

SILVER PUMPS UP TO '66.

Reaches the Highest Mark in Seven Months.

ONTARIO DRAIN TUNNEL.

BETTER GROUND AND DRILLS WILL BE USED AGAIN.

Mr. Chambers Talks About the Strike in the Daily West—Power Dam Operation—Second Furnace Blows in at the Copper Plant—Another Flour Contract—Sugar Beets—Business and Mining Notes.

Not since the 5th day of February, nearly seven months ago, has silver been as high as it was at the close of the New York market yesterday, when the bulletin board showed the latest quotation to be 66 cents flat, a gain of 1/2 cent since the close on Saturday. The news of this gain in the price of the metal gave great satisfaction and not a little encouragement to the producers and was in direct line with the predictions made in The Herald on Sunday and Monday morning. These predictions were to the effect that there would be a still further advance over the price quoted on Saturday, with the indications strongly in favor of a continued rise in the value of the metal on the eastern and foreign markets.

ENCOURAGED BETTER GROUND.

Drills Will Again Be Used in the Ontario Drain Tunnel.

Better ground has been encountered at the face of the Ontario drain tunnel and Superintendent Chambers, who has returned from the work, feels confident that within the next day or two the drills, which have been useless for some weeks, can again be pressed into service and with their aid ten feet or over can be made daily. Since the early part of last month the tunnel has been driven through very soft ground at the rate of from five to six feet daily, as nothing but picks could be used. On Sunday, however, the rock was so hard that the drills, which were used, became jammed and as work progresses the condition improves, so that without doubt the drills can again be operated without delay. At the increased rate it should require more than sixty days at the outside to complete the work and break into the workings of the Ontario on the 1,200 foot level. For the past few weeks there has been no perceptible decrease in the water in the mine and the great pump is doing its regular work. The usual stream of water is flowing from the tunnel.

In speaking of the recent rich strike in the Daily West, Mr. Chambers said there has just been uncovered a great body of very rich ore and the indications are that the output of the Daily West has a bonanza in the possession of the property, which is to be thoroughly developed at once.

POWER DAM OPERATIONS.

Great Tunnel All But Completed and Other Work Rushing.

So near together are the two faces of the main tunnel being driven through the point of the mountain at the Stairs in Egg Cottonwood canyon by the Big Cottonwood Power Company that the sound of the workmen's tools in one chamber can plainly be heard in the other. It will not be very many days before the cut will be completed and ready for the pipe line to be run through above. The company is rushing things in the canyon and the dam being put across the canyon above the Stairs is fast assuming proportions. With the aid of this bridge, a narrow-gauge trestle over an area of eight and a half acres will be erected, capable of holding back forty days' flow of the entire stream. This reservoir is being formed, not for general storage purposes, but only in order that sufficient power may be held back to operate the plant for twenty-four hours at least, in case of an emergency.

SECOND FURNACE BLOWN IN.

Copperopolis Ore Being Treated at the Copper Plant.

Two furnaces are now being operated at the copper plant, one on Copper Mountain ore and the other on Copperopolis ore. In consequence of this increase in the working capacity of the plant the forces of workmen has been doubled. The increased amount of bullion has not yet been made, but as General Manager Sizer returns from Chicago this morning it is likely probable that some of the 120 tons of bullion now on hand at the works will be sent off at once. The completion of the remaining structures at the plant is being rushed ahead in great haste, and it is now a question of days only when the entire works will be ready for operation.

CAPTURED ANOTHER CONTRACT.

Inter-Mountain Milling Company to Furnish More Post Flour.

yesterday captured another government flour contract, and in accordance with its provisions will deliver at Fort Douglas 5,000 pounds of high patent flour at once. As was the case in the competition for the contract of supply of 45,000 pounds of straight-grade flour the contestants were the local combination, the Layton Mill and Elevator company and the Kayeville Milling company. The bids of the two latter were 1.50 each and of the Inter-Mountain Milling company $1.74. Tests were made of the samples furnished to the bidders, and as a result of those tests the contract went to the local company.

