

STILL REJOICING.

St. Louis Democrats Hold a Great Ratification Meeting.

THE VICTORS ARE REJOICING.

Honors to Vice-President-Elect Stevenson-A Manifesto Issued by General Weaver-He Says a Crisis is Approaching.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 16.-There was an immense gathering of Democrats at the Music hall here tonight to testify their appreciation of the results of Nov. 8, and to do honor to Adlai E. Stevenson, vice-president elect of the United States. Mr. Stevenson walked upon the stage in view of the thousands waiting to see him. A volcano of applause and cheers arose which did not subside for several minutes. The speech of the vice-president elect in reply was very brief, he contenting himself by merely returning acknowledgments for the evening's honors. "I congratulate you," said he, "upon the fact that you did stand up for Missouri, and I trust you will not forget that we stood up for Illinois. Tremendous applause followed his few remarks, after which Mayor Noonan introduced Editor Charles H. Jones of the St. Louis Republic, who made the principal speech of the evening, and by far the most sensational one. He said, in part: "The Democratic party was right on the issue, and the result demonstrated they had exactly the right candidate. No party in American history has had a more able leader than the Democratic party in the last eighty years—a plain, resolute man, devoid of selfish ambition, patriotically loyal to the country's good, in sympathy and touch with the great mass of people, and determined to make life easier for them; unobscured by history and unswayed by power, keeping always in mind that such a man was a public trust, such a man was our leader."

"The victory last Tuesday," said Mr. Jones, "was a revolution. Democratic means that Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Minnesota will be surely Democratic and even Ohio may get in if she tries it again. With the great states of the central west Democratic, the northwest with John Hancock, and the west in closing the Democratic circle and then it will be seen that the Democratic party has come to grow up with the country. It is now nothing to say against New York, but believe me, shall like you better when the time comes, as I believe it has now come, when we don't have to look at New York Democrats through a glass that magnifies a hundred diameters."

"Heretofore when the Democratic factions in New York City got to caterwauling over some petty local matter the Democrats of the country had to get up with their hands on their heads and say 'I'm sorry' in the party's name and have we all gone to the bow-wow? New York factions can no longer do this. It is now a whole country's political condition, when one presidential election after another with all their stuporous consequences have upon the carrying of our country. It is the relative importance of the states, and the relative importance of party leaders."

"Perhaps the greatest and most far-reaching significance of Tuesday's victory is that it has put the Democratic party in New York upon the political control to the sunset side of the Alleghenies. It means an unimpeded party, disinterested and a magnificent future of prosperity for this great Mississippi valley."

Congressman Scott of Illinois, Governor Francis of Missouri, and others also spoke.

A CRISIS APPROACHING.

St. Louis General Weaver in an Address to the Country. Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 16.-General Weaver, candidate for president on the People's party ticket, today issued a lengthy address to the voters of that party. He declares that the People's party is but little behind the Republican party in the number of states carried; that it will doubtless hold the balance of power in the United States Senate; that it will have a majority in the House secured control of a number of state governments; holds the balance of power in a majority of states and gained a large following in every state of the south. Weaver says the almost total annihilation of the Republican party organization leaves the former adherents of that party free to align themselves with the Democracy, the People's party, the Fusionists, the Industrialists and the Nationalists. The accession of the Democratic party to power is the result of a violent reaction and not the deliberate judgment of the American people. The interests of the Democracy, he declares, are without any well defined policy except that of contemptuous disregard for every element of reform within the ranks of the party. The Democracy will not support the people at large. The new administration will ignore the three great outstanding issues of modern times relating to land, money and transportation, and in fact the whole force of the new administration will be exercised to prevent reform in these important matters. The urgent demand for the free coinage silver is to be disdainfully ignored and, in contempt of the doctrine of Andrew Jackson, European aristocrats are to be permitted to dictate our financial policy; the uniform legal tender currency of the government is to be sacrificed and serious attempts made to force the people to return to the fraudulent system of state bank issues. In General Weaver's opinion the present condition of the Democracy is a sign of a turbulent condition of the political atmosphere foreboding an approaching crisis. He urges that the work of organization be pushed with energy in all states.

THAT MURCHINSON LETTER.

