Crisp and Condensed News of General Interest and Import.

Go east via the Santa Fe route. Only three weeks left for legislative work. Grand opera matinee at 2:30 today. Last performance of "Superba" to-night. Successive bands in all the latest styles at Barton & Co's. See Barton & Co's window: $1.00 and 75-cent ties for 50 cents. Social and theatrical attractions have been a drawing card this week. Opening spring suits daily: call early and get your first choice. Barton & Co. The Eighth quarter of revenues will meet at Social Hall to-day at 10 o'clock. Income in the Home Fire of Utah. H. J. Grant & Co. agents, with State bank. The Seventh ward drum corps, the little ones, gave a dance last night in Social Hall. Provo wooler goods are the thing for cold weather. You get them at Cutler's, 35 Main. The public pulse will beat easier when our $500,000 public building begins to rise—skyward. Mayor Baskin and Colonel Lett swapped congratulations in the legislative Council yesterday. The London for which has been prevalent for the past few days has produced a few winded coins. The Phoenix club party at the G. A. R. hall to-night will sustain the reputation the club has already acquired. MORE people are talking of Salt Lake than are worrying over the acts of Congress regarding state matters. The metropolitan and election bills are expected to be in shape within a day or two for the governor to peruse. There are messages at the Western Union telegraph office: W. C. Ball, H. C. Parker, E. F. Hall, James Miller. WASHINGTON'S birthday will be celebrated next Monday by the G. A. R., strange and incongruous as it may seem. THE Santa Fe route runs the finest solid vestibule trains in the world between Denver and Chicago. No change of cars. No extra charges. CITIZEN STANTON yesterday issued a license to wed to J. J. Graham, aged fifty-three, and Mary E. Young, aged forty. New wall papers and complete decorations for the present season are now to be found in the show windows of Z. C. M. I. The show windows of Z. C. M. I. are devoted to the latest styles of carpets, moquette, rugs and mats to match. Come and see them. This morning the Seventh ward school will give an exhibition in the school room, consisting of declamations, music and recitations. The dining cars and eating houses on the Santa Fe route are famous for the world over for the fine meals furnished to patrons of the line. If you want to know what are the new curtain fabrics, trimmings, fringes and stipes, inspect the show windows of Z. C. M. I. and be informed. Jim GILBERT, the best looking real estate man in town, will make Salt Lake town look like diamonds. A FEW copies of THE CHRISTMAS HERALD remain on hand. They are in wraps and will be sent to any address in the world without extra charge for postage. Scott's lawyers and Trust company loan ornamental auxiliary banks for homes, interest 5 per cent. Wilford Woodruff, president; George G. Cannon, vice president. ALL the good-hearted school teachers will let the children of early to-day to attend the matinee of "superba," the great spectacular pantomime performance, at 2:30 to-day. General reporter, E. G. Ivins, is reported as being no better. Many anxious inquiries have been received during the day concerning his condition. We hope to have more favorable news in another day for his solicitous friends. SINCE the publication in THE HERALD of Dr. A. E. Groves' lecture on the Keeley treatment, that gentleman has had several calls, especially from churches, and temperance societies, to speak before them on the question of "Cure for Intemperance." The friends of William Orrick, who killed Daniel Stevens at Millard, Utah, in 1884, and was sentenced by Judge Horneum, are circulating a petition among the churches to pardon him on the grounds of old age and good behavior. THE Press club committee on constitution and by-laws and on rooms reported progress at their meeting yesterday. It is hoped that all members and all who are entitled to and want to join will meet in the parlors of the Metropolitan at 7:30 p. m. next Sunday. MR. HENRY DE GAY, of the Morris marble yards, presented the Young Men's Christian association with a small marble cross worked with oak leaves and glided. This, with some appropriate motto, will be hung in and will greatly ornament the members' parlor. THE World's fair committee held an informal meeting last evening. The members dined at the Continental, and then adjourned to the offices of Governor Thomas. The proceedings were of a purely informal character and a regular meeting will be called for some evening next week. OBSERVER SALESBERG's report for yesterday's temperature is as follows: At 8:30 a. m. Salt Lake, 25; Baker City, 24; Cheyenne, 24; Denver, 25; Helena, 20; Miles City, 19; Montrose, 22. At 1 p. m.—Salt Lake, 28; Brigham, 11; Ogden, 21; Logan, 25; Park City, 20; Provo, 20; Richfield, 27. HAMB JACOBSON will deliver over again to-night, by request, his lecture on Cardinal Manning. The musical programme at the synagogue will be worth going a long way to hear. It embraces selections by Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Stange, Miss Leonard, Mr. Goodard, Mr. Burleigh and the organ is in charge of Prof. Radcliffe. IN the index to THE HERALD yesterday the death of Mr. William King, father of the president of the Council, was attributed to an operation performed on him at the Dever hospital, when indeed no operation had been made. He died from debility caused by an old wound, as reported in the news part of this paper in the same issue. THE students of the Salt Lake Mining academy will have an excursion to the mining mills and coal smelters of the valley under Prof. Hirschberg's supervision next Saturday, February 20. All former graduates and students of the institute are cordially invited to

