

ENDORSES THE TICKET.

who had used the most underhanded means to defeat him after promising to remain strictly neutral. The first thing the new chairman did was to snub him and those that had been his friends.

After its endorsement of George M. Cannon's conduct of the campaign it will be absolutely impossible to put in a campaign committee that knows something about politics without going woefully back on that declaration of confidence, and of course such action would be the poorest that could be adopted.

They Are Feeling Blue. "It means defeat for us," said a prominent Republican politician yesterday. "Why, any of us fellows who go up to the state committee room get the marble heart. We are given to understand that our advice is not needed in the conduct of the campaign. Not one of the standbys who have been seasoned by a dozen campaigns is received even with courtesy in the headquarters. Not one is invited into consultations with the chairman and the executive committee. They are out in the cold. They see things going six ways for Sunday and can do nothing. I tell you we are in a box fix."

Another prominent Republican politician was standing on a street corner yesterday and a friend asked him what he thought of the manner in which the Republican campaign was being run. "Being run," he exclaimed. "I don't see any signs of its being run. To the best of my knowledge it's running itself."

Truly this is a Democratic year.

Reception to Democratic Women.

The Democratic ladies will own the headquarters from 4 until 7 hours afternoon. Between these two hours the ladies' committee of 100 will receive all Democratic ladies from this city and the territory at large, and will give them an example of the manner in which the Democratic campaign is being conducted. All Democratic ladies are invited to be present. The following programme has been prepared for the amusement of the visitors:

Selection, Ladies' Mandolin and Guitar club; recitation, Miss Maud May Babcock; solo, Master Charlie Pike; selection, Ladies' Mandolin and Guitar club; recitation, Miss Reasoner; piano solo, Miss Kate Romney; solo, "Sunset," Miss Birdie Dwyer; recitation, Dr. Mattie Hughes Cannon; solo, Miss Marjorie Titt; selection, Ladies' Mandolin and Guitar club.

Republican Front Air.

This is a Democratic year. When Judge Powers secured the present headquarters, and made such an excellent meeting place out of it, George M. Cannon was immediately seized with the idea that he must have something like it, and he secured the old Tunnel, and at the expense of several hundred dollars taken from his already diminutive campaign fund, fitted up this place for meetings. The Democratic ladies' committee of 100 have ing decided to give a reception to their Democratic sisters, the Republican women were seized with the idea that they must immediately follow suit. So they have announced that they will give a reception in the Tunnel.

It is dollars to doughnuts that the women who have taken the reception in charge have not visited the Tunnel since it was fitted up. If they had, they would never think of having a reception there. The Tunnel was never an ideal place for meetings of any kind. It has poor ventilation. It is dark and the ceiling is low. These things are bad enough under the most favorable conditions. But just now it happens that the tunnel has been shut up for months, and as a consequence noxious vapors and gases have accumulated until the place is so foul that only a thorough cleaning will make it fit for human beings to gather in.

The writer and a companion went into the place yesterday at noon to see what it was like. As they opened the entrance door their nostrils were saluted with a current of warm, sickening air that almost knocked them backward. They went into the hall, however, and when half way to the speaker's stand were almost overpowered by the poisonous gases. When they finally reached the open air it was exceedingly grateful to them. The Republican women will not have a successful reception.

German Democratic Club.

This is a Democratic year. The activity among the confident Democrats is a certain harbinger of success. The German-American Democrats have become stirred into enthusiasm and have formed a good club that will do good work in the campaign. The meeting for this purpose was held last night in the Turnhalle by the leading Germans of the city. The society was organized with the name of "Der Demokratische Deutsch-Amerikanische Club of Salt Lake County."

John Dorn was elected president. Dr. O. H. Dodge, vice-president; Morris Sommer, second vice-president; Gustave Kroeger, secretary, and Louis Hobeln treasurer; committee on nationalization, A. Gessensid, William Teuschel and John F. Schenk; committee on election, William Kraut; first precinct, Adolf Odeman; second, C. Eisele; third, Leo von Tansfeldchen; fourth, August Jeschke; fifth, and Ernest Ransch, county at large.