The One That Caused the Recall of Minister West Four Years Ago. Chicago, Nov. 16.-M. W. Murchinson, the alleged writer of the famous letter which led to the recall of the British minister, Sackville West, from this country four years ago, for the first time since the letter was published, consented to talk about it. "I am," he said, "one of the unfortunate men who have been thrust upon them, and although the public may look upon the letter as a joke, it has been a very serious matter to me. I have been talked about, had the finger of scorn pointed at me, and all because some one whose conduct I shall not stop to characterize, forged my name."

"I was never in California in my life. I never wrote the letter attributed to me, and I have not publicly denied the letter previously, because when it was written I was in my farm in Ontario. My father was ill and died, and then I was ill. The matter had gone too far for me, and it would have done me no good to deny it. Whether the man who wrote the letter used my name or not, I do not know. I have never seen the letter or designedly in more than I know. This is the first time I ever talked for publication on the matter, and I hope the public will believe me. I am ready to swear that I never knew Sackville West. Never wrote him, nor ever had personal knowledge of anybody writing to him.

THE LATE RUSTLER WAR.

Compensation arising from it at Last Terminated at 14 Cents.

CHATEAUX, Wyo., Nov. 16.-[Special telegram to The Herald.] The report of the grand jury today terminated one of the complications arising out of the late rustler war. Shortly after the invasion of Johnson county suits were instituted against about fifty residents of that county to prevent the so-called illegal round-ups. To serve these papers a large number of deputy marshals were sworn in, of whom one George Wetman was killed by some persons unknown. Frank Smith, one of the defendants on the injunction suit, was in Cheyenne a few weeks later and was arrested on the charge of conspiracy to deprive Henry A. Blair of Chicago of his equal enforcement of the laws. After lying in jail over a month without a hearing he was released on $4,000 bail.

No sooner was he released than he was re-arrested on the charge of conspiracy to kill Wetman, and as the United States commissioner held him without bail, his attorney at once instituted habeas corpus proceedings before the United States court and Smith was again discharged. Again he was arrested on another complaint and held without bail. Since this time he has been lying in jail until today, when the grand jury returned "not a true bill" on the several indictments against him. Smith will at once institute civil suits for false imprisonment against those who have been persecuting him.

The question of the constitutionality of the Wyoming round-up law will be tested at the present term of the federal court.

ELECTION ECHOES.

An Important Election Contest Began in Nebraska.

Jerry Simpson Elected in Kansas-California is Still Contested-Late Official Returns.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 16.-One of the most important election contests ever known in this state was begun in the supreme court today. It is an application for a writ of certiorari to the circuit court of Clay county to issue certificates of election to the Republican candidates for the legislature on the ground that the independent candidates, who received a majority of the votes, had been endorsed by the Democrats, and in printing the official ballot the names of the independent candidates were placed twice on the ticket.

At the time the contest from Kearney county was started, which, if successful, will present an independent representative and seat a Republican. If these changes are made the legislature will be tied on joint ballot.

Jerry Simpson Elected. TOMPKA, Kan., Nov. 16.-Official returns show the election of Jerry Simpson to Congress by 1,800 majority. It is now believed that the bill will not pass the Senate as the fusionists fear they will not be able to elect his successor in the House. Mrs. Lease charges that the Democrats are merely using the People's party. He says he favors a Democrat for senator, because "they played fair with us this time, and we will need them in the future." On the face of the returns from the Second District Funston is re-elected to Congress by 65,000, his Democratic opponent, has given notice of contest.

Still Contested in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.-The combined official and semi-official returns from 1882 precincts in California outside of San Francisco give Harrison a plurality of 6,572. It is claimed today that a mistake has been discovered in the count of ten precincts in Alameda county, which will change the result in the three congressional districts in favor of Hill Beer, Republican, and on the face the returns thus far counted would give him a plurality of 65,000, and a majority of 100,000.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Annual Address of Grand Master Workman Powderly.

RECOMMENDATIONS SUGGESTED.

Considerable space devoted to the Immigration Question-Strikes and Lockouts Referred to-Other Gatherings.

