

DESERT GOLD & SILVER MINING COMPANY,

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 31, 1892.

"LET UTAH PEOPLE OWN UTAH MINES."

I am instructed to sell sufficient of the working capital of this company to erect, on their own ground, a plant for the reduction of their ores from the Branch and Mary Mines. These two claims show One Hundred Thousand Tons of ore, the average of which, as evidenced by an eighteen sack lot taken from their six openings without sorting, gives 63 oz. silver and $9 gold. They have 800 feet of tunnel and shaft.

These mines are in Marysville, Plute County, 50 miles from railroad and 250 miles from ore market; but for this difficulty they would now pay dividends. The treatment of the ore at the mines will, by saving transportation, put the property on a good paying basis. Mr. R. C. Chambers and associates are now working profitably a mine but a few rods distant, with the same quality and kind of ore.

It is designed to work up 30 to 60 tons a day, and it is confidently believed that this improvement will make the stock worth $1 within a year. The first block of 20,000 shares is offered at 25 cents per share.

ARTHUR STAYNER, Promoter of Industrial Enterprises, Agent, Hooper Building, Salt Lake City.

 JOSEPH F. SMITH, President.
 ELIAS MORRIS, Vice-President.
 A. M. MORGAN, Secretary.

THE COUR D'ALENES

The Arguments in the Great Injunction Case Closed.

Judge Beatty's Decision Awaited with No Little Interest—Popular Sympathy with the Miners of the Shore and Pit.

Home City, July 2.—[Correspondence of THE HERALD.]—The argument in the injunction case of the Mine Owners' association vs. the Miners' Union of the Cour d'Alene is closed and the case is now in the bosom of the court awaiting his honor's decision. This case has been watched with much interest throughout the west, and if Judge Beatty, of the federal court, before whom the case was heard, in his decision follows the weight of authorities, the efforts of the Mine Owners' combination to crush down honest labor and self-respect with the dominating hand of wealth and fortune will result in smoke and no fire, and will add another "wrench" to the government's "CONCRETE OF ERRORS."

The governor who, in his frantic efforts to avert himself of every opportunity to distinguish himself and culminate his record as a blunderer, has done everything he could to irritate the miners and keep their blood up.

The miners have the universal support and sympathy of the people all over the state, and the hostile attitude which the Republican party has taken toward these miners will greatly change the political complexion of Idaho, as the miners constitute a large part of the voters.

It is a conceded fact, even by the most conservative, that the miners have been misrepresented and misunderstood in their efforts to maintain the respectability due to the honest laborer.

Hon. Frank Connel, attorney for the miners, made a very strong showing for the defense. He maintained that even to concede all to be true that is set forth in the complainant's affidavit, that the temporary restraining order should be dissolved at once on the following grounds:

That the mine owners' association is a corporation and that the court has no jurisdiction to issue an injunction against it.

That the suit was not brought because the plaintiff could not work its mine since the 15th of last January, or was compelled to close it on account of any acts of the defendant, but that the suit was brought in pursuance of a common design on the part of the Mine Owners' association to break down and destroy the several unions.

That the suit and the proceedings which were threatened, were brought in pursuance of the common design of such association, and all the costs of litigation and counsel fees are contributed from a common fund.

That said association, in pursuance of such common design, did on the 15th of January last, close down the mine and any interference in the Cour d'Alene, upon the pretext of a difficulty with the railroad company in regard to freight rates, but in fact with the view of injuring the miners to that point where the mine owners could dictate their own terms.

That on the 20th of March they announced that they would resume work on April 1st at a reduced rate of wages and longer hours; that this was refused by the miners; that thereafter the association began a war against the miners by discharging all the union men.

That the Mine Owners' association was an illegal one, contrary to public policy, and could enforce nothing either at law or equity to carry out its object.

That the conceded facts in the case show that the mine owners were closed down for the express purpose of compelling the miners to work for lower wages.

That the affidavits of the defendants had not been met, and that the plaintiff was not acting in good faith when it obtained the temporary restraining order; that the plaintiff went deliberately to work to make a case.

That the federal court had no jurisdiction, in that no federal question was involved, and that the federal court, in checking anything, was at the most only a conspiracy to annoy plaintiff in working its mine, and furthermore a court of equity cannot enjoin the threatened commission of a crime.

That the federal court was in no sense a conservator of the peace.

Quoting from the Hartford of Washington, in Latham vs. Northern Pacific Railroad Company:

"It is not necessary or proper for a federal court to thus interfere in matters of local concern. The laws of the state make ample provision for punishing breaches of the peace, for the forcible entry and detainer, and the malicious destruction of property, and afford simple remedies to individuals suffering injury by such wrongful conduct."

The reply on the part of the plaintiff's counsel was:

FEELS IN THE EXTREME. They made the assertion that the Mine Owners' association was the friend of honest labor; that honest labor never combined, that only Anarchists combined. Mr. Connel, caused quite a little amusement when he compared Governor Willey's proclamation, which he termed a piece of rhetorical flunkey, with the advice given to the English workmen when they applied for advice to the great Gladstone, who told them to keep away from parliament and stick to the protection of their unions.

The opinion here is that the injunction will be dissolved, or if not, it ought to be, and the miners have the best of the case—in fact, law and argument.

AN OHIO GAS MAN.

D. T. Davis Believes that 40 Cent Gas is Cheap Enough.

He Claims that it Will Cost Much More to Construct a Gas Plant Here than in the East.

D. T. Davis, a man of large experience in the natural gas industry in Ohio, is in this city, and Mr. Driver of the American Natural Gas company introduced the Buckeye gas magnate to a number of business men, including occasional members of the city council.

Mr. Davis has made half a million dollars out of the gas and oil industry in the Findlay and North Baltimore fields within the last five years, and the object of his visit here is to increase his half million to a million dollars. If the city council will pass an ordinance favorable to his end.

To a Herald reporter he talked of gas from the capitalist's side of the question. He did not think 40 cents per thousand feet, with a 25 per cent rebate when paid promptly, an unreasonable rate in this western country, where the cost of laying more to build a pipe line than it does in Ohio, the freight on pipe being much higher. It will also be more expensive to dig the trenches, dry lawns, getting $2 a day here to $1 and $1.25 in the east. The rock pressure here is but 270 pounds to the square inch against 440 pounds in the Ohio field. This will necessitate larger pipes to deliver the same amount of gas.

When asked what would be the cost of building a pipe line to this city from Lake Shore and of laying pipes in the city, Mr. Davis professed to know nothing. Mr. Driver volunteered the information by saying that his company had a proposition from a reliable man to construct a plant with seventy miles of pipe for $385,000.

Mr. Davis says that it is better to lay two small pipe lines than one large one, as the auxiliary lines can be used when the other line gets out of repair.

Mr. Driver felt very vindictive over the action of the newspapers and the city council, and he said he would see them in a hotter than this before he would accept any price less than 30 cents per 1,000.

He had put in his "hand dough" and thought it was anybody's business what price they got for their gas as long as the people would prefer it to coal.
