LAST evening two men entered Deeky's clothing store on Second South street, while one of them was engaged in a handkerchief, the other picked up two pairs of trousers and started out. The clerk handed him off, however, and in the scuffle the trousers were dropped, leaving it in the hands of the clerk. He made good his escape, however.

The funeral will be held at the family residence at 2 p. m. today.

MR. KILGUS, the promoter of the Jewish colonization in Garfield county, has returned from Washington and states that despite the unfavorable rumors made at Washington on his proposition to bring over the Jews, he expects to carry the enterprise through all right. LAST night a drunken man named Jones fell into the hands of two toughs named Harry Bradshaw and P. King, who look as though they had recently graduated from some penitentiary. They steered their victim into a saloon near the corner of the saloon north of the Tribune, but were followed by W. F. Jackson and Mr. De Forrest, friends of the drunken man, who went up into the place and found that Jones had been relieved of his gold watch. They reported the matter to Officer Johnson, who arrested the crooks on Main street, and found the stolen watch in their possession. The crooks will have a hearing in the police court today.

THERE was a lively scene in front of the Mint saloon last night. It seems that Dick Blackledge, a knight of the green cloth, who is a frequent visitor at the saloon, had made some uncompromising remarks about the landlady, who on hearing of it, donned her war paint last night and started out after Dick. She found him in front of the Mint and immediately demanded a retraction, and as it was not given, commenced roasting Dick unmercifully. He finally beat a retreat into the saloon, and as he followed him. It is alleged that he assaulted her in there, and at all events, the scene attracted quite a crowd. By the time the policeman reached the scene, Dick had disappeared, so no arrests were made.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

A Long and Stormy Session Held Yesterday.

DOREMUS ON HIS EAR.

Defines His Position on the Gravity Sewer.

Admits That an Estimate for $35,000 Is Correct, but Refuses to Certify to It—An Interesting Discussion—An Inspector Bounced.

The board of public works met in adjourned session yesterday afternoon, Chairman Haines, Messrs. Conklin, Doremus and Downey and Engineer Doremus being in attendance.

THE ENGINEER'S ASSISTANT.

Mr. Conklin moved that the board recommend that the report of the special sewer committee, authorizing the city engineer to employ an assistant, be adopted.

Mr. Conklin wanted to know what was meant by an assistant. If it was simply intended to employ another inspector at the sewer he wanted to know it.

Mr. Conklin understood that this assistant would really be an inspector, who would represent the engineer on the ground. The latter's duties prevented him from being on the ground as much as was desirable, and the proposed action was for the purpose of relieving him somewhat.

CONKLIN'S PLAIN TALK.

Mr. Conklin said he did not object to an assistant for the engineer, but if the assistant was simply to be an inspector, he would not object to it.

He did not look for favor upon this roundabout way of getting at the matter. The fact was that a light had been made in the board upon the inspector's position, and no doubt the engineer felt a little sore over the result of that fight, but he shouldn't come in and ask for an assistant when he was an inspector.

WANTS A REPRESENTATIVE ON THE BOARD.

Engineer Doremus said he simply wanted a man on the ground who would represent him in his absence, that was all. As the matter stood now, he felt that he was in a position where he either wanted to be in a position where he could properly assume the responsibility or be relieved of it.

FAMILY SPECIFICATIONS.

Mr. Conklin said that he believed that some of the work done in the light, heavy concrete called for in the specifications was not of the proper quality. He did not believe that the engineer had provided for a sufficient quantity of cement in the concrete, and that was the principal cause of the difficulty. As a substitute he recommended that a committee be appointed to look into the matter and report to the board.

A BILL ALLOWED.

A bill of J. S. Moore for work on the North Temple street aqueduct was allowed, after certain corrections had been made.

LE SIEUR'S CLAIM.

Judge Henderson said he understood that the council had referred the petition of St. V. Le Sieur to the board. Mr. Le Sieur wanted a chance to show that there was a large amount of material furnished for paving, and it was necessary for him to obtain a payment on his claim in order to carry on his work.