SUGAR BEET HARVEST DELAYED.

Cold Rains Set the Plants Back a Week at Least.

On account of the perverse actions of the weather, it will now be impossible for the harvesting of sugar beets to commence before the 10th of September, and in consequence the factory of the Utah Sugar company will not get into operation until the middle of the month. The cause of the delay is the recent storm, which set the beets back about a week, but which will also afford them further protection from frost, so that the farmers and the company will still be the gainers. The beets are in splendid condition and the yield should be considerably heavier than was the case last year.

AN ADVANCE IN WESTERN SUGAR.

Supply Said to Be Running Rather Low.

Although freight is now moving with its old time regularity, both from the east and the west, and there is no scarcity of the staples of commerce, sugar has taken an upward flight and the market is 1 1/2 cents higher than was the case several days ago. The price advanced to $8.25, with the indications favorable for a still further advance. Just what is the reason for this increase in the price the local dealers are at a loss to understand, unless it is the threatened shortness of supply. Practically all of the sugar used in this territory, except, of course, that manufactured at Lehi, comes from the western coast and it is now said that the quantity of sugar available on the regular amount on hand and in consequence are running up the market price.

SENDING OUT TAX NOTICES.

All Will Be Distributed by the Middle of September.

By the middle of September all of the tax notices now being made out by the office of County Collector Leonard H. Smith will be distributed among the taxpayers of the county. There are over 29,000 of these notices, and the work of filling out and mailing is considerable. Some surprise is being expressed by the delay in the early receipt of the notices, the distribution not having heretofore taken place until after the first of September. The explanation of the seeming haste is that the office will be closed without any unnecessary delay. The taxes are not delinquent until October 31. Payments are now being made, however.

MONTANA MINING REVIEW.

Advance in Silver Giving Great Encouragement.

The week just ended has been a quiet one in mining circles and there is nothing of special interest to report, says the Estima Inter-Mountain. The companies' properties are all at work and no change in this respect is anticipated for a long time to come. The Boston and Montana mines are all working and the usual quantity of ore is being shipped to the Great Falls smelter. It is believed this company's production of ore this year will greatly exceed that of 1893, which was 331,539 tons.

THE LEXINGTON.

It is possible that the Lexington mine will be worked down entirely for an indefinite period. During the past year only a few lousers have been at work underground and many of them, it is said, at the present price of silver, have been unable to make wages. Some years ago the shaft of this mine was developed to the 1,500-foot level, a cross-cut several hundred feet in length was run south, but no ore bodies were found. Later the pumping machinery was removed from the 1,000, 1,250 and 1,500-foot levels and the mine was allowed to fill with water to the 800 level. The pumping machinery at the 800 level will be removed, it is said, and a smaller pump will be placed at the 600, to which level the water will be allowed to rise. This, it is said, will allow a considerable quantity of the water now being pumped from the Lexington to flow into the Alice property, but as the Alice mine is supplied with a Cornish pump, there will be no difficulty in handling it.

ANOTHER PROBABLE MINING SUIT.

It is just possible that another big mining suit will be instituted shortly in the district court between two large mining companies of this locality. It is said that during the past few years one of the richest lodes in the district has been unknowingly been working a rich strip of adjoining ground which belongs to another company. Recently the latter company began making a survey and found that its property was being depleted of its treasure and a notice was served on the other company to relinquish work and the lode was conveyed to it. It is said the ore extracted amounts into the hundreds of thousands, and that as soon as an approximate estimate can be made of the damage the suit will be filed.

Completed the Extension.

The telephone connection between Brigham City and Corinne was completed last night and today the line will be open for regular work. This extension gives the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company six more miles of wire and allows it to connect with the private system on the Bear river canal.