THE SWEET SCENTED JOB OF IT Fined Only $50 by Commissioner Greenman for Fatally Assaulting Officer Election Rulon S. Wells.

One of the neatest cases of whitewashing and grossest outrages within the city's history occurred in Commissioner Greenman's court yesterday when D. A. Sullivan, the slugger who made a brutal assault upon Rulon S. Wells, an officer of the late election, was allowed to go practically free for so grave an offense. Every concomitant of the case points to a collusion on the part of the officers of the law, whose sworn duty it is to administer justice. In the first place Attorney Walter Murphy, a good liberal, whose duty it was to prosecute, could not be found when the case was called, nor could anyone else be found for this purpose until finally C. B. Glenn, who officiates in the dual office against the territory of practicing law and clerking in the police court, took it upon himself to secure counsel to prosecute (1). The result of his labor was to bring forth a mouse, his boon companion, Assistant City Attorney Eichner, who springs from the same litter of police court politicians that is fathered by Boss Powers, and to whom he leaves his small jobs. Both Glenn and Eichner are Powers' pets, and both owe their daily sustenance to him. It is scarcely to be wondered at that Sullivan, who would reform the electoral laws by the force of his own manhood, managed to escape unscathed. A monetary punishment for Sullivan's offense is but a mere formality. It is the outrage upon decency for no man with common sense can or will honestly spend for a moment that the money which went to pay his police fine came from any other source than fresh from the campaign fund supplied by the good Liberals who were connected with the trial of the case. When the case was called before Commissioner Greenman there was no one to respond, but Attorney Arthur Brown had heard a rumor that the case was on, and supposing the matter to be of no consequence, he went on before the grand jury, he went only to learn to his utter surprise that it was before Greenman. The complaint was read, and becoming gravely asked Mr. Brown when he appeared if he was going to try the case, to which Mr. Brown replied that he was only there as a witness.

THE JORDAN SUIT.

The Case is Now in the Hands of the Jury.

Hunt vs. Greenbeck—Suing for $1,000 Damages—A Case of Ejectment—Other Litigation. In the Third district court yesterday before Judge Zane the case of the Societe Anonime des Mines de Lexington vs. the Old Jordan Mining company was argued by Thomas Marshall and J. C. Royle, for the plaintiffs, and by J. A. Marshall for the defendants. The case was then given to the jury to quarrel over for some time. At 6 o'clock, the jury returned a sealed verdict, which will be opened this morning. HUNT VS. GREENBECK. In the case of Charles Hunt vs. N. H. and Rhoda Greenbeck an answer has been filed along with a counter complaint, in which the indebtedness in the sum claimed is denied. The cross complaint alleges that the defendants on March 18, 1870, purchased of the plaintiffs three parcels of land in Salt Lake city and gave their notes in the sum of $5,000, which was secured by mortgage. On November 1, 1881, the defendants offered to pay plaintiffs $500 for a release and new title. They then claim the ground and that the plaintiffs refused to surrender the land in question. A SUIT FOR DAMAGES. The case of Tomnes Tommisen et al. vs. Taylor, Ramsey & Armstrong was taken up before Judge Zane and continued until to-day. Brown & Henderson are for the plaintiffs, and W. Van Cott for the defendants. Following is the venire to be chosen from: C. W. Watson, J. J. O'Reilly, Charles Elborn, W. W. Chisholm, Samuel Davis, James D. Criss, Henry Dougherty, Thomas Peiss, W. B. Andrew, M. W. Davis, Sol. Crown, James Deacon, Alex. Rogers, C. S. Hardy, James A. Chute, A. W. Carlson, T. F. Hooper, W. F. Raymond. PROCEEDINGS STAYED. The case of William Davis vs. A. G. Burchart was stayed for thirty days. A SUIT OF EJECTMENT. A writ of ejectment was entered yesterday by Amos J. Fielding vs. Thomas McEvoy et al. The plaintiff claims to be the sole remaining relative of Amos Fielding, who died August 5, 1875. He avers that the defendants entered upon three parcels of land in Salt Lake city, and ousted him from peaceful possession thereof. The plaintiff asks for the return of the land and $10,000 damages. The defendants claim a lien on the property in the shape of a chattel mortgage. The plaintiff in the above also brings a similar suit against John W. Young et al. on the same grounds.

