Who Will Care for the Wounded in the Harvard-Yale Football Game Today.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Nov. 18.—Once in seven years Harvard has beaten Yale in the great annual contest at football. That simple time, in 1891, is always known as the "Cumnock" year, for it was to Cumnock, Harvard's greatest player, the victory was due. The town is filled with the usual thousands of college men, graduates, professors, and a great array of pretty women who, as a rule, take as deep an interest in these games as their brothers and sweethearts. Yale at the beginning of the season had but little hope of putting a strong eleven into the field. Hoffelinger, McChung, Morrison and Barman of last year's great team had graduated, and in fact McCormack, Bliss and Huxley assumed to comprise the only good material on hand. But Camp, Hoffelinger, Wallace, Howard Knapp and a dozen others as famous have come to the rescue and have done some remarkable coaching. The critics, and to many outside the pale that college's influence seems invincible.

Among the players who will face Harvard tomorrow afternoon, the most prominent are McCormack, Captain Huxley, Wallis, Winter, the two Bliss boys, Butterworth, a son of Congressman Butterworth of Ohio, Norton, Sanford, Ade and Chick. Captain Horton, a member of Harvard, is not so confident today as earlier in the season. The game with Cornell, in which Harvard barely won, is one cause for the general lack of spirits, but many of the weak points have been strengthened and much is expected of Brewer, Lake and Lee, all splendid players. Corbett, Gage, Foster, Winters, Lewis, Blake, Gammeter, Foster and Captain Trafford himself are probably all certain to be in the field. Many Princeton men are in town and will watch Yale's game with special care, as it will contrast the championship with the one at Manhattan field, New York, on Thanksgiving day.

Hampton park has been much improved since last year. Instead of the 4,000 additional seats ranged on each side, room has been made for 7,000 spectators at each end. This is in addition to the regular accommodations. The prices of admission tomorrow are for the middle section on the side, $2.50; the sections next in order $1.50, and the end stands $1.00. As no general admission tickets are being sold, the colleges will not summing deep into the thousands. This year as last year, the sale to each individual was limited to six tickets, and just as in the previous season the speculators have been able to get hold of a great many seats and are selling them at double prices. The Yale team is quartered at the School of Christian Workers on Artery hill, and the Harvard men are at Mrs. Gardner's restaurant, where they have been cared for for years past. Special trains are coming into the city hourly bearing Yale and Harvard Alumni clubs of various near-by hand cities. The New Haven Athletic association also comes in a chartered car.

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

Senator Jones Interviewed by the London Financial News.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Financial News publishes interviews with Senator Jones, one of the American delegates to the monetary conference. Senator Jones says to the people of the United States appreciate the vital importance of the currency question, while in England, many people are ignorant of the rudiments of the matter. There is hardly an American selector who has not formed an intelligent opinion on this subject. It had a most important influence on the last election. In reply to the question as to whether the Democrats would introduce a free coinage bill in Congress the senator said: "Yes, they are bound to." The Times affirms that a majority of the new House of Representatives is opposed to free coinage. I feel sure that this is erroneous. On the contrary there is two-thirds majority in its favor. It was among the Democrats of the last House that the supporters of the silver were found. If you trace these men to their constituencies you will find that they have been re-elected.

Whether a free coinage bill is introduced by the Democrats and whether it passes or not are different matters. Mr. Cleveland himself is against free coinage. It is just a question how far the Democrats will feel the influence of his personal views. A great mass of people are bent on free coinage and they would free coinage tend to depreciate silver currency. We hear from Indian officials much about the depreciation of silver in India, but the Indian gets as much for a rupee in commodities as he ever got. It is not silver that depreciates, it is gold that appreciates. We hear about the great stocks of silver. Where are they? When you talk of grain or petroleum you can substantiate your statements. I want the same done in the case of silver.

Jewish Fathers.

I observe that American fathers, whether from the exactions of business or other reasons, do not ordinarily come to my office with their ailing children. The whole matter is often left in the hands of the wife or some relative. Germans are more apt to come than Americans, and Hebrews most of all; and indeed I cannot refrain from expressing my admiration of the domestic life of the better class of Jews in New York, which so far as I have observed it is in many respects more nearly what it should be than that of any class in our community.—Henry L. Taylor, M. D., in Popular Science Monthly.

R. MARKABEL STORY OF A STOWAWAY.

The London Lancet records a remarkable case, which illustrates what human beings are driven to do when suffering the agonies of starvation. The body of an Arab was found in the hold of a ship and was conveyed to the Seamen's hospital, Greenwich, where a post mortem examination was made by order of the coroner. The body was much emaciated, and the following list of materials was found in the intestines: Twenty trouser buttons, three cow-wheels apparently out of a watch, one 2-inch steel screw bent double, one louch screw, six pieces of a lock. The biggest being 1 1/2 inches long and 3/4 inch broad; a circular piece of brass, several pieces of iron wire, brass, lead and two key tangles on a ring one inch in length.

