and he would add dignity to the city government.

P. H. Harris considered that the dropping of Olson was an outrage, but as that gentleman had renounced his name A. S. Kendall to succeed him in the council.

THE MAN ASHAMED OF HIS NATIONALITY. Judge Harris presented the name of John L. Lawson, and one Corcoran and A. E. Schmidt.

Then the names of Lawson, Greenwald, and Corcoran were called, and the balloting was proceeded with. There were eighty delegates present, consequently the first ballot resulted as follows:

Greenwald..... 12
Updegraff..... 12
Lawson..... 12
Corcoran..... 12
Schmidt..... 12

When this ballot was announced, Judge Greenwald rose and said that while he was thankful for the confidence reposed in him as shown by the ballot (which he wished to withdraw), he would not vote for Lawson.

The third ballot was proceeded with, and resulted as follows:

Updegraff..... 23
Lawson..... 23
Corcoran..... 23
Schmidt..... 23

Colonel Leach withdrew the name of Mr. Wiscomb, and the fourth ballot was taken, the result being as follows:

Updegraff..... 33
Lawson..... 33
Corcoran..... 33
Schmidt..... 33

"No choice" was the chairman's "Preparatory for the fifth ballot."

The Lawson men led jubilant, while Kendall's men were disappointed. They didn't get them, and so switched, the result of the ballot being:

Updegraff..... 39
Lawson..... 42
Corcoran..... 42
Schmidt..... 42

This nominated Lawson with one spare, and the chairman ordered the name of Lawson be made unanimous. The motion was carried, and the convention adjourned at 10 o'clock.

AMUSEMENTS. "THE GONNOLIER." Despite the monster counter attraction at the Walker pavilion in the Democratic mass meeting, Carleton's second night at the theatre drew a very large and representative audience.

Gilbert and Sullivan's works have been so much admired in Salt Lake that curiosity to see their latest production, "The Gondolier," was so great before their celebrated falling out—was probably the main motive that brought the audience to the theatre.

After the first act, the audience was disappointed in the failure of the opera—the libretto of the composer were so weak that the fault was Gilbert's, for though Sullivan's music is so good, it still contains one daily and reliable number. Whereas Gilbert's is far and away the best, his music is so good that it is a pity that it is so weak.

There is a good deal of drooping, languid and Anglicized music in the "Gondolier," and some of the discussions and distinctions found in it are too trivial and fly away over the heads of the audience.

"The Gondolier" is a very good opera, and is well worth a visit to the theatre. The music is good, and the acting is excellent. The libretto is weak, but the music is so good that it is a pity that it is so weak.

WONDERLAND. This is to be a big day for all the children who go to Wonderland. The chance to see the curious Mr. and Mrs. Christy, the two-headed woman who sings in two voices at one time, who dances and plays on two pianos at one time, may never be accorded again.

Improvements in Dixon. Work on the Canal in Progress and a Room in St. George is On.

The people of Dixie are neither dead nor sleeping, but are pushing to completion their gigantic canal by which over 3,000 acres of good farming land will be reclaimed and made to "blossom as the rose."

Councilor R. C. Lund yesterday received word from St. George that the citizens had just put in a large force of men and teams to work and water will soon be running in the canal.

Two years ago the unprecedented floods in the Rio Virgin, carried out all dams along the river, among them the little dam of the Washington field, the main dependence of the citizens of St. George and Washington. This severe deluge has nearly proved a disaster to the dam, and it is now in a most precarious condition.

Weight & Sperry, who have been located at Third South, removed here to their new store, corner First West and Fifth South, and will be glad to see all old customers and many new ones.

D. P. BENSON SUES THE COUNTY. He Wants $1,950 for Work Done on the New Poor House—Breach of Contract—Probate Proceedings.

Domineck P. Benson, Jeremiah Irwin and Henry J. Hase yesterday brought suit in the Third district court against Salt Lake county. In the complaint the plaintiffs allege that in August 1891, they entered into a contract with Mr. Benson to construct a county poor house, under certain plans and specifications and to pay him therefor the sum of $4,000; that at once upon making the contract Benson continued the erection of the building under the direction of Reif & Rhoad, the architect, and after various parts of the work had been constructed the county court ordered Benson to take them down and rebuild, which he did at a cost of $200; that after rebuilding portions of the building the defendant refused to further comply with his contract and work was abandoned.

THE PUBLIC PULSE.

Communications under this head are published on all proper subjects at the responsibility of the contributors.

The Practice of Medicine. My opinion of late date has evidently been the entering wedge for a newspaper discussion on "Bills to regulate the practice of Medicine."

For this reason I desire to present an explanation of my position on this subject that I may be understood by the many who are interested in the ground was taken that a board of examiners composed of a majority (or as a whole) of allopathic physicians constituted legal legislation and it is still maintained that position.

Similar laws have lately been appointed by the several states as to the regulation of public health and by Florida, and are now in harmonious action, although brought about by the action of the legislature, and the usual form of law, placing the balance in their own hands.

HYPNOTISM. A Genuine Case of the Mysterious Power Developed.

A genuine case of hypnotism occurred in the city yesterday, the victims being a German lady and her daughter, who reside in the eastern part of the city.

At about 2 o'clock, a couple of women who were apparently Gypsies, called at the house and found the ladies in the kitchen preparing dinner. The visitors wanted to tell the fortune of the lady of the house, who may be seen in the street, but the ladies declined.

"Now," said the Gypsy, "You must let me tell your fortune. It will cost but $1." "Right," replied the lady, "I will spend such nonsense," replied Mrs. Muller.

"You have money, though," said the stranger, "I will tell you that."

Involuntarily, Mrs. Muller's eyes turned to the mantle piece, on which was a little box containing a number of coins and some articles of jewelry. The quick-witted Gypsy followed her gaze and interrupted it correctly.

"You must let me tell your fortune. It will cost but $1." "Right," replied the lady, "I will spend such nonsense," replied Mrs. Muller.

"You have money, though," said the stranger, "I will tell you that."