Garfield County is still a delinquent in the eyes of the law, her clerk not having sent the report of the assessed valuation of the property in the county for the year 1894. For nearly a week the territorial board of equalization has waited for that report, and still it is not at hand. In consequence the contemplated meeting of the board has not been held and it is the question when Chairman Sowles will take the necessary steps to secure the missing report. The work of the board must be completed by the 1st of September.

Closed by the Marshal.

The United States marshal yesterday closed the jewelry and clothing store of James S. Schas, on West 5th and South, under the foreclosure of a chattel mortgage, held by McCormick & Co. The stock will be advertised and sold.

Chamber of Commerce.

The correspondence between the chamber of commerce and different states and territories of the Union is becoming larger and larger every day. Yesterday inquiries were received from Dr. H. H. H. asking for a list of mineral springs in Utah to be inserted in the guide of medicinal waters of the world.

A Postoria, Ohio, gentleman

A statement of information, comes the following from a prominent politician and capitalist of Missouri, which will indicate to the people what is said of us by the outside world.

"I see that an act has been enacted by Congress recently opening the way for the admission of Utah as a state, and it has a great effect on me, as this will produce wonderful commercial and manufacturing revolutions there, and will perhaps cause the population of Salt Lake city to increase very rapidly."

"I see also a statement of the Globe Democrat, from a special correspondent at Salt Lake city, that the great Indian reservation lands in the northeast corner of Utah are to be opened within eighteen months and that they are considered for agricultural and mining resources a wonderful acquisition to the territory."

"I was much pleased with the appearance of Utah, Salt Lake city and everything I saw about it, as well as the climate. Recently I have discovered myself in a part of the territory, and you would oblige me greatly if you could find time to tell me more of your country—the prospects and possibilities. I am so ill adapted to live on Utah, especially in connection with her admission to the Union as a state; those Indian reservation lands being opened up, the effect all of it would have upon immigration and starting enterprises, and opening fields of possibility, etc. Maybe you will help me to solve the problem a little and for all of which I will be very grateful."

SPENCER CLARK & CO. WHOLESALE GROCERIES 100 BROADWAY

THE PASSING OF THE SALOON.

A Bartender Moralizes Over the Effect of Ice Cream and Soda.

[From the Cincinnati Times-Star.]

The bartender became very communicative "I've been behind the bar of some of the most regal establishments in the country. I believe the saloon business has had its day and it's only a question of time when the saloon will be a back number. Men do not guzzle down the liquor like they used to. They are coming to their senses and find that their health requires them to abstain from such strong drink. The ice cream saloons are doing much toward taking away the trade of regular liquor saloons."

"You see, he is how it is: You can soon prove to your own satisfaction. Go into the cafe of any of the hotels. Where you found four or five bartenders, you see two or three at work. Where you saw a crowd of you'll see one or two patrons at the bar. Take the saloon, it's the same thing. Then talk to the bartenders themselves and they will tell you their trade has fallen off greatly, at least 50 per cent. They will tell you further that bartenders are not receiving living wages. The only saloons that are doing any business nowadays are the saloons where the bartender, and he don't get more than a porter's wages. Some people say a late depression in business has a great deal to do with the falling off in the saloon trade. That has in a measure had something to do with it, but the taste of the people has changed. People have come to their senses and see that all the squander of money in the saloon is a waste of time. They are strong drink debases them in the business they pursue. Heads of firms can get clean, temperate and tidy girls nowadays to do all kinds of work that used to be done by saloon bartenders. That has in a measure won't have a man about whose breath smells of the fumes of liquor. Again, there has been the most radical change in the saloon trade. The saloon is no longer a place where a man can get a good drink and it makes men's brain whirl who satisfy their thirst at the saloons nowadays. I happened in myself the other night to a prominent hotel bar, and while there several men came in upon whom I have waited a hundred times. They used to drink champagne, bottle after bottle. They would sit for hours at the little round table indulging in the wine that cheers, but that night they all lined up at the counter and only one of them ordered whisky. Another took a bottle of beer, but the rest confined themselves to seltzer, lemon juice, Calisaya and Vermuth. It was formerly that cocktails were the regular drink in the morning and were sold in great numbers. They were a great deal of champagne taken at luncheon during the time we had flush periods. Now the bars are deserted in the morning and a general lull has set in to drink until 9 or 10 o'clock in the afternoon. There is, though, I tell you, a strong tendency to eschew the stronger liquors and even in restaurants where a general lull has set in, the bartenders played for iced teas, Vichy and Apollinaris waters. Perhaps it is only a gradual evolution into the habits of the older civilization of Europe after all."