St. Louis, Nov. 16.-At today's session of the Knights of Labor Grand Master Workman Powderly delivered the annual address. Among the matters dealt with was a recommendation that all local assemblies should be made up of mixed membership, including men and women of all trades and occupations. Many failures of attempts at a betterment of conditions in the past had resulted from the fact that members in other trades were not acquainted with the conditions of particular trades seeking betterment, hence were not in position to sympathize and help in the struggle. Mr. Powderly declared that too many labor organizations were struggling for supremacy. The tendency of the labor movement seems to be to divide up while that of the opposing force, capital, was to consolidate and thereby gain strength in the fight against industry. The result was that labor was beaten in detachment. Something must be done to remedy this, and there existed no reason why every branch of toil should not be enrolled under the shield of its Knights of Labor.

Among other questions, it is understood that Archbishop Kater of Milwaukee will ask the conference to accurately define the terms of a secret society. This request is in deference to the wishes of the German Catholics of the west, and is said to have in view the Knights of Pythias, United Workmen, and other societies without a spiritual direction which have profited by the liberality of the church. Among the archbishops present are: Gross of Oregon and Horan of San Francisco; Archbishop Salpointe of Santa Fe is represented by Bishop Chapelle of New Mexico.

THE FARMERS ALLIANCE.

A Lively Row for Supremacy is Being Indulged In.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 16.-The National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial union was in executive session all day, and the presidential caucus gave little out. Since adjournment it was learned that two elements, Democrats and Populists, are still struggling for the mastery and that some acrimonious discussions were indulged in. The Populist element seems dominant at present and seeking to out J. E. Tillman of this state, member of the national executive committee. His offense is that after his coadjutors sent 200 official circulars advocating the election of General Weaver, Tillman used the stationary and official position to send out an equal number of circulars advocating the election of Cleveland. Tillman was also general manager of the national literary bureau, and the charges amount to a breach of faith. His circular letter was to the effect that Alliance men could not hope to elect General Weaver, that they should support Cleveland and thus defeat the force bill. It is reported that to make the change another executive board be selected, his words threw out G. W. McCaskey also, and members claim to be in a clear triumph for the Populist wing and insure the election of Loucks, present president. Tomorrow's session is likely to witness a lively combat.

A Denver Story That is Attracting Great Attention and Peculiar Developments are Looked For.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 16.-[Special telegram to The Herald.] On Sept. 2 last David Robinson, an old citizen of Trinidad, came to Denver to be treated for asthma. He went to the Grand Central hotel and Dr. Callahan was called to treat him. That night his nurse looked him in his room and while the nurse was away Robinson jumped out of the back window and sustained a slight injury. A new nurse, Thomas Davis, was secured, who took care of Robinson until Sept 13 when he died. Meanwhile a friend named E. P. Lee had called daily on Robinson and would allow no one in his room but the doctor, nurse and himself. When Robinson died he was the only man in the room. It was found that Robinson left an estate of nearly $300,000 and for a month no heirs put in appearance. During this time Lee had made inquiries and found that Robinson had left no will. Clerk Davidson of the hotel today made statement that Lee offered him $500 to sign as witness to a forged will. He would have nothing to do with the matter but Lee told him afterwards that Cunningham porter in the hotel had signed as witness together with Davis the nurse.

THAT EXTRA SESSION.

Senator Carlisle is Interviewed Upon the Question.

THE INAUGURAL PREPARATIONS.

A Definite Move in the Direction of Appointing Committees-Carlisle of the Great Defeated, Giving House-Notes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.-Senator Carlisle, in an interview today, put aside the talk of his going into the cabinet as a thing not to be discussed. Speaking of the prospect of an extra session he said it would all depend upon the undeveloped condition. He had seen Mr. Cleveland and was satisfied that it was not possible for him to tell yet what would be done. The financial affairs of the government are in such a shape as will make an extra session imperative. It appears probable that we shall find not enough money in the treasury for the needs of the government. We shall have to see what Congress does at this session. If they do not repeal the Sherman law relating to the purchase of silver and take such other action as the situation demands we may be swamped. It is to be hoped that they would call of an extra session.

Another view of the case is taken by Representative Wilson of West Virginia, chairman of the late Democratic convention, who, before leaving Washington today for New York, said: "I think it would be most impolitic to place a new tariff bill before the country just previous to the election. It is to be hoped that they will favor the extra session idea and think that the sooner the tariff changes go into effect the better will the final result be for our party."