It was decided to hold a meeting every Wednesday evening at Turnhalle at 8 p.m.

Speeches were made by Dr. O. H. Dodge on the tariff and silver question and the present local issues, by Gustave Kroeger on the principles of Democracy and on the necessity of organization and work, and by Morris Sommer on harmonizing and equalizing of the naturalized citizens and winding up with a toast of the county court. The first meeting of the newly organized club will be held Wednesday, October 3, at 8 p.m., and all the Germans with their families are invited.

The Whitaker Club.

The George A. Whitaker club had a good meeting last evening, though the threatening weather kept a great many away. The great feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. Whitaker of a banner that had been secured by the club, as a token of esteem. The banner was very pretty, being made of white silk, trimmed with gold lace. In the centre was a photograph of Mr. Whitaker of heroic size, and on the banner was the legend: "For State Senator, George A. Whitaker." The presentation was made by Ben Arbour, whose speech was a very pleasing and timely one, carrying out the idea of the banner and giving promise of hearty support from all the laboring men. Mr. Whitaker was taken entirely by surprise, but made a short speech in acknowledgment of the banner. He said he never would forget the occasion. J. L. Frank spoke on the necessity of sending Mr. Whitaker to the legislature. He said that when capital makes combinations it is called finagling; but when laboring men make combinations they are accused of treason and conspiracy. He emphasized the importance of electing Mr. Whitaker.

Short speeches were made by Stephen Tyne, Will Parry, Fred Kistler and E. C. Davis. The Jefferson drum corps, under the leadership of Major Dave Levy, gave the club a serenade.

The Power Dam in Weber.

The power dam cut a figure in the election last fall and from present indications it will cut a larger one this fall.

Cold weather is coming on and it is very necessary that this work should be finished at once or at least that as many men should be employed until election day as possible, except this is a Democratic year and the Republicans of Weber county know it.

Reference has been made in The Herald frequently of late to the fact that an attempt was going to be made to elect colonist voters in Weber county by the Republicans, and the power dam work would be used as a pretext to work out the scheme.

On Wednesday last a lot of men, most all of whom are known to be residents of Salt Lake county, appeared in the district court before Judge Barch for the purpose of being naturalized, and it is well known that most of them were absolutely unfit to become citizens, and in fact Judge Barch refused to confer upon them the dignity of American citizenship because they were so densely ignorant that they could not answer the simplest questions intelligently, and until election day as possible, except this is a Democratic year and the Republicans of Weber county know it.

It seems that the purpose was to have many of them make use of assumed names and it is said that they were supplied with slips of paper on which the name they were to be made in was written, but some of the fellows could not get the name through their noggin's even with these slips of paper to prompt them.

One chap was observed to have a slip of paper in his west pocket, and he gleefully near him managed to get hold of it unobserved, after which he inquired the hobo's name. Down went his thumb and fore finger into the pocket, and then a stare of blank amazement came upon his face. Inquisitor the slip was gone and with it all knowledge of the name he was to give. Another one, by far the brightest one in the lot, when asked some of the requisites necessary for citizenship said that one was "to vote the Republican ticket."

To the credit of Judge Barch, be it said, that the work of the Republican schemers became entirely too rank and he gave them to understand that he would not countenance a continuance of such methods. A bold attempt has been made to register a lot of men from other counties who are at work on the power dam, and when the game was blocked by the registration offices one of the contractors declared that if they could not register these men they would employ Ogden men, and he was promptly informed that such a move would meet the hearty approval of all good citizens of Weber county, regardless of party. Without wasting words, this is a move to control the legislative election in this county by bringing men from Republican strongholds for the purpose of adding to the strength of the Republican party in Weber county a sufficient number of votes to insure the election of the Republican legislative candidates.