THE ESTIMATE OF HOUHLAN, GRIFFITH & MORRIS AND HOBSON & WILKINSON FOR $35,000 FOR WORK ON THE GRAVITY SEWER, AND ENGINEER DOREMUS' NOTICE THAT THE BOARD SHOULD NOT CERTIFY TO THE ESTIMATE, HIS PRINCIPLE OBJECTION NOW WAS IN REGARD TO THE BRICK WORK, ALTHOUGH HE HAD MADE OBJECTIONS TO CERTAIN PARTS OF THE ESTIMATE, HOWEVER, HAD BEEN REMEDIED. HE KNEW THAT THE CONTRACTORS HAD DONE THEIR WORK UNDER THE INSPECTION OF THE CITY AND TO HIS SATISFACTION. HE BELIEVED THAT THE CONTRACTORS WERE ENTITLED TO THEIR PAY AND HE DID NOT WITHHOLD HIS CERTIFICATE IN ORDER TO COMPEL THEM TO PAY. HE BELIEVED THAT THE MONEY TO WHICH THEY WERE CERTAINLY ENTITLED. AT THE SAME TIME THE WORK DID NOT SATISFY HIM, ALL THAT HE WANTED FOR HIM TO BE TO RETIRE AND GO TO "H. I. L." EVERYTHING STATED IN THE ESTIMATE HAD BEEN DONE; HE HAD NO OBJECTION TO THAT, AND HE EXPECTED THE ESTIMATE TO BE APPROVED BY THE BOARD.

CONSISTENCY, THOU ART A JEWEL.

Mr. Conklin—I don't understand the consistency of your position, when you say that these men are fully entitled to the money, and in the next breath that you cannot certify to the estimate.

Mr. Doremus—Well, that's my idea. The work has been done under the eye of the city and to the satisfaction of the city's representatives. Therefore, I say that Salt Lake city must pay for this work, but must do it without my certificate.

THE CONTRACTOR SAYS A WORD.

Mr. Hobson—Haven't we made such changes as you have suggested?

Mr. Doremus—Well, I want to say that there has been marked improvement all along the line. The defects to which objection was previously made, have all, or nearly all, been remedied. Mr. Conklin suggested that I feel pained, and I do not. When this question came up, however, I felt, from the action of the board, that I had perhaps lost the full confidence of the majority of the board. It seems to me that you have concluded to in the construction of the work; now you must not get along without me in the payment thereof.

Mr. Conklin regretted to see any serious discussion on the board. The engineer's full confidence in him was prepared to vote for any resolution that would restore complete harmony.

SQUARE TALK.

Mr. Hobson said that the contractors were perfectly willing to be held down to the letter of the specifications, and he cared not who was sent there to hold them down. He had, in all cases, endeavored to follow out the wishes of the engineer in the construction of the work. The contractors supposed that everything was satisfactory, and they objected to be twisted about in this manner.

INSISTS ON RETIRING.

Mr. Doremus—the engineer wants to retire and let these questions be settled without him. Only when these men are paid out of the money that is to be paid at the end of the month, I intend that they must be independent of me when the 30th comes, and they want my estimate. The influence of the engineer over any inspector in Salt Lake city doesn't amount to the snap of my finger.

Mr. Conklin thought that the engineer's position was a queer one. He stated plainly that these men are entitled to their money, and at the same time refused to certify to the estimate. He makes general, indefinite charges, and goes into generalities. He does not believe that the proper material is in the work, simply because it is not there today.

NO FAITH IN THE INSPECTORS.

To come in here and make such a statement as that is to be made is to be made. He should not have made it. If the contractors are not entitled to their money, he should say so, instead of admitting that they were entitled to it, and refusing to do so. Now I believe that the contractors have some rights, too, and that these rights should be respected. The inspector over there today is incompetent, and certainly the chief inspectors. I think that Mr. Doremus is not doing either the board or himself justice in the position he has taken.

CONTRACTOR HOUHLAN SAID THAT EVERY SUGGESTION THAT THE ENGINEER HAD MADE HAD BEEN CARRIED OUT, AND HE APPEARED TO BE ENTIRELY SATISFIED WITH THE PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

HE DON'T THINK MUCH OF THE INSPECTOR.

Mr. Conklin again took the floor and said that he would take the word of the engineer to that of the inspectors any time, and he did not think the position of the inspector was inconsistent. He was satisfied that inferior brick were going into the arch, and he should vote to sustain him to the end.

Major Doremus said that in view of the position of the engineer, he did not see what action the board could take, except to send the estimate up to the council as it was.

THE ESTIMATE APPROVED.

Chairman Haines said that he thought it would be perfectly proper and right for the board to sign the estimate, and send it up to the council with the engineer's report, which would explain the matter fully.

Mr. Conklin thought the board should go a step further in the matter of the inspectors.

THE MOTION TO APPROVE THE ESTIMATE WAS CARRIED.

AN INSPECTOR BOUNCED.

Mr. Doremus stated that a few days ago he asked a West Temple street inspector if a certain piece of paving work or something of that sort had been done according to specifications, and received an insulting reply. The board at once voted unanimously to dismiss that inspector, but the action was vetoed by a member of the board known by the name of the decaepitated individual.

SILVER'S CHANCES.