BOYER'S SAD STORY.

He Was Robbed of His Money While Hurrying to His Mother's Funeral.

Mr. Dan O'Brien, who is charged with feeding Phillip Boyer out of $120, as told in yesterday's HERALD, came up before Commissioner Greenman for trial yesterday. The case, so far as the defendant is concerned, is a particularly sad one, and so far as O'Brien is concerned, the chances are very largely in favor of Captain Greenman's giving Judge Zane a chance to put the full extent of the law upon him. Boyer is a poor French-Canadian who has barely sufficient command of the English language to make himself understood. He has been living in California and a few days ago received the news that his mother was on her death bed. He converted everything that he had into cash, bought his tickets to Canada,

The Chamber of Commerce Establishes a Tariff and Rate Bureau to Protect Its Patrons.

Secretary Sears of the transportation bureau of the chamber of commerce, has issued the following letter to the merchants of this city in regard to the matter of tariff and rates. The scheme which, seems a most feasible one, and is worthy of consideration: DEAR SIRS—The transportation bureau solicits your co-operation in a matter which will enable it to become a source of revenue to you, and at the same time further emphasize its own usefulness to the shippers of Salt Lake. In a letter of this kind its purpose can be but vaguely touched upon, and but a faint idea of its objects can be had, but if we can outline our plan here, we feel certain the same will commend itself to our merchants and shippers generally. The differences in classification of merchandise over the various routes which the same passes between points of shipment and this city, renders it almost impossible for a shipper, familiar with the facts of the case, to check up over approximately, his freight bills. Expense bills are furnished at points of destination showing the charges made by the road over which the goods have been transported. The accumulated charges of the route over which the shipment has passed before coming into the possession of the road making out the expense bills, are all included in a lump sum as "advance charges." If the shipment originates east of Chicago or St. Louis, it will have to pass over two or more roads before reaching the Missouri river; the classification in all probability is different over each road the shipment is carried. Then again, to further mystify matters these classifications are constantly changing. To put an article in the "class" rate, to-morrow it may be taken out of the class rate and put under the head of a "common" rate. The classification remains stationary the rate of the same article to the minimum. The goods are not the only ones making mistakes. Often times errors are made by eastern houses which cost shippers in the west a great deal of money. In fact, the business men who carry a comparatively low rate when the contents are marked on the outside of the packages as double the rate through this commission in making. To avoid such expensive mistakes, it is proposed to issue a circular with printed special instructions to accompany each order sent east, and should contain the following: "I hereby authorize you to claim upon them for the loss occurring through their disregard of such instructions." It is further proposed to throw every safeguard around the shippers, giving to all the benefits of a thorough checking system. If our plan is properly looked into by our business men, we fully believe the results will show the advantage to be derived from such a system. Our methods are fully understood they will be appreciated by all shippers. We will be glad to call at this office and answer any questions upon which you desire further information. THE WYNKOPF CASE.