ROOM IN MODERN JERUSALEM.

The report of Mr. Dickson, British consul at Jerusalem, on the trade of his district, contains several items of interest. Trade with Great Britain in 1893 showed some falling off as compared with 1892, but notwithstanding there has been a steady increase for several years past.

The Jaffa-Jerusalem railway hardly appears to carry as much traffic as might have been expected. There is a daily passenger train each way and also two goods trains. Still a considerable amount of merchandise is conveyed by camels between the two places, and an account of both the Jaffa and Jerusalem railway stations being situated at some distance from the towns. The railway company, in order to give further facilities to merchants, has taken good care to transport of goods from the warehouses to the stations. It is rumored that the line will be prolonged to Nablous and Gaza.

Buildings of various kinds continue to be erected in the vicinity of Jerusalem, and the city is fast outgrowing its former limits. On the western side houses have increased so rapidly within the last few years that quite a large suburb has arisen where formerly fields and vineyards existed. Every available piece of land is now being bought up by private persons or by benevolent societies and missions, and already the name of "Modern Jerusalem" has been given to this new quarter. The latest enterprise suggested is the placing of a steam launch and lighters on the Dead Sea. If this were

BRAVE IN DEATH.

[From Chambers' Journal.] [Once between the attacks, when the Mateable had fallen back, they all stood up and took off their hats and sang. The Mateable say they will never attack the white men again, for when men can fight and die like Wilson's party, Kadish can do nothing against them.—From the Westminster Gazette on the death of Major Wilson and his party.]

"They sang—the white men sang— Sang in the face of death, And the forest echoes rang With their triumphant breath. Those haughty lions were dumb, But they sang before their victor, Death, And the forest rang with their parting breath!"

"They looked their last on life; They knew their hour had come; Yet, for mercy after strife, They sang before their victor, Death, And the forest rang with their parting breath!"

"Brothers, in vain we rage; We cannot conquer such. We have torn through the cave, But the bird escapes our touch; On our spirit faltereth a mighty dread; We feared them most when we let them dead!"

Oh men, who perished thus! You have not died in vain; Your memory lives with us; We have torn through the cave, And our children's children the tale shall tell. Of how you conquered as you fell! MARY GORGES.

ZIEGLER!

Well, Ziegler is Just Fine.

The way he took those turns on the track made one's hair raise, and when he made the half mile unpaed in 1.01 1-5, establishing a new record for the world. No wonder the crowd cheered him to the echo. Oh! Bicycles are strictly in vogue, and you ought to have one, and if any, a good one. Why not come and see the Stearns? It is a wonderful wheel. At the Denver meet there were sixty racing wheels. Of the sixty, sixteen were Stearns' Yellow Fellows. Think of it, more than one fourth of all the racing wheels in America alone. Why is it, you ask? Here is the reason. In the sun, when Royle ran down on Wayne Smith and caught his step in the front wheel of the Yellow Fellow, ten spokes were torn from the rim and twisted in every conceivable shape, but not a spoke was broken. Not a thread stripped from a nipper, and in one hour, with a new rim, the wheel was ready for the track again. Each spoke in line and the wheel as true as when it came from Syracuse. Such material and such workmanship furnishes forth the reason why the Stearns wheel has taken front place among all makers of cycles.