Judge Henderson Talks of His Eastern Trip.

He is Hopeful, but Thinks That the Sherman Law Can Be Unconditionally Repealed.

Judge H. P. Henderson, the staunch and prominent member of the Utah Democracy, has returned from his trip to Washington, Michigan and the far West. Since he has been here he has observed many things of interest to his friends at Salt Lake in the political field. When a HERALD man met him upon the street last night he cheerfully assented to a request that he give some of his views upon questions now agitating the public mind.

"What do you think of the silver question, generally?" was the question first propounded.

"I feel as most of the silver advocates do, that there can be no reasonable hope of defeating the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law, regardless of the action of a majority of both houses the repeal appears to be necessary before anything else can be done, and under such conditions there is little hope of success."

"The radical silver papers have been asserting that Dan Voorhees has been bought by government patronage, and traitorously deserted the silverites. What have you to say to that?"

"Mr. Voorhees is not the kind of man to be bought in any way, and his has not been bought at all. His desertion of the silver party, is it in your opinion to believe that the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law is expedient in the present emergency? He has in effect given a decided vote on the silver question, but still remains a bimetalist, and will support an independent bill for the free coinage of silver."

He takes a position independent of Mr. Cleveland, as he stands ready to coin the white metal on an American basis, regardless of the action of European countries, while the present policy will encourage only international bimetalism. This same position is taken by a great many of the eastern silver men and their support of unconditional repeal is not dictated by the fear of a withdrawal of Federal patronage."

"How will the change in the chairmanship of the board and committee on territories affect the chances of staidhood for Utah?"

"The changes in the committee surpries great many persons, as no special reason has been given for their selection, other than it seemed to be Mr. Crisp's policy to make a general change. The change in the territories committee created surprise among those who had business with that body. However, the change was evidently made with no intention of affecting us, as I understand that the new chairman is favorable to the early admission of Utah."

WORKINGMEN ARE IT.

Advisability of Placing a Ticket in the Field Discussed.

The workingmen evidently propose to have something to say in the coming campaign.

A meeting of several prominent labor representatives was held last evening, at which the situation was discussed at length. It is said that the alleged obstructionists, who are supposed to represent the labor interest in the city council, were severely criticized, and after the situation had been carefully considered, it was decided to appoint a committee of twenty to carry on a campaign for the election of a labor man to the city council.

SHIPMENT OF RICH ORE FROM THE RUSTLER.

OWNERS ARE JUBILANT.

Assays 540 Ounces of Silver to the Ton.

Latest Mining News from the Seven Devils Country—The Search for Gold—A New Camp—Yesterday's Clearings—Real Estate Transfers.

A seven ton lot of ore from the Rustler mine, near Alta, has just come in, and the owners are jubilant. It runs 540 ounces of silver, 30 in gold and 37 per cent. lead. This showing for a new mine is an excellent one, and the owners, Joseph Brunwood, John Bettes, James Bettes, S. S. Markham, T. J. Anderson and John J. Trewhella, feel jubilant over their prospects. They have an 18-foot vein, which the tunnel cross-cut, and own three other properties in the vicinity which they consider equally good. They are preparing to prosecute the work vigorously.

THE LATEST FROM IDAHO.

A New Camp in the Seven Devils Country.

BEAR POSTOFFICE, Ida., Sept. 6.—On a spur of the Seven Devils range, right under the shadow of Smith mountain—the highest peak above the Snake river—is a gold camp that is bound to make famous this part of Idaho. If the season was not so far advanced a recent gold strike in the Summers Camp, as it is called, would have been one of the notable events in mining circles in this state during the present year.

While the people of Washington county have been booming the Seven Devils copper district, experienced miners have been searching for gold in places and quartz in the surrounding country. In a favored locality little camps have been established, and with small capital, often limited to bravn and muscle, prospecting has progressed rapidly.

Summers Camp is one of this class. Few of the many people who have been attracted to the Seven Devils even know of the existence of the camp, so quiet have operations been prosecuted there.

Bill Summers made the original gold find there seven or eight years ago. He was an old miner and a few years since, after letting a number of former associates into his secret, Jim Ruth, after whom the silver camp of Ruthberg was named, and who ran a little saloon in the place where he discovered rich chlorides, was one of the pioneers in Summers Camp. Several others who earned the reputation of good miners in the Summers Camp, followed the lead of Bill Summers, and he has attracted there, Tom Richards of California has prospected the best showing to date since, after letting a number of former associates into his secret, Jim Ruth, after whom the silver camp of Ruthberg was named, and who ran a little saloon in the place where he discovered rich chlorides, was one of the pioneers in Summers Camp.