B. F. Brown Makes Out a Strong Claim to His Title.

The case of Rebecca Wynkopf's contested will occupied the probate court again yesterday and will come up this morning at 10 o'clock, at which time the contestants will put in their hearing. James C. Harris, John Miller, Edwin Gilman, Harrison Sperry and Joe Bush all testified yesterday to having known Rebecca Wynkopf and to having regarded her as of sound mind and good memory. It is known, the man who lived with Mrs. Wynkopf-Robertson, yesterday testified that he met her in Cheyenne about twelve years ago, and that she became his wife. He testified that she was a woman of good character and that he had supported and taken care of her throughout their connection. The contestants also testified that they had never married the woman, but that she had lived with them as a mistress, and that when she was living with her, and that when she was taken sick he had endeavored to nurse her, and that he had supported her with the understanding that they were to be returned in case of her death. He had been rather informal in his transactions with her, and that he had never anticipated any trouble of the kind that had come. The mortgages and notes were produced, and it was shown that they had been made over as secured by her, and also returned to produce certain documentary evidence in the dead woman's handwriting showing that before her death she had ordered her affairs so as to turn over to him when he arrived in Los Angeles. The affidavits open up this morning.

THE WYNKOPF CASE.

B. F. Brown Makes Out a Strong Claim to His Title.

The case of Rebecca Wynkopf's contested will occupied the probate court again yesterday and will come up this morning at 10 o'clock, at which time the contestants will put in their hearing. James C. Harris, John Miller, Edwin Gilman, Harrison Sperry and Joe Bush all testified yesterday to having known Rebecca Wynkopf and to having regarded her as of sound mind and good memory. It is known, the man who lived with Mrs. Wynkopf-Robertson, yesterday testified that he met her in Cheyenne about twelve years ago, and that she became his wife. He testified that she was a woman of good character and that he had supported and taken care of her throughout their connection. The contestants also testified that they had never married the woman, but that she had lived with them as a mistress, and that when she was living with her, and that when she was taken sick he had endeavored to nurse her, and that he had supported her with the understanding that they were to be returned in case of her death. He had been rather informal in his transactions with her, and that he had never anticipated any trouble of the kind that had come. The mortgages and notes were produced, and it was shown that they had been made over as secured by her, and also returned to produce certain documentary evidence in the dead woman's handwriting showing that before her death she had ordered her affairs so as to turn over to him when he arrived in Los Angeles. The affidavits open up this morning.

The Sham And The Real.

Every good thing has its imitators, every genuine article its counterfeit. The Ammonia and Alum Baking Powders sold over the counters are no more like Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder, than the paste is like the real diamond, or a counterfeit is like one of the old master's genuine paintings. When greedy and mercenary manufacturers claim their adulterated and harmful baking powders are as good as Dr. Price's, they know they are not telling the truth. These people know they are destroying the stomachs and the complexion of the consumers, and there are many grocers recommending such powders over their counters—knowing same to be injurious and worthless—simply to make a large profit. Dr. Price, a conscientious physician, has spent a lifetime in perfecting and popularizing his Cream Baking Powder, the only Pure Cream Tartar Powder now to be obtained. Multitudes of imitators all over the land have sprung up, not to imitate the purity of Price's Cream Baking Powder, but to see how cheap they could make their counterfeits and hoodwink the public. Some use Ammonia and others Alum, but all these shams cry in chorus, "Buy this; it's just as good as Dr. Price's and much cheaper. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the standard for purity and perfection the world over, and is beyond comparison. Dr. Price stands for Pure Food and a foe to all shams.

A BRUTAL COWARD.

Abe Hunter Beats His Wife's Face Into a Jelly and Drives Her Into the Street.

Screams for help attracted the notice of Officer Eastlinger last night down on North Temple street, and made his blood run cold. The screams proceeded from a woman, and when Eastlinger joined her he found her in a horrible condition. She was only partly dressed, with no shoes on, and shivering with cold, while the blood streamed from her face and gushed from her nose. She proved to be Mrs. Abe Hunter, the wife of the worthless brutal coward, Abe Hunter, one of the most notoriously bad characters in the city, who has only missed the penitentiary by some mysterious means. She told a pitiful story of degradation and ill treatment from her husband's ill would draw to her from a shop, and the poor bruised and beaten face told even a stranger tale yet. The woman was completely prostrated by the treatment of the inhuman brute who had sworn to cherish and protect her, and for whom lynching would be a desirable high tide. Hunter was arrested and taken to the city jail. He will come up for hearing this morning. It is sincerely to be hoped that his trial will result in his enforced absence from Salt Lake for many a year to come.

ANNOUNCED HOPELESS, YET SAVED.

From a letter received from Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, coughed and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and happy woman." Trial bottles free at A. C. Sargent & Co's drug store, regular size 50c. and $1.00.