The weight of the articles amounted to almost half a pound. The unfortunate man had evidently secreted himself in the vessel-trapped around them, and died of hunger during the whole of the voyage across some distant port, and had swallowed these articles to relieve the pangs of hunger.

An Automatic Wrapper.

One of the most ingenious and at the same time practically useful among the automatic machines which have been introduced is a device which forms, fills, weighs and seals packages in those establishments where large quantities of goods, such as fine cut tobacco, soda, starch, etc., are constantly put up. The operation by which this result is accomplished, is decidedly novel, is not at all complex in any particular, the machine consisting merely of a series of forming blocks, receptacles, folders, gummers and feeders, all working in mutual harmony, so that the packages are smoothly and continuously produced.

The forming blocks successively size the paper, which instantly afterwards is wrapped around them, folded and secured at the end; the paper sacks are then plunged into receptacles filled with the commodity with which they are intended, finally folded on top and sealed.—New York Sun.

Ret is the Cure for Headache.

There are a good many kinds of headache. In these days the nervous headache is a very distinct variety. It is generally in the front of the head, across the forehead, over the eyes. But it may be in other parts—at the top of the head, at one or both sides, at the back or all over. It is painful, depressing, disabling. Physic by itself is of no use. A complete change of air and circumstances will usually take away the pain in ten or twelve hours. Perfect rest, of a duration proportioned to the severity and long continuance of the symptoms, will make the cure permanent.—American Analyst.

A Cholera Tragedy.

Banker's Son (rushing into Dr. H.'s office)—Doctor, I'm lost! My new house-keeper has the cholera, and—and I gave her a kiss this morning. (Rushes off again, seeing his father approach.) Dr. H. (to old banker)—My dear sir, you must look after your son. Your new house-keeper has cholera, and as he kissed her this morning— Banker—What! Heavens, then I, too, am lost! Dr. H.—You fool! Well, anyhow, you surely were not so mad as to kiss your wife after kissing that other— Banker—Yes, but I did. Dr. H.—The Lord preserve us! Then I, too, am lost!—European Exchange.

Confidence in Her.

Young Tutter—I am getting so tired, Miss Clara, of hearing about the dog that always comes out after the lover, when as a matter of fact there is no such thing. Imagine for instance, your father owing a dog for such a purpose! Miss Plunkers—Very true Mr. Tutter. Pa knows I can always take care of myself.—New York Herald.

HOW THE MOSQUITO DOES IT.

A mosquito's bill is an elaborate contrivance and consists of two sharp saws and a lance inclosed in a sheath which is also employed as a pump. The saws are bony, but flexible, and the teeth are near the end which is pointed. The lance which happens the most perfect instrument known in the world of minute things. It is first thrust into the flesh and the opening is enlarged by the saws, which by passing it until the sheath can be inserted. The sawing is what causes irritation when a mosquito is biting. — Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Salt to Teeth.

Salt is good for the stomach. A pinch of it in hot water, taken either just before or just after a meal, is a valuable aid to digestion, and a cupful of very hot salt water will sometimes quiet the most persistent nausea.

A Little Girl who was told to put some in an aching tooth said:

"Just put in a little salt, and in a few minutes I felt the aching nerve cut right down and go to sleep."—New York Evening Sun.

HERE IS A FUNNY THING

That happened in our store a few days ago. A woman came in to buy a poker—and she bought a stove, or an ALL STEEL "JEWEL" RANGE, which is better still; a clear illustration of what we have often claimed—that to see the "JEWEL," to make a critical examination of its remarkable and incomparable virtues as a Quick Cooker, Baker and Fuel Saver, is to BUY THE JEWEL, even though the person who inspects it may not be actually in immediate need of a Cooking Stove. For some years the "MAGEE" FURNACES have enjoyed the reputation of being almost perfect as a Warm Air Medium. The "BOSTON HEATER" is the "MAGEE'S" latest crowning accomplishment. We are the only house selling the famous "BOSTON MAGEE HEATER."

THE AMERICANIZED "REMARKS

BY BILL NYE."

List of Those Who Have Purchased the New Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Probably no book of the age that was ever offered in Salt Lake has had a more popular run than the new Americanized Encyclopaedia Britannica, which is offered in the west only in connection with THE HERALD. It costs the publishers, Belford Clark & Co., about $3,000,000 to re-edit an old work, expunge and curtail obsolete subjects and insert modern subjects—especially American themes—into the work. It is the triumph of modern literature, and everywhere it has had a tremendous sale. The very low price at which it is offered with THE HERALD is made possible by the fact a special rate has been accorded the prominent newspapers which offer the work with their issues. The Examiner, the Denver Republican, the Louisville Courier Journal, as well as THE HERALD are offering the new encyclopaedia, which is in three styles of binding, and is sold on the installment plan with either the daily, Sunday or semi-weekly edition.