It is both rank and clumsy, because it was so apparent that a fraud was being perpetrated that the scheme broke down because of its own rottenness. Workingmen of Weber county, that is, honest "for sure" workingmen, do not appreciate the fact that a lot of worthless hobs are given employment that would be of some benefit to honest men provided the purpose is to pursue this work of construction in an honest, legitimate manner.

A gentleman who has observed many of these imported workmen is of the opinion that they are not to be employed in honest work because they are not physically able to do even a very poor day's work, but that for the grub necessary to keep soul and body together they would be willing to loaf around a comfortable fire from now until election day and then discharge their obligation to their benefactors by voting any ticket that might be placed in their dirty hands. Ambition prompts men to deeds of daring for which they are applauded and to deeds that are foul for which they are condemned and damned. No applause would greet the victor whose ambition might perchance be gratified by such a pollution of the ballot box as this scheme if successfully carried out would result in.

Enthusiasm in Rich County.

WOODRUFF, Rich County, Oct. 3, 1895. To the Editor of The Herald. This is a Democratic year. Democracy is in the saddle and already the enemy has sounded a retreat. Confidence is in every Democratic heart and determination in every Democratic eye. That unsullied, capable and experienced friend of Utah, Hon. John T. Caine, and that matchless Democratic orator, B. H. Roberts, accompanied by Richard W. Young, have just completed a triumphal procession through the precincts of this county. Garden City, Meadowville, Laketown, Randolph and Woodruff, each turned out magnificent and enthusiastic crowds to welcome the distinguished visitors. Halls were decorated with words of welcome, with bunting, flowers and appropriate mottoes. Brass bands discoursed patriotic airs, flags were flying and bonfires illuminated the vault of heaven. The people turned out in mass, irrespective of sex or party, to listen to the wise views of Mr. Caine, the conclusive arguments of the eloquent Roberts and the exposition of the constitution by Mr. Young. Their words were free from that bitterness which has marked the utterances of at least two of the Republican trio. The people were a-hungering for political food, and they were fed upon the bread of truth and not upon the stones of calumny. It may be set down that the cause of Democracy has been improved by this visit. This county is most fortunate in its chairman, Mr. Anson C. Calk. He is a tireless and effective worker, and will not be satisfied with less than three times the majority of the past year. Aiding him are active county and precinct committees in every town. The enemy is discouraged by the energy of our territorial and local committees.

Morgan Grant received the nomination as member of the house, but against the violent opposition of one of the precincts whose people were disgruntled because of his action as probate judge in some matter affecting their interests. Thinking that this precinct might scratch him and not wishing to jeopardize the party interests, he joined in the movement to nominate Aquilla Nebeker by acclamation, thus evincing his patriotic devotion to the best interests of the party. Mr. Nebeker is popular throughout the county and will be returned by an increased majority. Oh, that Allen would only consent to meet Roberts on the platform and that we might have an opportunity of being present at the killing!

Political Notes.

The Tuscarora Marching club met last evening in headquarters and, under Captain Reilly's tutelage, fast developed an ability to make a good showing. The committee of ten appointed to organize a young men's Democratic club, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in Democratic headquarters.

Posters are out all over town announcing the laboring men's meeting on Tuesday night, to be addressed by "the blacksmith orator," B. H. Roberts. In his town of this county Mr. Roberts will be accompanied by the famous Democratic quartette and the Jefferson drum corps. He will have a march of triumph.

Over Thirty Years Without Sickness.

Mr. H. WETTSTEIN, a well-known, enterprising citizen of Byron, Ill., writes: "Before I paid much attention to regulating the bowels, I hardly knew a well day; but since I learned the evil results of constipation, and the efficacy of AYER'S PILLS, I have not had one day's sickness for over thirty years - not one attack that did not readily yield to this remedy. My wife had been, previous to our marriage, an invalid for years. She had a prejudice against cathartics, but as soon as she began to use Ayer's Pills her health was restored."

To Restore Strength, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
